INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

GOD'S PICTURE OF YOU

The story of Jesus and the woman taken in adultery has deep comfort in it for all battered and stumbling human people. So many—easy and content on the surface—down deep have a haunting sense of guilt about past transgressions, and an inner despair about ever being any different. This woman had dragged along through life carrying in her mind a picture of her defeated self—and because she expected to be like that, she was!

Then suddenly she heard Jesus saying, "neither do I condemn thee—go and sin no more!" In other words, He was saying that she could be different; that, with God's help, she could be free from sin, and hold her head high as a victorious child of God. He gave her a new picture of herself, and a thrilling one. She trusted Him, and went on her way, eager and confident, to begin her new life.

There is a story of a negro who became very lazy, and would sit out-side his cabin while his wife did all the work. In days past he had been a good worker. One day as his wife walked briskly past him, she shook her head sadly, and lamented, "John Jay, you sure done lost de image of yourself!" And he had lost the picture of the man God meant him to be, the man who married her for better or for worse, to provide for her 'til death should part them. Instead he had substituted a man who took the most delicate care of his miserable self, and needed much rest. It makes all the difference in the world what kind of picture of yourself you carry in your heart.

As Leslie Weatherhead has written, "Christ's belief in us can even give us a picture of ourselves as He sees us—the picture He can make the true one—and with that picture on the screen of our minds, with faith in Him and daily friendship with Him, we can move forward. A friend told me recently of a beggar whose "pitch" was near the window of an artist's studio. From his window the artist painted the beggar, and then called him to see the portrait. The beggar did not recognize himself. "Who is it?" he asked. And then, as recognition dawned, "Can it be I?" he asked incredulously. "That is the man as I see him," said the artist. The beggar made a sublime reply. "If that is the man you see," he said, "that is the man I will be."

One of your glorious and urgent duties, friend, is to accept, at last, God's picture of you. What He wants you to be is something that is possible,—for He does not make mistakes. He does not command the impossible. His picture of you is within your powers, if He is let into your heart. Take heart and trust Him, for He is saying directly to you, "Neither do I condemn thee—go and sin no more!"

LAY LEADERS' SUNDAY

St. Stephen's Parish is fortunate in having a dedicated group of lay leaders who give unselfishly of their time and talents to the many and varied activities of this down-town Church.

These persons have been invited to attend the eleven o'clock service today and sit together in the front pews that they may receive recognition.

The congregation will join with the Rector in the following prayer:

"Almighty God, our heavenly Father, look with favor, we beseech Thee, upon these Thy servants who are giving themselves in Thy service as leaders in the work of this Parish. Open the hearts and souls of all to follow in the support of them and of Thee. Let their leadership be earnestly appreciated by us all. Give to them and to each of us the wisdom to know and the strength to do Thy will. And grant that, at the last, the words of our Master may be applied to them and to us, 'Well done, good and faithful servant.' We ask this through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen."

The King's Daughters of St. Stephen's Church continues to do splendid work under the devoted leadership of Mrs. Clara Schmid. During the past year the members made 8 linen neckerchiefs for our Boy Scouts, 16 pairs of pajamas, 2 baby blankets and wrappers, 30 diapers, 4 sacks, 9 scrap books for the Episcopal Hospital. Valuable sewing was sent to the Jefferson Hospital and to other hospitals as well as orphanages.

For those who like to sew there is no finer group of women than the King's Daughters.

The Rector will speak to the members of the Northeast Ministerium of Protestant Clergy on Tuesday, May 24th, in St. Bartholomew's Church, at noon.

Mary Light, a leader in the Ministry of Spiritual Healing; author of "Signs and Wonders", will give a lecture in St. Stephen's Church on Tuesday, May 24th, at 8 P. M.

The Annual Memorial Service with the Churching of the Colors will be held in St. Stephen's on Sunday, May 29th, at 11:00 A. M.

This Sunday, May 22nd, is the date of the Annual Visit to our Evening Service of the Choir of St. Michael's Lutheran Church, Kensington. This fine choir of 18 men and women will join with us in the service and will sing four anthems: With A Voice Of Singing, Shaw; Lord, We Implore Thee, Franck; O For A Closer Walk With God, Stanford; and All Hail The Power of Jesus' Name, Banks. This is the choir Mr. Leeds directs on Sunday Mornings.

Mrs. Anna W. Hauger, President of the Benevolent Society, reports that 5,352 pieces of sewing were completed at a cost of $518.93 and sent to the Episcopal, Jefferson, Presbyterian Hospitals, and to the Visiting Nurses' Society during the past year.

"Mary Light," a leader in the ministry of Spiritual Healing, author of "Signs and Wonders," will give a lecture in St. Stephen's Church on May 24th, 8 P. M. BRING A FRIEND!

MINISTRY OF FRIENDLINESS

We are greatly encouraged by the appreciation of many visitors who have spoken of the friendliness of parishioners with whom they have sat in the pews. The thoughtfulness shown in a friendly greeting, in helping people to find their place in the Prayer Book, or in bidding them welcome to the parish or to some parish organizations, is a very real part of the ministry of the Church. It is a ministry which the clergy must largely entrust to the parishioners.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion on Ascension Day, Thursday, May 19th at 12:15 P. M., followed by the usual Healing Service.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

All men wake up in the morning expecting something. Some expect only the old, tiresome grind; some, a day boiling in worries; some expect a mixture of drudgery and joy; and others look for a quiet, resolute march toward golden hopes. These last can look expectantly even into the blackets storms, because they look to God. As the old Psalmist put it, 'My soul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from Him. He only is my Rock and my Salvation. He is my Defense. I shall not be moved."

A boy, duck shooting with his father, remembered learning a new point of view toward storms. With his father in the boat, a storm was something to battle gloriously with the strength God had given them. The two in a Swanscott dory could handle her in the gale, keeping the bow up into the wind. He remembers his father rowing in the seat astern of him, and the sense of utter confidence as he saw his strong shoulders bending to the oars, and the wise head set on those shoulders. He knew what to do; the boy needed only to do his part; no gale could overcome them!

As they grew older, there came days when they do face black clouds, and a storm pounds against their souls. Yet, even there, your expectation can be from God. In 1892 young Robert Byers lay helpless in a tiny room in Airdale, Australia. A college student of great promise as a musician, he had suddenly been stricken with paralysis. Worse than that, little by little his sight and hearing became affected, and in 14 years he was totally blind and almost deaf. All he could do was to lie motionless in his bed, and think . . . and talk in slow sentences with the friends who came to see him. One might think that he would stop expecting anything from life except depsair. But as he faced the black night of his storm, he believed that God still had opportunities for him. One night he confided to a visitor, "I've got lots of friends, but there are other blind people (particularly children) who haven't. I'm going to see if I can interest my friends in helping them." So he wrote to his friends, asking each to give some annual birthday gift for a needy blind child. In 5 years, Robert Byers—still lying motionless, blind and almost deaf—was receiving annual birthday gifts from fifteen hundred friends and friends of friends; and was helping no less than 80 blind boys and girls in 21 different lands. And, when he died in 1926, his friends carried on that work. His expectation was from God—see what wonderful good came out of it.

Dare to claim your right as a Christian—the right of expecting something glorious from God, no matter how black and stormy your skies may be. "My soul, wait thou upon God, for my expectation is from Him."

Source of that power, which made her strong—for labors hard and vigils long,
To succor right and thwart the wrong, I need Thee now, my mother's God.
Goal of her faith, which wavered naught through hardships borne and battles fought, Grateful for what her faith has wrought, I seek Thee now, my mother's God. Author of light, which made her face a shining miracle of grace, for light in my own time and place, I pray Thee now, my mother's God. Fountain of love with which o'er-flowed her life, each deed in love bestowed, for that great love, my joy and goad, I thank Thee now, my mother's God.

WHAT IS "GETTING" YOU?

What gets your mind gets you! It is important to realize that mental attitudes affect bodily states. It has become a truism that the mind has a power over the body and that healthy thoughts tend to produce healthy bodies. The awkward fact we must all face is that resentment today may mean arthritis tomorrow; anxiety today may mean stomach ulcers tomorrow; fear today may mean glaucoma tomorrow. The encouraging fact is that tolerance today may mean better health tomorrow; love today may mean peace of mind tomorrow; faith today may mean healing tomorrow.

If fear gets your mind, fear will get you. Your body is part of you, so if fear gets you it will get your body, too. By the same law, if love gets your mind, love will get you. As your body is made for love, you stand a better chance of enjoying good health if you are loving than if you are hard and resentful or full of fear. If love gets your mind, it will get your body, too. If Jesus gets your mind, He will get your body. To be preoccupied with Him is to give your body its best opportunity of manifesting health.

Critics have said that advocates of Spiritual Healing reduce religion to a health cult. The criticism reveals a misunderstanding. Spiritual Healing is not concerned mainly with the power of mind over matter, nor with physical cures, but with the only true way of life—the union of the whole human personality: body, mind and spirit, with the Lord Jesus. Life with Him is Life at its fullest on every level. If Christ is in you, His healing is in you.

Has He got you?

TRANSFORMED PERSONS

This Sunday I want to share with you a page from Stanley Jones' "How to be a transformed person." He reminds us that the first thing of importance is to get your attention and gaze fixed at the right place. If you look within at yourself, you'll be discouraged; if you look around at others, you'll be distracted; if you look at Christ, you'll pass into His likeness.

"You become like that which you gaze at habitually. If you gaze at nothing, are continuously shifting your attention to the latest attraction, if nothing has your attention and love, then you look like nothing. Your face looks like what you are looking at—nothing. No character signs on the face—just a blur called a face. "Do you keep stationery here?" asked a prospective customer of a store keeper. "No," she replied, "We keep moving." The modern person keeps moving not only his body, but his attention and interest, and the result is a blurred face.

"But there are those who see a Face and give themselves forever to gazing on that Face. On the desk in front of me as I sit writing in Okayama, Japan, is the face of a lovely old Japanese woman of 80 years. When I first saw her, I inwardly exclaimed, 'What a lovely face.' Fifty-two years ago she graduated at Mount Holyoke College, went back to Japan, started a girls' school. Never married—married herself to the needs of the girls of Japan. 'I have a large family,' she laughingly said: 'Six thousand graduates are all my children.' The war came and Okayama was burned out in one dreadful night, and with it the school she had built through the years by faith and toil and prayer. At 75 she might have said, 'I'm too old to begin again. We'll call it a day and quit.' Not she. She rebuilt the school and now has eleven hundred girls in it, and every day, at 80, she is in active charge. Fifty-two years looking in the Face of Christ, and then at the faces of her girls, has made her beautiful—at 80!

"It was said of a blacksmith in New England that he had lived so much in thought with Emerson that he looked more like Emerson than Emerson himself! He became what he looked at habitually. The Psalmist says, 'They looked unto Him, and were lightened' (Psalm 34, 5)."

Let it be part of our daily discipline to look into the Face of Christ constantly—for as we look at Light, we shall be Light!

MOTHER

"She stretcheth out her hand to the poor, yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.
"Strength and honor are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.
"She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.
"She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.
"Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.
"Many daughters have done worthily, but thou excellest all." Proverbs 31

The Rector will speak to the young people of the Holy Apostles and the Mediator at 7:30 P.M., May 8th.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 132 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE INSTRUCTION

Anthem: God of Grace and God of Glory..... William T. Timmings
God of Grace and God of Glory, on Thy people pour Thy power; Crown Thine Ancient Church's Story; Bring her bud to glorious flower. Grant us wisdom, grant us courage, For the facing of this hour. Lo! the host of evil round us scorn Thy Christ, assail His ways! From the fears that long have bound us free our hearts to faith and praise. Grant us wisdom, grant us courage for the living of these days. Cure Thy children's warring madness, Bend our pride to Thy control; Shame our wanton, selfish gladness, Rich in things and poor in soul. Grant us wisdom, grant us courage, lest we miss Thy Kingdom's goal. Set our feet on lofty places; Gird our lives that they may be Armored with all Christlike Graces in the fight to set men free. Grant us wisdom, grant us courage, That we fail not man nor Thee.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

Once again it is time for the semi-annual collection of the United Thank Offering. Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Custodian of the Offering for St. Stephen's Church, asks that you turn in the Contents of your Blue Boxes at the Eleven o'Clock Service on May 1st.

No woman in St. Stephen's Church needs to be told how much good is accomplished by this Offering. If there are any who do not have a Blue Box they may get them at the vestibule of the Church.

CITY MISSION

The 85th Anniversary Thanksgiving Service of the City Mission will be held at 3:30 P. M., May 1st, at Old St. Paul's Church, 225 South Third Street.

DIOCESAN CONVENTION

The Annual Convention of our Church will be held on May 2nd and 3rd. Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Mr. Edward S. Morris and Mr. Elmer S. Carll will represent St. Stephen's Church, as official delegates, and Dr. Herbert Old and Mr. Charles K. Hay are the alternate delegates. The inspiring Public Service when Bishop Hart gives his Annual Address will be held in Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, on Monday at 8 P. M. Plan to attend this great service!

ENTHUSIAM

Enthusiasm is the greatest asset in the world. It beats money and power and influence single-handed. The enthusiast convinces and dominates where wealth, accumulated by a small army of workers, would scarcely raise a tremor of interest. Enthusiasm tramples over prejudices and opposition, spurns inaction, storms the citadel for its object, and like an avalanche, overwhelms and engulfs all obstacles. It is nothing more nor less than faith in action.

Prayers of Thanksgiving were offered at all services in St. Stephen's Church last week, for the work of Dr. Jonas Salk and his associates in developing an effective polio vaccine.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening May 1st.

Mr. James W. Rock was confirmed by Bishop Roberts in St. Stephen's Church, April 24th.

7:30 P. M.—CONFIRMATION
THE RT. REV. WILLIAM P. ROBERTS, D.D.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME ADVANCES YOUR CLOCK ONE HOUR! So, don't be late to Church this Sunday, April 24th.

MIRACLE OF EASTER

A minister I know lost his wife some years ago, leaving him with two little boys —the older one, Peter, only 4 years old. My friend knew that he was the one who must tell his boys. So, gathering him into his arms, he said, "Peter, old man, I'm going to tell you a story. You know, once upon a time, mummy and I fell in love—so mummy came to me from God. Then, after a while, God told us that you were coming, and then you came to us from God, and we were very happy. Then God told us that your baby brother was coming—you remember that—and he came to us from God. And now mummy has gone back to Him, to be with granny and God." Then a silence. Then Peter, "Is that all that you wanted to say to me, Daddy?" "That's all, Peter, old man." "All right, daddy—now fix my gun!" Peter trusted his mother to God, and then wisely decided to go right on living in this world where God had put him. That helped his father, and he has gone right on doing the job God has given him to do.

The miracle of Easter is the defeat of the oldest enemies of mankind. Jesus Christ came and showed mortal men how, with God, they can overcome those deadly enemies—greed and lust and pride and fear—which seek to kill all that is best within us. And the last conquest He made was over our old enemy, Death! Through Him we found that, for those that walk with God, there is no death, but only a return to our Father. So Paul wrote, with a heart that sang, "Thanks be to God which giveth us the victory!"

In these soul-shaking days we must, like little Peter, find our peace in the truth of the Resurrection. We can do it, especially with field and forest awakening into life after their winter's sleep. You who are far from home, in Korea or Japan or Germany, can trust Him when you get word of the death of some loved one, who has returned to Him. We who are at home will be trusting Him as we remember you each day in our prayers. So, in spite of the long miles between us, there will be joy in our voices as we say the same trusting prayer together, "Thanks be to God which giveth us the Victory!"

Mrs. Helen Smith Shoemaker in her recent book "The Secret of Elective Prayer", (Revell Co.) refers to the work of St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship.

"MY BOUNDEN DUTY"

The Annual Visit of the Bishop for Confirmation is an excellent time for every confirmed member of St. Stephens' Church to renew joyfully and thankfully, the solemn promise and vow that you made, or that was made for you, in your name by your sponsors, at Holy Baptism.

I again re-affirm what I promised as my bounden duty as a confirmed member of the Church:

To follow Jesus Christ as my Lord and Savior;
To pray daily;
To worship God every Sunday in His Church;
To receive, regularly, with due preparation, Holy Communion;
To work and give for the spread of His Kingdom.

CITY MISSION

The 85th Anniversary Thanksgiving Service of the City Mission will be held at 3:30 P. M. on Sunday, May 1st, at Old St. Paul's Church, 225 South Third Street.

The Rector's wife gave her talk on India at Christ Church Home on April 14th. She will speak to the women of St. Peter's Church, Phoenixville, on April 20th. Mrs. Price has given her lecture in ten different places.

We gratefully ackonwledge these Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Grace L. Gamble and Effie G. Smith.

The Diocesan Convention will be held on the 2nd and 3rd of May. The Opening Service for the public will be held at Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, on Monday evening, May 2nd. Attend this inspiring Service!

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 131 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

BUILDERS FOR CHRIST

St. Stephens' Church pledged $6,000.00 towards the Builders for Christ Campaign. Over 80% or $4,817.85 has been paid in so far. The balance is being paid in monthly installments, and by July 1st we hope to meet our quota. We are grateful for the generous response to this worthy object.

During the Lenten Season Memorial Flowers for the Week-day services have been provided by Miss Katherine Kennedy in memory of her mother, Blanche Virginia Hershey Kennedy.

Flowers were presented by Miss Emma S. Bolay on Maundy Thursday in memory of Charles T. Shreve.

A Memorial Easter Lily Plant was presented by Miss Helen Green and her sister, Mrs. Luger, in memory of their mother, Mrs. George Green.

ANNUAL PARISH MEETING

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House immediately following the morning Service, Sunday, April 17th. There will be held the annual election to the Vestry. Light refreshments will be served, and Frank Laubauch's film "Each One Teach One" will be shown. Plan to attend this happy social hour!

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Roberts will visit our Parish on Sunday evening, April 24th, at 7:30 P. M. to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

We gratefully acknowledge these Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Anna Allen, Mr. Joseph Allen, Miss Elsie M. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. C. Nelson, Grace Garrett, Mrs. Henry M. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. H. Powers and Mrs. John Pratt.

NEW STRENGTH

In a guest room where I once slept, I found this "Fisherman's Prayer":
"Lord, suffer me to catch a fish so big that even I,
In telling of it afterward, shall have no need to lie!"

That humorous prayer is an excellent example of the stupid way we pray. We ask God to fix the outside of life—to make the fish bigger, to make our children and our friends more thoughtful, to take away our pain. But that kind of prayer is not enough. It is impossible to fix the outside world so that it will satisfy and unchange the person: impossible to make the fish big enough to save the fisherman from the temptation to tell a tall story; impossible to make people thoughtful enough to save a sour person from complaining; impossible, by removing all the pain, to make a self-pitying person contented.

The great Phillips Brooks suggested a wiser and more successful kind of praying when he wrote: "Oh, do not pray for easy lives. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks." In other words, ask God to change you, instead of your circumstances. Let God into your heart, saying, "Thy will be done; change me into the kind of person You want me to be, the kind of a person who can speak the simple truth, love difficult people, and bear pain self-forgetfully." When people are willing to pray after that fashion, a curious and wonderful thing happens. They begin to find the happiness they stopped praying for. Often they begin to "get the breaks," and life goes forward in a new way. I cannot explain it. I only know it to be a fact—"All things work together for good for them that love God..." When a person stops being a spoiled child who wants the world to be made to order to suit him; and is willing to live with quiet courage in the world God put him in; and is willing to meet the difficulties he finds there; then God come and lives in that person, and the world that seemed hell becomes, in many ways, a heaven.

Easter is Resurrection-time—for all the world of nature; and for Christ in you! Let Him rise to top place in your living, to shine over your whole being, as the Spring sun shines over the earth and warms it into new life. Let Him warm your powers into new strength. He can make you able to meet life as it is, with all its problems, victoriously. For did He not promise, "I am the Resurrection and the Life," saith the Lord. "He that believeth in Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And whosover liveth and believeth in Me shall never die!"

Our heartfelt good wishes go to the Rev. A. A. Attenborough as he assumes his new responsibilities as Rector of Christ Church, Upper Merion.

NOON-DAY SERVICES

Many people are seeking help which is within their reach. It requires them to let go of their anxieties and let God take over. His enduring help for living in our chaotic world can be found in the quiet of St. Stephens' Church during the busy week. Many busy people come to our "open Church" for relaxing and meditating. Our Noon-day services afford an opportunity for business people to bring their troubles to Church and leave them there. Helpful hymns, prayers and sermons are given throughout the year in these twenty-five minute services. Form the habit of week-day services.

WAR OF AMAZING KINDNESS

Frank Laubach, the great Christian who has taught millions of people to read and write, calls his life work a part of Christ's "War of amazing kindness." In other words, the Master rides up to the heart of mankind with no weapon save love—no confidence in anything save love to solve the tensions and anxieties and problems of our world. The power of love is beyond all imagination. On this Palm Sunday, therefore, I want to share with you another page from Stanley Jones'—testimony to the power of love even over so-called "enemies."

"Out of Korea comes this amazing story of a pastor's love. His two sons were brought before a peoples' court in Korea to be tried by the Communists because they were Christians. The oldest son, studying for the ministry, stood before the court and preached the Gospel to them with great boldness. They decided he should be shot. The younger son begged that his elder brother should be spared that he might go back and support the family—and that he be taken instead. The elder brother refused this offer, saying, 'No, they want me.' When he was blindfolded he prayed a prayer, 'Father, forgive them. Into Thy hands I commend my spirit.' He was shot.

"The younger brother jumped up before the court and said, 'I believe exactly as my brother did. Why don't you shoot me?' And he preached the Gospel to them. 'You're as bad as your brother. We'll shoot you.' And, when they tied him up, he prayed the same prayer. 'Father, forgive them. Into Thy hands I commend my spirit.' He too was shot. When the pastor, the father, heard this, he walked the 45 miles, went before the court, and asked that the student who was ring-leader in the shooting of his two sons, be not prosecuted but be entrusted to him as his adopted son. This was done. The parents of this boy, moved by this love, asked that the pastor's daughter be permitted to come and live with their daughter, and teach her the Way. It was done. The adopted son, moved by this attitude, became a Christian, and began to study for the ministry. Hundreds were converted by this new Way.

"During the war, when the Communists over-ran the country, the pastor was put into prison. There he continued to preach the Gospel and to sing Hymns. While he was singing one day in his cell, a guard shot him sideways through his lips to stop the singing. The pastor, not able to eat, gave his meager rations to the other prisoners, saying, 'You take this and get strong and be ready to serve your country.' They finally shot the pastor in order to quiet his spirit. Quiet his Spirit? That Spirit will march down through the ages inspiring men and women by his deathless love. It is power."

Jesus Christ rides to your gates today, in His war of amazing kindness. Will you let Him in, to take charge of your heart, and wage that war through you?

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, on Palm Sunday, April 3rd, at 7:30 P. M.

The final of the preachers in our 1955 Lenten Series is the Very Rev. Fred M. Adams, D.D., Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, N. J., who will again inspire a crowded Church, as he has for many years, Monday thru' Thursday. Bring your friends.

Bishop William P. Roberts, retired Bishop of Shanghai, will visit St. Stephen's Church for the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation on Sunday evening, April 24th. It is not too late to consider this important step in your spiritual pilgrimage.

The Annual Election to the Vestry has been postponed from the Monday after Easter to the Parish Meeting, which takes place in the Community House immediately after the Sunday Morning Service on April 17th, 1955.

REUNION OF CONFIRMATION CLASSES

Those who have presented for Confirmation by the Rector at St. Stephen's Church are being asked to meet with their Confirmation Class at the Maundy Thursday Service at 8:00 P. M. This reunion should bring together 200 persons who have been confirmed here over the past ten years.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

We extend a hearty welcome to the Very Rev. Chester B. Emerson, D.D., Dean-Emeritus of Trinity Cathedral, Cleveland, who will be our guest preacher Monday through Friday, March 28-April 1.

The Rev. Dr. Nathanael B. Groton, Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, will be our guest speaker Saturday, April 2nd.

THE BETTER VOICE

The Master of men lived and died for us to "make all things new." And the power of His life today remains so great that it can change stubborn people like us into forgivers. Listen to the story of George and Jimmy from that thrilling little book, "Come Wind, Come Weather." When the bombing of the English cities began, in World War II, George and Jimmy were moved into the country with hundreds of other children. Now these two were tough. They were pig-nosed and grubby, and they loved to fight; and nobody wanted to keep them in their home, till they landed at the home of a mill manager and his wife in Yorkshire.

The woman tucked them in for the night, and went downstairs to listen to the radio. Soon there we erthumps and yells from above, and she went up to find them fighting tooth and nail on the floor. She pulled them apart, sat them on their beds and calmly asked, "Why were you kids moved here from your homes?" "'Cause there was a blasted war on," grinned George. "Right. And it's bad enough having a war in the world, without having it in the house as well. Do you think that countries will ever agree if boys like you cannot agree?" They stared at her, solemn and surprised, for they had expected to be thrashed, as they would have been at home. She continued, "Now you sit there quietly, and let that stupid anger die away; and when a better feeling comes, let it show where you are wrong; and never mind about the other fellow. That better feeling you'll get in a minute will be God."

The boys said nothing for a long time. Then George spoke, "I pulled Jimmy's hair, and punched his nose—sorry." "All right," the woman said, "And what about you, Jimmy?" Jimmy wriggled uncomfortably, "I called George a damned fool before he pulled my hair." "All right, that's finished and done with," the woman went on. "I often get cross and fed up; and then I sit quiet and listen to the better voice; and then I know what to do. My husband does the same. It saves a lot of fuss and bother. Good night."

Jesus came on earth to teach quarrelsome mankind to "Listen to the Better Voice." Have you learned it, friend? It saves a lot of fuss and bother!

This past week the Rector gave an address to the members of the Diocese of Pittsburgh's Commission on Healing, preached at the Noonday Services at the Cathedral, and preached in the evenings at St. Paul's Church, St. Peter's Church, and the Church of the Ascension, all in Pittsburgh.

The Rector will finish his Lenten weekday preaching engagements this week in St. Matthew's Church, Kenosha, Wisconsin.

The Confirmation Class is now under way. It is not too late to enroll in it. If you are interested just come to the Rector's Study Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock.

THE ANNUAL LENTEN DINNER, given by the Mothers' Meeting will be on Thursday, March 31st, this year. Serving will be from 12 Noon to 6 P. M. This is your opportunity to help this excellent work headed by Mrs. Trautner.

We gratefully acknowledge these subscriptions to the Weekly Bulletin: Virginia D. Arnold, Gladys Given, Miss Helen F. Mockett, Mrs. Mabel B. Moore, Mrs. Cazimera Petroski, Mrs. Mary S. Roberts, Mrs. Paul T. Stackhouse, Mrs. Caroline Temme, Mrs. Anna M. Troth, and Mrs. Viola S. Wells.

Turn back, O Man, fore-swear thy foolish ways. Old now is earth, and none may count her days, Yet thou, her child, whose head is crowned with flame, Still wilt not hear thine inner God proclaim: "Turn back, O man; fore-swear thy foolish ways." Earth might be fair, and all men glad and wise, Age after age their tragic empires rise. Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep. Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep. Earth shall be fair, and all her people one, Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done. Now, even now, once more from earth to sky, Peals forth in joy man's undaunted cry, "Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!"

RE-CREATION

A wise man has written, "The word 'Christian' means something . . . when a man calls himself a Christian, he means that he admits Christ into every area of his life." Our Lent will be positive, if we set ourselves to welcome Him into all the areas of our lives. Into our recreation, for instance.

Jack Miner did that, at Kingsville, Ontario. Some of you may remember that rare story. He had founded a bird sanctuary there in 1904, where he fed, protected, cared for bird life, especially the wild ducks and geese. Then in 1909 he began "banding" them—placing a very light, numbered metal band around a leg of each bird. Later on, when one of them was shot down, or hurt, many miles away, the person who discovered the band would send it back to Jack Miner. Hundreds of these bands came back through the mail, and a vast fund of knowledge was obtained about the migration routes and habits of wild fowl. This was Jack Miner's recreation—he banded birds because he enjoyed it. Then in 1914 he had a sudden, new idea: "Early one morning, like a star shooting across the heavens, God's radio—or God's guidance, if you prefer to call it that—said to me, 'Stamp verses of The Scripture on the blank side of your bird bands.' From the very first time I stamped such a verse on a band, I felt the help of God, and knew I now had my tagging system complete."

So, the following Spring, he began. A hunter, who had shot down a duck in the South, found the bird band, with Jack Miner's name and address, and, on the inside, "Mark 11:22;" and, looking it up in his New Testament, read, "Have Faith in God." A man, serving time in an Arkansas prison, noticed the incident in a newspaper story, and thus started reading his Testament. Sportsmen, as the years went on, wrote Jack Miner that their lives had been changed by the Bible passages his bird bands had directed them to. And a missionary deep in the Hudson Bay country came out, for the first time in 26 years, to tell Mr. Miner that these bird bands had stirred up a new awakening of faith in the Indians and Eskimo who came in to have the missionary interpret the messages. Jack Miner commented, "My bird sanctuary would never have become what it is, nor have gained world recognition, had I not taken God into partnership, and given Him first place." He had let God into his recreation.

Whatever your recreation, let it become rich and glorious by letting God into it. If you enjoy a game of cards, invite some lonely person to join you and two other friends—and your game will re-create all four of you. If fancy cooking is your hobby, share it with some young bride, or your own daughter (or son!—), and you will have a share in the recreation of many a soul—and—body in the years to come. If you have a knack of letter-writing, let God use that gift to bring new laughter and faith and peace of heart to distant people. You can take any gift—your deftness with knitting needles, skill at carpentry, a flare for interior decoration—just let God into it, and it will become a breath-taking adventure.

Whatever your hobby is, make it into true "re-creation" by opening it to God, let Him use it constantly, for the only true recreation is found in Him who said, "Come unto me, and I will refresh you."!

SHOPPING LIST

One of these days I must go shopping. I am completely out of self-respect! I want to exchange the self-righteousness I picked up the other day for some humility which they say is less expensive and wears better. I want to look at some tolerance which is being used for wraps this season. Someone showed me some pretty samples of peace—we are a little low on this and one can never have too much of it. And by the way, I must try to match some patience that my neighbor wears. It is very becoming on her and I think that some might look equally well on me. I must try on that little garment of long-suffering they are displaying. I never thought I wanted to wear it, but I feel myself coming to it. And I mustn't forget to have my sense of humor mended and look for some inexpensive, everyday goodness. It's surprising how quickly one's stock of goods is depleted.

The Rev. Mr. Attenborough wishes to announce that he has accepted a call to become Rector of Christ Church, Upper Merion. He will begin his duties there on April 17th, the First Sunday after Easter.

The Confirmation Class is now under way. It is not too late to enroll in it. If you are interested just come to the Rector's Study Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock.

We gratefully acknowledge these additional Bulletin subscriptions: Elizabeth G. Anderson, Carrie E. Campbell, George McKenna, Mrs. Charlotte Murray, Charlotte Shoemaker.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Very Rev. N. R. High Moor, D.D., Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, who will be our guest preacher Monday through Friday, March 21-25, inclusive.

The Rev. T. Gordon Ott, Rector, Church of the Resurrection, Phila., will be our guest preacher on Saturday, March 26th. We are happy to welcome the Rev. Mr. Ott to St. Stephen's Church.

CONTAGIOUS POWER OF FAITH

In all deeply and thoroughly Christian lives, there is a child-likeness which reminds one of the teaching of Jesus. It is the wisdom of childhood to trust some "big person" completely, with all their heart. And child-like followers of Jesus trust God like that, and teach others that same quiet, utter faith in the Everlasting Father.

There is a story of the great doctor, Sir William Osler, and a little girl named Janet, which bears witness to the contagious power of such child-like faith. Janet was dying, and the great doctor wanted her to come to death quiet and unafraid. He used to come to see her twice a day during the last month of her life. No matter how busy the great man was, he always made those two visits. When he came, he played the part of a friendly hobgoblin, and Janet was the fairy Godmother; and all their conversation was fairy talk.

One cold November day, the story runs, when the end was near, he mysteriously brought out from his inside pocket a beautiful red rose, carefully wrapped in paper, and told her how he had watched this last rose of Summer growing in his garden; and how the rose had called out to him that she wanted to go along to see his fairy godmother. That evening there was a fairy tea party at the table by the bed—Sir William talking to the rose, to his little lassie, and to her mother; always have the color of a red rose and the little girl was to understand that neither fairies nor people could always have the color of the red rose in their cheeks, or stay as long as they wanted in one place, but that they would be very happy in another home, and must not let the people they left behind them feel unhappy about it, nor be unhappy themselves. So, thru' such a simple story as Jesus used to tell, the great doctor let God guide him to take away from the little girl's heart all fear of death. So, in like manner, that child-like spirit in us can face the fog of death with quiet confidence; and that faith can bring peace and steadfastness into the lives of those about us.

LITURGY MEANS LAY-WORK

A woman's suddenly fainting in the front pew shifted the exchange between Minister and thundering response thus: "Lift up your hearts!"—"We lift them up unto the Lord!"—Will someone take this lady out?"—"It is meet and right so to do!" The congregation was doing its liturgical best in the situation!

Strangely, when Churches "go liturgical," they usually just interlard a hirherto simple service with archaic passages from some traditional prayer book. At the same time, when Roman or other high-church groups "go liturgical," they become less formal, more improvising and creative. Why this two-way traffic?

The word "liturgy" of course means "lay-work", from leit (laic) and ergos (work): it is the part of Christian worship which the people are supposed to get under. Thus the Liturgical Movement in the Roman Church seeks more participation by the congregation. People, not just choirs, sing. Prayers are repeated in the vernacular, not in Latin, so that people can say them. Even the Communion is reinterpreted as the act of all who gather round the table, not just of the priest bringing the sacrament down by himself.

Meanwhile this very lay-participation which Roman Catholics encourage is slipping away in Protestantism. We pay choirs, not to help us sing, but to sing to or for us. We shudder at an impromptu "Amen" in sermon or prayer. The congregation avoids its "work."

As today education and "group work" and Catholicism all build more "lay work" into their gatherings, can we reclaim its meaning in Protestant worship? One way is Quaker, every-member-equal participation, with silence for all. Discussion of the morning's sermon at a coffee session or an On-the-Other-Hand meeting right after the service is a growing custom. Like the "buzz-groups" approach anywhere, it makes the topic far more intimately real.

Even beyond such "audience participation," which Christian worship deeply needs and cannot live without, liturgies themselves may well be re-thought. Both minister and layman must again weave current culture, serious vocabulary, inner problems and outer history into living liturgy. To worship we need not step nostalgically back into middle English, nor shift to a technical vocabulary. To be really lay-work, liturgy must again speak in lay terms, about an Event which is history but also creative and poignant experience of everyman, everyday.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 132 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE GIVER

When someone gives a gift, the important thing is not the gift but that someone loves us enough to do us this kindness. The gift is good, but how much more wonderful it is to have a loving friend!

God is our dearest Friend. His Love finds expression in countless ways. Let us be thankful for His priceless gifts, but especially thankful that we have Him, our ever-loving Heavenly Father.

Before God's footstool to confess
A poor soul knelt and bowed his head,
"I failed," he wailed. The Master said
"Thou didst thy best—that is success."

A woman from Quincy, Florida has written: "Dear Friends at St. Stephen's; I have a deep feeling of thankfulness for what St. Stephen's meant to me when I visited your church early in March. Please know my heart is grateful for the meaning that came into my life anew after worshipping with you. Sincerely, Mrs. T. W. Cantey."

At a luncheon on June 7th the Philadelphia Bar Association honored Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Esq., on his 50th year as a member of the Philadelphia Bar.

"I have just come home from the Jefferson Hospital," writes a lady from Glenside. "While there I was lucky enough to be in a room quite near St. Stephen's. That meant that I could hear the Hymns played on your bells. They cheered me and reminded me that God is always with us. Thank you for them."

Dorcas and Gail Kurtz, of California, who worked with Rebecca and Wally Beard, and who have held Missions in many Churches, will bring a message on Healing, with Special Music, followed by Ministry of Healing. EVERYONE INVITED. TUESDAY, JUNE 14th, 1955, at 8 P. M.

The Annual Burd Day will be held on Saturday, June 18th, at 2:30 P. M. at the Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Ave., West Philadelphia.

We wish to express our thanks for the Bulletin subscriptions received from Anna Bondira and Edward H. Sutton.

HOME-MADE TOXINS

E. Stanley Jones has written, "The first step out of confusion (which is the basis of anxiety) is a complete honesty with one's self and others. That hits at the center. When you are honest there, then healing spreads . . . We may, in that discovery, be as hard on ourselves as Bernard Shaw is in his description of one who is creating his own illnesses: "A self-centered little clod of ailments and grievances complaining that the world would not dedicate itself to making him happy." And then Shaw adds this, "The secret of being miserable is to have leisure to bother about whether you are happy or not . . ." Stanley Jones continues,

"Most of our ills—physical, spiritual—are . . . 'home-grown.' Many are filled with home-made toxins caused by wrong attitudes towards life. We have what Dr. Flanders Dunbar calls "The beloved symptom"—a symptom brought on to provide a way out of a problem we are not solving but dodging by illness.

"For instance, Elizabeth Barrett, the poetess, was an invalid, with a separate room, much attention and sympathy and 'half in love with death.' Then along came Robert Browning, the poet, and tho' six years her junior, he fell madly in love with her. They were married when she was 40. At 41 she was climbing mountains, and at 43 gave birth to a healthy child. She no longer had need of her symptom. It dropped away. Fall madly in love with Christ. Many of your 'beloved symptoms' will fall away."

Thomas Thraherne has wondenfully stated the fact that "by love alone" are all the vital problems of life solved: "God is present by love alone. By love alone He is great and glorious. By love alone He liveth and feeleth in other persons. By love alone He enjoyeth all the creatures. By love alone He is pleasing to Himself. By love alone He is rich and blessed."

"O, Why dost thou not by love alone seek to achieve all these? By love alone attain another self; by love alone live in others; by love alone attain thy glory?

"The soul is shriveled up and buried in a grave, that does not love. But that which does love wisely and truly is the joy and end of all the world, the King of Heaven, and the friend of God, the shining light and temple of eternity; the brother of Jesus Christ, and one Spirit with the Holy Ghost. Amen."

IN THE HANDS OF THE POTTER

Jeremiah, in the vivid parable of the potter and the clay, presents a puzzling story. Here is the potter, who certainly knows what he is doing, and yet his hand spoils one piece of clay, and shapes another into a graceful vessel. Since the potter is the all-wise God, it is not easy to see why his hand should spoil one man, and mould another into usefulness.

A recent writer has keenly shown how God makes His natural world subject to His will—"somehow He leads the birds south and the pigeons home. Somehow He guides the bees in the bee-hive, and the ants in the ant-hill. Animals and plants do spontaneously and instinctively what they must do in His order." In other words, birds and animals have no choice—they have to do God's will, for He made them that way. But it is altogether different with human beings—"we, however, being Sons of God, possess the freedom to choose to follow His plan for us or reject it." . . . Human beings can "play God"—or they can fall in with His will, and live as His obedient and useful children. It is a choice, open to each of us.

In other words, God has given to human beings the unique freedom to be stubborn or pliable in His hand. If they are stubborn, resisting His purposes, they are broken when He seeks to mould them. If they are willing, responsive to His promptings, then His hand shapes them into the vessel He meant them to be. Each decides which kind of clay he will be!

The same truth is evident in the history of the nations. It becomes more and more evident that God intends no nation to lord it over the other nations as an enduring cock of the walk. It becomes equally evident that He intends nations to show compassion and mercy toward each other. Twice Germany tried to conquer the western world, and twice God broke Germany. And then after World War I, instead of making a merciful peace with Germany, we made one that sought to crush her—so, before long, we had another war on our hands, and God made us suffer for our stubbornness. After reluctantly signing the World War I Peace Treaty, General Smuts was heard to murmur sorrowfully, "They do not know how to treat a fallen foe." He knew, for after the Boer War, England had treated his people generously, and had won the reward of warm, dependable loyalty from the Boers. France should have remembered, for after her defeat at Waterloo, the English had given Wellington a free hand in making the peace terms, and he had immediaetly declared, "Then the first item in the peace will be that France shall live." As a result of that merciful and generous peace, the two nations had enjoyed more than a century of mutual support. Nations are as clay in the potter's hand—to be broken or shaped!

The business of clay is to be pliable in the hand of the potter. The mercy of the potter, in Jeremiah's parable, was shown as he gave the stubborn clay a second chance to be pliable: just as he had given a second chance to Israel; Just as He gives one to you. Recently I heard a woman thank God for His molding presence in a wonderful series of meetings, as she declared, "I think I have resigned as general manager of the universe." She had taken the second chance to be "as clay in the hand of the Potter!"

WANTED: A WORKER

When God wants a worker, He calls for a worker. When He has work to be done He goes to those who are already at work. When God wants a great servant, He calls a busy man. Scriptures and history attest this truth.

MOSES was busy with his flocks at Horeb.
GIDEON was busy threshing wheat at the press.
DAVID was busycaring for his father's sheep.
ELISHA was busy ploughing with 12 yoke of oxen.
NEHEMIAM was busy bearing the king's wine cup.
PETER and ANDREW were busy casting nets into the sea.
JAMES and JOHN were busy mending their nets.
MATTHEW was busy collecting customs.
SAUL was busy persecuting the friends of Jesus.
WILLIAM CAREY was busy mending shoes.

We gratefully acknowledge these Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, Mrs. Edna L. Hewes, Mrs. Jay Knox, Mrs. McEwen.

Keep in mind—The Annual Sunday School Picnic—to be held on Saturday, June 11th. One bus will leave from the Church at 9 A. M. and another bus will leave the Burd School at 9:30 A. M. Bus fare for adults is $1.00.

Dorcas and Gail Kurtz, of California, who worked with Rebecca and Wally Beard, and who have held Missions in many Churches, will bring a message of Healing, with Special Music, followed by Ministry of Healing. Everyone invited. TUESDAY, JUNE 14th, 1955, at 8 P. M.

The World Council of Churches.

The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

Let us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us. Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, Leaders of the people by their counsels and by their knowledge. Such as found out musical tunes, and recited verses in writing; all these were honored in their generations, and were the glory of their times. And some there be, which have no memorial; who are perished, as though they had never been. Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth for evermore.

LAY LEADERS' SUNDAY

The Rector invited 36 of the devoted lay leaders of St. Stephen's Church to the front pews of the Church last Sunday morning to receive the recognition and appreciation of the Rector and congregation.

He said, in part: "I wonder how many realize what an enigma we are proving to be in certain religious circles. There are many people who just cannot understand why St. Stephen's Church, a downtown Church, continues to exist. That is understandable. The natural advantages are against us—community, parking, transportation, a closely-knit fellowship, and all the other advantages that a suburban Church enjoys, located in the midst of its people. Natural advantages can be a Church's weakness. It can depend on them instead of its own resources. It can take for granted many things a downtown Church would neither care nor dare assume. An army is at its best when it has obstacles to meet and overcome. A Church is at its best when it daily wrestles with its own existence.

"You might ask—How does that 'wrestling' manifest itself? In many ways: In services that strive for perfection every time we meet together in public worship; in a choir that sings the finest liturgical music under the direction of a choirmaster skilled in the art; by a people who give liberally for the cause of the National Church at home and abroad; by a Pastoral program that strives to meet the needs of its people in all areas of life, and the needs of those who have no Church Home; by a devoted laity dedicated to the proposition that St. Stephen's has an unique and important part to play in the life of the Church that demands loyalty, love and sacrifice. These things are not easily discernable to those who study us at a distance, but they are a revelation to all who cast their lot with us.

The Annual Sunday School Picnic will be held at Menlo Park in Perkasie on Saturday, June 11th. One bus will leave from the Church at 9 A. M. and another bus will leave the Burd School at 9:30 A. M. Bus fare for adults is $1.00.

STOP, REST, AND PRAY

We are all familiar with the warning which is to be seen at railroad crossings, STOP—LOOK—LISTEN. No one in his right mind deliberately drives in front of a moving train, but a good many have been known to do it through carelessness—hence the warning.

It might not be a bad idea to adopt as the warning signal, STOP—REST—PRAY. The vast majority of people do not intentionally choose the lesser things of life, but a great many of them, nevertheless, either drift or are driven into second-rate ways, and are missing out when it comes to happy, triumphant living.

The Church bids us slow down and reflect a bit.

CITIZEN OF THE WORLD

The true citizen of today is a citizen of the world, whose first loyalty is to God and all God's children everywhere. Patriotism comes as a second loyalty to be checked, disciplined, and determined by the first and greater loyalty. Unless the world is to move backward, we must deliberately foster a growing consciousness of the oneness and intimacy of human life.

Christianity is a fellowship divine and human—here and hereafter. Therefore, it is for the Christian Church so clearly and persistently to lead the way that we shall win a worthy peace.

Our enemies, Communism, Fascism, and every expression of selfishness, are the reversion of civilized man to the order of tooth and claw, of lust and greed and stupidity. They are a denial of God and His Christ. Their greatest effort is to obliterate this ideal of Christian Citizenship which recognizes the brotherhood of man, under the Fatherhood of God, and the constantly higher standards of humanity in modern civilization which have emerged from it.

Therefore, as Christians, the task which lies before us demands our consecration and absolute loyalty; to create in men mutual understanding and help, which slowly but with determination shall advance the world toward brotherhood and true peace.

Nothing short of this is a worthy Memorial to those men whom we with reverent and grateful hearts remember on Memorial Day,

Serve Thou, O God, the Nation's need;
The healing leaves restore;
Give us the courage, vision, strength,
That blest the days of yore!
The heritage we must preserve,
Whatever the cost may be:
Vouchsafe, O Lord, the lights of old,
To bring us back to Thee!

Mothers' Meeting Annual Strawberry Festival and Entertainment to be held in the Community House, Thursday, June 2nd, at 8 P. M. Come to this pleasant affair and help a most worthy work of St. Stephen's.

The response to the Spring In-Gathering of the United Thank Offering was most generous. 84 women contributed $409.32.

HARMONY AND CO-OPERATION

The historic decision of the Supreme Court—that segregation is unconstitutional—has already caused a deep rejoicing, hot resentment, wild and reckless threats, soul-searching prayer and seeking after God's will. Christian democracy will be judged by our working out of this vital question. Only with God's help can we gain the necessary understanding—and do our thinking with more light and less heat!

After all, what is the part to be played by negroes in the world—what role has God for them? W. R. E. Clark, in "African Eagle" gives the clue to this answer. He tells how Achimota, a new Christian College on the gold coast of Africa, was opened in 1924. As all colleges have their seals, so it had to have its seal. What should it be? How could the great aims and ideals of this Christian School be put into a college crest? Here is the story:

One evening as Principal Frazier of England and Aggrey "Head of Achimota" were out for a walk, this subject cropped up. "By the way, Aggrey," said Principal Frazier, "Talking about a College Crest for Achimota, I've been thinking about that parable of yours." "Which do you mean?" asked Aggrey. "You know, that one about the piano keys, in which you say that you can play a tune of sorts on the black keys, and you can play one of sorts on the white keys, but for harmony you must use both black and white. I think that would look well on a College Crest." "How do you mean?" "Well, just put an octave of a piano onto the shield, and surely that will stand for everything Achimota means—not discord nor conflict, but harmony and co-operation. Black and white working together. That, as we know, is what Achimota stands for." So the piano keys became the seal for Achimota, and today it is known throughout Africa.

St. Paul points out that there are "diversities of gifts, but the same spirit"; that there are various members in the same body—and that one cannot get on without the other. Likewise, the white keys cannot produce the full beauty of music without the black keys; and the white people cannot produce a rich and harmonious civilization without the full, free partnership of black-skinned people. God made us that way—incomplete without each other.

This summer . . . The Church will be here, will you?
If not, your filling your envelopes in advance . . . will be greatly appreciated.

LAST ISSUE

This is the last issue of St. Stephen's Bulletin until September. It's not published in July and August.

The Regular Sunday Services, 9 A. M., 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. will continue throughout the summer.

THE INSTRUCTION

Anthem: Jesus, Thou Divine Companion ..... Plymouth Collection

Jesus, Thou divine companion, by Thy lowly human birth Thou hast come to join the workers, burden-bearers of the earth. Thou, the carpenter of Nazareth, toiling for Thy daily food, By Thy patience and Thy courage, Thou hast taught us toil is good. Where the many toil together, there art Thou among Thine own; Where the tired workman sleepeth, there art Thou with him alone; Thou, the peace that passeth knowledge, dwellest in the daily strife; Thou, the bread of heaven, art broken in the sacrament of life. Every task, however simple, sets the soul that does it free; Every deed of love and kindness done to man is done to Thee. Jesus, Thou divine Companion, help us all to work our best; Bless us in our daily labor, lead us to our Sabbath rest.

7:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer and Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling

HELL AND HEAVEN—Labor Day, 1955

A few years ago the daily newspapers announced the end of a long, long strike in the automotive industry. They called it the "Billion Dollar Strike" because it had cost working people and investors that much in lost wages and dividends. Fights between Capital and Labor are very costly—it may well be that Jesus' way of deep good will has more sense to it! In fact, any kind of quarreling is expensive, and needless enemies are a very costly luxury. War—between nations, or in your home—is certainly a most wasteful way of trying to settle any problem. Jesus had the Divine Common Sense of the matter when He bade His followers to care for each other, to have a lively concern for each other's needs and hopes—to "love thy neighbor as thyself."

After all, as old Patrick Henry pointed out, "We must hang together, or we shall hang separately." Life is like that. Working people depend upon Capital, and Capital depends upon working-people—and they can both prosper only if they will work intelligently shoulder to shoulder as partners. Jesus wasn't giving lovely advice—He was pointing out an eternal, hard-headed necessity when He commanded us, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

There is an unforgettable legend I like to share with you again and again—of a good man who died and went to Heaven. On his arrival, he asked if he might go down for a brief visit to hell, just to look it over. Permission was granted, and a guide went with him. On their arrival, the guide took him to hell's dining room, and the good man was amazed to find a great Banquet-Table, loaded with food fit for a king. Then the people came in, ghastly thin, like skeletons, shrieking in an agony of hunger as they saw the tempting food. Each had a long fork strapped to his right arm, and each plunged his fork into the roast beef and struggled to put it in his mouth; but it was impossible, and their despairing groans shook the floor of hell . They were dismissed from the table, and went away, sobbing. The good man had now had enough of hell; so he asked to be taken back to Heaven. The guide had him there swiftly, and took him immediately to Heaven's dining hall. There the good man saw the identical Banquet-Table, loaded with the same rich food. And the citizens of Heaven, as they strolled into the hall, had exactly the same forks and knives strapped to their arms. But they were healthy, well fed, vigorous people, and were joking happily together. The good man was mystified, but his guide said, "Just wait and see." When the Heavenly host was seated, suddenly each turned and faced his neighbor, speared a bite of food with the fork, and fed it to his neighbor. And the guide said, "You see, here we feed each other!"

Hell is simply that place where people think only of themselves. Heaven is any place where each thinks of his neighbor and cares for him. God grant that it may be said of your home, your town, your world, "We feed each other."

Charles E. Lewis, Jr., for a number of years a Flag Bearer at St. Stephen's Church, attended Manoeuvers at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, this summer. Charles has one more year at Temple University and then he will receive a regular army commission and career. Charles was a distinguished military student and in the upper three per cent of his class in the Business School of Temple University.

During the summer structural changes were made in the office of St. Stephen's Church to facilitate the work of the Rector and his staff. An additional wash room was added as well as a waiting room with a new entrance to the office. Both rooms were painted. Come and see us soon!

Thomas Keller, our Crucifer, was graduated from the U. of P. in June and was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the Marine Corps and is now stationed in Quantico, Virginia. He plans to be married in October.

We wish to express our thanks to those who provided memorial flowers for the adornment of the Altar during July and August.

July 3—Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Hauger, for parents.
July 10—King's Daughters, for Mrs. Vanderslice.
July 17—Mr. David Magee, for his wife.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 132 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and at 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE

The early Christians faced each day with glowing confidence. No matter how black the sky, they knew that God would lead them through the storm into sunlight again. They found that sickness and perplexity yielded to the power of faith. Jesus had said to the father of the sick boy, "All things are possible to him that believeth." The father had taken Jesus seriously, and trusted. The boy had recovered his health. They took Jesus seriously, those early Christians. If we take Him seriously, we shall make wonderful discoveries. We shall find, as they did, that anything can happen where God is trusted.

Today we are remembering that miracles can happen. To those who take Jesus seriously, they do happen. In the "New York Gazette" for Sept. the 4th, 1738, was an advertisement offering for sale: "Englishman, Cheshire Cheese, Negro men, a Negro girl and a few Welshmen." Two hundred years ago, in an American city, you could sell human beings and cheese in the same breath. And today there is no slavery, and we are at last tackling the necessity of treating negroes as equally human, equally children of God. It was people who believed in God the Father, and who trusted Him to do wonders, who opened the way for this miracle to take place. All things are possible . . . history backs up that claim!

However, you are so apt to think that miracles can only happen to mysterious, wonderful people. Stop and think—the early disciples were very plain people. They were as plain as a common candle. There was nothing very bright about them until they were kindled by Jesus Christ to believe in the power of God, and to trust themselves to His care. God certainly did the impossible through them, again and again!

Miracles happen to anyone who dares to trust that all things are possible to God; and who dares to act on that belief. Dr. Fosdick has written, "It is the Luther Burbanks who believe what can be done with thorny cactus. It is the Wilfred Grenfelds who believe what can be done in Labrador. It is Christ who believed incredibly in Peter and James and John. Everyone knows Tschaikowsky's great piece of music "Andante Cantabile." It is one of the loveliest of his compositions and it will never die. On a summer vacation Tschaikowsky heard a Russian baker singing to himself a popular song which began, "Vanya sat on a divan and smoked a pipe of tobacco." That is what Tschaikowsky started with! That is what he saw the possibilities in, and miraculously transformed into the "Andante Cantabile."

Jesus promised, "All things are possible to him that believeth." That can include you. You may consider yourself as unpromising as that cheap Russian song, but, in the hands of God, you can be transformed into His song. God can if you can simply stammer out, as the sick boy's father did, "I believe. Help Thou mine unbelief."

APPRECIATION

Dear Dr. Price:—I happened to pass St. Stephen's Church this morning (Aug. 30) and stopped in to say a prayer. I fell in love with this quaint House of God and honestly did not know what kind of Church it was when I stopped there; but I did know it was the House of God, and the doors were open.

I walked around the Church on tiptoe, and took in the beautiful windows, and, on leaving, picked up a few pamphlets. And then I knew it was an Episcopal Church. On arriving home I was pleased to learn of your program of Spiritual Healing. God willing, I shall come back for I am greatly in need of God's healing . . . C. B.

THE EARTH IS THE LORD'S

One warm August afternoon, I sat with a friend on his porch in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, and we watched the ruby throated hummings birds feeding from the tubes of sugar-water he had set out for them. They would stand still in the air, their tiny wings beating so fast that you could not see them, and dart their long bills into the tube for a deep draught of the sweetness. My friend pointed out two birds of quiet-colored plumage—green-backed but lacking the ruby throat—and commented, "There, I believe, is a mother bird getting her daughter ready for the long flight South." And he reminded me how these thumb-size birds migrate thousands of miles South, over the land and sea, to reach their winter residence in the Southern Hemisphere. It is incredible that they have the strength to go that far! It is even more miraculous that they know the way, without map or guide. It makes one silent with wonder. It makes one thoughtful.

Someone has said "Traces of the Divine Author in the story 'The Planets Tell'"; and that is equally true of the story of the humming birds! "Observing the length and breadth of this mysterious universe, we have the inescapable feeling that Someone has been here before us. Things about us, budding, blooming, dying, do not explain themselves. Imagine a play without an author, a symphony without a composer, a child without a father, and only then try to imagine a world without a Maker."

One is reminded of the 24th Psalm which proclaims, "The earth is the Lord's and all the fullness thereof . . ." In other words, God fashioned the earth, and lent it to us for our use. It belongs to Him, and not to us. We are simply His tenants, living in His wonderful world. Someone has said, "Service is the rent we pay for our room on earth." Our bodies, our houses, our nation belong to God, and we occupy them by His grace. "Whether a man be planting a garden, running a machine or raising a child, he is using materials that are not his private property, and he is acting . . . as agent for his God." Therefore, a farmer has no right to exhaust the soil on his farm, and leave it worn out for the next generation—for that farm is God's. A parent has no right to choose what life-work his son shall pursue, for the child belongs to God and His purposes. Men and women have no right to live as they choose, because they are God's, and He alone knows what He made them for, and what He means them to do. The earth, and its people, are the Lord's!

When a person learns that the world is God's, and is glad of it, he is at last at home in that world. The story is told of two Americans traveling through Wales. When they were overtaken by a severe thunder storm, they found shelter in a rickety cottage where an old woman lived alone. As the storm grew steadily worse, they figured that both they and the old lady were in danger if they remained there. As they departed for safer quarters, they urged her to go with them, but without success. Finally, looking at them with a kind of disdain, she drew herself up and said, "I'm proud to have a God Who can shake the world like that!" She was God's creature, in God's world, so why be afraid! If we take Jesus seriously, we shall remember, that the earth is the Lord's, and find peace of heart.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the Annual Appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year the Benevolent Society sent 5,352 pieces of sewing at a cost of $518.93 for Episcopal Hospital, Jefferson, and Presbyterian Hospitals and the visiting Nurses' Society. The articles were cut generally ready for sewing by the Hospitals. In some cases the cutting was done by the Benevolent Aides: Mrs. Raspin, Mrs. Leithead, Mrs. Schrott, and Miss Miriam Daley.

Five hundred dollars will just about cover estimated expenses for the Season 1955-56. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals which desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

17th ANNUAL BAZAAR

The congregation for the Hard of Hearing of St. Stephen's Church is giving their Annual Bazaar in the Community House on Thursday, October 6th. A tasty luncheon will be served, and a delicious dinner in the evening. COME TO THE BAZAAR, BRING YOUR FRIENDS.

YOU ARE INVITED to consider membership in this Church. If you believe in God and wish to take your stand in fellowship with others—do so now. These are days of challenge to all of us who uphold Christ. The ministers of this Church will be glad to confer with you about the meaning of membership here and invite your inquiry.

The Rev. John Maillard of England will conduct a Teaching and Healing Mission in St. Stephen's Church on Saturday, November 26th through Tuesday, November 29th. Mark your Calendar and inform your friends! "Make the Mission" and be richly blessed.

The Rector is a member of the Advisory Committee of "Hopetown," the purpose of which is to give assistance to the hospitalized mentally ill and their relatives, former patients, and others interested in personality health. The headquarters of Hopetown is 1218 Chestnut Street.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

PRAYING HANDS

Jesus' bidding to men was to lose their lives, to let go of their demand to have their own way—to forget themselves in serving God, in serving other men. He promised that in self-forgetfulness they would find real life, deep joy. Those who are willing to take Jesus at His word find that His promise works out. When they forget themselves, God can remember them more richly. When they "let go and let God" use them for others, then—wonder of wonders!—God's power flows through them to save others. In the words of the old Scots Prayer, God is "glorified" in them.

Albrecht Durer as a boy was eager to paint and to carve; so eager that his father, a goldsmith, finally allowed the boy to leave home and begin to study the art of painting. Durer with an older man—who also wanted to become a great artist—lived together in the city, and tried to earn a living and learn to paint at the same time. They found that this was beyond their powers—they did not have enough strength or time in each day to do both. So the older man said, "I'll make a living for both of us while you study; and when your works begin to sell, I shall have my chance." Durer protested, but the older man had his way, and went to work in a restaurant, long hours of washing dishes and scrubbing floors, and waiting on tables, while Durer studied his painting and carving, also for long, long hours. One day Durer came home jubilant, with a considerable sum of money from selling some of his carvings. Now the older man could stop working in the restaurant; could start learning to be a painter. But when he began to paint, he found that something had happened to his hands—they were stiff and twisted from hard work, and from being in water so much—no longer could he paint with any skill. And Albrecht Durer was very sad because his friend had lost his power to paint, through his self-sacrificing love.

One day Durer came quietly into his friend's room, and saw him kneeling, his stiffened hands clasped reverently before him, and a great idea flashed into Durer's mind. "I will paint his hands as they are . . . when people look at the picture it will help them to think of God, and of prayer, and how much the love of God in a life will make that person sacrifice for another." That is the story of the famous picture "Praying Hands"—Which you have undoubtedly seen portrayed on church leaflets—those rough, clasped hands that remind us of prayer and God; that remind us of the God of the Cross alive in His saving power through the person who "loses" himself.

APPRECIATION

Dr. Price:—I want to try to express my thanks and gratitude for the many wonderful prayers said on my behalf. Your prayers at St. Stephen's are a life-line to those of us who seek your help. When I first wrote, my mind was in a terrible condition. I really feared I would have to go to a Mental Hospital. It gave me courage to know that constant prayers were said for me. I thank you with all my heart for the blessed prayers for me.—R. S. (California).

The Parking Garage, opposite St. Stephen's Church, has a special Sunday rate of 25¢ during the hours of 6 A. M. to 1:30 P. M.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller cooperation between doctors and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors and nurses in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato.

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of fellow has a germ than what kind of germ has a fellah."—Shattuck.

"'Tis not the body, but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell.

The Rector is to have a Mission of Spiritual Healing in St. John's Church, Elizabeth, N. J., on the evenings of October 16, 17, 18 and 19.

We have now received $5,560.85 on our pledge of $6,000.00 towards the Builders for Christ Campaign.

A PRAYER FOR ST. STEPHEN'S

O God, make the door of this house wide enough to receive all who need human love and fellowship; narrow enough to shut out all envy, pride and strife.

Make its threshold smooth enough to be no stumbling block to children, nor to straying feet, but rugged and strong enough to turn back the tempter's power. God make the door of this house the gateway to Thine Eernal Kingdom.

THE VICTORIOUS WAY

How is it possible to "sin no more?" Certainly not by struggling strenuously against temptation—the man who walks down the street saying to himself, "I will not go into that saloon and have a drink" is inviting disaster and defeat. Victory does not come from whipping up one's small human powers against some sin. On the other hand, our tempted friend can say to himself, in the words of Paul, "No temptation has overtaken you that is not common to man. God is faithful, and He will not let you be tempted beyond your strength, but with the temptation will also provide the way of escape, that ye may be able to endure it." That same man—no longer struggling directly against the saloon—finds God putting into his mind his family awaiting him at home, and he quickens his step, and strides out for home, along the way of escape provided by God.

"An unknown Christian" reminds us that the victory which overcometh the world is simply faith. He says, "we are to 'stand' not struggle—having done all things, to stand." The shield of faith is able to quench all the fiery darts of the evil one (Ephesians 6:10-29). Faith does nothing; faith lets God do all. Jesus Christ has won the victory for us. "I live," says St. Paul, "Yet not I; Christ liveth in me." So we come back to the same theme—The secret of victory is the in-dwelling—Christ. Victory is in trusting, not trying. "This is the victory that overcometh the world (and sin also!)—even our faith!"

The victorious way is a clean-cut way of turning ones back on all sin—in other words, on all that is against God's will. "A pick-pocket once strolled into a rescue mission—so the story goes—and was converted. He saw in Christ pardon for all his sins, and power against them. Rejoicing in a new life he went on his way planning for the future. "In my un-regenerate days," he said to himself, "I used to pick 20 pockets a day. But I am now a Christian man, and I know that to pick pockets is to sin. So I must give it up, gradually of course. Tomorrow I'll make a start and for the rest of the month I shall pick only 10 pockets a day; next month by striving and struggling against this sin, I'll cut it down to 5 a day, for I'm a Christian man now. By the end of the year by constant endeavor (and the help of God) I hope to give up picking pockets altogether." Do you believe that story? The writer does not! We expect a pick-pocket or a drunkard, or a gambler, to give up his sin once for all—the very moment of his conversion. We tell him—and we tell him truly—that Christ is able to give him complete and instant victory."

Is God unable to give us a similar victory over what we deem to be lesser sins? He is able to make us "more than conquerors." It is, at bottom, a question of trust. As an unknown poet has written:

"Said the sparrow to the robin, 'I should really like to know
Why these anxious human beings rush about and worry so.'
Said the robin to the sparrow: 'Friend, I think that it must be
That they have no heavenly Father such as cares for you and me.'"

The Rector will preach at Christ Church and St. Michael's, Germantown, tonight He will address the new students of the Philadelphia Divinity School Tuesday at 9:00 A. M., and speak in the Lansdowne Methodist Church on Wednesday evening.

The Reading Company Employees Chapter of the St. George Association of which the Rector is Spiritual advisor, will have their Annual Corporate Communion Service in St. Stephen's at 8 A. M., October 9th, followed by a Breakfast at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel. Dr. Raymon Kistler, President of Beaver College, will be the speaker.

TESTIMONIAL

Dr. Price:—About six weeks ago when my husband suddenly collapsed, a friend in Cape May placed his name in your chain of Prayers. Mr. M. is now making a miraculous recovery from the serious operation which removed the cause. I want to thank all who had a part in the prayers which channeled God's healing to us.—G. M.

A very fine article on the work of our Prayer Fellowship appeared in the Philadelphia Daily News, September 3rd.

The United Community Campaign of the United Fund opened on October 3rd and will close on November 17th. 250 Agencies and services participate: American Red Cross, 152 Red Feather Agencies, Salvation Army, etc. We earnestly urge everyone to contribute liberally.

Miss Doris Smith has matriculated in the West Chester Normal School.

This Sunday Miss H. E. Yeakle returns to take charge and teach the Bible Class, in the Community House at 4 P. M. Special solist this Sunday will be William F. Baumgarten. The usual coffee hour follows Class.

THE JOY OF LIFE

There is a homely parable of an old mother elephant and her baby elephant. The old mother was tethered to an iron ring in the floor of the room where she was kept with her youngster. Suddenly she caught sight of a delectable handful of hay just beyond her reach, close to the wall of the room. Eagerly she stretched for it; strained and tugged and s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d for it; but she found she just could not reach it, and finally gave up the attempt.

Turning her attention to her baby, she saw that he was being pestered and bitten by a cloud of flies, so she busied herself in blowing the flies off with mighty blasts from her trunk. Her mighty blowing reached the wall of the room, and the current of returning air unexpectedly blew the hay back within her reach.

Life is like that. We do not find happiness by grasping for it—by straining and stretching after it. True happiness is not something one goes out and hunts and catches, like a fish, to bring home and enjoy. It is not something one can get by pursuing it directly. It is a by-product of a certain kind of life—that life that looks out for someone else, that gives itself away.

That is what Jesus meant when He said, "He that loseth his life shall find it." He meant that the woman who forgets herself in the loving service of Jesus shall find joy without even thinking of it. He meant that the man who forgets himself in someone else's need will suddenly find a song in his heart. Wherever earthly human beings like ourselves will take Jesus at His word; and sink ourselves in His great cause; forget our pin-pricks in caring for the wounds of others—then deep happiness slips in at the door when we are not even searching for it. All things seem to "work together for good," when we let ourselves go in love for God and people. It is a law of life. Happiness comes out of loving kindness. It works, always, and without exception.

You can check up on that law by looking at the life of Jesus Himself. He was always giving Himself away to people—day by day, until He gave His life on the Cross. And he was so glad of heart that children flocked to His feet, young couples invited Him to their wedding breakfast. He even "gave thanks" the night before He died. Deep joy always comes to the life that gives itself away.

TESTIMONIAL

Dear Dr. Price:—It is just me again. Guess you get tired of me, but honest, every time something happens, I am prompted to write and ask for prayers from your wonderful Prayer Fellowship. You have prayed for me and God gave me life, for which I can never praise Him enough.

Now I am writing for prayers for farmer Karen Walsh of Durand, Illinois, eight of whose fourteen children have been stricken with polio. Please drop Mr. Walsh a note of encouragement, of faith. It will help him, because the letter I received from you did so much for me. L. B.

The Rector presented Mr. William C. Wilkie for confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on September 19th.

The Rector gave the commencement address at the Franklin School of Science and Arts on Sept. 23rd. This School is for medical and X-ray Technology.

Mrs. Campbell, who is responsible for the Altar Flowers each Sunday, reports that there are four Sundays available for donors of Memorial Flowers—November 27th, June 12th, August 21st and September 25th.

The Rector will preach and conduct a Healing Service in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday at 7:30 P. M.

The Girls' Friendly Society will resume their meetings after the summer vacation, on Monday, October 3rd at 6:00 P. M. in the Community House.

WORKERS' COMMUNION

Sunday, October 2nd, is World-Wide Communion Sunday. We combine our Annual "Workers' Communion" with this great day, and invite our young people, and all active members of our parish organizations. We ask them to begin the Fall Season at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask God's blessing on all we do.

RELIGION AND MEDICINE

On Sunday, October 16th, we will have our Annual Service of St. Luke, the Physician, when we invite the doctors and nurses to join with us at the 11 o'clock Service. Cards are available in the vestibule for those who wish to mail an invitation to nurses or physicians.

We are happy to announce that Miss Nancy Troth has become an assistant in the Kindergarten Department of our Church School, and that Mr. John Crum, a student at the Philedelphia Divinity School, is in charge of the Juniors, and will conduct the Tuesday evening Chapel Service in the Burd School.

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe."Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

PLEDGE DAY

Advanced notice is given of our Annual Service on Sunday, Nov. 20th at 11:00 A. M. called "Loyalty Sunday", or Pledge Sunday" when we drop our Pledge Cards into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated to the work of the Episcopal Church at home and abroad. This year we have asked some thirty men to either phone, write or call upon the members of our church families to urge them to attend this service to hear the Rector's sermon and to participate in this meaningful service. Let nothing hinder your family from being represented at this service!

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS NOTE IS VALUE GIVING

Bishop T. N. Carruthers of South Carolina tells of a man's awakening. At the time of the annual Every Member Canvass a pledge card from one man came in with such a notable increase that the Vestry commented upon it at the next meeting. When thanked for his generosity the giver replied, "There has been no increase in my business. In fact I have not had as good a year as usual. Bupt I discovered that I was not giving according to my scale of values. This appeared to me as I was making out my checks for the month. I have never doubted that my Church meant more to me than my automobile, which I use for pleasure, but my giving did not reflect that fact. I could get along without an automobile, but not without the Church. I am trying to square my gift with my sense of values."

The story is a good example of proportionate giving to the Church as many people are increasingly giving. We are not being overgenerous when we give to church and good works a scriptural tithe of ten per cent of our income. It is the recognition that all that we are and have come ultimately from God. It is a thanksgiving for what we have received. This year the Canvass slogan throughout the Church is, "to live . . . GIVE!"

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW . . .

Occasionally we print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry.

"Dear Dr. Price:—About a month ago I wrote you asking that my name be given to your Prayer Fellowship, for I desired to be restored to complete health. Among my complaints, I listed my inability to sleep without sleeping pills. I had been addicted to them for 8 years. Soon after your Fellowship started to pray for me, I was delivered from sleeping pills and have now slept for 3 weeks without them. One night as I was going to take my pill a voice seemed to tell me that I no longer needed it. I took it by faith and I have rejoiced every minute since that day in God's faithfulness!"

NATIONAL DEFENSE

I like to share with you once a year that story from the "Congressional Record" which suggests that "whoso dwelleth under the defense of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." A 19 year old G. I. who had been awarded a medal for bringing in a large group of Japanese soldiers, single-handed, tells his own story:

"I want someone to know that I don't deserve that medal. It happened this way. I was captured by the Japanese, with 5 of my pals; we were marched through the jungle with bayonets at our backs. I had to see my comrades one by one killed and mutilated. I said the 23rd Psalm. I said the Lord's Prayer. Die I must, but I determined not to let my captors see my fears. Trembling from head to foot, marching in mud up to my ankles, with the bayonet sticking in my back, I began to whistle the way I used to when I was a small boy and had to go through a dark street. So I whistled, "We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing; He chastens and hastens His will to make known; the wicked oppressing cease them from distressing; sing praises to His name, He forgets not His own."

"Suddenly I became aware that someone had joined me in my whistling—it was my Japanese captor; he, too, was whistling the hymn. Soon I felt his gun fall back into place. He walked beside me then, and suddenly I jumped when, in perfect English, he said to me, 'I never cease to wonder at the magnificence of Christian hymns'; and in a few minutes talk revealed that the Japanese soldier had learned English in a Mission School Kindergarten to which I had contributed in my Sunday School days. The Japanese boy spoke of war, and how the Japanese Christians hated it. We both agreed on the power of Christianity, and what would happen if people really dared to live it; and then we began to talk of our families and our homes. Finally, at the suggestion of the Japanese, we knelt in the mud, and prayed for suffering humanity around the world, and for His peace that 'passeth understanding' among all men on earth.

"When we arose, he asked if I would take him back as a prisoner to the American headquarters. He said that it was the only way that he could live up to his Christianity, and thus help Japan to become a Christian nation. On the way back he found in various fox holes other Japanese Christians, and they too joined me. I shall never forget the joy and hope that came into their eyes as my Japanese friend unfolded to them, one by one, how we found each other, and why and where they were being taken. All the way back we talked of the Christian religion. When we neared camp, by mutual agreement they put on poker faces and sombre looks, and I, gun in hand, marched them into camp. After the war was over, they will spend their lives keeping alive and spreading an ever-growing Christian community in Japan. So, you see I don't deserve a medal for the most wonderful experience of my life." It would seem that the "defense of the Most High" might well be the strongest national defense of all. It sounds as if it might be worthwhile for the people of the earth to try that Defense whole-heartedly!

The Rector will participate in a series of Sunday evening services in Broadway Methodist Church, Camden, N. J., during November.

The Rector will speak to the Young Couples' Organization of St. John's Church, Roanoke, Virginia, Friday evening, November 18th.

The Annual Burd School Card Party and Bazaar will be held at 4226 Baltimore Ave., on Tuesday, November 15th, at 1:30 P. M. The tickets are $1.25.

ENJOY GIVING

We are meant to know the joy of giving. God intends us to have the means of doing kindnesses for Him. One of the joys of life is the liberty to give. God is always bounteous. His very nature is to give and give and give some more, and we are to enter into this joy. Jesus said, "Give and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again." Yes, we must even let God inspire men to give to us, even though St. Paul declares, "Jesus said it is more blessed to give than to receive." Generally it is best not to let the left hand know what the right does, but the following is not one of those occasions.

In common with many, I have learned to tithe every form of income, because I consider myself God's steward, and ask Him how He wants me to spend His money. I had a few dollars of His and asked Him what He wanted me to do with it. Next day I got my answer. I just knew. (One gets to recognize His way of speaking without voice or movement of lips, but forming the words in one's soul, to quote St. Julian of Norwich.) Many people ask how are we to know when we get guidance? If they tithed their income (however small or large) and then experimented in giving, asking for guidance as to the manner in which to spend this stewardship, they would soon learn to know when the Holy Spirit prompted the giving, through the love that flows with the gift, and the joy it brings to those that are helped.

What a revolution there would be in Christendom if church people gave away a tenth of their income.

"Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open to you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it." (Malachi 3:10)

"Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase: so shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine." (Proverbs 3:9-10)

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening; and will address the Clergy of the Woodbury, Camden Area, N. J. on Monday, Nov. 7th.

ALL SAINTS' DAY, 1955

We are placing here the names of those having special claim upon us, who have passed into eternal life since last All Saints' Day. These are they whom we have in loving remembrance on Sunday, Nov. 6th:

Helen A. Street, John C. Reed, George B. Wilder, Mary Louise Wallace, Walter H. Griffith, Louise Gray, James A. Naves, Vermira A. Fraser, Samuel C. Dinsmore, Mary B. Keene, Mabel Irvin, Walter M. Seighmar, Joseph B. Scofield, Theresa Krimmel, Florence B. McMullin, William J. W. White.

TESTIMONIAL

Dear Dr. Price:—Received the Bulletin and enclosed folder on Tithing was very good. Have been a tither for many years and have never wanted to stop. I have talked to others about it and answer I usually receive is—"When we can afford it we will try it." My reply is, "You will never be able to afford it, for Satan will tell you, it can't be done. . . ." God has been very good to me and I have much to be thankful for. His promises have never failed anyone who put his trust in Him. When disturbed over conditions, repeat Phil. 4-6. E. L. H.

Advance notice is given of the Annual Burd School Card Party and Bazaar to be held on Tuesday, November 15th, at 1:30 P. M. in the Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Ave. The tickets are $1.25.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in Trinity Cathedral, Newark, N. J., Oct. 31-Nov. 2, inclusive. He will preach also in St. John's Church, Passaic, and Calvary Church, Summit, on Monday and Tuesday evenings respectively.

The Parking Garage opposite St. Stephen's has a special Sunday rate of 25¢ during the hours of 6 A. M. to 1:30 P. M.

Miss Florence Appel, a valued member of St. Stephen's, was recently awarded $100.00 for outstanding performance in her position in the Flag Section of the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot. Miss Appel won recognition in 1943, when she presented the President's personal flag to the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. At that time Miss Appel was a luncheon guest at the White House. The flag now stands in the Roosevelt Museum, Hyde Park, N. Y.

IF EVERY WOMAN in the Episcopal Church had and used a U. T. O. Blue Box, then, indeed, would there be a mighty gift and a great rejoicing as more needs of women's work in the world were met. A curious parallel exists between the ocean tides and the United Thank Offering. Both come in at regular intervals; the tide twice a day, the Offering twice a year. Both are charged with power. The Offering accumulates through a three-year period, retains its power, and then is measured out and transformed into lives of service. The power of the U. T. O. comes not from a few large gifts but from the large number of givers. Each new giver increases the power. WE NEED YOUR HELP.

1517 — REFORMATION DAY — 1955

On October 31st, 1517, a young Augustinian monk named Martin Luther posted on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenburg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgences by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as the Reformation. The anniversary of this event is observed among the Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon the fundamental Christian conviction. October 30th will be observed throughout the world as "Reformation Sunday." The Rector's sermon is: "Justification By Faith."

GIVE YOURSELF AWAY

"Let your light so shine before men"—what do those words bring to your mind? I suspect that your hand almost reaches for your purse as you think of the offering in Church! Yet those words of Jesus, used so often as an offertory sentence, were never meant by Him to refer to an occasional act of giving money. They were meant by Him to refer to an occasional act of giving money. They were meant to picture the constant giving of ourselves to God, so that His light, His love, would shine through us, and make others see God.

After all, our own saints were simple folk through whom God had a chance to shine. Over and over again they forgot what they might get out of life for themselves, and simply gave themselves to take care of the needs of people around them. They kept giving themselves away to folk who needed them! kept giving themselves to God's purposes. They let their light shine—though, of course, it was God's light, not theirs that shone so gloriously through their lives.

Late one Sunday afternoon, a traveler came to a little village in the Alps, just as dusk was falling. He asked what time the evening service would be held in the little village Church, and found that it would be in about an hour. So he went to sit quietly and pray. As he looked about him, he was surprised to find that there were no lamps nor lighting fixtures at all; and dusk was coming on fast. Soon the people began to arrive—and each worshiper carried a candle-stick that held a lighted candle; and the congregation kept coming in until the church was ablaze with light. He learned that the man who had given the Church to the village had also provided the candlesticks and candles for all the people: and asked the village to promise that there would be no other light in the Church.

That wise giver wanted the people to remember, vividly, that they came to Church to give out their praise and gratitude, to give the joy of their presence in God's House, and not to get something for themselves. He helped them to remember Jesus' bidding —that the greatest opportunity in life is to let a little of the brightness of God catch fire in our hearts, and burn for others in the honest love we have for them.

Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God. But made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men: and being found in fashion as a man, He humbled himself and became obedient unto death, even the death of the Cross. Wherefore God also hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name. That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

INVISIBLE FORCES

In the old days when Greece was made up of many little States, the king of Sparta was visited by an ambassador from one of the other states. The king showed him around the city with pride. "It's a fine city," the visitor said, with a question mark in his voice, "but I am surprised that Sparta has no city walls." "Tomorrow morning I'll show you the walls of Sparta," the king replied with a quiet smile. The next day dawned, and the king took his visitor out on the Palace terrace, from which they could look down to the plain below, where ten thousand men were at work. "There," said the king, "are the walls of Sparta. Ten thousand men, and everyone a brick!" (That, by the way, is the origin of the friendly expression of praise, when someone says, "He's a brick!")

In the days when Jesus walked among men, and spoke so often about the Kingdom of God, even His own disciples were puzzled because He never spoke of armed soldiers and fortifications. To them a kingdom meant a stronghold, protected by the ancient implements of war. But Jesus knew that the only enduring strength lies in the invisible forces of character trained by God. A mighty Maginot Line becomes tissue paper when the morale of its defenders is undermined. So, in His wisdom, Jesus discarded the old shaky defenses, and put His whole confidence into the building of people whose lives would be castles occupied by the Spirit of God. Thus defended, He knew that they could meet life's most shattering blows with victory. Look out across the world today, and see the chaos caused by frightened statesmen who measure strength by hydrogen bombs. They have no defense against the enemy, Fear. Jesus was wiser than they.

We do not know whether the frightened statesmen are leading our world toward a catastrophe beyond our imaginations. But one thing we do know. That there's just one courage open to us as Christians. Each of us is one brick, one stone in the wall of our country; one brick in the wall of the Kingdom of God. If each builds the brick of his life strong with the peaceful wisdom of God, then he is doing his utmost for his country, and for God's Cause. He is doing his best to strengthen that Kingdom of God which, again and again through history, has survived the decay and fall of great nations and empires. When Jesus looked ahead, and planned for the up-building of His Kingdom, He looked at Peter (the average man, at God's service) and said, "Upon this rock I will build My Church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." So, to your building, Peter!

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW . . .

Occasionally we print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry.

"I should like others to know of the wonderful healing I have had through the Laying-On-Of-Hands in St. Stephen's. I had been very ill for over four years, had seen four specialists and five different doctors, and also had two operations. But this did not heal me.

"I had a very bad back and my spine had started giving me great pain. I had to ease myself up very carefully in the morning, and work with my back bent, because it was so painful. At last I had to keep to my bed again.

"By super-human effort I managed to get to one of your Thursday Healing Services eight months ago. When I received the Laying-On-Of-Hands at the Altar of St. Stephen's I felt a strange cold sensation run through my spine, and I felt easier at once. On waking the next morning, I found that I could get up with no pain. I felt so happy. I got out of my bed and found my back completely free from pain; and I cleaned my house from top to bottom without pain or getting at all tired. I have had excellent health ever since."

The Rector will speak to the young people in Holy Communion Lutheran Church, 21st and Chestnut Streets, this Sunday evening. He will speak in Calvary Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., on Tuesday evening.

Our hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Marion, who celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary on October 10th.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

At the great United Thank Offering Service in Honolulu $3,149,197.83 was presented to the Triennial Convention by the women of the Episcopal Church. Of this amount the Diocese of Pennsylvania contributed $139,867, and the women of St. Stephen's $2,016.74. Each of these three figures represents a substantial increase over the 1952 Triennial. The Fall In-Gathering will be October 30th. Let us continue to show this wonderful growth in the expression of our gratitude.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW . . .

Dear Dr. Price:—I have returned to my home in Florida and I do want to express my gratitude for the wonderful healing I received at the Altar of your Church. I had been the victim of melancholia, my brain felt stuffy, clogged and terribly tired. You probably don't recall, but paused and said a prayer over me which was so appropriate for my condition, and I received a great benefit. At a tea, recently, my friends remarked, "You look blooming, so rested, your eyes sparkle and you look in love with life."

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 20th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by pledges, the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1956. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their pledges themselvs in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Members of our men's Committee will distribute the Pledge Cards following the Rector's Sermon and each person will drop his card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

The Rector, and Canvass Chairman, Wilson Leithead, have issued a call for 100% turnout of St. Stephen's members on Loyalty Sunday. By phone, by personal visit, and by every means available, all members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend for the annual re-dedication and pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

YOUR PLEDGE IS A RELIGIOUS ACT

Our Lord talked about money because it is important. Nothing reveals the state of your soul more clearly and more accurately than your attitude toward your possessions.

Your money is, in a very real way, yourself. Let me put it this way—If you earn $10 a day—a $10 bill is a day of your life, much more than just symbolically. It represents a day of your skill, intelligence, energy, a day of YOU.. Put it in a slot machine—the day is wasted. Lay it on the Altar—it is your offer of a day of yourself to God.

OPPORTUNITIES UNLIMITED . . .

Opportunities for growth in number; in service; in spirit . . . are unlimited in the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. Your gifts make the difference between stagnation and expansion; between standing still and going places. New congregations are being added to the Diocese every year.

From all over the Diocese comes word of tremendous population increase and the construction of thousands of new homes. To meet the growing need of a growing area, the Church must move with the population. GIVING TO MISSIONS MAKES THIS POSSIBLE.

NINE REASONS FOR MODERN TITHING

1. It guides us by providing a method of intelligent giving.
2. It helps by freeing Church leaders from preoccupation with money for the more important task of ministering to people.
3. It places us all, rich or poor, on an equal footing before God.
4. It helps us by enabling our Church to speak not about money in a begging attitude, but about responsibility in a dignified manner.
5. It shows us in concrete manner the everyday meaning of real gratitude to God for the many things He has given to us.
6. By making us responsible for a fixed percentage of our income, it teaches us responsibility in the handling of all our possessions.
7. Like all truly Christian living, it brings to us the joy of an honest and important participation in God's work in this world.
8. It places us within a mighty tradition because it has Scriptural authority.
9. It helps us to see that all of living, even the making of a personal budget and the spending of money, can be done to God's glory.

THANKSGIVING DAY

The Harvest Festival Service will be held as usual on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 24th at 11 A. M., when our offering will be given, as for many years past, to the Episcopal Hospital.

TEACHING AND HEALING MISSION

Whenever there is a deepening of Spiritual life throughout the Church, a recovery of the Healing Ministry comes naturally with the Spiritual Revival. This accounts for the recent increased attention to the Ministry of Healing within the Anglican, and other Churches.

So explains the Founder of the Healing Center at Milton Abbey, England, The Rev. John Maillard.

The Rev. John Maillard is finishing a three-months Healing Mission in the United States and Canada, and will conduct a Mission in St. Stephen's Church Saturday, November 26th to Tuesday, November 29th, inclusive. Daily services at 12:30 and 8 P. M. Sunday Services at 11:00 A. M. and 8 P. M.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe."Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the seventy members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

GIVE AND LIVE

Thanksgiving Day always leaves wonderful memories, doesn't it! It brings us into touch again with people we have not seen for ages. It gives us the delight of picking up loose ends, of knowing each other freshly again, and loving each other the more for it! It also reveals how people change, over the years, depending on what they think and live. Jesus was so practical when He talked, "For whosoever would save his life will lose it, and whosoever loses his life for My sake will find it." There is a modern parable which I share with you at least once a year, which brings home that teaching of the Master:

"There are two seas in Palestine. One is fresh and there are fish in it. Slashes of green adorn its banks. Trees spread their branches over it, and stretch out their thirsty roots to sip of healing water. Along its shores the children play as children played when He was there. He loved it. He could look across its silver surface when He spoke His parables. And on a rolling plain not far away He fed five thousand people.

"The River Jordan flows on South into another sea. Here is no splash of fish, no fluttering leaf, no song of birds, no children's laughter. Travelers choose another route, unless on urgent business. The air hangs heavy above its waters, and neither man, nor beast, nor fowl will drink.

"What makes this mighty difference in these neighbor seas? Not the River Jordan. It empties the same good water into both. Not the soil on which they lie. Not the country round about.

"This is the difference. The Sea of Galilee receives but does not keep the Jordan. For every drop that flows into it, another drop flows out. The giving and receiving go on in equal measure.

"The other sea is shrewder, hoarding its income jealously. It will not be tempted into generous impulse. Every drop it gets, it keeps.

"The Sea of Galilee gives and lives. The Other Sea gives nothing. It is named the Dead Sea.

"There are two kinds of people in the world.

"There are two seas in Palestine."

On Thanksgiving Day we are reminded that there are two kinds of people; and that the only ones who continue full of life are like the Sea of Galilee, which gives and lives!

The Rector's office rug has finally seen its best days. If anyone in the Parish has a large oriental rug that could be given for this purpose, it would be greatly appreciated.

The Rector will speak to Dr. Spurgeon English's class on Pastoral Psychology at Temple University Theological School on Nov. 28th at 11 A. M.

TEACHING AND HEALING MISSION

We welcome to our Parish the Rev. John Maillard of England, who comes to us burning with zeal for the Healing Ministry of our Church. So many times we neglect one side or other of our Church teaching. For some thirty-five years the Rev. John Maillard has been calling the Church to a deeper understanding of the healing power of Christ, through His Church. By this is meant, in part, seeing God's creation as good and as meant to stay good. God surely has not meant us to be sick. If He does mean for us to be sick, then all doctors are trying their best to defeat God. Ridiculous, obviously! The Rev. John Maillard has given his life in answer to a call from the whole Church to bring again to the fore-front the wonderful message of the healing love of Christ as found in His Church.

Services will be held on Saturday, Nov. 26th, at 12:30 and 8:00 P. M. On Sunday at 11:00 A. M. and 8:00 P. M., and on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 28th, 29th, at 12:30 and 8:00 P. M.

All services except Sunday morning will be followed by the Laying-On-Of-Hands. The public is invited, regardless of Church affiliation. Come every day; bring your friends with you. This Mission is for everyone who wishes to be helped.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW . . .

Dear Dr. Price:—Sometime ago I talked with you about my highly nervous condition and high blood pressure. I followed your spiritual prescription, and also went to the Altar Rail for the Laying-On-Of-Hands. I am happy to say that the doctor has checked the blood pressure twice, and both times it was as it should be. The peace I received at your Altar was indescribable. . . . J. R. W.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS

Each year St. Stephen's Church donates baskets or the equivalent to those who are unable to give to their families the fullness of Christmas cheer with which others are blessed. Will you help with your generosity? Please use the Special Christmas Dinner Envelopes. We need $300.00.

THE EVERY MEMBER CANVASS

We are grateful indeed for the wonderful co-operation of so many of you in attending the Loyalty Sunday Service and placing your pledge Card in the Chest of Joash.

May we ask those who did not attend this service to sign the printed form in this week's Bulletin and send to the Church office.

The duplex offering envelopes will be mailed in ample time for use on the first Sunday of 1956.

The Annual Mothers' Meeting Bazaar will be held this year on December 8th, 11 A. M. to 9 P. M. A Tasty Snack will be served from 11:30 A. M. until 6 P. M. Your help of this worthy work will be appreciated.

RIGHT WHERE YOU ARE

In the ancient language of the Church, we are now in the "Advent" Season, the time when we turn our eyes to our horizon, and look for the coming of Christ. Our mistakes, so often, is that we look far off for His coming. We have dreamed about His second coming, on the clouds, in great majesty, a thousand years from now; when we should have been thinking of His billionth coming, softly and humbly, right here and now. As Evelyn Underhill said. "What is the great lesson of Advent? It is the many sided truth of God's perpetual coming to His creatures in secret and humble ways; the nearness of His saving care . . . " And hast thou not heard His silent steps? He comes, and ever comes." And she goes on to say:

"Advent is, first of all, a preparation for Christmas, which commemorates God's saving entrance into history on the Incarnation of Jesus Christ . . . . a tremendous spiritual event then took place, Something which disclosed the very nature of God and His relation to the universe. But there is little to show for it on the surface of life. All that men saw was a poor girl utterly submitted to God's will, and a baby born under difficult circumstances. And this . . . . is true of all the comings of God to us. We must be very loving and alert if we want to recognize them in their earthly disguises. Again and again He comes, and the revelation is not a bit what we expect."

He may well come to you right in your own home and family circle; in your own regiment or on your own ship; within sight of your wheel-chair or on your small farm; in your school room or hospital or church. If you are alert, you may suddenly recognize His everlasting mercy in the faithfulness of One who cares for you daily without a thought of thanks, or in the steadfastness of an army or a navy officer who always looks after his men. His love may look out at you through the eyes of a child who trusts you and expects much of you. His protection may flash upon you even from the vigilance of your dog that will not let any stranger lay hands on you. His tenderness may show itself to you through the skillful, gentle hands of a wife, or the loving, clumsy hands of a husband. You can never tell where or when He may come. But you can be certain that, if you watch with eager eyes, you will see Him coming right where you are, as He always has. "Watch, therefore," and be ready for a new Christmas in your life.

And be ready by cleansing your heart of the sins which might bar His coming to you. Be ready by asking forgiveness for all the willfulness, stubborn self-centeredness, that leave no room for His coming. Be ready by casting out the thoughts and desires with which He could not feel at home. Be ready by the renewing, the renovating, of your inner life so that He can come and feel at home in you. If you will do that, He will come to you surely, right where you are, this very Christmas!

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe."Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW . . .

Dear Dr. Price:—"Visualize what you want. Remember that God never does anything to us, or for us, but always through us . . . your treatment will really be just the getting of yourself out of the way."

Those words, Dr. Price, from your priceless booklet—Healing, the Gift of God—seemed to come alive for me and fly right up from the page . . . so I saw to it that they took root in my mind, where I could cling to them.

I had a slipped disc, which is a stubborn, painful, baffling condition to have in one's back-bone. When this condition persisted for almost five months, I really despaired. But when I got myself out of the way, and claimed the promises that His healing Life was flowing through me . . . and then got up and walked out on faith, I started to get really well again. When I could accept it in my mind and in myself, deep within, from that day on my back has become progressively better. I am deeply grateful for your prayers, and all the prayers from the group who pray for healing.

J. K. B. (Chevy Chase, Md.)

If you are one of those members of the congregation who do not receive mail from St. Stephen's then, somehow, your name is not on our mailing list. This is unfortunate, since only important mail goes out from here. If this applies to you will you put your name and address on your copy of "The Bulletin" and put it on the offering plate, or send it by mail?

The Rector celebrated Holy Communion at the Burd School Chapel on November 23rd, at which time he dedicated a large Altar Prayer Book presented by the girls of the School in memory of Dean Emory R. Johnson. He also dedicated the New Altar Rail and furnishings presented by the Women's Committee. The student body presented for dedication at the Altar the annual contribution of food for the needy of St. Stephen's Parish. Twenty-one girls have matriculated this year.

NOTHING BUT FACES

There come times when you have to have your vision tested. If you do not see what you should, then your vision has to be corrected; and it is. In the Kingdom of God our vision is just as important. The difficulty is that so many have faulty spiritual vision; and do nothing about it.

As George Buttrick has said, "Every life will be tested finally by this test—does it see faces, or only things? Some business men see nothing but things—price lists, profits, sales resistance—while other business men see faces, the faces of those who work, of those who have no work. Some statesmen see nothing but things—battle ships, voting booths, newspaper headlines. Other statesmen see faces—the faces of the poor, the faces of little children, the myriad faces of those slain in war. Some preachers see nothing but things—Church buildings, year books, card catalogues. Other preachers see faces—faces wistful and sin-scarred, faces lonely but brave. The Master saw nothing but faces—nothing on earth but faces, nothing in heaven but faces, nothing in hell but faces."

One man says, "I'm a farmer—as I sweat through the summer, I see my vegetable-cellar stocked for winter; and a big crop of potatoes to sell." Another—"I'm a mother, so I see new clothes to put on my children's backs." Another—"I'm a crossing-tender. It is my business to see trains and timetables." Another—"I'm an old lady, so my mind keeps seeing the monthly old-age check, hoping it won't shrink any." Another—"I'm a sick woman in a hospital—do you blame me for seeing the dull, tasteless food, and the same old four walls day after day?" These people see things; and do not expect to see anything else.

But the Master corrected people's vision. "The blind receive their sight." He taught the farmer to work through the summer thinking of the happy faces of the family for which he is provider; and the satisfied faces of the customers buying his fine potatoes. He taught the mother to keep her thoughts on the shining faces of the children who know they are loved; and who may best learn love through carefully mended clothes! He teaches the crossing-tender to think of the shining faces of families welcoming their men home at the end of the day—safe home because he has done his job faithfully. He teaches the old lady to see the faces of the world's hungry children; and to scrimp in order to help feed them. He teaches the sick person in the hospital to see the fears and doubts in the faces of the people who know not God; and, putting her whole trust in Him, to find that peace which gives new life to those about her.

What do you see as you look out on life? Does your faulty vision pick out things? Then your next step is plain. Seek out the Master in your inmost heart; and put yourself into His hands, that He may touch your eyes; for "His touch still has its ancient power." Once more it will be written that "the blind receive their sight." For your thoughts will be filled with faces all the rest of your days, the faces of those who can count on you to care for them, always!

THE MEANING OF CHRISTMAS

On a past year's Christmas card were these wonderful words: "If, as Herod, we fill our lives with things . . . if we consider ourselves so important that we must fill every moment with action, when will we have time to take the long slow journey across the burning desert, as did the Magi,; or sit and watch the stars, as did the shepherds; or to brood over the coming of the Child, as did Mary? For each one of us there is a desert to travel, a star to discover, and a Being within ourselves to bring to life."

Christmas comes next Sunday. "And I'm not nearly ready," many may say, thinking of things that still need to be done. But they would not be really ready, even if they succeeded in doing all these things, these Christmas "chores." They would find Christmas somehow disappointing; not what they hoped it to be.

If you want to find the full glory of the Birthday of Christ, you will need, today, to push aside everything that needs to be done, and sit down, and brood for a while over the meaning of Christmas. Sit down in the quietness of your own room, or the stillness of a church, and ponder over the wonder of Bethlehem. In the manger you will find God come among men; God consenting to be born as a human babe, so that we humans would know what He is like. You find the God who is willing to suffer when we neglect and deny Him, and yet keeps on loving us still. You find the God who keeps on knocking at our hard hearts, until we humbly unbar the door, make ready for Him to be born in us, and take up His abode within. You cannot make your heart ready for Him in a minute; any more than Mary could have. It takes time. Some of the things you were going to do will not be done; and no one will care! Your family and your friends will have more of Christmas because you took time to prepare for it. As Vachel Lindsay wrote:

"Except the Christ be born again tonight
In dreams of all men, saints and sons of shame,
The world will never see His Kingdom bright.
Star of all hearts, lead onward through the night,
Past death-black deserts, doubts without a name,
Past hills of pain and mountains of new sin
To that far sky where mystic birds begin,
Where dreaming years the angel-song shall win.
Our Christmas shall be rare at dawning there,
And each shall find his brother fair,
Like a little child within;
All hearts of the earth shall find new birth
And wake no more to sin."

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW:

Dear Dr. Price:—My health and affairs are in much better shape, and I do feel very grateful to you and the members of your Prayer Fellowship for your prayers in my behalf. My eye trouble (glaucoma) has cleared up. Just after writing you the first time, my left eye lost its feeling of hardness. I go on praising Him for His goodness, for His being on the side of health, for His power and His Love. My daughter writes me that she is better, and I'm hopeful that her nervous trouble clears up.—(J. S. C.) (Virginia)

WHEN DID YOU LAST GO TO CHURCH?

Many of our people could answer with satisfaction, "Last Sunday." It is easy to get into the habit of thinking, "O, I guess I won't go today; I'll go next Sunday." Before one knows it, many Sundays have gone by. It looks as if quite a number of our people have that habit. If you are one, let me say that we miss you, and I am sure that God does, too.

THE RECTOR'S EASTER GREETING

My beloved people of St. Stephen's:

It is abundantly plain to us that our bodies, as we know them now, are intended only to serve a temporary purpose, to serve as a means of communication with this passing, temporary world. They share with the bodies of the plants and animals the nature of mortality. They are born, they wax and wane, and decay, and turn again to dust. Even the machinery of the mind itself is subject to decay. The greatest saint may cease even to know the meaning of God or of prayer, so far as to make its appeal realizable by the conscious mind: the greatest genius may come not even to know how to raise his hand to his mouth, or to spell the simplest word.

If we identify ourself with this material machinery which acts through the senses, then we say, when the senses decay, that the person is dead. "He died," we say, "Yesterday." We mean by that that the material machinery through which we held converse with him, on that day ceased to function and began to turn to dust.

There is, however, no reason why we should identify the person with this material machinery which grows and decays and vanishes into dust. There is every reason to believe that "spirit" constitutes the self, and that the material form is nothing more than an instrument through which the self acts, modifying it and molding it to a not inconsiderable extent to fit its own purposes and desires, during the short time in which the self has need to pass through the experiences of this temporal world.

From time to time we have assurances that the self persists though the body passes away: The person makes himself known quite clearly to those who are tuned to receive the message. Easter tide perpetuates the experience of this truth in the case of Jesus of Nazareth.

The earliest, and probably the most reliable account of this appearing of Jesus after the Crucifixion is found in I Corinthians 15: 1-8. After the human form of Jesus was crucified, those who were in specially close touch with Him had definite experience of His continued life, untouched and undisturbed by the death of the body. For a few days they had this experience through sense-forms: they saw, they heard, they touched, they knew. This sense experience was probably necessary for their re-assurance: but it was only to be temporary, and passed away. After those few days, the presence of the immortal Christ came to them as "spirit," i.e. as a diffused, powerful influence, which made them more than ever sensible that He was alive—alive as He had never been, to the same extent, while in the material body. This presence of Jesus as "spirit" was not a shadowy, doubtful, make-shift, unsatisfying presence, a poor exchange for the full satisfying life-companionship in the body. It was far more real, and infinitely more satisfying.

The message of Easter is that we live now, not that we shall some day live, in the spiritual world: not that we shall one day be raised, but that we are now risen with Christ: not that we shall eventually pass from death unto life, but that we know that we have passed from death unto life.

To those who have this assurance, the body has its very real uses, as a temporary instrument, to be reverenced as a noble means to serve a good, though temporary purpose, like a cabin on a voyage. It is to be kept, so far as we can, clean and sweet, and even gay. But we are not to be alarmed when the harbor comes in sight, and we begin to see the outlines of our true home. Here, in the experience of space and time, the soul is always a stranger, a pilgrim, a sojourner. Outside of space and time, outside material sense of touching and seeing, of smelling and hearing, is the true sphere of spirit.

There today we can keep our Easter with Christ who, for our sakes, humbled Himself to be born, and suffer, and die, and to be buried, but who yet never left the heavens, and never was absent from the Being of God.

The Flowers on the Atmore Window are in memory of Mr. Craig Atmore. The Flowers on the Pancoast Window have been provided by Mrs. Benjamin Reath. Christmas Plants by Mrs. Barbara Mazzio, Stephen Urasuk and Mary Urasuk.

THE RECTOR'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

The Church's power to win the world for Christ today lies ony in the degree of faithfulness with which she continues to go forth in His might to preach His Gospel to men. And what is His Gospel? Not simply the example He left of a perfect Life, though He is the Way: not even the teaching He gave during His earthly Ministry, though He is the Truth: but something more crucial than either. His Gospel is Himself! He is the Life.

The source of the Christian religion is that Jesus Christ was God focused in a human being. The Eternal Love stooped right down to our level, "living without supernatural advantages, but doing it perfectly" as J. B. Phillips puts it. Just as Jesus showed Himself in the Babe at Bethlehem, so He can be born again in each one of us. When we receive Jesus into our hearts, which we can most easily do at Christmas time, the very Light, Love and Life of God fills us. As God was focused in the Baby Jesus, so He is focused in us as we receive the Risen Jesus into ourselves.

"Love came down at Christmas, Love all lovely,
love divine;
Love came down at Christmas, Stars and angels gave the sign."

The Holy Babe, Love Incarnate! As we kneel at the Manger Throne there is a prayer and a pleading in our hearts: "Come to my heart, Lord Jesus; there is room in my heart for Thee." Then shall Love be incarnate in us. Lo, a miracle is born. We arise from our knees to a life of gladness. Love is born in us: we are sad no longer: Love is our life, our music, our health, our gladness, our all—"My Lord, My God, My All."

Love does the things of love: it's its nature: it cannot help doing what it is its nature to do: love raises the dead, those who are dead in their sins; love does what it does for love's sake, not seeking any reward: love forgives, until seventy times seven: love heals every sickness and every disease: the prayer of love shall heal the sick: Love is All.

"O come, let us adore Him. . . . Christ the Lord."

Christmas Day should be more than a commemoration: it should be an experience of re-birth and healing.

"Light and Life to all He brings,
Risen with healing in His wings."

It can happen to you this Christmas.

May the Love of God abide in you, His Peace enfold you, His Grace sustain you and His Light guide you this Holy Christmas-Tide.

Faithfully, your Rector
ALFRED W. PRICE

At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

FENCE-LINES

St. Paul was right when he said that nothing can stand between the love of Christ and His people. For the love of Christ has a way of shining over all obstacles, even the stiff and unchanging rules of the Church! That love—like the Star of many years ago—shines high in the hearts of all wise and humble people, and nothing can cut that light off from them. Nothing can stop that Epiphany ("Shining-Forth") from reaching expectant hearts.

St. Paul declared that not even "things present" can separate us from the love of Christ; and Margaret Applegarth points out that "There is nothing more present than a fence. There it stands, announcing to the world that something inside is being shut in; and something outside, being shut out. And if that fence is around a Catholic cemetery, it means that all the earth inside is consecrated ground, only for those who have died in the faith. It was that way in Poland also, of course.

But one day a Quaker came to town. He was a gentle sort—so gentle that, even though at first he couldn't speak a word of Polish, yet everyone knew exactly what he meant. He had a sensitive, sure understanding of those who were in need; and when a shipment of clothing came in, he always managed to put that clothing onto the shivering bodies of those who needed it the most, and not the pretending bodies of those who asked most loudly. He knew who needed shoes; and whose stomach was really empty. And he never played favorites, or saved the best suits and clothes for his special friends. He never seemed to notice the color of a man's skin or which language he spoke. He just looked for Christ's brothers and sisters who hungered and thirsted, and trembled with the cold. And with loving hands he fed and refreshed and clothed them.

So it was a calamity terrible beyond words when he died. It might have been from malnutrition; or from some vicious germ which attacked him when he was exhausted from working endless hours for his friends. Anyway, his body had stopped breathing—and they wept, broken hearted. They prepared his body lovingly for burial; and then, suddenly, with a jolting shock, it dawned on them that a Quaker was not a Roman Catholic; and so he could not be buried in their beloved cemetery, the only one in the village. They reasoned long and earnestly with the priest, but he shook his head sadly—it was the rule of the Church that you could not bury such a man in consecrated ground. Broken, mourning, the people buried the body of their friend just as close to the forbidden fence-line as possible. But they went home that night with heavy hearts. After darkness had fallen that night, however, the priest himself went out, and moved the fence-line over far enough to include the new grave. For the rule of the Church was definite enough about burying people in consecrated ground; but it said nothing about moving fence-lines! So the people took courage, and found a song of praise and thanksgiving again in their hearts. For the fence had not been able to stop the love of Christ.

No fence-line can ever cut off that shining Love! Look up, patiently and expectantly, into the dark night of your heart. You will find the Star of Christ's Love shining there, over all obstructions. God, through Christ, lighting your way—and even shining through you to others.

CONFIRMATION CLASSES FOR INQUIRERS

When did the Episcopal Church come to our country? Did Henry VIII really found the Episcopal Church? What does the Church teach regarding "confession," "repentance," "forgiveness"? Where did our Prayer Book come from? How can we participate better in the services of the Church? These and many other questions will be answered at the Confirmation instruction lectures for children and adults, which will begin Sunday morning, January 1st, in the Rector's Study, at 10 A. M. The class will be held each Sunday until February 17th, when Bishop Hart will confirm those desiring Confirmation, which is entrance into the full fellowship of our Church.

We are grateful to Mr. Thomas S. Orme for the gift of a large Prayer Book to be used in the Chancel of the Burd School Chapel.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

In his sermon on Bible Sunday the Rector urged the members of our parish to read the Bible—to take a book a month, or two or three of the very short ones. Such an individual plan of reading will take you through the entire Bible in about two and a half years. A copy of the Book of the Prophet Isaiah was given to everyone present to be read during the month of December. On January 1st a copy of the Gospel According to St. Matthew will be given to everyone attending the service. In order to know how many are co-operating in this "Book of the Month" plan you are asked to sign your name to a slip of paper and place it in the Alms Basin stating that you have read "Isaiah."

ROCK OF THE ALMIGHTY

Near the Capitol in Rome there stands an ancient building, built when Christianity was still very young in the world. In one of its corridors is a stone bench where the little pages sat waiting calls from their masters. On the wall, right over the bench, is scratched a rude cross with an outstretched figure on it. Beneath it the mischievous artist had cartooned one of his companions, and had written, "Silly Aleximos worships Christ." The other boys thought it strange that Aleximos should look up to Jesus Christ as his King. For, as someone has pointed out, the world had never seen a King who had no possessions—"at His birth Jesus was born in a borrowed manger. He preached a sermon in a borrowed boat. He rode into Jerusalem on a borrowed beast. He ate His last supper with His disciples in a borrowed room. He was buried in a borrowed grave. Yet He stands, the Living, Risen Son of God, stripped of all earthly possessions, saying, 'All authority had been given Me in heaven and earth.'"

Other kings have always needed to be propped up; have needed to lean against many supports: gold in the treasury to buy men's souls; a host of marching legions to destroy all opposition; games in the arena to keep the crowds in good humor; bread to feed the hungry to keep them from becoming dangerous. But Jesus Christ leaned on none of these supports. He leaned only on the Eternal God, the unseen and everlasting Father. And, while the supports of other kings had always crumbled in the end, the Supporter of Jesus stood firm as Pilate growled, "Behold your King!"; stood unshaken as the mob yelled, "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!" Then Easter came, and the centuries began to file by; and the world began to see that true Kingliness needs no gold or armies to hold it up. Men began to see that a Kingly Spirit stands unbroken, unbreakable, before all the blows of life, because the spirit of the Living God within a man is stronger than any enemy there is!

Still, today, there are those who say, "Silly one—to worship Christ!" There is only one answer to that jeer—to put your trust in God so deeply that every thought, every hope, every day of your living, banks on Him, rests upon Him alone. There is only one answer that can be heard above the tumult of the world—your life, made victorious over all pain and heartbreak, because it rests upon the Rock of the Almighty.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW . . .

We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry.

"Dear Dr. Price:—I will never cease being grateful to you and your Prayer Fellowship for your prayers, and to God for healing me through them. It was so remarkable that the doctor still talks about it . . ." J. D. (Buffalo)

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

Bishop Hart will visit our Parish on Sunday, February 12th, at 11 A. M., to administer the rite of Confirmation. Instruction Class meets in the Rector's Study on Sundays at 10 A. M.

The Rector would appreciate hearing from adults who would like, or think they would like, to be confirmed. Attendance at the classes does not oblige one to be confirmed. The decision may be made later. The Rector will gladly answer any questions about confirmation which may be in anybody's mind.

RECEPTION

A reception in celebration of the twenty-fifth Anniversary of the marriage of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Price will be held in the Community House, 923 Ludlow Street (back of the Church), from twelve thirty until two thirty o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The Rector will speak to the Methodist Clergy of the Camden District on January 9th.

A dozen students from the Princeton Theological School visited the Rector in his office on January 6th, along with the Presbyterian Chaplain of the Philadelphia General Hospital for several hours of instruction on the Ministry of Spiritual Healing.

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. Eleven hundred copies are printed each week. Some 647 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-eight states, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It costs $33.94 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year at a total cost of $1,493.36. Last year we received $561.00 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family would give $2.00 a year the cost would be met. Of course a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SHADOW OF THE CROSS

They tell the story of a little fishing town in France. In one of the great fall storms, a wooden figure of Christ washed up on the beach, arms stretched out, but with the cross missing. It was brought with deep reverence and rejoicing to the village priest, who ordered a fine cross of oak to be made. When the village carpenter had finished it, the Christ was fastened to it, and the people were happy over the beauty of the new Crucifix in their little Church. But the next morning they found the cross empty, and the figure lying on the Altar. So the priest said, "This is a miracle—this cross was not worthy of the Redeemer of the world. If you will give generously, I can have a finer cross made, of polished ebony." So this was done, but, again, when morning came, the new cross stood empty. Word of what had happened spread far ann wide. Gifts of gold and jewels poured in, and the priest vowed that this time they would have a cross worthy of a King. Finally it was completed—of gold, flashing with precious stones; and the Master was fastened to that regal cross. But, at daybreak, this cross also stood deserted by the Master. Soon after, the village simpleton reported that he had found the right cross for the Lord, but the people jeered, saying that it was only two planks from a ship-wrecked vessel. But the old priest had the two rough, weather-beaten planks nailed securely together, and the Master placed upon it. When the morning came, He was still there, and He never deserted that simple Cross where He felt at home.

The shadow of the Cross falls across our paths whenever we stop to think how Jesus lived and died for us. It is well to remember that the Master Whom we followed to Calvary was at home among simple things and humble people. He cares not a snap of the finger for flashy pretence of religion, for proud self-denials which we speak of easily to our friends. He loves honest religion, which is learning to be gentle with the sins of others because it is occupied with rooting out its own. He can be at home in those glad hearts which love others at some cost to themselves. And He promises them: "Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me, and ye shall find rest unto your souls."

DO YOU WANT TO BE FRIENDLY IN CHURCH?

Here are some suggestions as found in another parish Bulletin:

1. Don't sit alone. Take a seat next to someone else. If you don't know him or her make it a point to get acquainted after the service.
2. As you leave the Church speak to everyone whose eyes happen to meet yours.
3. When you meet new members of the parish tell them about your favorite organizations and ask them to go to the next meeting with you. Then take them.
4. If you must be the first person to take an empty pew, sit near the center so someone else will be encouraged to sit with you.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

The Rector and Mrs. Price wish to express their utter gratitude and appreciation for the wonderful outpouring of love and affection on the occasion of their twenty-fifth Anniversary of their marriage. The Rectory has been deluged with letters, cards, telegrams, and hundreds of gifts of silverware. Three to four hundred people, taxing the capacity of the Community House, attended the Reception. We are indebted to Mrs. Theodore Bechtel and her marvelous group of women who were responsible for the delicious refreshments, the decorations, and expert management of such a large gathering.

With hearts full of gratitude to the Giver of all gifts, and of warm affection for all who have been so loyally co-operative, so graciously and so generously helpful to the Rectory family. We join in wishing you all a New Year replete with personal fulfillment and material and spiritual prosperity.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH?

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is being asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you and you need the Church. Confirmation Services will be held on February 12th at 11 o'clock. Instruction Class meets in the Rector's Study on Sundays at 10 A. M.

These Signs Follow: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry. Dear Dr. Price: . . . The prayers of your Prayer Fellowship for R. H. have been answered in a wonderful way. Ray has been completely sober and sane for two months. I thank you and your group for your time and efforts, and God for the return of this young man to a useful life. The now bright-eyed, energetic man has a completely new outlook on life.

LIGHT THROUGH DARKNESS

Jean Kenyon McKenzie, who for 10 years was a gracious and beloved missionary among the Bulu people of Africa, once wrote:

"Minla is the little black boy who carries my lantern on my journey through the forest of our neighborhood. He is too small to carry much, but he has begged to go with me. "Even if I cannot carry a real load," he tells me, "I can carry a lantern, and surely you will be needing one."

"Sometimes, on the highway, the sound has been the sound of so many feet that I have said to Minla, 'Cover the lantern.' And this he does with the skirt of the little cloth he wears about his middle. Then I am able to see the many people who have been following our light; sometimes as many as 50 carriers are crowding up behind us, leaning forward under the weight of the loads they are carrying, looking at the white woman and the black boy who carries the lantern. You will always be followed in the night of the forest if you carry a lantern; the people who walk in that great darkness are glad to follow that light."

And you will always be followed if you carry the Light through the darkness of our life on earth. There is so much of mystery and shadow in this life; so much that we cannot understand. And there are so many difficulties and obstacles, hidden in the darkness, over which men stumble when there is no light on the path.

This is the Epiphany Season—celebrating the shining out of the good news of God's coming among us in the Light of Jesus Christ. I like to think of many of you, walking humbly and surely along the trail of life, with the Light of the world in your hearts. For, in the days of Christmastide you remembered to make new room for Him in your hearts, because you found your hearts growing cold and dark without Him; and you needed Him, within, to Light and warm your life. And now you walk with new assurance through this world of A bombs and lurid headlines; sure-footed because of His Light shining in you. Perhaps you do not realize it, but stop a moment, and be quiet—there are people following you along the trail of life, because of the Light in you heart. "You will always be followed in the night in the forest if you carry a lantern."

The Rector preached in the Berry-Long Memorial Methodist Church in West Philadelphia last Sunday night.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

Last week and this week we have enclosed some literature describing the high degree of co-operative services and programs now being carried on by the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

Here at St. Stephen's we are seeking to enlist 10 percent of our membership as individual contributors to the Council of Churches. Your contribution in the special envelope mailed to you will aid in this great Protestant Co-operative program.

These Signs follow: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry.

Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing with gratitude to tell you that the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship have been so wonderfully answered. My three year old nephew, Walter, had the dreadful child's disease, "nemphrosis." Three doctors said he could not live. He was so swollen that his eyes were closed and his little body looked as if it would burst. You asked that we be in tune in spirit with you on December 5th when you had your healing service and I can assure you that we were. The very next morning the swelling began to leave and daily improvement followed. Walter is now normal, riding his tricycle all over the place and eating regular meals. This healing could have come only from the Heavenly Father! —M. M. D. (Alabama)

There Are Two Ways to become a member of this Parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of this Parish by asking the Rector of the Parish where you were confirmed to send your letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of instruction are held at 10 A. M. Sundays, in the Rector's study. Bishop Hart will come to St. Stephen's Church to administer the Rite of Confirmation on Sunday, February 12th, at 11 A. M.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the following subscriptions to the weekly Bulletin: Mrs. Carrie K. Abel, Mrs. Craig Atmore, Mrs. Lillian Barlow, R. M. Bickerstaff, Jr., Mrs. George R. Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise, Age after age their tragic empires rise. Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep. Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep. Earth shall be fair, and all her people one, Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done. T E S O

In modern alphabetical terminology T E S O means Theological Education Sunday Offering, now a major source of income for the support of our eleven Theological Schools in the United States. By proclamation of the Presiding Bishop, in 1956, this falls on January 22nd. The leaflet enclosed in this Bulletin tells in a graphic way where the Alumni of the Rector's School in Cambridge, Mass., are serving. Numbers indicate the geographical spread on a map of the United States. On one side are pictures of the living graduates in the Episcopate, and on the other pictures of men serving in overseas Missions.

The offering from St. Stephen's Church will be divided between the Cambridge School and the Philadelphia Divinity School.

* * *

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Dr. Stanley R. West who has charge of the Sunday services today in the absence of the Rector. Dr. West has spent his entire ministry in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. He has recently retired from a long and fruitful ministry in Calvary Church, Conshohocken. Dr. West preached the sermon at the Rector's Ordination Service 27 years ago.

* * *

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Spiritual Healing in the Cathedral Church of St. Luke, Orlando, Florida, January 29th to February 1st.

* * *

The February issue of the Baptist Leader features an article on St. Stephen's Ministry of healing.

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Hart will visit our parish on Sunday morning, February 12th, at 11 A. M. to administer the Apostolic rite of Confirmation. We shall be happy to present to him any members of our parish who have not as yet been confirmed and would like to be. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector.

LANGUAGE OF ACTION

There have been repeated attempts, in the last hundred years, to establish a universal language which all men could speak and understand. These attempts have failed, I believe, because there is already a universal language, spoken everywhere on earth, from childhood up.

This universal language is the language of action. I understand that you have a kind heart, because your kindness takes shape in a friendly letter or deed—I can see your kindness. I understand how much you love your family because your love for them takes form in hard working devotion to their needs. In the same way we come to know the Love of God. For long centuries God in His wisdom spoke to men through words, on the lips of prophets and priests and sages and saints, And men could not be sure what God was like. Then when they were ready, He spoke to them in a new way: "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, full of Grace and Truth." God's Love took form in a Life which we could see, in a death upon a Cross which we beheld; and ever since then, men have said, "God is like Jesus Christ. God's Love is like the Cross." This was the "Incarnation," taking shape in flesh before the eyes of people. God had spoken, at last, in the universal language of action!

George Washington, one day, had a tempting opportunity to preach a sermon on loving your neighbor. He was riding across farmlands with a company of gentlemen, when the last horse over a stone fence knocked over a number of stones, leaving a large opening. Washington suggested that they stop and repair it, but the others shrugged their shoulders; so he said nothing more, and rode on with them. When the party disbanded, one of them, riding homeward, found Washington back in the farmer's fence, carefully replacing the stones. "Oh, General," chattered the man, "You are too big a man to be doing a thing like that." "No," answered Washington, gravely inspecting his work, "I'm just the right size." Washington was preaching his sermon in the universal language of action. Words would have bored the farmer no end, but that deed of neighborliness spoke for itself!

If you want, with all your heart, to tell someone that you love them, say as little as possible about it, and show them in loving deeds. They will understand them, because your love has been made flesh, and they can behold it, right before their eyes! If you want to show God that you love Him, you will let Him dwell within you, and take form in loving acts, in tiny Incarnations of His Love in you!

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE INSTRUCTION

Anthem: I Am Well Pleased.....Rheinberger
I am well pleased that the Lord hath heard the voice of my supplication; that He hath inclined his ear to me. As long, then, as I live will I on Him be calling. The sorrows of death came about me, the pains of hell gat hold upon me: affliction I found, and grief, then the Name of the Lord did I call on: O Lord, my soul do Thou deliver. How gracious is the Lord, and how just; yea, Our God is merciful, He guards the simple folk; I was in misery, He gave me help. To thy rest then do I bid thee, my soul, be turning, because the Lord hath rewarded thee.

PRAYER FELLOWSHIP REPORT

We have finished another year in our Ministry of Healing in St. Stephen's Church. Devoting at least a half hour each day to pray for a long list of people may not seem a great thing for an intercessor to do, but it is quite often just the link needed for God's power to reach the one in need. We remember, with deep gratitude, that it is just the daily acts of prayer of each of our seventy-eight intercessors, which has made the work of the Prayer Healing Fellowship as a whole possible. They have shared with us at St. Stephen's the great burden of the need of those who write to us for prayer.

The number of our regular Prayer Fellowship intercessors has reached seventy-eight, and we now have a daily chain of prayers from ~~4 A. M. to 1 A.M.~~ We have each of the twenty-one hours taken three times over by our 78 members. Each intercessor is disciplined to give a fixed hour each day for his prayer activity. Each needy individual is lifted up in prayer to God twenty-one hours a day for a period of four weeks. The patient is requested to keep us informed of progress. Chronic cases can be renewed for longer periods of prayer.

During the past year, 3,704 persons requested our prayers. This means that 3,704 people were remembered 21 hours a day for a period of four weeks by our 78 prayer helpers.

We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "Workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Has all the prayer, faith and devotion of intercessors and friends been worthwhile? No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported at the monthly meeting of the Prayer Fellowship and in the weekly report to the members all progress and cures are recorded. There is no limit to what God can do through prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidence of His love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His Name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . For, where two or three are gathered, in My Name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of prayer can never be overestimated.

An aluminum hand-rail has been placed on the north and south side of the Chancel (near the pulpit and the Lectern) for those who need assistance up and down the Chancel steps.

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Hart will visit our parish on Sunday, February 12th, at 11 A. M., to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

BOOK OF THE MONTH

In his sermon on Bible Sunday, the Rector urged the members of our parish to read the Bible — to take a Book a Month, or two or three of the very short ones. Such an individual plan of reading will take you through the entire Bible in about two and a half years. In December we read the Book of Isaiah. In January a copy of the Gospel of Matthew was distributed to the congregation. At the services on Sunday, February 5th, a copy of St. John's Gospel will be given to everyone present.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW . . .

"MY BOUNDEN DUTY"

The annual visit of the Bishop for Confirmation is an excellent time for every confirmed member of St. Stephen's Church to renew joyfully and thankfully, the solemn promise and vow that you made, or that was made for you, in your name by your sponsors, at Holy Baptism.

I again re-affirm what I promised as my bounden duty as a confirmed member of the Church:

To follow Jesus Christ as my Lord and Savior;
To pray daily;
To worship God every Sunday in His Church;
To receive, regularly, with due preparation, the Holy Communion;
To work and give for the spread of His Kingdom.

Sign.....and place in Alms Basin at time of offering.

WHAT IS "GETTING" YOU?

What gets your mind gets you! It is important to realize that mental attitudes affect bodily states. It has become a truism that the mind has a power over the body and that healthy thoughts tend to produce healthy bodies. The awkward fact we must all face is that resentment today may mean arthritis tomorrow; anxiety today may mean stomach ulcers tomorrow; fear today may mean glaucoma tomorrow. The encouraging fact is that tolerance today may mean better health tomorrow; love today may mean peace of mind tomorrow; faith today may mean healing tomorrow.

If fear gets your mind, fear will get you. Your body is part of you, so if fear gets you it will get your body too. By the same law, if love gets your mind, love will get you. As your body is made for love, you stand a better chance of enjoying good health if you are loving than if you are hard and resentful or full of fear. If love gets your mind it will get your body too. If Jesus gets your mind He will get your body. To be preoccupied with Him is to give your body its best opportunity of manifesting health.

Critics have said that advocates of Spiritual Healing reduce religion to a health cult. The criticism reveals a misunderstanding. Spiritual Healing is not concerned mainly with the power of mind over matter, nor with physical cures, but with the only true way of life—the union of the whole human personality: body, mind and spirit, with the Lord Jesus. Life with Him is life at its fullest on every level. If Christ is in you, His healing is in you. Has He got you?

ASH WEDNESDAY

The Rector will conduct the Litany Service at 10:30 A. M. Bishop Hart will preach at 12:30 P. M., and the Rector will celebrate the Holy Communion at 5:30 P. M. Bishop Roberts, retired Bishop of Shanghai, will preach on Thursday, and Dr. John R. Hart, of Valley Forge, will preach on Friday and Saturday.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: . . .

Dear Dr. Price: My family is yet rejoicing with thanksgiving to the Heavenly Father, over the healing of my nephew, and we are so grateful to you and your group of S. CYRIL OF ALEXANDRIA, BC.D. (Alabama)

The Rector addressed the Department of Prayer and Worship of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Pennsylvania at the Church House on February 10th.

ABOUT THE CONFIRMATION SERVICE

The Confirmation Service consists of two parts. In the first, the candidates ratify and "confirm" on their own decision and responsibility the promises made for them or by them at their baptism. This section of the Service stems from the Reformation and distinguishes the Anglican and Lutheran forms from the Roman Catholic and Orthodox confirmation rites. The second part of the service, which begins with the Versicles on Page 297 ot the Prayer Book, continues the ancient and medieval patterns of the Office in which the candidates are "confirmed" by God for the fulfillment of their promises by the strengthening gifts of the Holy Spirit imparted to them through the Laying-On-Of-Hands by the Bishop.

THE CHALLENGE OF LENT

The Lenten Season into which we are now entering is the most opportune time of the year for the enrichment of our spiritual lives. It presents an opportunity for us to contemplate our responsibilities and obligations as followers of the Christ who trod the road of suffering, thru' clouds of misunderstanding and sorrow, and emerged victorious over sin and death.

Are you satisfied with yourself?—Are you all you know you ought to be?—Are you sometimes lonely, longing for the Divine Companion?—Are you burdened with problems that need solution?—Do you hunger and thirst after righteousness?

Then this Lenten period is your opportunity to enter into a deepening experience of fellowship with God thru' meditation, prayer, devotional reading, and helpful ministry to others. In "keeping Lent" you may discover for yourself the sources of joyful, peaceful, and fruitful living. And the Lenten Season will culminate for you in a gloriously inspiring Easter.

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

WHAT SHALL I DO?

How strange it is that as soon as Lent is mentioned, church people start thinking of the sinful things they should stop doing. Hosts consider Lent the season in which they should battle their sins, like an "open season" on game. Yet men have learned, through bitter failure, that to dwell on a sin is to put yourself in its power. Lent began last Wednesday, so we'd best straighten out this matter.

Picture in your mind the fiery John the Baptist preaching to great crowds on the banks of the Jordan. He hit out straight from the shoulder against the hurtful sins of those people. He blasted them. But he did not fix their minds on those sins. He made the people face them honestly; and then he turned their thoughts away from the sins, to the eternal God and His judgement, so that they cried out, "What shall we do then?" And he told them, simply and practically, what they could do: Share their clothing with the shivering, and give a square deal to tax payers, be gentle and uncomplaining. Those people went away from the fire of John's Spirit to learn the new ways of honesty and compassion.

Forget the sorry brooding over your sins. Forget about that trifling self-denial you have chosen for your Lent self-denial. Stop and think what the rest of your household would choose for your Lent "self-improvement." Would they not wish that you would be easier to live with? In place of prickly temper, to learn patience. Instead of demanding your way, to concern yourself with their needs. Think of your Lent as a half-starved refugee in Germany or Korea might want it to be—would he not wish that you would cut out some of your needless spending on little luxuries, so that you could use that money to feed his hungry body by a gift to Care or meals for millions?

Discard that silly old "What shall I stop doing?" And take on the mature Christian purpose "What shall I do?" Make up your mind, "I will feed the hungry with the money I save by cutting out desserts"; or, "I will learn good temper by regular habit of five minutes of sincere prayer before joining the family at the breakfast table;" or, "I will build up my faith by reading one deeply religious book in place of trash." You make your own list—of what you are going to do in Lent, prompted by Christ in your heart.

Robert Louis Stevenson put it this way: "It is certain that all think too much of sin. We are not damned for doing wrong, but for not doing right. Christ would never think of negative morality; thou shalt, was ever His word. To be honest, to be kind—here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy . . . and the Kingdom of heaven is of the child-like, of those who are easy to please; who love, and give pleasure." Now at the beginning of Lent, get your mind on loving, Christ-like ways which will start you off on a more warmly Christian life. Ask yourself, "What shall I do?" And let God do the answering. Then, when He tells you, get on with your building His heaven around you. Your family will remember that Lent!

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW:

We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—This is just a thank you note from someone who has been greatly benefited by the Healing Services at St. Stephen's. I am not manifesting, as yet, perfect health, but my spirit lives in a new world, and I am full of thanks to you and the Christ within. I believe so in the work you do! It steadies the poor disturbed ones, and the atmosphere in St. Stephen's seems to vibrate with peace and love! C. F.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in the Swarthmore Methodist Church on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, at 8 P. M. February 19th to 22nd.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D. D., Bishop of Erie, who will be our Lenten speaker Feb. 20th to 24th, and to the Rev. John R. Logan, Jr., Chaplain of the Brotherhood, who will be the preacher on Saturday, Feb. 25th.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY COMMUNION AND BREAKFAST

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew will again sponsor the Annual Washington's Birthday Communion and Breakfast to be held simultaneously in seven Churches in the Diocese. The Service in St. Stephen's will be held on Saturday, Feb. 25th, at 8 A. M. and will be followed by a breakfast served in the Community House. Bishop Warnecke of Bethlehem will speak to us over F M Station W F L N. Mrs. Theodore Bechtel and her ladies will serve the breakfast at St. Stephen's. Tickets are $1.25. 7:30 P. M. Evening Prayer, Sermon by Mr. Jacob D. Beck, B. Sc.

BUILDING THE KINGDOM

It may be that some consciencious person among you may not feel quite satisfied with a Lent aimed at the habit of learning loving ways. Some may feel disappointed in turning aside from the old custom of making themselves feel a bit uncomfortable for forty days. They always got a glow of piety out of it, like the little girl asking, "Do you want to know what I've given up for Lent?"

Frankly, that old, falsely pious way of keeping Lent makes you worse, not better. It is a cheap way of "make believe" that you are not such a bad person, after all. And there are no people harder to live with than self satisfied prigs. Jesus used flame-throwing words against them—"Hypocrits!, white-washed sepulchres!, blind guides of the blind!" How can we get free from false piety, and thus avoid those words hitting us?

Lent leads straight to the Cross. We had best face that Cross by looking at it now with humble, wondering eyes. Sometimes I sit alone in the Church, looking up at the Altar Cross, and then I shut my eyes, getting into my mind the picture of Him who died that day to save me from my sins, for a life of loving kindness. Then I go out, with that picture ready to be called up in a moment of need. Again and again that living picture of God's love saves me from sharp-edged words, from harsh judgements, from smug self-satisfaction. Then there comes a mometn when I am tempted, and I do not call up that picture, and I betray my Master. I have found that the way of strength and compassion is possible only with the Cross in mind day after day.

A wise and wonderful friend of mine put it, "Lent is the Season when we come into the presence of the Cross which condemns all evil without discouraging us." If God loves me that much, then I cannot go on bruising others through my selfishness. His great love for me makes me ashamed of my nasty little self love; yet it does not make me hopeless, for God sends His Holy Spirit to give conquering power to everyone who treads His loving way. The Cross, therefore, condemns without disheartening. A love so great assures me that I'm God's child, and, with His constant aid, can learn to act like one. It persuades any Peter that, since God made him, God can also make him courageous, able to stand up to temptation without surrender.

As we hang the picture of the Cross before our thoughts in Lent, we begin to see what God has done for us in Christ. At last we know that, with God, all things are possible. It is even possible that God, through you, can build a bit of heaven on earth where love actually reigns. Our Lenten task is to get on with that building.

The Rector is very grateful to Mrs. Walter B. Walker for a lovely framed picture of "Christ Healing the Sick in the Temple" and to Mr. Roland R. Randall for a picture of Christ standing close to a doctor and patient in a sick room. These pictures are on the walls of the Waiting Room adjacent to the Rector's Office.

The Rector will speak to the Baptist Ministerial Association Annual Meeting in Salem, N. J., on March 3rd.

We extend a hearty welcome to Bishop Stark of Newark who will be our Lenten Noon-Day preacher on Monday and Tuesday, and to Dean Coburn of Trinity Cathedral, Newark, N. J., who will be the preacher on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The Rev. Arthur B. Narberth, Rector of St. Matthias Church, Philadelphia will be our guest preacher on Saturday, March 3rd.

7:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer, Sermon by Mr. Robert W. Hill, B.Sc.

OUR SICKNESS OF SPIRIT

We like to think of Jesus as the Comforter, and He was—the matchless Giver of true, deep comfort of heart. But He was not at all easy in making life easy for men. (Someone has said, "His way is simple—but it is not easy!") Instead, comfort-loving people have always found Him very upsetting. He had a searching way of asking, "What do ye more than others?" We must face the fact that He expects us to live strenuously, willing to live in as real hardships as our men in the service, in the armed service of our country. All true leaders have led their followers into tough campaigns to win kingdoms. Jesus out did them all by calling on His followers for a life-time of of strenuous sacrifice to win the Kingdom of God.

In Matthew 23:25-28 we find Jesus facing the smug Pharisees with scorching words that laid open their souls. Speaking to a great crowd, He said to those Pharisees, "You take a great deal of pains to polish up the outside of your lives so that they look clean to people; but actually, you are like the graves in your cemeteries—neatly whitewashed on the outside, but full of corruption within." The Pharisees did not like those burning words, because they knew that Jesus spoke the truth. Jesus went on, "Clean up the inside of your lives first. Cleanse your hearts."

Jesus spoke that same great truth over and over again. "The Kingdom of God is within you"—take pains that God rules your heart, your will, your inner life from which all your thoughts and deeds flow. They are the well springs of your life. If the well spring of your life is clean, your whole lives will come clean also!

When the French went down to Panama to dig the mighty Canal, they took doctors to treat the patients for fever; but the fever killed doctors and patients alike; and the French finally withdrew, defeated. They had been working on the "outside of the cup." When General Goethals went down to Panama with the Americans, he took engineers, and great ditchers, and immense quantities of sewer pipes; and drained the foul marshes, and did away with the disease-carrying mosquitos, and thus defeated the fever at its source. So we built the Panama Canal.

For us this Lent can be a Panama Canal of the spirit. We can get at the source of our sickness of spirit, deep within us—praying God to help us clean out the swamps of our self-love, our self-centeredness. Face God in the quietness of your room, praying, "Create a clean heart in me, O God," and let Him wade into your inner life with you. It will be strenuous, but, in the end, if you persist with Him in removing the selfish habits of heart, you will find that deep comfort which comes alone from God's cleansing the well springs of our lives!

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Many of our parishioners are using the plan suggested by the Rector to read the entire Bible through in two and a half years. Those who started the plan last December have now read three books. Those who attend the services on March 4th will receive a magazine called "The Good News" which narrates the Gospel according to St. Luke, and carries beautiful illustrations. Be sure to get your copy!

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening at 7:30 P. M.

We extend a hearty welcome to Dr. John Ellis Large, Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City, who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Friday. The Rev. Frederick M. Brooks, Rector of the Church of the Savior, will be our guest preacher on Saturday, March 10th.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW

We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—"My husband, for some 17 years, has had a pernicious or progressive "type" of anemia and was expected to lose the use of his legs, first, then the arms. About a year after the onset of the trouble his ears got sore over the tops where the spectacles rested and also his cheeks. The doctor warned against omitting the capsuls, and the dose had already been doubled so that he was taking the limit of vitamins, iron and liver.

At the time he came to the Altar of St. Stephen's, June, 1954, the pain in his legs at night was so severe that he could not sleep without sedative, and at times, not then. From the 5:30 P. M. service at which he went to the Altar for the laying-on-of-hands, he never suffered the pain, to this day, more than a year later. We pray daily for you and your work.

Mrs. A. Thomas Nelson

During Lent we are unusually conscious of the many ways in which we are blessed. The women of the parish are asked to show their thankfulness by using the United Thank Offering boxes each day. You will find both boxes and envelopes in the outer vestibule of the Church.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

7:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer, Sermon by Mr. Richard Herschell, B.Sc.

GOD'S LOVE

The stuffy Church leaders never liked Jesus. From the first they were jealous of Him, because of the crowds that listened to Him so eagerly. They were angry with Him when He broke their chilly-hearted laws and healed a man on the Sabbath Day. Then their anger deepened, for there came a day when He went into the Temple, where they made such a fat profit selling animals for sacrifice; and when He saw the sharp, greedy trading right in His Father's House, His voice flamed out, "My House is a House of Prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves." He drove their money changers out of the Temple. That finished the patience of the Church leaders. He had struck at their "racket." He must die.

Since the beginning of His ministry, Jesus had been trying to teach people that a human being is more important to God than anything else; more important than Sabbath rules; more important than any property. "How much then is a man of more value than a sheep," He had told them. Their Sabbath rules might well be changed, or suspended, for the sake of sick men needing to be healed. Their Temple business could be cleaned up for the sake of people needing a true House of Prayer. Rules and property came second with Jesus—the deep needs of human beings come first.

And are we innocent? A child in our house smashes the kitchen window. And there is an outburst of anger, as if the window were a treasure of great value. Sometimes such a scolding sears into a child's mind—years afterwards, perhaps, he remembers that once his parents thought a window pane more important than himself. Jesus was very clear about such things. He said that such parents ought to be drowned. They are valuing property as more precious than a child.

Little by little we are beginning to see what Jesus meant. A century ago the South said, "Let us alone with our slaves. This is our business; and ours alone. They belong to us. They are our property. Let us alone." But they were not let alone. History finally said that souls of men are of more value than property rights. Recently the Supreme Court of the United States ruled that human beings of dark skins cannot by light-skinned people be discounted as less valuable, and therefore excluded from common privileges. It will take years for this to be worked out in practice, but a magnificent start is being made already. And the world is seeing that our land is beginning to recognize that dark-skinned people are as much the children of God as white-skinned ones; that He loves men, quite regardless of their shade of color. In fact, God may well be "Color blind"; for Jesus was!

Human beings are so valuable, Jesus taught, that they can belong only to one person—God Himself. Ordinary property can be given, bought, and sold. But people are so precious, in God's eyes, that they can be transferred into the possession of another only by giving themselves. And the only Being to whom a human being can rightly belong is God; by willing and joyous surrender of himself into God's keeping! In Lent you can come to understand that God loves you so much that He has given you freedom—He values you so amazingly that He desires your love only because you give it to Him of your own free will.

The Witness Magazine of March 8th carried a fine article "Religion Is Also Human" by Mr. Wilson Leithead, Vestryman of St. Stephen's Church.

The Rector will again be in Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, during the week of March 12th to 16th, inclusive. He will preach at the Noon-day Services, conduct a Healing Service following the Noon-day Service. He will speak to the Diocesan Clergy on Monday morning and preach in the evenings in St. Paul's Church, Mt. Lebanon, St. Peter's Church, Grentwood, and the Church of the Ascension, Pittsburgh.

We extend a hearty welcome to Dean High Moor of Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, who will be our Lenten Noon-Day preacher, March 12th-16th. We welcome the Rev. Frederick M. Brooks, Rector of the Church of the Savior, who will preach on Saturday, March 17th.

PRAY WITHOUT CEASING

A friend sent me the story of some ministers who gathered to discuss difficult questions. Among the problems they took up was how it is possible to obey the command, "Pray without ceasing." There was a lot of talk, with various ideas advanced, but none of them seemed very clear or useful. So one of them was appointed to write an essay on the problem, and read it at the next monthly meeting, when they would all have a chance to think it over. A young servant happened to come into the room at that moment, and hearing the decision, she exclaimed, "What! A whole month wanted to tell the meaning of that text! It's one of the easiest and best texts in the Bible." 'Well, Mary," said the old minister, "What can you tell us about it? Let us know how you understand it. Can you pray all the time?" "Oh, yes, Sir!" "What! When you have so many things to do?" "Why, yes, Sir, the more I have to do, the more I can pray." "Indeed! Well, Mary, do let us know how it is; for most people think otherwise."

"Well, Sir," said young Mary, "When I first open my eyes in the morning, I pray, 'Lord, open the eyes of my understanding.' And while I'm dressing, I pray that I may be clothed with the robe of righteousness. And while I'm washing, I ask for the washing of re-generation. As I begin my work, I pray I may have strength equal to my day. And when I kindle the fire, I pray that God's work may revive in my soul. And while I'm preparing and partaking of breakfast, I desire to be fed with the hidden manna and the sincere milk of the Word. As I sweep out the house, I pray that my heart may be cleansed from all its impurities. And as I am busy with little children, I look up to God as my Father, and pray for the spirit of adoption, that I may be His child. . . . And so on, all day; everything I do furnishes me with a thought of prayer."

"Enough! Enough!" cried the old minister. "These things are revealed unto babes, and often hid from the wise and prudent. Go on, Mary," said he, "And pray without ceasing. And as for us, brethren, let us bless the Lord for this exposition, and remember that He has said, "The meek will He guide in judgement."

As we seek to grow in grace and strength through these Lenten days, each of us might be learning to "Pray without ceasing." Practice it, day by day; adapt your life to it, and let it become a part of your day's routine. No one but God can tell what new power may be added to your life if you learn to "Pray without ceasing!"

CHURCH PERIODICALS

Even the most unenlightened person will readily admit that Church members are not well informed about the work program of the Church beyond parochial boundaries. We do have excellent publications, but they are not read as widely as could be desired. If every Church member automatically subscribed to a religious journal in the same way that a Rotarian or an Elk or a Legionnaire takes the official magazine, we would be a much better informed Church.

To make it as easy as possible to keep informed about the Church at home and abroad we have the current issues of a number of National Magazines available each week on the vestibule tables. Make it a habit to read at least one magazine a week. We have the Episcopal Churchnews, The Witness, The Diocesan Church News, The Living Church, Sharing, and the Church Times.

We extend a hearty welcome to Dean Philip McNairy of St. Paul's Cathedral, Buffalo, N. Y., who will be our Lenten Noonday preacher, March 19th-23rd. His sermon series will be on the subject of "Treasures in Earthen Vessels."

We welcome the Rev. James Dawe, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Wissahickon, who will preach on Saturday, March 24th.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to tell you that through the prayers of your Prayer Healing Fellowship and your healing literature, I have found such wonderful peace of mind and I am enjoying better health both mentally and physically than I have known for years. I still practice your daily meditations and shall continue to do so. I am able to do all my own work and still find time to help others. Gratefully, R. H.

STAND FOR CHRIST

What was it that so agonized Jesus in the Garden that He prayed, "My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from Me"? Certainly it was not death that He dreaded, for He was always ready to trust Himself in His Father's hands. Nor was it, I think, that He wanted more time for the training of His disciples—for He had taught them enough. What was it, then, that so tore Him with agony that the sweat poured down His face?

Stanley Jones has, I think, put his finger on the answer. "Was it not that He, who came to save men from sin, was causing men to sin by going on and making them take sides, knowing that they would decide against Him? He knew that His enemies were gathering; that they would come for Him. There would be a trial. His judges would have to make up their minds for or against Him; and the crowd would have to decide where they stood, for Christ or against Him. Jesus knew those flinty-hearted leaders, so jealous of Him; and He knew their cleverness in swaying the people. They would call Him an unpatriotic agitator who upset the people from the old ways. And He knew that the simple, muddle-headed people would be easily fooled. What He was pleading for in the Garden was that this awful moment—when the people would have to decide for, or against, God—would be put off. But His Father bade Him to go forward. For, men must learn to see which is the devil's way and which is God's. So Jesus bowed His head to the Father's will, and went forward. His heart was heaviest, I think, when He heard the hoarse cry break from the crowd, 'Crucify Him! Crucify Him!' God help them—they had decided."

Still Pilate's question calls for a decision: "What, then, Shall I do unto Jesus who is called the Christ?" And this time it is not some far away people who must answer. It is YOU who must speak up. Do you prefer to ease along in the old, comfortable grooves of the world's ways—grasping a little pleasure today, dodging a God-given burden tomorrow, serving yourself with true enthusiasm? If so, then you will try to get rid of Him who makes people-in-selfish-ruts uncomfortable; and your life will shout, "Crucify Him," even if your lips are silent. But if you are asking His Light on your decision, you may well see that the old ruts only bring us into a world of chaos and conflict and nightmare. You may, in a flash of certainty, understand at last that the only hope of mankind is to scramble out of the old ruts, and walk the great highway of God, following Him who loves you into God's peace.

The Living Christ is again in agony this week—for He shrinks from confronting you with this awful choice. But there is no escape—decide you must! It is getting late. Will you cling to the old rut—or will you stand for Christ?

GOD'S MIGHTY ACT

James Stewart of Scotland has written: "The most characteristic word in the Christian religion is the word "Resurrection." For this is what Christianity essentially is: a religion of Resurrection. It is true, of course, that for us Christians the Cross must stand at the heart of things. But a man may gaze at the Cross, and miss the Gospel that saves—for he is still on the wrong side of Easter. Christianity's symbol is not the dead figure on the crucifix but Christ risen, trampling a broken Cross beneath His feet. There would never have been a New Testament at all apart from the burning certainty of all its writers that He whose mighty deeds they were recording had conquered death and was alive forever.

"Notice, particularly, how the writer of Hebrews puts it. He says, speaking of the Resurrection, 'It is God who did this thing. It was God's mighty act that brought up the Lord Jesus from the dead.' Here the Apostle is praying for those Christians that the identical force which God had exerted in taking Jesus out of the grave might operate on a similar scale in their own lives: might go inwardly to work to make them strong and pure and brave and vital—to make them, in short, resurrected personalities, throbbing with new life! . . . This is what the Gospel offers—the power which shattered death for Jesus, to help us now to live!

"It is this that explains the irrepressible excitement of early Christianity. They said, 'Here is a way of victory! We know it. It has worked for us. Why not for you?' But we are so slow to take it in. We say, 'It can't apply to us.' But those men of the New Testament reply, 'You surely don't imagine that the power that took Christ out of the grave is going to be baffled by you? That the God who did this terrific thing is going to find your little problem too hard for Him to deal with? He that brought again from the dead the Lord Jesus, shall He not,—today, if you will ask Him—revive and quicken you?"

"There is one condition. Before the Creative God can come into our life, one thing is needful—self-surrender; self-commitment. There is no road to Easter except by Good Friday; no way to the risen quality of life except by the life laid down. And, that being so, there is no road to the power of Easter for any of us except at the cost of self-commitment.

"Here, then, is the question each of us must face. With all the power that resurrected Christ awaiting to be used, why should my life ever be helpless and maimed and impoverished and defeated? The ultimate secret of resurrection-power was given by William Cowper:

"The dearest idol I have known, whate're that idol be,
Help me to tear it from Thy throne, and worship only Thee."

That is the streak of blood. That is the Good Friday sacrifice. And beyond it—all the power of Easter . . . A conquering soul; all the thrill of being risen with Christ; all the marvel of life blossoming red from the dust of self's defeat."

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Several years ago your Prayer Group prayed for our daughter who was then suffering from an acute case of multiple sclerosis. Since then she has made an almost complete recovery and is now married and the mother of two healthy children. We have deeply appreciated all that your Prayer Group has done for us.

HUMILITY

Sometimes you and I speak of the greatness of our democracy, and I believe we have good reason to do so. But if we speak with pride—as if we frail children of dust were responsible for that greatness—then we are wrong!

Dr. Emrich, in his remarkable book "Earth Might Be Fair," once pointed to the source of our greatness. He looked back to the days that followed the American Revolution, when our forefathers gathered to frame a new government. Humanly speaking, the outlook was black—patriots were exhausted from a seven-year war; and there was little enthusiasm for the new nation to be. The forces of division were rampant. What could a handful of men do? But these leaders did not put their faith in man's talents. They remembered that they were children of the Most High; and they framed their government on that heroic faith.

Out of that faith came our freedom of worship, and the right to a job. Dr. Emrich points out, "If it is a man's duty to worship God, then he has the right to do so, and no state may demand of him the worship due to God alone. If it is his duty under God to develop his talents by work; if he cannot be a man without work, then he has the right to work. There is in man, when he lives this eternal life with God, an inner stronghold of freedom which no earthly power may assault; his rights are written in the stars." In the same way, freedom of speech and freedom of the press stem from our belief that we are the children of God. For since you are God's child, you have the right to speak what He puts in your heart. It is your parentage alone which gives you importance. Because He is your Father, you are entitled to the rights of a free democracy.

The Psalmist looked up at the majesty of the night sky and knew that he was only a "little two-legged creature beneath the awful splendor of the heavens." "What is man that Thou art mindful of him?" He asks in true humility. And the New Testament gives us the answer, that we are the "heirs of God"; that we are worth noticing in the universe only because we are the offspring of God. It is not that we deserve the consideration of the Almighty. Rather, we receive His loving aid as "Grace" because we are His own children because He is a great and loving parent. Think hopefully of the greatness of our nation. We can preserve and increase that greatness only if we walk very humbly with our God!

Fourth, the official Missionary Magazine of the Episcopal Church, featured an illustrated article on our Healing Ministry in the April issue.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in St. John's Church, Salem, N. J., during the evenings of April 15, 16, 17, and 18th. This Mission is being sponsored by the Episcopal Churches in Pennsgrove, Churchtown, Woodstown and Salem.

The Annual Meeting of the Parish will be held on Sunday, April 15th, at 12:15 P. M. in the Community House. At this meeting the business of the parish is formally transacted, and twelve men will be elected to the vestry. Two very interesting colored and sound films will be shown. Refreshments will be served.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe."Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

ANSWERING LOVE

Human beings certainly get black feelings about this world of ours. In the old legend of Ulysses, Circe changed his followers into animals, and then promised that he would change them back into men again if Ulysses could persuade them that they would be better off as men. Ulysses thought that this would be quite easy, but found that no one of them was willing to exchange the happy animal state to resume the miseries of a human being once more. That dreary legend sounds like the people of today who groan, "I hate to think of my children growing up to face the years ahead!"

Surely one cannot answer those discouraged people with "Blue-bird of happiness" talk. We cannot close our eyes and deny the reality of the evil and the agony in the world today. But we can point out that so many of these miseries have grown out of hard-hearted Christianity, out of genuine paganism. When a child of God forgets his parentage, he is apt to descend to the level of a beast.

We can also tell them, with full sincerity, that, when we have trusted God, our lives have never become a nightmare. We have faced tragedy, trusted God to see us through it, and have always found ourselves coming out into light again. We have faced the end of a blind alley, trusted God, and seen the door opening into new life. The experience of God-trusting people, all down the ages, has been that He led them faithfully through every wilderness, through night and day. The Apostles of every day rejoiced to find that evil spirits are subject to the power of God within them. Those who entrust themselves to the goodness of God live among miracles.

I love to recall the friend of mine who woke up in the night once to hear his small son, Peter, calling him. He got up and went into his room and turned on the light; and there Peter was, with all the bed-clothes off him, looking very cold. But the small boy was asleep. My friend tucked him in and went back to bed. In the morning Peter said, "You know, Daddie, I woke up in the night, and was cold, because all the bed-clothes were off. So I called you." My friend said, "Yes, you did, Peter—but when I got there, quickly, you were already asleep again." "Oh, yes, Daddie," replied Peter, "I went to sleep right away. I knew you'd come." He trusted his father. Those who trust the Eternal Father find the same answering love, without fail!

MEN'S RETREAT

The Rector will be a speaker at the Men's Retreat of the First Christian Church, Tenth street and Roosevelt Boulevard, to be held at the Spring Mountain House, Schwenksville, May 4th, 5th and 6th. The men of St. Stephen's Church are invited to attend. The cost is $18.50 which includes seven meals and two night's lodgings in a fine hotel. Here are some of the things we attempt to do: 1. Live in the Kingdom of God for one whole week-end. 2. Learn more about prayer and how to cultivate its practice. 3. Listen to God in the sacred periods of silence. 4. Discover an answer to our personal, family, and social problems through group and individual counselling. 5. Develop our God-given potential to become creatures of love, through Christian Fellowship and recreation. 6. Discover, or re-discover the true meaning of what it is to be a modern disciple of Christ. 7. To be so filled with the power of God that the course of your life will be different because of your Retreat experience.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing to thank you for my healing which took place at the Altar in January, 1956. I am a retired Deaconess, having spent twenty years in the Mission Field, but only recently have become interested in Spiritual Healing, in an effort to help my friends. For about a year I have had an annoying form of asthma, the wheezing variety, not serious, but very annoying. As you laid your hands upon my head, I felt a tingling vibration, and since then have not had any wheezing, for which I am very grateful. Also I want to thank you for showing me the way in which too become a channel for helping our Lord in His work of healing H. H. English.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Spiritual Healing at the Memorial Church of the Good Shepherd, Germantown, on the evening of April 22nd, 23rd, 24th and 25th.

Carl Grammer Torrey, Jr., the great grandson of the Rev. Dr. Carl Grammer, Rector of St. Stephen's Church, 1905-36, will be baptized in St. Stephen's on April 29th.

For the second year in a row, our Boy Scout Troop No. 2, under the leadership of Mr. James O. Lyman, has earned the Camping Award.

ROAST BEEF DINNER BY THE MOTHERS' MEETING

On Thursday, April 26th, a delicious roast beef dinner will be served by the Mothers' Meeting in the Community House, from 12 Noon to 6 P. M. The price, just 75 cents.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME ADVANCES YOUR CLOCK ONE HOUR!
So, don't be late to Church this Sunday, April 29th!

VESTRY OF ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

On the Monday following the Annual Election to the Vestry, a Meeting was held to organize the twelve members of the Vestry for the new year of service. Dr. Herbert Old was appointed Rector's Warden, Emeritus; Mr. David L. German, Rector's Warden; Mr. Edwin S. Heins was elected Accounting Warden; Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Chairman of the Executive Committee; Mr. Wilson C. Leithead, Clerk of the Vestry; Mr. Edward S. Morris, Treasurer of the Burd School.

The following are giving themselves in God's service as Vestrymen and leaders in the work of St. Stephen's Parish, and their leadership is greatly appreciated by the Rector:

Dr. Herbert Old, Mr. David L. German, Mr. Edwin S. Heins, Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Mr. Wilson C. Leithead, Mr. Edward S. Morris, Mr. Charles K. Hay, Mr. Harry J. Hauger, Mr. J. Lewis Armstrong, Mr. James O. Lyman, Mr. Frederick Schmid, Jr., and Mr. Elmer S. Carll.

The Rector will speak at the Church Family Night program at the First Methodist Church, Roxborough, on April 29th.

BURD SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday afternoon, March 18th, 1956, A Memorial Service was held in the Burd School Chapel celebrating the 100th Anniversary of this fine Institution. A special service was arranged and conducted by the Rector. Mr. I. Smith Raspin gave an inspiring address on "Burd School: Past and Present," and Bishop Armstrong gave a talk on his impression of the School. The service was followed by a Tea.

The Burd School had its origin in Mrs. Burd's Home at 9th and Chestnut streets in 1856. Mrs. Burd was the mother of eight children, all of whom died in early life, the last in 1845. All are buried beneath the "Angel of the Resurrection" Monument in St. Stephen's Church.

Following her death on Good Friday, April 6th, 1860, it was disclosed that Mrs. Burd had left practically her entire fortune for the building and endowment of a School where fatherless girls should be educated and prepared for life. The Rector and Vestry of St. Stephen's Church were named as Trustees, and under the Trust the founder's wishes have been strictly followed.

In accordance with Mrs. Burd's wishes, the main purpose of the School has been concentrated on the building of a wholesome and well-rounded character and personality. Due emphasis is placed on religious and school instruction, and attention is given to the proper cultural development of the child. All religious instruction at the School is under the personal supervision of the Rector. Miss Charlotte U. Day is the Directress of the School and has been in immediate charge since August, 1948.

There will be two other occasions in the Anniversary Celebration, and it is hoped that many of our congregation and friends will attend. There will be an "Open House" on Saturday, June 2nd, from 2 P. M. to 5 P. M., and the Commencement Day on June 16th, at 2:30 P. M.

ALL GOD'S CHILDREN

The United Thank Offering of the women of the Church is a free will offering, given in addition to their regular Church pledges as an "expression of gratitude and thankfulness." Initialed in 1889 by the late Mrs. Richard Sorcle of Boston, the first offering was $2,000. In 1955, the three million dollar mark was reached for the first time.

The Spring Ingathering of St. Stephen's Church will be on Sunday, May 6th. Anyone, who is unable to be with us on May 6th can mail their envelope to the Church Office.

Mrs. Wilson C. Leithead, our Parish Custodian of the U. T. O., feels confident many more women in St. Stephen's would like to join us if they knew more about the work done by the U. T. O. To supply the incentive to get them started, literature is being mailed to all our families.

As Forward suggests, practice saying "Thank You, God, for my All." Then drop a coin in your Blue Box. You may think it a mechanical habit at first, but after a time, warmth of love and well-being rises within and becomes a transcendent thing for the gratitude expressed.

We invite you to join us.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing to tell you of the wonderful healing that took place while I was receiving the Holy Communion in St. Stephen's Church. I had a stroke and lost myself completely and when I came to, I found you waiting to serve me. I could only raise my right hand, as my left arm was completely paralyzed. When I left the Altar, I found I was completely healed, and have had no ill effects since. I have had a number of healings in St. Stephen's Church for which I thank God. May God bless you in your good work for Him. Gratefully, M. Z. H.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Many of our parishioners are using the plan suggested by the Rector to read the entire Bible through in two and a half years. Those who started the plan last December have now read nine books. Those who attend the services on May 6th will receive a copy of the Epistle of Paul to the Romans. Be sure to get your copy!

* * * * *

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening. He will speak in Trinity Church, Easton, on Monday evening, and at 8:30 A. M. Tuesday he will speak to the Protestant Clergy of Easton. On Tuesday at 1 P. M. he will speak to the Women of St. Thomas' Church, Whitemarsh.

MISSSION OF CHRISTIAN HEALING

Several hundred people of all faiths availed themselves of the Mission of Christian Healing, conducted earlier this week at St. John's Church, Salem, sponsored by four Episcopal Churches of Salem County.

The Mission, although considered somewhat unique, is as old as the Christian faith itself. It is only a restoration to the Church, the ministry of healing, which was one of the commandments of our Lord to His disciples.

Thus, a Mission of Healing is a demonstration of the Gospel in action.

The Missioner is not a healer, but a man with a message of power.

A Mission subordinates the personality of the missioner and magnifies our Lord Jesus Christ, and focuses local attention upon the Church as His Body and Agent.

Through the ministry of prayer, the Sacraments and the Laying-On-Of-Hands, many persons have experienced the healing of body and mind and soul.

Dr. Alfred W. Price, D. D., the Missioner, has been Rector of Old St. Stephen's Church, in downtown Philadelphia, for fourteen years. He has been especially concerned with the Ministry of Spiritual Healing.

Personality subordinated, as it was, nevertheless magnified were his words, his touch, his Godly manner, to the extent that those who felt and believed, he is truly one of the living disciples of this age.

With solemn ministerial dignity, he, who has been so closely identified with the Ministry of Spiritual Healing, fulfilled the object of such a Mission, which is to save souls first, and bodies second. For, "to 'save' them is to bring them to a state of Salvation."

The Mission did just that for many and refurbished the faith of untold others.

THE WEAPONS OF CHRIST

Stanley Jones, in his helpful book, "The Way to Peace and Power," gives many a clue to the age-old secrets of Christian power.

In one place he quotes Professor Royce, "No man is safe unless he can stand anything that can happen to him"; and Stanley Jones goes on to declare that the Christian is, therefore, more safe, for he can use anything that can happen to him. "Everything is grist to his mill. He makes filthy rags into beautiful paper, makes tears into telescopes, coins heaven out of hell." Then he goes on to give clear examples of Christians making use of anything that can happen to them, and turning it to the glory of God.

Kagawa for instance, shared his bed with a beggar, and as a result, caught trachoma, which almost robbed him of his sight. But Kagawa did not lament over this, saying simply, "Having so largely lost my eyesight, the power to see has extended into every part and parcel of my person." Eye-blindness, by the inward power of Christ, was transformed into wider seeing. When Doctor George Washington Carver, the great Negro scientist, lost his life savings through a bank crash, someone asked him if he knew he was bankrupt, and he replied, "Yes, I heard," and went on teaching as if nothing had happened. He had inner riches, in Christ, that the worst bank crash could not touch. When a faithful, courageous Christian Pastor lost his only child—a gay little girl—he quietly said, "Now I must laugh twice as much, for now I have to laugh for both of us." Disease, poverty, and tragic loss are taken into the mill of the Christian's soul and transformed into something strong and beautiful which strengthens other people. The Scribes and Pharisees tried all sorts of tricks to crush and beat down Jesus—but each time, when the dust cleared away, He stood there, taller and stronger than ever.

People shudder at powerful, crunching Communism—but here, in quiet Christian faith, is something stronger than any pagan cleverness. As we have learned by hard experience, the Devil always wins if we try to fight him with his own weapons. But when we take up the weapons of Christ (compassion, and patience, and understanding) the Devil is no match for us. If you want to find unconquerable strength, keep on looking as a Christian like the Japanese Kagawa, who said, "I find no necessity for pessimism. Have I not strength in abundance to lay temptations low? I see no need for concealing the fact that I am surprisingly strong. Since I became God-possessed, it has become impossible for me to commit my soul to wanton thoughts. I glory in the might of the Almighty Who dwells within me."

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—We are so grateful for the prayers of St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship. Our daughter who has been in a hospital for six years for a nervous breakdown has now been home for over a year, and has improved so much that she will not need to go back. She is really a changed person. What wonderful things our Lord can do for us through prayer and believing. Praise His name. Our home is so much happier since she has been healed. Thanks again to all of your prayer helpers.

"HELPING TO LIVE . . . LIVING TO HELP"

Perhaps the basic purpose of the City Mission's Ministry may not have been expressed in exactly those words before, but they sum up the work of the City Mission so well that they were chosen as the theme of a booklet which we are sending to all our Church families.

We believe that everyone who reads this booklet will understand more clearly than ever before what the work of the City Mission means to this community. As a step towards acquainting more people with the story of the City Mission, and enabling those who wish to share in its work to do so, the Board of Counsel, of which your Rector, Mr. I. Smith Raspin, and Mr. Edwin S. Heins are members, recently adopted a new policy of having Associate Members of the City Mission—persons who are too busy to take an active part in this work, but who can use this way of becoming identified with the City Mission and of giving it some much needed financial support. As the booklet explains, the dues for Associate Membership are $5.00 a year. Please fill out the application blank and mail to the Rector, with your check.

We wish to acknowledge, gratefully, these Bulletin subscriptions:

GOD'S HOLY SPIRIT

This is "Whitsunday"—often called the Day of Pentecost—when we remember God's gift of His Holy Spirit to the early Christians, binding them together into the Church. The name was first "White-Sunday," for the early Church people wore robes of white on that day, when they gave themselves to the faithful following of the Risen Christ, listening ever for His Holy Spirit.

The Day of Pentecost, as it is described in the Book of the Acts, was a day of exaltation, of deep and powerful excitement, as the Holy Spirit took hold of those humble lives and filled them with power to serve God beyond their wildest hopes. It is well to remember, however, that God's Spirit does not always come in such gloriously turbulent ways. More often it comes to us in a deep-reaching, growing serenity, as we learn humility in committing ourselves to the guidance of His Spirit. Grace Carpenter has pictured it faithfully as she writes of "The Purpose of God":

"The purpose of God is like a great river, bearing all humanity upon its broad and mighty current.

"In its course there lie rapids and shallows, dangers and temptations of the spirit; but it flows ever toward the completion of His will.

"We may launch our frail craft of life against the compelling tide, and become worn and broken in the struggle.

"We may drift aside, shunning adventurous waters that demand the sure hand of faith and courage; and, in indolence or fear, float idly in the shallows that lie along the river.

"Or, careless and self-confident, we may strike out, rudderless, into the rapids, and be carried to disaster.

"But, if we commit ourselves, in faith, to the power of the current, which is love, we are comforted by a sense of ultimate fulfillment.

"Our prayers rise, like white sails, to be filled by the sustaining breath of the Holy Spirit.

"And, despite the struggle and grief of turbulent waters, we move, with God, toward the calm sea of His Eternal Love."

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Nearly a month ago I phoned for prayers for Mary . . ., in Baltimore, who had been stricken with encephelitis, and was passing thru' a crisis. The doctors had done everything possible. You promised to enlist your prayer helpers immediately. In two days I phoned that there had been no brain damage, but she was still in critical condition. This morning I have the latest report, which is that she is recovered. The doctors said only two cases out of ten recover without brain damage. Surely the prayers from your group combined with ours wrought the miracle, and my deepest gratitude goes to you and them. (E. S. F.—Swarthmore.)

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe."Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

FOUNDATIONS FOR PEACE

Because this is Trinity Sunday, and just before Memorial Day, I want to tell you how a God-guided medical officer was taught by the Holy Spirit what he should say.

One of the most terrific problems we face is the problem of hate. Our men who have been on the fighting fronts have seen terrible things done to their comrades—starvation and torture; and it is only natural that they should hate the men who did these cruel and barbarous things. Even we who are civilians at home, and have only seen newspaper articles and pictures, have been deeply stirred to hatred. It is natural that we should be. But we cannot stop there. There are so many things that are natural, and which are not right! To allow hate to breed unchecked in our hearts means that we are willing to have the seeds of another war take root within us. To enjoy hating others means, for any who call themselves Christians, direct disobedience of the Master Who plainly commanded them to love all men, even their enemies. What can we do about this hatred? What can we do, as followers of Christ, to build foundations for the peace of the world?

Out in the Pacific some years ago (1945) an American warship took some wounded Japanese prisoners aboard. A rather startling thing happened—one of the American medical officers aboard took charge of the care of these wounded Japs, and, to the indignation of his fellow officers, took the same consciencious care of them as he did our own wounded. In the ward-room other officers criticized him angrily. Some said that it would be best to leave the Japs below decks without any care, and let them die as they had let our men die. Finally, one day, a fellow-officer "sounded off" with scorching words of scorn over his decent treatment of the wounded enemy prisoners. The doctor waited until the hot-mouthed officer stopped, and asked, "Did you go to Mass last Sunday?" "Yes." "Did you go to confession before-hand?" "Yes." "And you belong to a Christian Church?" "Yes." "Then," said the doctor, with steel in his voice, "You're a d..... hypocrite." The ward-room grew tense, as the doctor continued, "Let me tell you what I mean. When we went to war, we said a lot about four freedoms, and about playing the game according to the rules of decency. I propose that we keep on playing the game according to the rules, even if the other fellow doesn't. What is more—there are some good Japs down there, among the bad ones. And when the Japanese war lords have been liquidated, and little Ishy goes back to Japan, he is going to say to his people, 'Those war lords of ours lied to us. They told us that all Americans are beasts. And when I was wounded, I was treated decently aboard an American warship and given such good care that I got well.' I'm going to keep right on taking good care of little Ishy and the rest—Has anyone else anything to say?" And the ward-room was silent. If Christianity can be preached as convincingly by a naval officer, then civilians like ourselves should be able to obey the command of our Master, to love our enemies, for the sake of the peace of the world.

Our Annual Sunday School Picnic will be held at Menlo Park, Perkasie, Pa., on Saturday, June 9th. Buses will leave the Church at 9 A. M. and the Burd School at 9:15 A. M. Adults $1.00 and children free.

* * *

As part of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Avenue, there will be an Open House on Saturday, June 2nd, from 2 to 5 P. M.

* * *

The Rector will participate in the "Faith At Work" Conference of the Evangel in Pocono Crest Hotel at Mt. Pocono on June 1st and 2nd.

* * *

We extend a hearty welcome to our Annual Memorial Day Service to the members of the Gold Star Mothers, the Military Order of the Purple Heart, the American Legion, and the Second Division Association.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry: Dear Dr. Price:—Your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for my son, Donald, who has an inflamed lung. I have attended two of your healing services and received the Laying-On-Of-Hands. In this short time I can see a big change in my problem. Visited my son over the week-end and found his attitude better, and he does not have to use his asthma spray as often.

Some of this healing has brushed off on me. The right side of my jaw has been dead since 1953, after the removal of a tooth. I can feel it coming back. My weariness is gone and my old energy is coming back. I am grateful for the privilege of worshipping in a Church that cares for the hopeless. (D.E.H.)

UNEXPECTED SURPLUS

That great Quaker, Rufus Jones, once wrote, "A little boy on a great occasion had the loaves and the fishes with which Christ fed the five thousand. It looked as if there wouldn't be enough food to go around to the great crowd, and the little boy's eyes bulged with wonder when he saw everybody eating. Then, to everybody's surprise, there was a heap of "left-overs"—twelve baskets full. It was an unexpected surplus.

"It is one of the unique characteristics of Christ to produce an unexpected surplus. He was always doing the unexpected, the surprising thing, going beyond the usual, the ordinary; flinging in a surplus. The "second mile" is a striking illustration of the principle. Christ is always lavish. He gives you more than you expect, more than you ask for. That is what is meant by grace. It is the uncalculating feature of love. It pours itself out without any limit. It gives you more than legal good measure. It comes in like the Bay of Fundy tide. You expect 15 feet, and you get 60 feet.

"Nature has to a degree prepared us for this revelation of surplus, for this lavishness. We cast our seeds out on the soil, and we do not just get back what we planted —it comes back multiplied a hundred fold. There is a Chinese proverb that any fool can count the number of seeds in an apple, but nobody can count the number of apples in an apple seed.

"But let us come back from this short excursion into nature, to Christ and His unexpected surplus. One of the earliest cases of healing in Mark is that of a man with infantile paralysis. His friends tore a hole through the clay roof of the house where Jesus was preaching, and let the man down with ropes, landing him in front of Jesus. The sermon instantly changed into a clinic. All that the man expected, all that he asked for, was to be physically healed. To have his legs again. But the first thing he knew was that his sins were forgiven. His mind was set free, even before his body was liberated. What he needed most was to get the load off his soul. Jesus did both things when the man only expected one. He went out not only with cured legs, but with a calmed mind as well. He had an unexpected surplus.

"Christ found a poor, bare-footed fisherman of Galilee named Simon—impulsive, fickle, unstable, and blustering. He turned him into a rock-man—made him shepherd of the sheep and the lambs in the new Church of the Spirit. The greatest Christian monument in Rome—St. Peter's—bears his name. There is hardly a Christian city in the world that does not have a Cathedral or a Church of St. Peter. What an unexpected surplus of glory has piled up around the name of that humble man!"

Peter experienced the "grace," the lavish generosity, of Jesus Christ. It is yours —for the asking.

* * *

A copy of the "Acts of the Apostles" will be given to everyone who attends the service today. This is the eleventh in the series of the Book of the Month which we have been reading together as a congregation.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I want to give you the first monthly report on the condition of Jimmy Dittmer, a young Moravian missionary to Alaska, who was brought back home with an acute spinal malignancy. With the prognosis very bleak, he was made the focus of prayer in our denomination, and I happily wrote to you for the concentration of your group. The latest report is that the condition is arrested and I know it has been God's hand again. Isn't the Lord marvelous? That thing could have been one day of agony after another until finally the end. Thanks again for your blessed ministry on behalf of the suffering. Fraternally yours, David R. Jones (Nicaragua)

WALL-SPACE OF LIFE

One of the commonest mistakes in Christian living is to think that we can help people by saying, "You must not do that harmful thing." That does not succeed. But, if we carry in our hearts the true Spirit of our Master; if our deeds are channels of His love, His cleanness, His strength, people are drawn away from their sins, toward Him. In that way we can become "the salt of the earth," "the light of the world." A friend has told me this story, which vividly shows us the way:

"A young man entered training as an art student in London. During those years he thought he would draw a portrait of Christ. He was disappointed . . . he tried, and failed and tore it up. He tried again later, but failed to satisfy himself. The world war broke out and his work came to an end. He went to camp and was finally sent to France and to the front. He was billeted in a French Chateau in a room with nine other men. When he went to bed the first night, he was distressed to see over the beds of the other men vulgar drawings that were being circulated in those days. He was tempted impetuously to pull them down, but remembered that everyone had a right to put on his wall-space whatever he liked, so he planned rather what he would do with the space over his bed.

"The only spare time he had was at night, and the only drawing material a pencil and a plain post card. He determined to try again to draw a head of Christ. He worked at his drawing for several nights with only a candle to give him light, and when it was finished, he nervously pinned it on his wall. He did not know what the other men would say or do when they saw it in the morning.

"In the morning they simply looked at it, said nothing, and went out. In a few days all the other pictures were pulled down by them, and only his drawing remained. He had lifted up the Risen Christ in testimony to those around him."

In your heart you want to lift up the Risen Christ to those about you. Remember that you cannot do it by criticising the wall-space of their lives. But, if you have the likeness of the Christ living in the wall-space of your life, it will do wonders in the lives of those about you, who will change themselves because they find a lot of Him in you!

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—We wish to thank you and your Prayer Fellowship of 82 persons for praying for our mother for the past month. The wonderful progress that she has made seems like a miracle as her former doctor had told us that her brain cells were destroyed. The doctors at the mental hospital are very pleased with her steady improvement. She seems almost like her old self. (D. V. D.)

BURD DAY

The Annual Burd Day Commencement will be held at 2 P. M. on Saturday, June 16th at 4226 Baltimore Avenue. Everyone is welcome to attend.

A lady telephoned her bank to arrange for the disposal of a thousand dollar bond. "Is the bond for redemption or conversion?" the banker asked her.

There was a long pause; then the lady asked, in a small voice, "Am I talking to the First National Bank or the First Baptist Church?"

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

OVERCOMING FEAR

Those who have studied the strategy of warfare are familiar with the "flank-attack." The idea is that you do not attack the enemy head-on, at his strongest point; but rather approach him from the side. The same strategy is necessary in spiritual warfare. As we saw last Sunday, you do not overcome sin and impurity in others by attacking it directly, but by the spiritual flank-attack of lifting Christ before them. The same indirect strategy is called for if we are to overcome fear in our lives.

The writer of the first Epistle of John indicated clearly the victorious flank-attack on fear when he said, "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear." In other words, if fear of any kind grips you, occupy yourself straightway with the needs of those about you. Don't fight the fear directly; turn away from it, and write a letter to a friend, fix the kitchen door for your wife, bake one of your husband's favorite pies, telephone your neighbor to inquire about her sick child, start making out your order for the seed company so you'll have a fine garden for the family. In other words, train yourself in the honest practice of loving-kindness, and you will defeat fear; for most fear and fretting is worry about yourself, is plain selfishness. When Jesus said, "Thou shalt love," He was laying down the spiritual strategy against fear, and many other evils. If you learn the habit of concern for others, fear will be pushed out of your life. Doctor Link tells this simple story of the conquest of fear, in the words of the young woman who won the victory:

"As a young woman I was troubled with many fears, one of which was the fear of insanity. After my marriage and the birth of our first child, these fears still persisted. However, we soon had another child and ended up by having six. We never had much money and I had to do all my own work with practically no help. Whenever I started to worry about myself, the baby would cry and I would have to run and look after him. Or the children would quarrel, and I would have to straighten them out. Or I would suddenly remember that it was time to start dinner, or that I must run out and take in the wash before it rained, or that the ironing had to be done. My fears were continually interrupted by the needs of my family, which I had to do something about quickly. Gradually my fears about myself disappeared, and now I look back on them with amusement."

"There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear." Learn love, and fear will shrivel up, and blow away!

UNITED THANK OFFERING

We want to extend our congratulations, once again, to Mrs. Wilson Leithead for the outstanding job she is doing as Custodian of the United Thank Offering at St. Stephen's. The Spring In-Gathering amounts to $308.08 from eighty-six contributors.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped by our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Several weeks ago I wrote for prayers for my son, Robert, who was seriously ill with a liver ailment, and not responding to the doctor's treatment. You wrote me a most re-assuring letter. Yesterday I saw God's miraculous answer, when my now well son, walked in the house, with the doctor's assurance he is well enough to go back to work after six weeks, when there were times even his doctor lost hope. Robert started to show signs of recovery the very day after I wrote to you for the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship. Thanking you for your wonderful ministry to everyone, regardless of religion. (H. THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—This is to thank you for your prayers and those of your Prayer Fellowship for Nora Hall, the wife of our Angelican Bishop of Hong Kong. She is much improved and able to accompany Bishop Hall on a very strenuous and important Mission at this time. G. C. R.

SUMMER SERVICES

During August, while the Rector is vacationing in Kennebunkport, Maine, the Sunday services will be under the direction of the Rev. George E. Boswell, Rector of St. James' Church in Bristol, Penna. The weekday services in August will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Meckling.

During July and August the weekday services will be held on Wednesdays at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M. and on Fridays at 12:30 P. M. The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission at the eleven o'clock service during the five Sundays in July.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

St. Stephen's will be host to the International Conference of the Order of St. Luke, September 16th to 19th. The Rector has recently been elected to the Office of Warden of the Order of St. Luke, which is a non-monastic Order for those within the Church who feel impelled to make the ministry of healing a part of their vocation. The Order embraces two classes of members: (1) Clergy Members, including Bishops and Clergy who desire to promote the healing ministry as a regular part of the pastoral office; in the field of evangelism through parochial missions with an emphasis on healing; and by Clergy functioning as hospital Chaplains. (2) Lay Members, including those conscious of a special vocation or aptitude in this ministry and desirous of developing their talent, such as physicians, surgeons, psychiatrists, nurses, others who minister to the sick, and those able to make special contributions to the healing ministry.

The Rev. William Wood of the London Healing Mission and an Associate Warden of the Order of St. Luke, Mrs. Agnes Sanford, author of "The Healing Light" and other books on spiritual healing, will speak. Mrs. Ethel T. Banks, of San Diego, California, Editor of "Sharing" Magazine, and Secretary of St. Luke's Press, will be a speaker as will also the Rev. Dr. Crawford Brown, Rector of Church of Our Savior, San Gabriel, California. The Rector will be a speaker also.

Anyone interested in healing is welcome to attend the three sessions each day. Reservations are coming in from California, Florida and other distant places.

The Rector has a featured article, "The Power To Heal," in the July issue of "Guideposts" Magazine.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Those attending the services on Sunday, July 1st will receive a booklet containing St. Paul's Epistles to the Corinthians. The assignment for August will be the book of Genesis. We are attempting to read together month by month the various Books of the Bible.

We acknowledge with gratitude the following presentations of flowers for the Altar adornment for the summer period, when our weekly Bulletin is not published:
July 1st—Mrs. Hary J. Hauger in memory of her parents
July 8th—King's Daughters in memory of Mrs. Vanderslice
July 15th—Mr. David Magee in memory of his wife
July 22nd—Mrs. Mary McEwen in memory of son, Walter McEwen
July 29th—Mr. James K. Lewis in memory of his family
August 5th—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lyster in memory of Mrs. George W. Lyster
Mrs. George Sinnamon in memory of her mother
August 12th—The Rev. Alfred W. Price in memory of his father
August 19th—Miss Fannie Sackett in memory of Miss Matilda Maulsby
August 26th—Mrs. William B. Campbell

The Mothers' Meeting have made a contribution of one hundred dollars towards the work of St. Stephen's Church.

The Cosmopolitan Magazine will publish in the near future an article by T. F. James, "Healing By Faith: A New Spiritual Frontier." The Rector has read the thrilling manuscript and recommends it most heartily. Our work in St. Stephen's Church receives a generous and sympathetic treatment in this article.

Mr. Joseph L. Wilmusen, President of the Episcopal Hospital has written a letter expressing on behalf of the Board of Managers their deepest appreciation for the contribution of $451.70 from the Thanksgiving Offering of St. Stephen's Church.

We extend a hearty welcome to the fellowship of St. Stephen's Church to Mrs. Leora T. Kohn, who was confirmed in the Bishop's Chapel on June 18th.

TURNING TO GOD

Saul went out with a farm-hand, to search for the mission live stock (some mules, the modern translator tells us), and mules are valuable beasts on a large farm. They hunted far and wide until Saul finally decided that they had best turn homeward before his father sent out a rescue party! Then it was that the hired man suggested that they consult Samuel, the prophet of God. Samuel told Saul that the mules were already on their way back to his father's barn. But Samuel had more than that to say to Saul, for he went on to declare that the nation needed a leader; and that God had chosen him, Saul, to be their king.

Saul had set out in the morning with a narrow horizon, the important need of just one farm. And he had come back at nightfall with the needs of a whole kingdom of farms on his shoulders. When he turned to God, his whole horizon was widened. How much like life that is! We kneel to pray for someone we love in the armed forces—it is the pressing need of our lives and terribly urgent. And, as we kneel, God widens our horizon until we also see the pressing needs of others,—the terror in the hearts of innocent victims of the blunders of other people. We see hundreds of thousands of under-nourished people in the over populated, under-planted nations: hungry, aching, despairing. We see the grief of hosts who no longer have a living son to pray for. We see the hardships and the wounds and the loneliness of millions of young men, of many nations. When we turn to God with our personal need, He shows us the need of all His children, everywhere.

Saul turned to God to ask a favor, and was given a task. How much like life that is! It is risky business, this turning to God, for when we say, "Thy will be done," God sets us to work. We pray for a friend in trouble, and God opens our eyes to what we can do to bring comfort to the friend. It is risky business, turning to God, as Saul found out, and we do, also! But those who—who listen to His prompting, and undertake the task He gives them—are the people who find the deepest happiness and the most abiding peace. For He fills their minds and hearts with bigger concerns than their own small mules; and gets them to put their shoulders under the needs of the whole family of mankind!

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Those attending the services on Sunday, September 2nd will receive a booklet containing The Revelation of St. John The Divine. We are attempting to read together month by month the various Books of the Bible. This will be the 15th Book.

Mr. Elmer S. Carll received the degree of Batchelor of Law in course as of the class of 1920 by President Dr. Robert Johnson, of Temple University, on June 14th.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP is a public statement of faith in the message and mission of the Christian Church. You need the Church, and the Church needs you. Do not neglect this vital matter any longer. Give it your serious attention at once. Speak to the Rector.

The Rector is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Phila. Committee on Alcoholism.

The Rector has published a booklet "The Healing of Nervous Disorders By Spiritual Therapy." The cost is 25¢.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I can't thank you enough for your kind and encouraging letter concerning my husband's health and the group of 82 persons praying so unselfishly for him.

You asked me to write after a month's time as to how he is progressing and whether to continue to pray. As you recall, his trouble is hyper-tension, and I asked that you pray that it be normal now, i. e., 140 over 80, and that it remain normal under normal working conditions, etc., and without medication. I am thankful to God and to you, as the channel, to report that his pressure has become normal this past month. He sleeps better and during his waking hours seems relaxed. Many thanks.

DEVOTION TO GOD'S JOB

A man once said to me, "I haven't been feeling very well, and, you know, when you don't feel right, you don't get things done." There are a lot of people like that.

But the world has to have people who do their jobs no matter how they feel—milk men who deliver the milk even when they are dog-tired! R.F.D. mail carriers who head out in the bad weather even when that rheumatic knee is bothering them; housewives who cook three meals a day even when their hearts are heavy; fathers who go to work in the morning even when it's the last thing in the world they feel like doing.

There are some people you can always depend on to keep on the job. Something deep within them makes a habit of sticking to the task God has entrusted to them. That makes all the difference in the world—to accept a job from God, knowing that He wants you to do it. Peter never wavered after that day when Jesus said to him, "Feed My sheep." If the Master gave him that job, it was great enough for Peter to keep doing, come hell or high water.

One of the reasons for a habit of frequent prayer each day is that it gives God a chance to show us what He really wants us to do; to pass by the fussy little chores that we relish; and, instead, do the important things that make a living difference to the happiness of others. That habit of letting Him speak within us, bidding us to do this rather than that, frees a person to carry out God's purposes, and it builds true disciples and life savers.

In a rural section of Southern California, a Mexican mother died, leaving a family of 8 children. The oldest girl, not yet 17, was a tiny thing, and on her shoulders fell the burden of caring for the family. The neighbors watched her as she took up her task with courage; kept those children clean, well fed, and in school. A friend complimented her, but she replied, "I can't take any credit for something I have to do." "But, My dear, you don't have to. You could get out of it." The girl was silent for a moment, and then said, "Yes, that's true. But what about the 'have-to' that's inside of me!" Deepen that "have-to" within you, by constant walking in step with the Master, and you will bless other lives as that girl did, by unswerving devotion to God's job.

The Rector will be a speaker at The Atlantic Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Ocean Grove, New Jersey on Friday, September 14th.

THESE SIGNS FOLLOW: We occasionally print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—There is so much good to report to you since your Prayer Fellowship took up the work for my wife, Lucy, and myself last July 2nd. In this short span of weeks we have been lifted out of spiritual lethargy, mental anxiety, and literally desperate financial conditions, to a new level of thinking, and simultaneously into a new right place, right activity, and measure of security. For this we are deeply grateful, both for the consecrated work of your members, and for the literature which you sent to help us personally to utilize the privilege and power of prayer. We have studied the material faithfully, and after grasping its basic import, practiced substituting humbly and reverently words and thoughts appropriate to our personal problems; NEVER, HOWEVER, with human insistence, but in the spirit of "Not my will, Father, but Thine—be done."

The Rector, along with seven other clergyman, was presented with a "Testimonial of Service" by the Chief of Staff, United States Air Force and Chaplain (Major General) Charles I. Carpenter, Chief of Air Force Chaplains at a dinner in the Officers Club at New Castle County Airport, Wilmington, Delaware, on August 31st. The Testimonial was for outstanding service in conducting a Preaching Mission in March and April 1954 for personnel assigned to the United States Air Forces in Europe.

HEALING CONFERENCE

We extend a hearty welcome to the members of the Order of St. Luke The Physician and to the many interested people who are attending our four day Conference on Spiritual Healing. We hope everyone will enter into the joy and inspiration of these days ahead. We are extremely indebted to the Leaders of this Conference. The Rev. William Wood has flown over from London and will fly back after the Conference to his important work in the London Healing Mission. He is an Associate Warden of the O.S.L. We do appreciate the leadership of Mrs. Agnes Sanford who is so well known for her unique contribution to the Healing Ministry. To Mrs. Ethel T. Banks, whose most able editorship of "Sharing" Magazine over the years has made it the unquestioned leader in the whole field, we give a hearty welcome. To those who will lead in the panel discussions and Mrs. Paul Cook who will be in charge of the "Books," and the many others whose contribution to this Conference is so important, we want to say, "Thank you."

All the evening lectures will start promptly at 7:30 P. M. The afternoon programs are available and all details will be found therein. Tickets for the Tuesday Supper must be purchased before Monday.

WELCOME

To young people coming to Philadelphia for school or college, to families moving into the city from other places, to residents of hotels who expect to be here only a brief time, the Parish, its Vestry and ministers extend a cordial welcome. The services on Sundays at convenient hours and of varied character, the open pews in a church which is always open, are all at your service.

On week-days, there are not only noon-day services with helpful messages, but there are many groups with many purposes meeting in our modern Community House. There is a place for YOU in one or more of them, whether you are young or old, man or woman, boy or girl, professional person or home-maker.

In the pews you will find a card which, signed and sent or left in the pew, will bring to you some one with full information.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I do want to thank you and the prayer Fellowship and tell you of the wonderful things that have happened to me since writing for your help.

For some years I have been affected by a painful spastic disorder which the doctor said I would have to live with the remainder of my life. Reading about your healing services I decided to write you with full assurance that faith and prayer would help me. It definitely has, in both body and soul. I have not only made great progress in overcoming the above mentioned disorder, but other physical disorders have completely disappeared.

The night I received your literature, I read it quite thoroughly and before falling asleep, I prayed that God's healing would take place within me. Immediately, I completely relaxed for the first time in years. This was followed by a warm wave sensation over my entire body and I knew that God was already at work. I was up only once that night (previously it had been every hour) and I awakened the next morning a new person. My attitudes were altogether changed, all resentments, bitterness and frustrations were taken over by God and I had the happiest day of my life. I have had all the strength necessary for a full day's work without the usual exhaustion at the close of the day, and all tasks have seemed so much easier.

The literature which you sent has been invaluable to me and I shall be eternally grateful to God, to you, and to all who have had any part in the progress, thus far along the road to complete recovery.

(O. G. P.—Michigan)

The Rector has received, to date, some 2500 letters from readers of Guideposts Magazine.

Most of the restaurants and eating places around the Church are closed on Sundays. For our out-of-town friends, we would suggest Horn and Hardart's Cafeteria on Market street, between 11th and 12th streets, or H. and H. at 8th and Market, which has table service.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

LIVE ALL YOUR LIFE

A little girl once wrote a letter to her minister, who had become an Army Chaplain in the station in a dangerous spot overseas. Out of her affection for him, she ended her letter, "I hope you will live all of your life." When you stop and think that over, it is rather a wonderful wish—that her friend would keep on truly living, wherever he was, whatever he was doing, whatever dangers were around him. I have two good friends who recently celebrated their 60th Wedding Anniversary—they are still living their daily lives; and they always will. And that is my desire for you, that you will "Live all of your life," that even the toughest days may have enough of victory in them to be joyous; enough of peace in them to be quietly confident; enough of faith in them to be filled with courage.

My experience leads me to believe that the only sure way to do this is to live very close to God. As the turbo-supercharger enables an aeroplane to maintain full power at an altitude of 30,000 feet, where an ordinary plane has lost 4/5 of its power, so the Christian who walks with His God, listening and obeying, keeps strong in the stormiest heights of life. Men who have been in great peril tell me they have found this true. Friends, faced with the necessity of helping someone in deep waters, tell me that, after praying, the way opened up, and the friend came through with flying colors. The fact is that God is stronger than any temptation, any danger; and the person who has God in his heart is unconquerable.

When Dr. Patton was translating the New Testament into an island language, he found great difficulty in discovering a native word for "faith." While in his study one day, deep at work in the translation, one of his native teachers came in, hot and exhausted after a long walk. He threw himself down on a cane chair, put his feet up on another, and, wiping his forehead, he used a word which meant, "I am resting my whole weight here." Instantly Dr. Patton had the word he wanted. You simply "rest your whole weight" on God, day after day—then, indeed, you will "live all of your life."

MEMORIALS

Periodically we like to bring to the attention of the congregation the very intimate and essential needs of the Church, love gifts, we call them, given because we wish our Father's House to be a lovely place, and the services therein to be conducted in a sweet and orderly manner.

The Rector will formally open the New Year at the Burd School with a Service of the Holy Communion in the School Chapel on Sept. 26th at 7:30 A. M.

The Alumnae of Burd School will have a Banquet on Sept. 29th at the School to commemorate the 100th Anniversary of the Burd School.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Improvement beyond belief has been effected in my three year old boy. I am so humbly thankful for the prayers, joining mine, that have come from your Church. Ever since our visit to St. Stephen's, his appetite has grown, his rib cage formerly stunted and deformed, has improved so much that it is scarcely noticeable, and he has grown an inch and a half in height. William is a child with a heart malfunction for which the doctors have no cure or operation. Now, you would have to search for a healthier-looking child. Thanks for your guidance. (A.W.L.)

THE SUNDAY AFTERNOON BIBLE CLASS

Miss Hannah Yeakle's Bible Class opens—this is the 19th year—in the Community House on Sunday, September 23rd at 4 P. M. The Class is followed by the usual Coffee Hour, and old and new members are expected. This Class has been a source of comfort to many through the years.

HEALING CONFERENCE

Over five thousand people attended the various sessions of the four-day International Conference on Spiritual Therapy held in St. Stephen's Church Sept. 16th to 19th, inclusive. Over three hundred and fifty delegates of the Order of St. Luke The Physician, under whose auspices the Conference was held, came from thirty states and eight foreign areas. Fifteen denominations were represented by clergy and lay persons.

A tremendous out pouring of the Holy Spirit was evidenced throughout the Conference. "This is the Lord's doing and is wonderful in our sight."

The leaders of the Conference were the Rev. William Wood of the London Healing Mission, Mrs. Agnes Sanford, Mrs. Ethel T. Banks, Rev. Willison Ford, Rev. Richard Rettig, Mrs. Donald Hibbard, the Rev. Crawford Brown, Canon Bertram Runnals, the Rev. William Alberts, the Rev. Harold Hopkins, the Rev. S. Tagart Steele, Mrs. Gardiner Neal, William S. Lovekin, M.D., the Rev. Charles Sumners and the Rev. Alfred W. Price, Warden of the Order of St. Luke the Physician.

Lectures by the Rev. William Wood and Agnes Sanford were based on the "Will of God To Heal."

Panel discussions were held on Prayer Groups and Sacramental Healing and the relation between Medical Science and Spiritual Healing. Some 60 candidates, clergy and lay, were inducted into the International Order of St. Luke by the Warden, the Rev. Alfred W. Price and the Associate Warden, the Rev. William Wood.

Some of the Conference findings are as follows:

1. Jesus Christ is the Healer of man's whole being—his body, mind and soul. Believing that the healing ministry is an integral part of the work of the Church today, our aim is to restore the ministry to its rightful place.

2. Christ fulfills this ministry through the intercession of people united in love for Him and living disciplined lives, and the laying-on-of-hands, undertaken after prayer and self-discipline, by a priest or minister or other person who is the contact point of a beloved, believing and united community standing behind him and supporting his ministration to a sick person who has been taught to understand the true nature of the Christian faith.

3. The Spearhead of this ministry is prayer, which finds its most powerful expression in the Prayer Group.

4. We believe that Medical science is a part of God's plan for the healing of man. It is hoped that the Medical Profession with the Church will recognize that there is also healing that comes direct from Christ.

A RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the Reverend Alfred William Price, D.D., Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the Reverend William Wood, Director of the London Healing Mission, London, England, have accepted the honor and responsibility of the offices of Warden and Associate Warden respectively of the Order of St. Luke the Physician, said offices being bestowed because of demonstrated courage, consecration and effective service in the work of Divine Healing carried on through the years; and

WHEREAS as Warden of the Order, Alfred W. Price has convened and served as host, along with the Vestry and Congregation of St. Stephen's Church, to the first Conference of the Order;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that this Conference express its deepest appreciation to the Warden and to the Vestry and Congregation of St. Stephen's Church, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we, of this Conference, affirm our gratitude to Alfred W. Price and to William Wood for their acceptance of the leadership requested of them, and pray for them the empowering Presence of God's holy Spirit, the consciousness of the abiding Presence of our Lord Jesus Christ and the blessing of continuing joy in the boundless love of our heavenly Father.

The Rector will be a speaker at the Fall Retreat for Ministers and laymen, at the Eastern Baptist Seminary, Philadelphia, on October 1st and 2nd. Other speakers will be Dr. McColl, President of Southern Baptist Seminary, Dean James Pike of St. John The Divine, New York; Dr. Browne, Board of Education, Baptist Convention; Dr. Rex S. Clements, Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church; Dr. John W. Doberstein, Lutheren Theological Seminary; Dr. John McElroy, Arch Street Methodist Church.

The Rector will speak on the subject of Spiritual Therapy at the Annual Meeting of the American Anti-Vivisection Society, to be held on Thursday, October 4th, at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel at 8 P. M.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

From 4:00 A. M. to midnight every day intercessory prayer is offered by the eighty members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

WORKERS' COMMUNION

Sunday, October 7th, is World-Wide Communion Sunday. We combine our Annual "Workers' Communion" with this of our parish organizations. We ask them to begin the Fall Season at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask God's blessing on all we do.

The Rector will speak to the students at the Phila. Divinity School on October 9th at 9 A. M. and on October 10th he will speak to the New Jersey District of the New York Conference of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, tonight at 7:30 P. M.

You are welcome to attend the Annual Card Party and Bazaar of the Burd School on Tuesday, October 16th, at 1:30 P. M., at 4226 Baltimore Ave.

The Sunday School sessions for the Fall and Winter will be resumed on October 7th. The time each Sunday will be 11 o'clock.

Eighty one kneeling benches have been provided for the transept and nave pews in compliance with the wishes of Miss Katherine Kennedy, in her bequest to St. Stephen's Church. We now have all the pews furnished with comfortable kneelers.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Last week-end the Woman's Society of our Church in Seward, Alaska, had a Spiritual Retreat. From the moment that I was asked to lead the closing service, it seemed to me that the thing I ought to do was to tell the women about my recent experience in finding God adequate. I did so very simply, giving all the glory to God for the marvelous change that has come into my life. People were deeply moved and, as soon as I had finished somebody asked that I make copies of "A Spiritual Daily Dozen" and the thrice daily affirmations that were on another leaflet you gave me. You see, I had told them about the Healing Services at St. Stephen's and how I was healed emotionally there, and had read the things mentioned above as part of the closing meditation. They now want me to make copies for all the women of the Society.

I can't tell you how terribly grateful I am. When I remember how tired and discouraged, despairing and desperate I was just a year ago, it seems hardly possible that it is the same person who is now in excellent health, working hard on a difficult new job (nursing in Seward General Hospital) making friends and participating in Church and community activities, loving life again, and mostly feeling adequate and very happy. I can't truthfully say it's been easy but it has been tremendously worth while and I wouldn't exchange these seven months for anything in the wide world. Problems are no longer overwhelming and I often feel a kind of reckless daring (which is entirely foreign to my nature), realizing that God has brought me here and therefore it is up to Him ot see me through. (Margaret Field, Alaska)

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Those attending the services on Sunday, October 7th will receive a booklet containing the Book of Proverbs. We are attempting to read together month by month the various books of the Bible. This will be the 16th Book.

CHANNELS TO GOD'S POWER

The men who founded our nation were not fretful, jumpy, nervous men, straining to succeed. They were serene, quiet, settled men, confident in their cause, and confident in God. They wrote "In God we trust" onto our coins for keeps. Their patriotism was determined to found the kind of a nation that He wanted to found; and the energy of their purpose was forever overflowing into action.

One of our great American spiritual leaders has written, "Before I came to India as a very young evangelist, I was impatient and out of sorts with people in a camp meeting because they were so unresponsive. I went out after a meeting and lay down under an apple tree exhausted. The Lord seemed to come to me and say, "You're tired, aren't you?" "Yes," I replied, "I am, for I have worked hard." "And you're out of patience, aren't you?" "Yes," I replied, "I am, and I have a right to be, for these people are hard and unresponsive." Then he quietly said, "Do you see this apple tree? How does it bring forth fruit? Does it work itself up into a stew, trying to be fruitful? Or does it simply keep the channels open, taking in light and soil and sky, and allowing life to flow through itself into the fruit? And is it not unstrained? Then if you'll not fret and worry about results, but simply keep the channels open, letting My life flow through you; then you will bear fruit naturally without strain or drain." I rose relaxed and released. I didn't have to succeed—I only had to keep the channels open. God did the rest." He continues,

"In my quiet time . . . in the early morning came with power this statement of Ananias, when Jesus called on him to go to help blinded Saul, "Here am I, Lord." The voice said, "If you will say that in every situation, "here am I, Lord," then I'll take care of the rest. If you will put yourself at My disposal in every situation, then you won't hve to be anxious about anything—success, power, poise—it will all be yours." A calm possessed me. Life was centrally simplified. A door was opened to me which no man could shut. My "little power" didn't matter—His resources did."

To continue the great heritage of our forefathers, we must walk closely with God, casting all our cares on Him. We must set aside, each day, a Quiet Time, when we open our minds and hearts and wills to His Life and power and love. To help you in your Quiet Time, we recommend an investigation of the tract racks in the vestibule of St. Stephen's where you can find a number of meditations which will open the channels to God's coming. It is my hope that you will keep open the channels to God's unfailing strength!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped by our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I have just returned from California, where I heard such cheering news that I must pass it on to you. Our Minister's wife, mother of two small children, was stricken with a trouble which Scripps Clinic claimed was incurable. She was given only months to live. I asked for your prayers, added to those of your Prayer Group there. She is now so much better that some are wondering if the diagnosis was correct. But we know that God did not mean her to go, and heard our prayers. Our gratitude to you for your added strength. M. E. B. (N. Y.)

The Rector will preach in Olivet Methodist Church, Coatesville, Sunday evening, October 14th.

We are grateful for the gifts from three members of our congregation towards the Sanctuary cushions and Altar replacements amounting to $160.

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the Annual Appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year the Benevolent Society sent 7,001 pieces of sewing at a cost of $614.84 for Episcopal Hospital, Jefferson and Presbyterian Hospitals and the Visiting Nurses' Society. The articles were cut, generally, for sewing by the Hospitals. In some cases the cutting was done by the Benevolent Aides: Mrs. Raspin, Mrs. Leithead, Mrs. Schrott, and Miss Miriam Daley.

Six hundred dollars will just about cover the cost, estimated expenses for the Season 1956-57. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the hospitals which desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

INASMUCH

One day shortly before he was crucified, Jesus was sitting with His disciples on the hillside of the Mount of Olives. He declared to them that God would open His hospitality only to those who had been concerned for suffering people, and had ministered to their needs, saying, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me." What did He mean by those words?

Long ago there was a humble, kind-hearted cobbler who worked diligently at his bench day after day. As he worked, he thought of the great goodness of God, and of the compassion of Jesus in dying for us on the Cross. The more he thought of Jesus, the more he yearned to see Him face to face; so, one night, he prayed with all his heart that Jesus would come to his humble home on the morrow.

Early in the morning, he made ready for his Master—tidying the yard and making the neat little house spotless and shining for Him. As he was tapping away at his bench, there came a knock at the door. He sprang to his feet and eagerly opened the door. But it was only a grimy beggar who came to beg him to mend his shoes. The cobbler threw off his disappointment, and willingly made the beggar's shoes sound and durable once more, which pleased the poor man greatly. Back at his bench, the cobbler turned his mind again to the coming of his Lord—and another knock rang out. Hopefully the cobbler opened the door; but it was only a bent old woman, asking for some bread for her empty stomach. The cobbler sighed, but graciously broke his own luncheon loaf in half, sharing this and his mug of milk with her. So she went on her way, strengthened, with a glowing smiles of gratitude on her lips. Back to his work he went, until the western clouds glowed with sunset fire. Suddenly there was another knock, and when the cobbler flung the door open, he faced—not his Lord, but a small child who had lost his way, and was frightened. The kindly cobbler led the child home, and returned to his empty home with a heavy heart. That night he prayed, "Master, You said that You would come; but You did not!" And there came the reply, "But I did come. I was the poor man whose shoes you mended. I was the hungry old woman you fed. I was the lost child you took home."

After all, Jesus did promise that He would be with us to the end of the world. He is in the heart of the beggar, feeling the pain of the broken shoes. He dwells in the hungry old woman, feeling her gnawing hunger. He is in the lost child, feeling the agony of His lostness Each time when we help a sufferer, in our own community or by a gift across the world, we minister to the joy of Jesus. It's thrilling to live that way—as you may have found!

The Rev. Mr. Meckling, The Chapel for the Hard of Hearing and its Auxiliary, want to thank all those persons who helped make their 18th Annual Bazaar its greatest success. The profits from the Bazaar and donations exceeds, slightly, $2,000.00. We are grateful for this wonderful result.

The Rector will speak to the patients of Byberry State Hospital on October 22nd.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors and nurses in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato.

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of fellow has a germ than what kind of germ has a fellah."—Shattuck.

"'Tis not the body, but the man is ill."—Dr. Weir Mitchell.

MONEY

If you have been away and your pledge is a little behind, the Treasurer would be grateful if you would try to bring it up to date. If you do not know where you stand Mrs. Hauger, who is in the Parish House every Monday morning, would be glad to tell you.

We want to express our thanks to these contributors to the work of the Benevolent Society: Mrs. James F. Armstrong, Mrs. Philip A. Arnold, Mrs. Craig Atmore, Hazel L. Bainbridge, Lillian Barlow, Rev. George R. Bishop, Mrs. James Brady, Belle Brown, Mrs. Evelyn Burkley, Lillian E. Butler, Olga B. Carlile, Miss Elsie Dahl, The Misses Daley.

TURN BACKWARD, O TIME!

Midnight, October 27th marks the end of Daylight Saving Time for the year 1956. Remember to set your clock Back One Hour!

UNITED THANK OFFERING

The U. T. O. will be presented in Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, on Thursday evening, Nov. 8th, so it is time for our women to prepare their individual offerings. You are asked to put the contents of your blue box in the special envelope, and bring it to Church on October 28th. All women of the Parish are asked to participate in the offering. Mrs. Wilson Leithead is Parish Custodian of the U. T. O.

We have a need for men's suits and overcoats to distribute to needy people who come to St. Stephen's Church for help, especially at this time of year. Please bring or send them to the Church office.

There is still need among the refugees and homeless in Korea, Germany, Austria, Japan, Italy and the Middle East, for clothing. World Community Day, November 2nd, has been appointed as the time for the annual clothing drive. Will you help relieve the wants and discomforts of those in need?

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel that they have been helped by our healing ministry:

Dr. Dr. Price:—Since your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for me, I have had more answers to problems and also have come to the root of my nervous tension that I have had for so many years. Following a tense family situation, after I had been using the prayers you sent me for about two weeks, I finally discovered the root of my trouble. I had been indulging in the destroying emotions of anger, resentment, impatience, fear and guilt for years. No wonder I haven't felt good. Actually, I felt I had a right to these emotions. I have decided to get rid of them by God's help. Thank you and your Prayer Helpers for all the wonderful and thrilling answers to problems.
R. B. (Pittsburgh)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in St. John's Church, Salem, N. J., on the evenings of Oct. 28th-31st, inclusive. The Episcopal Churches of Penns Grove, Churchtown, Bridgeton, Woodstown, Swedesboro and Salem are all co-operating in this Mission.

The Rector will speak to the students of the Episcopal Academy on October 30th, at 9 A.M.

1517 — REFORMATION DAY — 1956

On October 31st, 1517, a young Augustinian monk named Martin Luther posted on the doors of the castle Church in Wittenburg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgences by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as the Reformation. The anniversary of this event is observed among the Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon the fundamental Christian conviction. October 28th will be observed throughout the world as "Reformation Sunday." The Rector's Sermon is: "The Spiritual Roots Of The Reformation."

We want to thank the following for their Bulletin subscriptions: Anna Bondira, Rev. Geo. R. Bishop, Eva Hansen, Mrs. Charles R. Harvey, Mrs. Wm. P. Hudgins, Memorial subscription for Mrs. Charles Motter, Louis Stumpf, Louise F. Leupold.

Further "Thank You's" for contributions to the Benevolent Society: Mrs. Lillie V. Biddle, Mrs. Emma Davis, Mary Orme. Mrs. R. N. Fishburn, Mrs. Joan Frye, Clarence T. Garrett, Jr., Mrs. David L. WHAT'S MY SHARE?

As we begin looking toward Loyalty Sunday, November 18th, we are once more confronted with our Lord's challenge to recognize that "All things come of Thee, O Lord, and of Thine own have we given Thee." There is always a wide-spread desire on the part of Christians to do one's part, financially. Not many Church people are willing for someone else to pay for that which benefits them. It is therefore encouraging that the question is asked, "What is my share?" Church support depends, however, not so much on financial ability as on conviction and faith.

God's share is giving in relation to our incomes rather than in relation to a minimum Church Budget. It means placing our gifts to God at the top of our family budgets—above any of our other financial obligations.

What percentage shall I give? The Biblical tithe is 10 percent. The modern tither gives at least 5 percent of his net income to the Lord and 5 percent to secular needs (Red Cross, Boy Scouts, United Fund, etc.) The big thing to remember is that Tithing is a Spiritual Practice—an orderly method by which God's children in God's ordered universe express their gratitude to Him for all of His wonderful blessings.

Are Tithers different from other people? Yes, they are! So much so that they are a mystery to others who wonder materialistically, "How can people be happier with $9 than $10?" But Tithers have a peace of mind and serenity of soul that comes only to those who have shown their gratitude to Him in a continuing, living act of faith. Tithers are not religious fanatics. They are people like you and me from all classes and economic groups. But they are different, because their lives have been changed in a wonderful way, to the point where they are actually living the Prayer of Thanksgiving.

HOW SHALL I MAKE MY PLEDGE? In the privacy of your Church Pew—on Loyalty Sunday, November 18th—you will be given an opportunity to sign a pledge card for 1957.

No matter how hard you try, you cannot get ahead of God in giving. The more you give the more you receive in return (either spiritual or temporal)! God's arithmetic is this: $10 minus $1 equals $10 plus. In other words, nine-tenths with God goes much furthur than ten-tenths without God!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by persons who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—My good friend Maud E. visited with you this summer and as a result of your intercessions, Margaret has been completely healed of her allergies which were such a burden to her and her husband. And Elbert's cancer is being healed—the doctor believes his tumors are reducing in size. They have moved from Los Alamos and are starting on a new life of study for the ministry at Church Divinity School of the Pacific. (W. D. S.)

On Sunday, November 4th, at the 11 O'Clock Service, the Rector will dedicate 81 kneeling benches and twenty-one sanctuary cushions in memory of Miss Katharine Kennedy.

The Rector will preach in Nativity Cathedral, Bethlehem, on Wednesday, Nov. 7th at 7:45 P. M.

ALL SAINTS' DAY, 1956

We are placing the names of those having special claim upon us in St. Stephen's Church, who have passed into eternal life since last All Saints' Day. These are they whom we have in loving remembrance on Thursday, November 1st and Sunday, November 4th:

Grace I. Gosselin, Sophie Vollneiler, Thomas W. Barr, Albert O. Hamilton, Samuel J. Hanna, Harry Winterbottom, Katharine Kennedy, Mary L. Bary, Robert A. Trautner, Salie F. Wiseman, Margaret L. Gill, Elizabeth G. Christie, Carrie Powers, Helen W. Henderson, Mary Jane Reyelt, Robert Campbell, Marion Headman, Alfred Miller, Agnes J. Pearsall, Charlotte M. Jones, Dr. Evelyn A. Rider, Grace A. Garrett, Lillian M. Kutzer, Sarah J. O'Donnell, Gladys Cowperthwaite.

BOOK OF THE MONTH for November is a collection of eight of the shorter books of the Bible—Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah and Malichi. A copy of this collection will be given to everyone who attends the Sunday service on November 4th. This will be the 24th Book.

Anthem: Deliver Me, O Lord ..... Faure

Deliver me, O Lord, deliver me from death eternal, upon that day of terror, that day of trial: then shall heaven and earth be moved, be consumed together, for Thou shalt come upon the earth in judgement. Trembling I stand before Thee, and wait in fear till judgement shall come upon the earth, and men shall know Thine anger. Day of wrath and doom impending! Death then is struck and all creation wakes; Day of wrath and day of sorrow! Great the waking, exceeding bitter. Rest eternal grant them; Lord let light perpetual shine upon them, O Lord.

WHAT TO DO WITH THINGS

Robert Frost has a poem about a boy who went to the Zoo with a burning-glass in his pocket. When he came to the monkeys, it occurred to him that it would be fun to stir them up; so he whipped out his burning-glass and held it so that "he made the sun a pin point on the nose of the first one, and then the other, until it brought a look of puzzled dimness to their eyes." But the youngster was not as smart as he thought he was, for "there was a sudden flash of arm, a snatch, and the glass was the monkey's, not the boy's." They retired back-cage, "and instituted an investigation . . . though without the required insight. They bit the glass . . . they broke the handle and the binding off it, and, none the wiser, frankly gave it up . . . and hid it in their bedding straw . . . It's knowing what to do with things that counts."

Most of the world's woes are due to not knowing what to do with things. Money, for instance. Thoughtful, right-minded people agree that the first and simplest God-given use of money is to care for the needs of a family. Yet hosts of people pour millions of dollars in the race-track windows—like the young man I met one Saturday night, who had started for home with his pay check and two shopping bags, to buy Sunday dinner for his family. But he had gone to the dog races instead, and was now going home with empty wallet and empty shopping bags. "It's knowing what to do with things that counts."

Many non-Christians are asking, "What is the Christian religion for? What do you do with it?" When the disciples asked Jesus a question like that, He answered, "Ye are the salt of the earth." In other words, by trusting God, and obeying His loving will, you become easier to live with. Your faith makes your life into the salt of the earth, giving the flavor of living back to people for whom life has grown dull and dreary. Your faith can restore courage to frightened people, and make life taste good to them again. Your Sunday worship, right now, can settle a deep peace in your heart which you can pass on to vexed, hurrying, straining human beings.

A well known preacher dashed off the train as it pulled into the Grand Central Station and luckily secured a red cap porter right away. He had two very heavy bags. "Please bring them quickly," he snapped, "I'm in a terrible hurry"; and he dashed ahead up the platform. Looking back, he saw the red cap trudging along with the heavy truck, and shouted, "Come on—I'm late!" The patient porter looked at the impatient preacher, and said, "Where you steaming for, brother? That ain't no way to make time. Just walk on ahead and I'll come right along, and there won't be two minutes between us." The Parson slowed down and walked beside the porter, who turned on one of those big smiles with which negro men are blessed, and said, "I's livin' de relaxed life. Take it easy, boss. You can do a lot in a short time if you just go along easy with it. Besides, you'll live longer." "Thanks, my friend," the preacher said, rather humbly, "I happen to be a minister, and will preach this to my congregation. Do you go to Church?" "Yes, indeed, sah, I sure does." (And here he finished the preacher completely!) "And I tries to practice what I hears there." It's knowing what to do with things that counts!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Some time ago I wrote to you with regard to my Dad's illness—cancer of the mouth, and asked that you and your Prayer Fellowship help him to get through the necessary X-ray treatments which we hoped would arrest the disease.

A real miracle has happened—following 10 treatments, a cure has been effected. A second specialist checked him yesterday, and can find no trace of the cancer.

I want to tell you how deeply we both appreciate the help we received through your prayers. Even had it not been God's will that my Dad should be cured of the cancer, we would have benefitted immeasurably just from knowing that prayers were being offered for him. When an answer to prayers, such as the one we have received, results—there are just no words to express our thankfulness. L. S. (Greensburg, Pa.)

The Rector will speak in St. Augustine's Church, Camden, on Nov. 15th, at 8 P.M.

PLEDGE DAY

Advanced notice is given of our Annual Service on Sunday, Nov. 18th at 11 A. M. called "Loyalty Sunday," or "Pledge Sunday," when we drop our Pledge Cards into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated to the work of the Episcopal Church at home and abroad. This year we have asked some thirty men to either phone, write or call upon the members of our Church families to urge them to attend this service to hear the Rector's Sermon and to participate in this meaningful service. Let nothing hinder your family from being represented at this service!

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 18th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by pledges, the members of St. Stephen's parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1957. All the members of the parish are requested to make their pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Members of our men's Committee will distribute the Pledge Cards following the Rector's Sermon, and each person will drop his Card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

The Rector, and Canvass Chairman, Wilson Leithead, have issued a call for 100% turnout of St. Stephen's members on Loyalty Sunday. By phone, by personal visit, and by every means available, all members of the parish have been invited and urged to attend for the annual re-dedication and pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's parish and every member of it.

YOUR PLEDGE IS A RELIGIOUS ACT

Our Lord talked about money because it is important. Nothing reveals the state of your soul more clearly and more accurately than your attitude toward your possessions.

Your money is, in a very real way, yourself. Let me put it this way—If you earn $10 a day—a $10 bill is a day of your life, much more than just symbolically. It represents a day of your skill, intelligence, energy, a day of YOU . . . Put it in a slot machine—the day is wasted. Lay it on the Altar—it is your offer of a day of yourself to God.

OPPORTUNITIES UNLIMITED

Opportunities for growth in number; in service; in spirit . . . are unlimited in the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania. Your gifts make the difference between stagnation and expansion; between standing still and going places. New congregations are being added to the Diocese every year.

From all over the Diocese comes word of tremendous population increase and the construction of thousands of new homes. To meet the growing need of a growing area, the Church must move with the population. GIVING TO MISSIONS MAKES THIS POSSIBLE.

A parishioner who wishes to remain anonymous is repairing the broken backs of a goodly number of our Church Hymnals and Prayer Books. Our sincere thanks to this thoughtful person.

The "Presbyterian Life" which has the largest circulation of any religious magazine, carried an article about our Healing Ministry in the October issue called "The Light That Heals."

"Thank you" for Bulletin subscription: Miss M. Louise Seltzer.

And these additional "Thank You" notes for Benevolent Society support: Emma S. Bolay, C. E. Campbell, M. Keller, Mrs. E. Rice, Mrs. Anthony Rinkers, Wm. H. Ruhl, Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, Mrs. Walter B. Walker.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Thank you very much for remembering us in the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship. There is absolutely no doubt in my mind about your prayers having helped. Things have happened in our home which we never anticipated or even thought of—things which have brought over-all improvement in our condition. May God bless you in your unselfish mission. R.G.S. (Minnesota)

Don Cook, Chief of the N. Y. Herald Tribune London Bureau, son of Mrs. Nelle Cook (Thursday Book Table Lady) is this year's recipient of the William the Silent Award, which consists of a gold medal and $1,500.00. Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands made the presentation.

THANKSGIVING DAY

The Harvest Festival Service will be held as usual on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 22nd, at 11 A. M., when our offering will be given, as for many years past, to the Episcopal Hospital.

Dial EVergreen 6-3339 for a daily meditation and prayer.

CROSSROADS

On Friday, November 30th, at 8:30 P. M., E.S.T., the American Broadcasting network will portray the Rector in a drama in the "Crossroads" television series, entitled "God's Healing."

PRESIDENT'S DOCTOR QUOTES BIBLE

According to United Press, Dr. Paul D. White, consultant to President Eisenhower, said God may have given Moses a clue on how to avoid heart disease.

This heart specialist said: "It is conceivable that a few years from now we medical men may repeat to the citizens of the U.S.A. the advice that Moses was asked by God to present to the children of Israel, 3,000 years ago."

The advice to which the doctor referred is contained in Leviticus 7:23 and 24: "Ye shall eat no manner of fat, of ox or of sheep or of goat. And the fat of the beast that dieth of itself, and the fat of that which is torn with beasts, may be used in any other use; but ye shall in no wise eat of it."

He said scientists differ on the role of fatty diets and "we must be sure of our grounds" before repeating the advice. For example, he said, rest and relaxation might be even more important.

Religious habits of earlier days, calling for periods of meditation and fasting, "may well have helped" keep blood pressure down, he said.

Since the mind plays such an important and vital part in a person's life, we should like to say that however important diet is, there is an even more important piece of advice which the Prophet Isaiah gave.

Speaking to the Lord, he said: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on Thee; because he trusteth in Thee." (Isaiah 26:3)

Trusting in the Savior, Who died for our sins and rose for our justification, takes care of the sin question. Confiding in Him and casting all care upon Him relieves one of all worries. Knowing He will be with one in the valley of the shadow of death, delivers from all slavish fear. Knowing one shall be with, and like Him, hereafter, settles the eternal question. "A mind at perfect peace with God, Oh! what a word is this!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—July 22nd was a day I will long remember—I visited St. Stephen's eleven o'clock service with my son who has been on your prayer list for the past month—suffering from cancer. Meeting you personally was indeed a privilege and the laying-on-of-hands healing service meant more to us both than I can ever express. This was the longest trip Bob has been able to take in six months—but your memorable sermon, and the relaxing mood you bring your members to feel, makes you feel closer to God than I've ever experienced in my entire life. God's Presence enveloped and took over our entire being—we could feel His healing power working within ourselves—an experience that one could not possibly feel except with a person like yourself—dedicated and devoted to your ministry. Such eloquent phrases with such sincerity—and to see the people flock to the Altar desiring help and strength from our heavenly Father. I shall never forget this sight nor be able to retell the inner calm that came over me. I felt that God had called us to go to Philadelphia yesterday—having been reading your helpful booklets this past month. Nothing can ever erase the memories of this inspiring trip. Thank you from the bottom of my heart, and for our son, Bob. E. O. J. (New Jersey)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in Trinity Cathedral, Newark, N. J., November 25th to 28th, inclusive. He will preach Sunday and Wednesday evenings and at noondays. He will preach in Short Hills, N. J., and Jersey City on Monday and Tuesday evenings, respectively.

The Rector will speak to the Annual Diocesan Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew on Thursday evening, November 29th, at St. Augustine's Church, 27th and Girard Avenue.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

EPISCOPAL CHURCH FLAG

On Sunday, December 2nd, at the 11 o'clock Service, the Rector will dedicate a new Church Flag, presented by Mrs. Emma Johnson and Miss Kathryne Johnson, mother and sister, in memory of Walter E. Johnson.

Many have asked the meaning and symbolism of the Episcopal Church Flag. We give the official explanation by the Church's Commission on Flag and Seal.

A red cross on a white field is the cross of St. George and indicates our descent from the Church of England.

The Saint Andrew's Cross in outline in the canton recalls our indebtedness to the Scottish Church in connection with the consecration of our first Bishop. Bishop Seabury was consecrated at Alberdeen November 14, 1784.

The nine cross crosslets symbolize the nine original dioceses which adopted the Constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

The colors, red, white and blue, obviously represent our country and stand for the American branch of the Anglican Communion.

RICH ENOUGH FOR CHRISTMAS?

Christmas is only four weeks away now—that great Day when God slipped into our world in the form of the Human Jesus. Ever since that First Christmas Day, wherever God slips in, the darkness retreats, and there is love and peace. Right now so many people are figuring whether they have enough money saved up for Christmas. Lists are being made, lovingly and with a touch of anxiety—will I have enough to get the presents that will express my love? Am I rich enough for Christmas?

Our peril in America is that we shall forget what true riches are. We are so apt to think in terms of "bought" gifts, of so many dollars put down on the counter. We forget that love cannot be bought and delivered. You can quicken your preparation for Christmas by re-reading O. Henry's unforgetable story, "The Gifts of the Magi" —one of the young men and the young woman who were very much in love. She had beautiful hair, and he knew that she longed for a certain costly hair-comb exhibited in a certain store window, which would look stunning in that lovely hair! She knew how he prized his heavy gold watch chain, and had dreamed of attaching to it a certain handsome pendant he had seen and admired. So, secretly, each scrimped and saved, out of their slender funds. And Christmas sped closer and closer—and neither had enough to buy the cherished gift. So, on Christmas Eve, he pawned his watch chain, and bought the wondrous hair-comb. And, that same evening, she had her hair cut off, and sold it, to buy the gleaming pendant. And then they faced each other—she with her shorn head, and he with his chain-less watch! At first they were horrified; but then, little by little, it began to dawn on them that each had received the costliest gift that can be given, the gift of a love that sacrifices gladly, without stint, for the beloved one! Those nigh-penniless ones were rich enough for Christmas!

If you are willing to stop, and be thoughtful, and say your prayers, you can find some costly gifts that someone deeply needs of you—a forgiving letter to someone who hurt you sorely long ago, and against whom you hardened your heart; a warm invitation to a lonely little old lady (who may be rather a bother!) to share the cheer of your Christmas Dinner; the gift of some prized book or picture of your own that someone admired once (and you said to yourself, "I can't part with that"); a knitted scarf for someone who will have few presents, or making those shelves for your wife which you have been postponing so long. You make your own list—and, in the name of the Christ Child, dare to get a bit reckless in your love!

Are you rich enough for Christmas? Tonight pray deeply to the Father of the Bethlehem Babe—and ask Him to cleanse your heart of clogging selfishness, and to fill it with the abundance of His love! Let Him into your Christmas preparations now—and then, my friend, you will be rich enough for Christmas!

CROSSROADS

The Rector will be presented with the "Crossroads" Award on "Movie Time, U.S.A." television program, Friday afternoon, November 30th,, commending him for his work in helping others in their hour of need.

Vincent Price, the distinguished actor, will portray the Rector in a drama in the "Crossroads" television Series, November 30th, at 8:30 P. M. on Channel 6 ,entitled "God's Healing." This true-life drama tells of the healing of a young wife at childbirth by a reconciliation with her estranged mother. Miss Frieda Inescort, a veteran actress, plays the neurotic and semi-invalid mother who had opposed the marriage of her daughter, Marcia Henderson, to a college student of little means. The story centers on the regeneration of the embittered mother, beset by imaginary ills.

Mr. Charles V. Kershaw, a valued member of St. Stephen's, appeared in Carnegie Hall, New York, on November 18th, where he presented a recital of his unique Bell Ringing skill.

The Rector will conduct a two-hour seminar on the subject of Spiritual Therapy at Temple Theological School on December 3rd from 11 A. M. to 1 P. M.

The Rector will conduct the short program—"Guideposts"—over T.V. Channel 6, December 3rd, 4th and 5th, at 8:55 A. M.

BOOK OF THE MONTH for December is the Book of the Prophet Jeremiah. A copy of this Book will be given to everyone who attends the Sunday service on December 2nd. This will be the 25th Book.

MOTHERS' MEETING ANNUAL BAZAAR

To be held on Thursday, December 6, 1956, in the Community House. A lunch "snack" will be available from 11:30 A. M. to 6:30 P. M. Come to find some useful article, to enjoy good fellowship, and to help a worthy work.

CHRISTMAS DINNERS

Each year St. Stephen's Church donates baskets or the equivalent to those who are unable to give their families the fullness of Christmas cheer with which others are blessed. Will you help with your generosity? Please use the special Christmas Dinner Envelope.

The Rector dedicated an Altar Prayer Box on Thursday, November 15th—presented by Mrs. Nelle Cook. This Box contains the names of those for whom prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship, twenty-four hours a day. During the past ten months, 6,000 have been remembered in this daily chain of prayers for an average of four weeks for each person.

Mr. Leonard L. Eyster, a valued member of our Prayer Fellowship, has a five-page article, "Candle In The Wind," in the Advent number of "Forward Day By Day."

Our "Thank you" to these contributors to the Benevolent Society: Mrs. David S. Gamble, Madeline Magee, Mrs. Helen LeDent, Mrs. H. F. Sachsenmaier, William Wilkie, E. L. Wenrich.

And to these folks for their Bulletin subscriptions: Jean C. Allen, The Rev. Mr. Evans, Mary McEwen, Mrs. David S. Gamble, Mrs. Charlotte Paist, Mary H. N. Schaefer, Mrs. Edward J. Cooke.

A STAR IN THE WINDOW

Christmas cannot be celebrated in a single day. No, we must begin long before December the 25th, so that when it comes suddenly upon us, we shall not be found wondering, "Why don't I have the Spirit of Christmas in my heart?"

So often the deep and shining meaning of Christmas gets smothered under a multitude of things—to—be—done; of frantic and irritated haste, like a long line of automobiles, headed homeward on a hot summer Sunday afternoon, with radiators and tempers boiling over. But those who begin their celebration of Christmas far ahead, come to it with peace and quiet joy in their hearts. Their feet may have moved swiftly in the days of preparation, but it was the swiftness of those who know what they are doing, and where they are going; who speed forward with a clear and simple purpose.

Take time to see, in your heart of hearts, what Christmas means. Stop and be quiet, and you may grasp why a whole wide world is aware of One Person's Birthday. Dr. Horner of Providence tells a story of a father and son during World War II. They were walking down a village street, looking at the stars in the windows of the homes from which men had gone to serve this country, from Iceland to Australia. There was a star in the window of almost every home. The boy was impressed as his father told him of the meaning of the stars, each one representing a son given from the home. As they walked along in the deepening twilight, Venus, the evening star, shone in the West and glowed all alone in the evening sky. It was so bright that when the boy looked up, it held his attention. Suddenly he turned to his father and said, "There's a star in God's window, too, isn't there, Daddy? Did God give His Son?" Yes, God gave His Son because He loved the world—that the world might see in Jesus Christ the face of Almighty God!

And that my friend, is the meaning of Christmas! That is the holy Fact that lies back of all the Christmas festivities, all the happy gatherings-in-of-families, all the hosts of people kneeling at prayer and Sacrament. God gave His Son to us, that we might see Him face to face. Let that holy Fact sink deep into your heart, that it may glow there, and light all your Christmas preparing. Go about your Christmas tasks, joyous just because God gave His Son who wonderfully lives on in our hearts. Have the grace to be thankful that God still hangs a star in the window of the night!

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Parish Custodian of the United Thank Offering, reports that 75 women of St. Stephen's contributed $271.10 to the Fall Ingathering of the U. T. O.

The Cosmopolitan Magazine for December carries a four page article "The New Attitude Toward Faith Healing." It is illustrated by two pictures of St. Stephen's Church showing the Rector administering the laying-on-of-hands at the Altar Rail, and a picture of the exterior of the church. The work of St. Stephen's Healing Ministry is described as well as that of other Protestant Churches throughout the country.

The Rector will preach in St. James Church, Kingsessing, Sunday at 8 P. M., and he will speak to the students of the U. of P. on Friday, December 14th at 1:15 P. M., in the Christian Association Hall.

Just a few "thank you" notes: For support of the Benevolent Society, Willard J. Ferris. And for Bulletin Subscriptions: Miss Marguerite Caldwell, Mrs. Cora M. Cooke, Clarence Garrett, Elizabeth Corrigan, Mildred W. Leach.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—
Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks for your literature. This is indeed what I have been searching for! It has been most helpful in all areas—not just in seeking health. The ulcers are healed and I have been on "table" food over a week. It is almost beyond my fondest hopes when I wrote you a month ago. And yet it has happened, and I look forward to yet increased health and creativity as I explore more fully the ways of prayer. Please remember me in your prayers of Thanksgiving. Your Prayer Fellowship is strong—results came immediately, though not as I had expected, but with greater insight into what causes the ulcers and how to deal with that. Thank you all, and thank God. E. R. S. (Michigan)

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE GENTLE HOUSE

These words of Josephine Bacon's have been singing in my thoughts:

"Remember,
This December,
That love weighs more than gold."

As I think of you all, I see homes where there will be true Christmas. I think of one household where sickness and poverty and hardship have been frequent visitors for years; but the children have grown up confident and happy because their mother has surrounded them with courageous love, even when the kitchen shelves were emptiest, and the outlook the blackest. Because she has stubbornly, faithfully kept room for Love-Incarnate in that household, her children have brave and confident spirits.

I've just finished a wondrous tale, "The Gentle House"—the story of a middle-aged-school teacher who took into her home an 11-year old boy from Latvia. She found that he was filled with terrors and nightmares from the years when he lived in an ever-bombed country, and, afterwards, in the horrors of a refugee camp. His wild fears made him unmanagable at times, with tantrums which would last for six or seven hours of shreiking and yelling. But she stalwartly believed that God is stronger than evil, and that love is stronger than fear. So she kept on loving him, even though the love sometimes had to be administered with a broom-stick. Little by little "Tinchy" discovered that, no matter what he did, he was still loved, still cherished. This he found hard to resist. He knew how to fight back against hate; but fighting against love he found increasingly difficult. Little by little he gave up biting when he was angry; gave up his wild tantrums; became confident, even gay. After all, God accomplishes His greatest miracles through the ministry of love. So a day came when Tinchy gathered courage to go out to camp with his scout troop for the week-end. Timid at first, he went ahead and packed his duffle bag, and soon was ready. As he stepped out on the porch, he paused, put out his hand, and patted the porch railing. Then he spoke, thoughtfully:

"Good-bye, House, my dear, dear House;
You are my home.
Try to be here when I get back.
You are a gentle House."

"What is a gentle house?" The teacher asked. Tinchy was indignant. "How is this, you do not understand? A gentle house is a place where people are kind. You understand 'kind?'" "Yes," she said, "I understand 'kind.'" 'Unt," he continued, "It is a place where you feel so safe."

The safest people in the world are those who have been possessed by the God Who is Love. In all your Christmas preparations, watch vigilantly for your chances to surround others with that Love that came to earth at Bethlehem. In our troubled world, He alone can make them feel safe!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:—
Dear Dr. Price:—My mother writes me every week and continues to make wonderful strides towards less pain, more freedom of movement, greater peace of mind, and so on. She is sharing your writings and thoughts with others who are aging and in pain or sorrow. I cannot thank you enough for the new outlook that you have given us, for I include myself in your sphere of influence. I have not read all of your literature as yet, but I do like the spiritual setting-up exercises. The skeptic would say that I am talking myself into believing things, but once one starts to say those statements about the Presence of Christ, one literally feels Him to be near. I am a scientist, but I know that many things we cannot prove, and I just believe because of what I am learning about Christ and man's relationship to his Maker.
G. K. P. (State College, Mississippi)

Mr. Charles K. Hay, a valued member of St. Stephen's Vestry, has been promoted to principal of John Bartram High School. Congratulations!

The Rector has just learned the good news that Bishop D. Dibelius, the highest Bishop in Germany, has become the Episcopal Warden of the Order of St. Luke The Physician in Germany. This means the highest possible acknowledgement for our work, and a great help for practical progress. The Rector met Bishop Dibelius while he was in Germany in 1954. The Bishop resides in East Berlin where he has met the vicious antagonism of the Communists with high Christian courage and statesmanship.

Christmas Music Service for the Chapel for Hard of Hearing

THE MIGHTIEST EVENT

As Christmas dawns, all that matters is the direction in which we are faced. Are we absorbed in carrying out all of our last-minute schemes and plans? Or are we turned toward the Manger, determined to see Him, and bow before His purity and Love? Which is more important, the small ideas we have hatched, or the mighty Act of God's coming among men? For at Bethlehem there took place the Mightiest Event of all time. As Houseman wrote:

O, harken, for this is wonder:
Light looked down and beheld darkness.
"Thither will I go," said Light.
Peace looked down and beheld war.
"Thither will I go," said peace.
Love looked down and beheld hatred.
"Thither will I go," said Love.
So came Light, and Shone.
So came peace and gave rest.
So came Love, and brought Life.
And the Word was made flesh and dwelt among us.

This first happened in a sleeping town, long years ago. But this mightiest Act of history still happens today. It happens wherever a humble heart is ready to let Him in as Friend and Teacher, and King. God is born—small and weak at first, but growing stronger each day, wherever souls stop fleeing from Him, and turn into their Bethlehem to welcome His new birth in them. Take time to stop and pray. There may be something in your heart that stands against Him, coming; and keeps Him out. Then pray it out of your heart, and clear the way for His coming this Day. Then He can come to you, and light up your whole life with the glow of His Grace and Loving Kindness. As Vachel Lindsay said,

"Except the Christ be born again tonight
In dreams of all men, saints and sons of shame,
The world will never see His Kingdom bright.
Star of all hearts, lead onward through the night,
Past death-black deserts, doubts without a name,
Past hills of pain and mountains of new sin,
To that far sky where mystic births begin,
Where dreaming ears the Angel-song shall win.
Our Christmas shall be rare at dawning there,
And each shall find his brother fair,
Like a little Child within:
All hearts of earth shall find new birth,
And wake no more to sin."

A shning and glorious Christmas to you!

The Rector appeared on "This Wonderful Town" program over W C A U on December 11th, at 11:10 P. M., where he was interviewed by Ralph Collier in a half hour radio program.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—It has been a month since I wrote asking for prayers for my husband. To date he has had about 25 deep x-ray treatments. A few days ago he was examined by the throat specialist. He found that over 50% of the cancer was healed. The doctors were more surprised than we were. I want you to know that what you good people are doing in your Church is really wonderful. When I wrote you I was full of despair, for the doctors painted a very black picture. Everyone else said, "You must accept God's will." Now I feel that it is not God's will that my husband should die. We both feel as though we have been lifted up, and are so thankful for the prayers and the healing literature. E. B. (Norristown)

CONFIRMATION CLASSES FOR INQUIRERS

When did the Episcopal Church come to our country? Did Henry VIII really found the Episcopal Church? What does the Church teach regarding "Confession," "Repentance," "Forgiveness?" Where did our Prayer Book come from? How can we participate better in the services of the Church? These, and many other questions will be answered at the Confirmation Instruction Lectures for children and adults, which will begin Sunday morning, January 6th, in the Rector's study, at 10 A. M. The class will be held each Sunday until February 17th, when the Bishop will confirm those desiring Confirmation, which is entrance into the full fellowship of our Church.

DO YOU WANT TO BE FRIENDLY IN CHURCH?

Here are some suggestions as found in another parish Bulletin:

1. Don't sit alone. Take a seat next to someone else. If you don't know him or her, make it a point to get acquainted after the service.
2. As you leave the Church speak to everyone whose eyes happen to meet yours.
3. When you meet new members of the parish tell them about your favorite organizations and ask them to go to the next meeting with you. Then take them.
4. If you must be the first person to take an empty pew, sit near the center so someone else will be encouraged to sit with you.

WHEN DID YOU LAST GO TO CHURCH?

Many of our people could answer with satisfaction, "Last Sunday." It is easy to get into the habit of thinking, "O, I guess I won't go today; I'll go next Sunday." Before one knows it, many Sundays have gone by. It looks as if quite a number of our people have the habit. If you are one, let me say that we miss you, and I am sure that God does, too.

Our "Thank you" to these helpers: For contribution to the work of the Benevolent Society, Betty Elder. For Subscription to the Parish Bulletin: Louise Wilder Braun, Miss Elsie M. Harvey, George A. McHenna.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—How I wish I could clasp your hand and tell you in person how grateful I am for your prayers and those of your Prayer Fellowship, for G. B. and her family. A letter from her home today tells me she has been at home a week and is better than for the past six years, when she was first taken ill. She is to be discharged this week from the hospital. Could any news be better than to know all the frustration and bitterness has been overcome. A. M. G. (Penny Farms, Florida)

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks for the very helpful literature you sent me. I am studying it very carefully and very prayerfully, and co-operating in every way I can with your wonderful Prayer Fellowship. I truly feel stronger; the terrible fear that I suffered seems to be gone; my mind is more at peace, and I have more confidence in myself. Also, I have been sleeping more naturally without the aid of sleeping pills. I count it such a blessing! One thing that seems so wonderful and impresses me so much is that so many good people in the Prayer Fellowship who do not know me or have never seen me, care enough to offer prayers in my behalf.
G. O. S.)East Aurra, N. Y.)

PRAYER FELLOWSHIP REPORT

We have finished another year in our Ministry of Healing in St. Stephen's Church. Devoting at least a half hour each day to pray for a long list of people may not seem a great thing for an intercessor to do, but it is quite often just the link needed for God's power to reach the one in need. We remember, with deep gratitude, that it is just the daily acts of prayer of each of our ninety intercessors, which has made the work of the Prayer Healing Fellowship as a whole possible. They have shared with us at St. Stephen's the great burden of the need of those who write to us for prayer.

The number of our regular Prayer Fellowship intercessors has reached 90, and we now have a daily chain of prayers around the clock. We have each of the 24 hours taken three times over by our 90 members. Each intercessor is disciplined to give a fixed hour each day for his prayer activity. Each needy individual is lifted up in prayer to God 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. The patient is requested to keep us informed of progress. Chronic cases can be renewed for longer periods of prayer.

During the past year 7,704 persons requested our prayers. This means that 7,704 people were remembered 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks by our 90 prayer helpers.

We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing co-operation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Has all the prayer, faith and devotion of intercessors and friends been worth while? No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported at the monthly meeting of the Prayer Fellowship and in the weekly report to the members all progress and cures are recorded. There is no limit to what God can do through prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidence of His love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . For, where two or three are gathered, in My name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of Prayer can never be overestimated.

The Rector will address the Winter Retreat of the Presbyterian ministers of the Northern part of New Jersey on January 7th, held in Westfield, N. J.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D. C., January 6th, at 7:30 P. M.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Those attending the service on January 6th will receive a booklet containing the Gospel of Mark. We are attempting to read together, month by month, the various Books of the Bible. This will be the 26th Book.

A note of appreciation to Miss Edele M. Lewis and Mrs. Laura Mae Renne for their subscriptions to the weekly Bulletin.

RADIANT THANKFULNESS

All through the early Chapters of St. Luke's Gospel you catch the note of Radiant Thankfulness. Mary lifts up her voice in swelling gratitude to God as she learns that Jesus will be her first born. Zackarias, John the Baptist's father, sings his praises over the child who was to prepare the way for Jesus. Old Simeon, who had waited and dreamed, expecting his dream to come true, took the small Jesus in his arms, and praised God for the coming of this lighted life. And Anna, the prophetess, joined in the chorus of joyful thanks. Their hearts were glad, for they knew that they could go forward with God nearer than ever before; with God as close to them as human flesh: God, speaking through the Life they could see and hear and follow.

We are now in the Epiphany Season, when we remember the shining out of God among men in the Life of Jesus Christ. It is the Season when we celebrate the "showing forth" of God's nature in visible human flesh: when we welcome the mighty truth that God is like Jesus; the Lord of the universe is like the Carpenter of Nazareth; that the Eternal Father is like the Friend of Sinners, the Healer of sick people, the Patient Master of stumbling disciples, the Compassionate One on the Cross of Calvary. Think of it—God is like that!

In all our muddled, fearful world, there is but one chance of our going forward in 1957 with joy and confidence—because our faith is grounded in the Incarnation. Because of His coming to us, we know that God wants to be as close to us as we will let Him. He alone, touching our feeble wills, our feverish dreams, can make us whole and strong. He alone, looking confidently into our eyes, can transform our fears into courage and confidence. He alone, gathering Russia and China and India and Egypt and England and our United States all within the compass of His Love, can make us believe that the world CAN become the neighborhood He planned it to be. He is the one Ground for firm, unyielding hope. As Studdert Kennedy wrote:

"Because in tender majesty, Thou camest to earth, nor stayed till we, poor sinners, stumbled up to Thee, I thank my God.

"Because the Saviour of us all lay with the cattle in the stall; Because the Great comes to the small, I thank my God.

"Because upon a mother's breast The Lord of Life was laid to rest, And was of babes the loveliest, I thank my God.

"Because the Eternal Infinite was once that naked little mite; Because, O Love, of Christmas night, I thank my God."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—A few months ago I wrote asking you and the Prayer Fellowship to pray for my brother who was in a mental hospital for the past ten years. Since your prayers began he has been healed and has been allowed to come home. He is now working and looking after his family. I pray that he may never need to enter a mental hospital again. F. P. (Ohio)

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 647 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-eight states, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It costs $33.94 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year at a total cost of $1,493.36. Last year we received $579.74 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family wuld give $2.00 per year the cost would be met. Of course a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

Instruction class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10 A. M. The Rector would appreciate hearing from adults who would like, or think they would like, to be confirmed. Attendance at the classes does not obligate one to be confirmed. The decision may be made later.

FACT, FAITH AND FEELING

A great evangelist once said that there are three chief points in becoming a Christian—fact, faith and feeling. The wise men had these.

In the first place, the Wise Men followed a fact, the great white Star that led them to the manger. Their long trek was no affair of foolish fancy; they were guided by a shining fact. So a resolute Christian must be guided by the facts of Christ's life and teachings, by His wondrous birth and death, and His still more wondrous living; by His clear words of truth which show the way to the simplest human who is willing to be shown. Faithful disciples are forever going back to their New Testaments for a fuller knowledge of the facts of the Master's life, for a deeper understanding of what He would have them learn. Their footing is firmly in facts.

In the second place, the Wise Men had faith—for though the Star shone bright, it took faith to believe that it would lead them to the manger. It takes faith to set out on any arduous journey with confidence, for cynics sneer about the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow—which no one has ever dug up. It takes faith to start your day tomorrow, expecting that by nightfall you will have done what God wanted of you, and found peace of mind before you sleep. But Christian men and women, through glad experience, have always found their faith justified. Trusting God always works out in the long run. On it a star is always the manger—God, among men to guide them.

Finally, the Wise Men "went back another way." Kneeling before God's infant Son, their hearts went out to Him in love and loyalty— they were moved to do something about that loyalty. Instead of betraying Him to Herod, they by-passed the jealous monarch, and sped homeward to tell their people about the King they had found in Bethlehem. That is the last and most necessary step in becoming a Christian. It is not Christian to go to Church and get all stirred up with noble feelings, and then go home and do nothing about it. It is Christian only when our feelings, our love of God, is so strong and so sincere that we put it to work, like steam under a boiler. As St. James wisely pointed out, "Faith without works is dead."

Towering over all the wrecks of time is the Cross. It is the Sign of One who walked ahead of us, our Elder Brother, teaching us a faith that rests in facts, trust God like a child, and believes in action. It is the Sign of One who, confronted by men's indifference to God, did something they could not forget—died for them to draw them home to God!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Ministry of Healing.

Dear Dr. Price:— I am moved at this time to write to you with praise and thanksgiving for the most wonderful results which have been manifested in an answer to your help through prayer. Back in July, 1956 I wrote you requesting the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship for R. U., who needed help at that time, in thowing off the habit of drunkenness, and getting his life turned about. The first few weeks after writing you it seemed like everything went from bad to worse, but I kept believing and praying with you that his affairs would still turn out for the best. What was thought to be an unfortunate marriage has turned out well. He has stopped drinking, and his general health is better. He has gained weight and seems like a different person. I can't tell you how inspiring it has been to see this great healing take place.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

We are enclosing some literature describing the high degree of co-operative services and programs now being carried on by the Philadelphia Council of Churches.

Here at St. Stephen's we are seeking to enlist 10 percent of the membership as individual contributors to the Council of Churches. Your contribution in the special envelope will aid in this great Protestant Co-operative Program.

The Rector will preach in St. Stephen's Church, Wissahickon, at 4 P. M. on Sunday, January 20th.

The Rector will speak to an Interdenominational Prayer Group in Wilmington, Delaware, on Monday, January 21st.

THERE ARE TWO WAYS to become a member of this Parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of this Parish by asking the Rector of the Church where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of instruction are held at 10 A. M. Sundays in the Rector's study.

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 133 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe."Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Almost a year ago when I was suffering from insomnia and nervous exhaustion, my wife and I came to you for help. You prayed with us and then explained the basis of my trouble and gave me a definite plan to follow for relief and recovery. We left your Church much encouraged. I am grateful to be able to report to you that I am now enjoying very good health and am able to work effectively and am really enjoying life. Insomnia is no longer a problem. Also, my wife is happier and healthier than she has been for many years. We both believe you have done us more good than any of a number of neurologists we have consulted. Thank you for your help. J. T. (Haddonfield, N. J.

The total attendance at our Sunday Services during 1956 amounted to 17,743. Our Weekday attendance amounted to 22,860. 40,603 attended the worship services at St. Stephen's Church in 1956. This is an increase over the previous year.

USE WHAT YOU HAVE

We like to think that men are "born equal"; but they are not. Rather, they come into the world with widely differing capacities. I believe that Jesus was thinking about this when He told the parable of the talents. Three men were entrusted with treasures of different value; but what the Giver was interested in was what they did with their treasure. Jesus was saying: "It is not so much how much talent a man has, but what he does with it, that matters to God."

As one writer has pointed out, perhaps you feel that God only gave you one talent; and that there is not much you can accomplish with it. No matter what you think you lack, take what you have, and use it! Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday we celebrate this month, was poor and ignorant, living in a log cabin, and reading the few books he could get his hands on by the light of the fire on the hearth. He may well have thought that he was not endowed with great talents or promising opportunity—but he used what he had. Martin Luther, a miner's son, and John Bunyan, a tinker, might easily have said to themselves, "because I am ignorant, I will remain ignorant; because I am nobody, I will remain nobody; because the world has dealt meagerly with me, it must expect little from me in return." But they were stout-hearted men, with a strong belief that God had something for them to do in the world; so they used their God-given abilities; and they accomplished great things for Him. They lived strenuous lives, full of usefulness and tremendous work, shot through with that deep happiness which is indeed "the peace of God."

Some of you may be startled to be told that your life can be like theirs—with the deep happiness at the heart of your living because you are being used by God for His purposes. Master the secret of the parable of the talents, and you can soon enter into that deep and peace-full happiness:

"Take what life gives, O heart of mine, and build your house of happiness!
Perchance some have been given more, but others have been given less!
The treasure lying in your hands that seems so paltry in your view,
Another builder, looking on, would give his heart to have from you.
Tomorrow's Times relentless stream may sweep what you now have away;
O take what life has given and build your house of happiness today!"

The Rector will preach at a Pre-Lenten Service under the auspices of the Ministerial Association of Pottsville on February 7th at 7:30 P. M. in the First Methodist Church.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D.C., Sunday evening, February 3rd.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Those attending the services on February 3rd will receive a copy of the Book of Job. We are attempting to read together month by month, the various Books of the Bible. This will be the 27th Book. The Rector's Sermon on Sunday will be based on this outstanding Book:

The Annual Confirmation Service of our Parish will be held in the Chapel of our Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Avenue, at 4 P. M. on February 17th.

THERE ARE TWO WAYS TO BECOME a member of this Parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church you become a member of this Parish by asking the Rector of the Church where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia. The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of Instruction are held at 10 A. M. Sundays in the Rector's study.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Ministry of Healing.
Dear Dr. Price:—Last summer I wrote to you about my having hives for eight years. On November 2nd, they left me. I wanted to be sure of myself before writing to you. I am 64 years of age and the affliction was terrible at times. I feel like a person that has been resurrected. I am almost shouting it from the housetops. My doctor, relating my case in St. Luke's Hospital, said he never saw a case as bad as mine and that lasted so many years. For those who prayed for me, "Praise God, from Whom all blessings flow."—O. INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

ON GOD'S SIDE

On Tuesday, next, we shall be remembering the Birthday of Abraham Lincoln, whose greatness was founded on unwavering faith in God. One of the reasons for his greatness was that Lincoln applied that faith to the tough problems that came his way, day after day. In the early days of the Civil War a minister once said to him, "Let us have faith, Mr. Lincoln, that the Lord is on our side in this great struggle." Lincoln quietly replied, "I'm not at all concerned about that, for I know that the Lord is always on the right side. But my constant anxiety and prayer is that I and this nation may be on the Lord's side."

The temptation of most people is to decide what we want, and then pray that God will help us to carry out our heart's desire. We want the Lord to be on our side. But the Master did not so teach us. He taught us to pray, "Thy will be done"—to seek the Lord's way, under all circumstances. Instead of asking God to accomodate Himself to our wishes He taught us to accomodate ourselves to God's. Whenever any human being—be it Abraham Lincoln or your own humble self—follows this Christ-taught course, his life counts for all that is right and constructive and eternal.

Lincoln applied His Christian faith to his profession. When he was practicing law in Springfield, Illinois, he was approached by a man who wished to press a claim for $600. It was a lawful claim, but if the client won it, it would ruin a widow and her four children. Lincoln, in refusing to take the case, wrote, "No doubt we could win this case for you, but we will not take it. There are some things that are right legally, but wrong morally. However, I shall give you some advice for which I shall charge nothing. My advice to a sprightly, energetic, successful man like you is to try your hand at making $600 some other way." Lincoln had to feel that he was on the Lord's side if he was going to throw himself, heart and soul, into a case. To impoverish a struggling widow and her family, even by legal means, clearly was not God's will; so he would not do it.

Apply that simple but searching principle to your own life. Instead of asking God to "go along" with your impatient wishes, take yourself by the scruff of the neck, and make yourself pray to find out His desire, and then do it! This may give you an uncomfortable spell of living, as you learn to accomodate yourself to His will, but I promise you that it will work out gloriously. For the person who strives to be on God's side finds a deep peace of heart which nothing can take away.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for me for the past two months, and I am so grateful for these prayers. Two months ago I thought I would never be able to get over my nervous condition, but may I tell you that after taking nerve pills constantly for six years, I now have not touched a nerve pill since your Prayer Group started praying for me. I have gained five pounds. I read the books you sent me every morning for at least a half hour. The improvement in my nerves is almost unbelievable. —M.S. (Minneapolis, Minn.)

The Rector will speak to a Prayer Group in the Swarthmore Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, February 13th at 3 P. M. and to the Interdenominational Prayer Group, New York Ave., Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C. on Friday afternoon.

Bishop Armstrong will confirm the candidates for Confirmation of St. Stephen's Church in the Chapel of the Burd School, 4226 Baltimore Ave., on February 17th at 4 P. M. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

THE TOUCH OF GOD

Lent begins in a few weeks. What are we going to do with those six great weeks? Why not give your hearts to letting Him speak to us more often; to letting Him speak through us to other people more steadily? Maude Royden puts it vividly:

"Did not God speak to some of you first through your mother's eyes? Or did not the first time come to others through a lover or a friend? When Samuel heard the voice of God, he thought it was the voice of his best friend. He said to his old friend, Eli, 'You called me.' But it was God who called him, though it sounded like the voice of his friend."

Do you know of the touching little Irish story of a woman who was in great distress of mind because she had lost the sense of God's nearness? She cried out, "Why doesn't He make me feel that He is here? How can He leave me alone? If I could only feel Him, know that He had touched me!" And an old woman, who was sitting with her, said, "Pray to Him. Ask Him to touch you. He will put His hand on you." She began to pray in agony, and suddenly felt the hand of God touching her. She cried, "He has touched me!" And went into an ecstacy of joy. Then she said, "Do you know, it felt just like your hand." And the old woman replied, "Why, it was my hand." "It was your hand?" groaned the disappointed friend. "Sure, what did you think God would be doing? Did you think He would make a long arm out of heaven to touch you? He just took the hand that was nearest, and used that."

God takes the human beings that are nearest, and through them for the first time we see love; and love is God. He takes the human hand of some friend or stranger and uses that, and for the first time we feel the touch of God. We say, "It is only a friend!" What do we mean by "God" if it is not Love? How can God speak to us but by a human voice?

Turn that around, friend, for your Lenten adventure—make it your high purpose to be the hand, the voice that is nearest, the one that God can use!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for the wonderful healing which I have experienced, and God bless you. My doctor told me that he had never seen such a sick eye that had recovered so well. The vision is almost as good as before. It was a case of acute Eyeritis wihch developed into something worse. During my illness I had memorized your "Spiritual Daily Dozen." How many times a day I went over that in my darkened room and found comfort, especially No. 10, which I knew I must believe myself. I could not depend on other people's faith, but I was sustained all through my painful experience by the prayers of your group. I cannot adequately express my gratitude—A.K.P. (Binghamton, N. Y.)

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY COMMUNION AND BREAKFAST

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew will again sponsor the Annual Washington's Birthday Communion and Breakfast to be held simultaneously in eight Churches in the Diocese. The Service in St. Stephen's will be held on Saturday, February 23rd, at 8 A. M. and will be followed by a breakfast served in the Community House. The Honorable Charles S. Thomas, Secretary of the Navy, will speak to us over FM Station WFLN. Mrs. Theodore Bechtel and her ladies will serve the breakfast at St. Stephen's. Tickets are $1.25. Phone your reservations to the Church Office.

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind such as hate and greed were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He Who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee. In Jesus' Name. Amen.

Jubilate Deo, Hymnal 645 ..... Chant

ANTHEM: Father, In Thy Mysterious Presence ..... Matthews
Father, in Thy mysterious presence kneeling, fain would our souls feel all Thy kindling love; For we are weak and need some deep revealing of trust and strength and calmness from above. Lord, we have wandered forth thru' doubt and sorrow, and Thou hast made each step onward; and we will ever trust each unknown tomorrow; Thou wilt sustain us till its work is done. Now, Father, now in Thy dear presence kneeling, our spirits yearn to feel Thy love; Now make us strong. We need Thy deep revealing of trust and strength and calmness from above. Amen.

NOTE:—The proper music for the Venite, Benedictus Es and Jubilate Deo are found in the back of each hymnal. The congregation is urged to turn to the proper place, and join in the full singing of each chant. Helpful suggestions as to proper singing of "Anglican Chant" are found at the beginning of this section of the Hymnal. The key to good singing is natural speech rhythm . . . don't hurry over little words, but stress the important ones to bring out the meaning. The "tune" changes at the upright line; everything up to this line is sung on one note. Breathe only at the end of a line.

POWER OF LOVE

In the country areas of our State the highway snow plough breaks out in the driveway for each home along the country roads, so that the people can get out. Suppose, one day, you saw that powerful plough come part way in your driveway and then stop; and the driver got out and tried to shovel his way by hand through the deep drifts; and finally gave up, shaking his head with discouragement; and drove away. You would think the man crazy.

Yet see how curiously Christian people act. In the life of Jesus, God revealed to men the most tremendous power there is—the Power of Love. Jesus lived that life of love, right among people; demonstrated its incredible power. Men have never forgotten that Life. They have written books about Him, and worshipped Him. They have done almost everything except to follow in His steps and use the Power He showed them. When someone is hateful, the average Christian makes a little stab at being loving, goes a little way in Christ's Spirit, then tries slapping back; finally gives up, shaking his head sadly.

Real Love never gives up. That is what St. Paul meant when he said that it, "never faileth." He meant that genuine Love never quits. He did not mean that love succeeds every time, right away; even Jesus could not win the scribes and pharisees, and they crucified Him. But, in the long run, over the centuries, Love has a way of winning. Even in our short lives, if we are in earnest, honest love wins remarkable victories. So, in these dark days, look at your problem in the light of the Star. Someone has closed his heart against you in resentment. You did try Love for a while, and then quit, discouraged. Underneath the Star, that old trouble challenges you to try again. Let me tell you a story.

A Protestant girl was deeply in love with a fine Roman Catholic boy, and engaged to marry him. Her mother swore that she would never speak to her again. The girl consulted her Minister, asking what she could do about her mother. The Minister said, "The Book I trust promises that Love never faileth. Write your mother every Thursday—and use the gay, loving letter; every Thursday until she opens her heart to you. She will not be able to withstand real Love. Will you try it?" The girl promised. A year later he met her, and instantly asked, "Every Thursday?" "Every Thursday," she replied. Week after week she wrote her Thursday letter of Love, until one day, several years later, the girl and her husband went to see the mother. As they came up the front walk, the door flung open, and the mother ran out to meet them; and flung her arms around the girl, and kissed her. Honest, enduring Love wins breath-taking victories like that. Try it, yourself!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Most weeks we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I want to report to you and the Prayer Fellowship that my little grandson, Curtis Williams, an hemophiliac, about whom I wrote you in the Fall, seems to have been healed. At Christmas time he bit his tongue and it didn't bleed! Twice before he had bitten his tongue and had to be flown to distant hospitals for emergency treatment. His maternal grandmother wrote me that she thinks it is a miracle! Mrs. C.S.W.

Boy Scout Troop No. 2 of St. Stephen's Church will celebrate its 30th Anniversary by a reunion in the Community House on Friday evening, March 1st, at 8 P. M.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit. May we be able to worship Thee as we ought, with the right spirit and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. Make us faithful to all that is fine and noble. Amen.

THE PICTURE OF GOD

In Africa the men of the Bulu Tribe keep track of the seasons by watching for Tolo, the constellation of the hare. When Tolo rises in the Eastern sky, the old men know that it is time to make clearings in the forest, that the women may plant their harvest before the season of the rain. When the old men try to pass on to the boys this valuable bit of tribal knowledge, the boys found it very hard to pick out the five stars of Tolo among the countless host of the stars in the heaven. So, when dusk falls, the boys father takes five rose-red coals from the palaver house fire and, on the village street, spreads them out just the design like Tolo in the sky. Then, through the five glowing coals draws in the dust the picture of Tolo, until the boy sees the hare lying before his eyes. He sees him now because he has been drawn for him right in the dust of the village street.

It is recorded only once that Jesus drew in the dust of a village street—in the incident that you can read in the 8th Chapter of St. John's Gospel. But all through His short life among men, Jesus was drawing the picture of God in the streets and market places of His home land. By His courtesy to the woman who had fallen victim to cruel hippocrites, Jesus pictured the compassion of God towards honest, penitent sinners; and, at the same moment, He pictured the impatience of God toward smug pretenders of religion. Day by day, in His deeds, He drew out before men's eyes the picture of the Almighty, as He devoted Himself to the needs of all sorts and conditions of men. Men watched Him, and began to see the face of God. Men joined His company, and began to recognize the likeness of The Eternal. In that last scene, before Pilate, in the Master's majestic silence in the face of the accusations of His enemies, men see the majesty of God. On the Cross, in His last out-reach of love to the penitent thief and to His enemies, they see the undying love of God for men.

Do not mistake the meaning of Lent—with all the necessity for disciplining your life, never think that Lent should be spent gazing at your own faults and shortcomings. There is a greater purpose for these weeks of renewal—to scan the pages of the New Testament with such care that our eyes will be fixed on Him Who clothed God in human flesh. This is the Good news, that in Jesus we can see God, God among men, God in human life as we know it. We need not lose the way, because God has lived among us, because, in the life of Jesus Christ, the picture of God has been drawn out for us, "In the dust of the village street."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Words cannot express my gratitude to you and the Prayer Fellowship of St. Stephen's Church. You have been praying for the healing of my skin cancer and other ills for the past month. The last place on my skin has healed, and there are no signs of a new growth. My other ills are better, and nights have been more restful. I feel better and different. Your literature has been, and will continue to be, of great help to me. L. G. (Austin, Texas)

We owe a great debt of gratitude to Mrs. Theodore Bechtel and her efficient Committee of helpers who prepared and served the breakfast for 140 persons at the Annual Corporate Communion and Breakfast of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew on February 23rd.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Spiritual Healing on the evenings of March 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th at the Swarthmore Methodist Church.

The Rector will speak to the Interdenominational School of Prayer at the New York Ave. Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C. on March 15th.

DIOCESAN CAPITAL FUND DRIVE

Every family of St. Stephen's has been sent a brochure describing the objects of this important project. We hope that everyone will prayerfully consider this call upon our generosity. New Churches in the suburbs and increased faculties in our Divinity School are desperately needed. Pledge cards should be returned promptly. We are asked to give a continuing amount over three years rather than lump sums immediately.

Our "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: Olga B. Carlile, Mrs. Mildred C. Faris, Jane S. McEldowney, Mary E. Zollers.

The Rev. J. Samuel Stephenson, Rector of Grace Church, Buffalo, in a recent letter to your Rector said: "Your Community House holds many fond memories for me. During the first World War my father was one of the men who used to take his car to the Navy Yard and bring young men home for dinner and then to St. Stephen's for a party. During the 2nd World War I used to work there every Sunday night. I was then Rector of St. Mary's, Hamilton Village.

"There must be times when you and your Vestry wonder what good was accomplished by the great expenditure of money and time put into the effort of the last War, and for your information I would like you to know that directly from that influence one man, a Methodist came into the Episcopal Church and is now a Monk with Holy Cross. Two other boys found their way into the ministry, another a senior warden in a parish in Massachusetts, and a young lady gave her services to the Church as a Missionary Nurse as soon as the war was over.

THE SILENT MEDITATION: There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Saviour, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy Presence wherever we may be and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

THE RECTOR'S FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Rector will celebrate his fifteenth anniversary as Rector of St. Stephen's Church on Sunday, March 24th. He is asking the people of the parish to join with him in celebrating that occasion by making it "family Sunday"; that is, that all the families of the parish will attend Church at one of the services, preferably the 11 o'clock service, having as many members of the family present as possible and sitting together as a family.

He chooses this method of celebration, because of a deep conviction of the fundamental importance of family life. Many influences today tend to weaken family ties; the Church should do everything in her power to strengthen them. The Holy Spirit is the only power in the world today able to resist the disintegrating influences and to stimulate the love and devotion which will unite families for time and eternity.

The Rector hopes that many of the people of the parish will gather in Church by families that day and make this a memorable and inspiring occasion. Following the service there will be a social hour in the Community House where a Missionary film will be shown and light refreshments served.

Fifteen years have passed since I became Rector of St. Stephen's Church. It might be fitting to summarize what has been accomplished during that period, if it were the purpose of this report to make us rather satisfied with ourselves. A small amount of pride in our accomplishments is justifiable, but self-satisfaction is detrimental to progress. A reviewing of the past is only helpful when it spurs us on to great zeal for the future.

Though figures are often boring, they may prove to be at least a partial insight into what your Church has done in the past fifteen years. From 188 services fifteen years ago with a total attendance of 20,003—this past year there were 503 services with a total attendance of 51,526. The Noon-day services have increased from 12,928 to 27,193. Fifteen years ago the total receipts reported by the treasurer of the Envelope System was $7,446.80, while this past year the total was $34,379.08. Our present Missionary Quota of $7,500 is 150% higher than it was fifteen years ago. Fifteen years ago we had a $30,000 mortgage on the Community House. Today our entire property is free and clear of debt. During the decade we have added over $110,000.00 to our endowment fund. The physical fabric of the Community House and Church has had extensive repairs, renovations and renewals such as roof, heating plant, pews, marble, stained glass windows, painting of buildings and installation of expensive electronics for the hard of hearing. A new $65,000 Organ has been installed. During this period the tradition shattering departure was made in the financing of the Church —the system of pew rentals was discontinued.

That St. Stephen's has become a widely known center of Spiritual Healing is attested by the fact that featured articles have appeared in nationally known magazines such as The Christian Century, The Churchman, The Witness, Forth, Pathfinder, Weekly Unity, Clear Horizons, Sharing, Guideposts, American News Weekly, Presbyterian Life, The Methodist Advocate, the Baptist Leader, Your Life, etc. More and more people are coming to realize the great breadth and inclusiveness of the Episcopal Church. Where the full Gospel has not been preached and practiced or the teaching of Christ neglected, cults and fanaticism spawn. Religion as well as nature abhors a vacuum. Spiritual Healing has been well nigh forgotten in the orthodox Churches. The result is that all sorts of health fadists flourish and abound. We have the authority in the Episcopal Church to preach and practice this Healing Ministry and God is blessing our feeble but sincere efforts here. In addition to the teaching and sacramental life of a Christian Church, there is a vital need today for aggressive evangelism and a clearer understanding of the ministry of Christian Healing. In the past fifteen years we can thank God that the Church of St. Stephen's in the city of Philadelphia has been used to make an effective contribution toward this end. No one can evaluate the work accomplished. Forty to fifty letters a week vouch for the healing power of Christ in body, soul and mind. During the past year alone 7,704 letters were received from every State in the Union as well as from overseas requesting the help of our Prayer Fellowship. Each one of the 7,704 who wrote to us about his or her problem received a personal answer and each one was remembered twenty-four hours a day for a period of four weeks. This interesting group of spiritually matured persons numbering now 94, who engage in this prayer activity and who are being led to put their whole trust in God represent a good cross-section of our community, i.e. clergy, medical doctors, nurses, theological students, house-wives, teachers, business and professional persons. Most of these persons have received a personal demonstration of God's healing power and in grateful appreciation are giving of themselves in this selfless service of prayer in order to become a channel of God's healing to others.

During the past year alone 8,427 attended the Thursday Healing services and received the ministration of the laying-on-of-hands at the Altar, to listen to the weekly sermon on Spiritual Healing and to join in prayers and meditation for those distressed in body, mind or spirit. Hundreds were reached by direct personal counselling in the Rector's study where he is available every Thursday from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M., with time out for the two physically and emotionally exhausting public Healing Services. We have a steady panorama of human problems ranging from the depths of sorrow, frustration, unhappiness, physical and mental disharmonies, through divorce to alcoholism. Every week we have evidence presented to us that, with God in the picture, there is no disease that is incurable, and no problem that cannot be solved.

Every large city needs a downtown place of worship. God grant that we may continue for many a year this place of worship to keep before busy men and women a constant reminder that there are interests above the daily traffic of life.

May God give us a spirit of zeal, concord, and sound judgment; so that we can, by God's grace, make St. Stephen's a lighthouse, that will throw its guiding rays far across the tumbling billows of our city's life.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

Organ Prelude—Choral Prelude on "St. Anne" ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly pray, "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "All things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, God, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that Thy will for our lives may be revealed to us in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. Amen.

THE WHITE COMRADE

On the Fair Linen cloth that covers the Altar in most Christian Churches are carved five crosses, one in the center and one at each corner, as a reminder of the five wounds of Christ, when He was crucified. But those crosses mean more than that. They are intended to remind us of the hard hearts of human beings, as they wound and crucify the Eternal God down through the ages.

When Jesus told His friends, "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men to Me," He knew that there is but one power which no heart can withstand—the power of patient, continuing love. As soon as any person really knows his own share in wounding and crucifying Him, and understands His undying love, that person is drawn to Him in penitent and grateful surrender.

As Good Friday comes on, it is urgently necessary, therefore, that each of us look at his own life in the mirror, and see where he is wounding God. It may be, deep in your heart, a grim refusal to forgive some wrong done you one day; or a habit of stern anger and impatience with your children; or a delight in sharp, sarcastic words; or self-pity which makes you blind to the greater sufferings of others, and of God; or a foolish self-content which thinks you can get on rather nicely without God. Each one of these sins is a spear driven into His side; a nail fastening His hands and feet so that He cannot help you. Before we can find the resurrection-power of Easter Day, we must in honesty face our part in His crucifixion, humbly implore His forgiveness, and start fresh.

Robert Haven Schauffler, in his poem, "The White Comrade," recalls the lovely legend of Christ coming to care for the wounded on the battle field. In the poem, the wounded man sees the White Comrade, who comes, gathers him up in his arms, and, taking him away to a quiet place, attends to his wounds. Then suddenly the soldier sees that the White Comrade, too, is wounded—

"Then I saw He was hurt,
Shot through the hands that were joined in prayer.
Then, as the dark drops gathered there
And fell in the dirt,
The wounds of my Friend
Seemed to me just as no man might bear . . .
Then suddenly I was aware
That His feet had been wounded, too,
And, dimming the white of His side,
A dull stain grew.
"You are hurt, White Comrade!, I cried . . .
"These are old wounds," said He, "But of late they have troubled me."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I am completely healed of the eczema on and around my eyes; also my son is well. Thanks so much for your prayers and those of the wonderful people who are giving their time to pray for those of us who are sick in mind and body. For almost one year I had gone to the doctors. My faith in your good peoples' prayers did a miracle for me. Thanks again and again. G. O. (Little Rock).

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED. Every Monday, Tuesday and Friday at 5:30 P.M. our Lay Reader, Mr. Arthur C. Comby, will read the Office of Evening Prayer in St. Stephen's Church. On Wednesday there is a celebration of the Holy Communion and on Thursday the Healing Service. There is a service, therefore, every weekday at 5:30 P.M. Monday through Friday, as well as the weekday 12:30 P.M. service.

The most expensive furniture in the Church is the empty pew!

If you would perpetuate your Christian service, remember St. Stephen's Church in your will.

The Rector conducted a Mission of Spiritual Healing on the evenings of March 17th to 20th, inclusive in Holy Trinity Church, Collingswood, N. J.

THE RECTOR'S FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

The Rector will celebrate his fifteenth anniversary as Rector of St. Stephen's Church on Sunday, March 24th. He is asking the people of the parish to join with him in celebrating that occasion by attending an informal social hour in the Community House following the eleven o'clock Service, where refreshments will be served and a Missionary film will be shown.

The Rector will speak to the members of the Twentieth Century Club in Buffalo at a luncheon on March 25th. He will be a Lenten speaker at the Noon-day service in St. Luke's Church, Scranton, and preach in the evening in Emmanuel Baptist Church of that city on Wednesday.

The Rev. Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach will be our Noon-day preacher March 25th — 30th.

CAMPAIGN FOR CAPITAL FUNDS

The needs of the Diocese of Pennsylvania are urgent. There is need of expansion of the Episcopal Church in areas of the Diocese where our Church is needed and there is need for the redevelopment where there is no growth. A minimum of $755,000 is needed for this work.

There is need for expansion of the facilities of the Philadelphia Divinity School; $500,000 is needed here.

The two have been combined into one extensive campaign with a minimum goal of $1,255,000.

The Rector's Sermons on the Sundays in Lent are about the Lord's Prayer.

We wish to thank these subscribers to the Weekly Bulletin: Mrs. Anna Allen, Mrs. Mary T. Barker, Mr. & Mrs. C. W. Borden, Harry H. Bush, Mrs. Florabel F. and Miss Florabel Cunningham, Mr. & Mrs. David Gamble, Mrs. E. M. Keys, Frances Lewis, Edith P. McDougald, Mr. & Mrs. Wilson Ross, Floyd W. Thatcher, Miss Hazel Bainbridge.

7:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer; Sermon by Jacob D. Beck, B.S.

THE ENRICHING LIFE

Time was running out. Day after day Jesus had denounced the blind leaders who stood between the people and God, and kept people from seeing what God wanted. As His flaming words scorched their reputations, their hatred deepened. Their spies brought back word of the terrible words which made them tremble. So they began to plot, in earnest, how they might get rid of Him. He knew His time was short. There were some precious truths He could tell while He still had the chance.

So, one day, He told the story of a young man who liked to have his way. He thought of his father as the one who should give him what he wanted; so he asked the "old man" for his share in the family estate, and got it. Then off he went to a "far country" to enjoy himself. Like any spoiled child, he figured that the world owed him a good time. For a while he painted the town red, grabbing for pleasure greedily. Then there came one gray dawn when he found himself stone broke, friendless, and still in that "far country," weary miles from the warmth and cheer of his father's house. The world seemed to think that it owed him nothing. In fact, the world did not seem especially interested in him. It seldom does take much interest in a spoiled child, except to knock him about a bit.

Then he was "stung with the splendor of a sudden thought." He would go back to his father, but not for a hand-out. He knew now that his father owed him nothing. He had "come to himself," and had waked up to his sorry, spoiled-child ways. Once he had prayed his father, "give me . . ." Now he would plead "Make me as one of thy hired servants." So the young man returned, and put himself back in the hands of his father, to make something useful out of him—a serving, enriching life.

That is the story of countless people. They start out in life thinking of God simply as an indulgent santa claus, lifting their voices to Him only when they want something. I remember a man like that who came to me in deep trouble, saying, "I've been praying to God for an hour every night, asking Him to . . . " He was a spoiled child, thinking of his Father only as One who could give him what he desired. He wanted to choose his own path, with God supporting him. But wise men find that choosing their own path leads into a "far country" where they get lost, and have to turn homeward to their Father. They put their lives back into His hands, that He may make something of them; people who serve gladly and usefully under the wise guidance of their Father.

Someone may be thinking, "There isn't much God can do with my life." How dare you! Who are you, my friend, to put any limits on what God can do? For, as a great violinist can take a battered violin, patch it up a bit, and then draw glorious music from it; So He can take your life, laid in His hands, and bring from it love and strength to gladden the world.

The Rector and his family, as well as members of the congregation are grateful to the ladies of the Parish Visitor's Committee for their efforts in prepaing and serving the refreshments last Sunday at the 15th Anniversary Celebration of Dr. Price's Rectorship here.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Two weeks after you and your Prayer Fellowship started praying, Joan's hearing test showed a surprising improvement and her hearing has continued better. Dr. Steadman was amazed and discontinued his risky and unpleasant treatment. He said that if Joan's hearing continues to be as good as it is now her lip-reading will only have to serve as an added accomplishment. The literature you sent is of great comfort to me. Not only in dealing with this one problem but in facing daily problems withinner quietness and tranquility. I know I am a better wife and mother because I am learning how to cope with tension and depression. Please ask your Prayer Fellowship to think of Joanie only as a happy and grateful little girl who will now grow up to be a sound and useful citizen because of their intercessions and prayers. Mrs. J. H. W. (San Francisco)

The Rector will preach in Calvary Church, Wilmington, Delaware, Sunday at 8 P. M. He will preach at the Noon-day services in Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, April 1st to 5th, inclusive. He will preach in St. Paul's Church, Mount Lebanon on Tuesday evening, Holy Cross Church on Wednesday night and the Church of the Ascension, Pittsburgh on Thursday night.

We extend a hearty welcome to Dean Moor of Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, who will be our guest preacher April 1st to 5th, inclusive.

Our preacher for the Saturday Noon-day sevice will be the new Rector of the Memorial Church of St. Paul, Overbrook, the Rev. Nathaniel C. Acton.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation pledges towards the Diocesan Campaign for Capital Funds from the following: Mr. I. Smith Raspin, Dr. Herbert Old, Mr. Lewis J. Armstrong, The Recto, Mr. Thomas S. Orme, Miss Mary Orme, Miss Mary C. Kutzer, Mrs. Isobel Smyth and Family, Mrs. Florence Pancoast Reath, Mrs. Olga B. Carlile, Mrs. Hazel L. Bainbridge.

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

Organ Prelude: Chorale Prelude on "Martyn" ..... Matthews
THE SILENT MEDITATION: No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor and security and pleasure, and even life itself for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost as we gain in our likeness to Thee. Amen.

USE YOUR TALENTS

There came a day when Jesus "steadfastly set His face to go to Jerusalem." He was to challenge the enemies of God. The time was very short now!

So a note of deepened urgency comes into the story. He who gave us the parable of the talents must Himself use His God-given gifts to the end. He must speak and live the Good News of God's Love, so that men would remember it, clothed in flesh.

Once we even catch a note of abruptness in His voice. A man asked Jesus to wait until his father's funeral was over—then he would follow Him. But Jesus was not waiting. He was pressing on, using every minute for God. He sends out the seventy, traveling light, to invite people into God's Kingdom; and they return rejoicing in the new power He had given them to heal bodies and souls. His enemies were watching Him closely now, pressing in to provoke Him into some outburst they could use against Him. Instead of falling into their trap, we find Him attacking their hollow insincerity, naming them hypocrites, white-washed graves. But most of His time does not go to attacking enemies. Mostly He gives Himself to revealing God's Love for all men. He teaches them His Prayer, "Our Father," that, through all time, men might understand the Spirit in which they must pray to God, if they want their prayers to be heard. He gives them the unforgettable stories of the Good Samaritan, The Lost Son, The Lost Sheep, The Pharissee and the Publican. Then one day, as He looked across from Bethany to the Holy City, He cried out, "Oh Jerusalem, Jerusalem . . . how oft would I have gathered thy children together even as a hen gathereth her own brood under her wings, and ye would not!" The time was so short, and people are so slow; and He was in haste!

And yet, He had time to stop for humble people who needed Him. He would not wait around for procrastinators and excuse givers; but He was not like a self-important man on the way to a business deal who calls out, "I can't stop for you now—I'm in a hurry." Somehow, through the mighty compassion of God working within Him, He always found time for those who truly needed Him. He found time to explain to impatient Martha that sometimes there is something more important than washing the dishes. He had time for the ten lepers; and then still more time for the one grateful one. He had time to take little babes in the circle of His loving arms; time to heal a bent old woman; time to restore sight to blind Bartimeus even though He had to stop on the road into Jericho. He showed that there is nothing urgent enough to crowd out the little acts of compassion through which the Love of God's blessing reaches His children.

So, in those last mighty days, He showed us how God intends us to use the talents entrusted to us. "And when He had thus spoken, He went on before, going up to Jerusalem."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I want once again to thank you and your Prayer Group for your prayers on my behalf. I am being greatly helped and the improvement has been quite steady, and I am almost normal again. I had a deep fear neurosis with absolute panic. Through your prayers and the knowledge gained in your booklet on "Nervous Disorders" the fear has been completely blotted out. I truly thank the Lord, and your wonderful Prayer Group. Only those who have suffered this fear disease know what torture it is. (M.L.W., Mecca, Calif.)

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening and on Wednesday at 8 P.M. he will be the speaker at the Union Lenten Services at the Church of the Resurrection, Tioga and Broad Streets.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. John E. Large, D.D., Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York City, who will be our Noonday preacher Monday through Friday.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation generous pledges towards the Diocesan Campaign For Capital Funds from the following: Miss Mary L. Seltzer, as well as these Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Mary McEwen, Leora T. Kohn.

THE SPRING IN-GATHERING of the Women's United Thank Offering will be on Sunday, April 7th. Blue envelopes have been mailed to all the women of the Parish. There are extra envelopes in the pews and blue boxes in the outer vestibule of the Church for anyone who has not received them by mail. This is a Missionary Offering which supports in large measure the women workers in the Church both in this country and in foreign fields. Mrs. Wilson Leithead is our Parish Custodian.

Legal Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the Members of St. Stephen's Church for the election of twelve men to the Vestry will not be held on Easter Monday, but will be postponed until Sunday, May 12th, in the Community House, at 12:30 P.M.

SAINT STEPHEN'S ENDOWMENT FUND

Saint Stephen's is a central City Church with additional expenses to that of a normal parish. In order to meet these expenses it is necessary to rely upon endowment income. When making your Will we ask you to remember your Church with a gift.

Mrs. Elizabeth Saylor left a hundred dollars in her will for St. Stephen's Church.

On Sunday, March 31st, two Communion Veils were dedicated by the Rector in memory of Mrs. Mildred Smyth and presented by Mrs. Harriet Smyth.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Many of our parishioners are using the plan suggested by the Rector to read the entire Bible through in two and a half years. We have now read 36 Books. Those who attend the services on April 7th will receive a booklet containing the Books of Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos and Obadiah. Be sure to get your copy.

Our heart-felt sympathy is extended to the Misses Anne and Miriam Daley in their bereavement.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The glory of the Cross lies in its expression of the great love of God and Christ for men. The shame and disgrace of the Cross were transformed into honor, because sacrifice was raised to the highest level. Its glory is evident in transformed lives and in the blessedness and peace brought into hearts that have experienced its saving power. We thank Thee, Jesus Christ, for Thy supreme Sacrifice upon the Cross. Thou hast given us a better insight into the loving heart of our Heavenly Father because of it. Grant unto us the power of the Cross as an experience in our lives, so that we may glorify Thy holy name. Amen.

Alone Thou goest forth, O Lord, in sacrifice to die;
Is this Thy sorrow naught to us who pass unheeding by?
Our sins, not Thine, Thou bearest, Lord, make us Thy sorrow feel,
Till through our pity and our shame Love answers Love's appeal.

This is earth's darkest hour, but Thou dost light and life restore;
Then let all praise be given Thee who livest evermore.
Give us compassion for Thee, Lord, that, as we share this hour,
Thy Cross may bring us to Thy joy and resurrection power. Amen.

DEATH OF SELF-WILL

We have often talked about the Crucifixion as if it only happened once, and to One Person. We need to grasp Paul's saying that "Our old man is crucified with Him." An English friend once described the Cross as the capital "I" crossed out. If we draw a pencil mark through that capital "I", we do get a cross. And if each of us crosses out our own self-will, we get a cross! Jesus bids us to do just that—to love God and think only of what we can do for Him; to love our neighbor, and strive only to see how we can be of service to him.

But the "old man" struggles to live. Our selfishness dies hard. Meister Eckhart wrote: "There are plenty to follow our Lord half way, but not the other half. They will give up possessions, friends and honors, but it touches them too closely to disown themselves." We want to act as if we still belong to ourselves. But, as a wise Quaker said, If we truly want to follow Christ, we are "owned men"—we belong to Him. The "old man" of self-will has to die, has to be crucified.

There was once a clergyman who was discontented because his superiors kept him in a small Church. So he complained to one of his deacons, "They are crucifying me!" And the wise old deacon replied, "Yes, you are on the cross. The trouble is that you have not died—you're still wiggling." The minister went off and thought that over—it was true, his self-will, "old man" was still very much alive. Wrestling it out in prayer, he finally surrendered his old self to Christ, and it died. He forgot himself, gave himself to become an ambassador of God—and there were 240 people converted in the "Little Church" that year. It always works that way. When the "old man" is crucified, God can get to work.

Jesus was young, and He wanted to go on with His friends, Building the Kingdom of God on earth. But, in Gethsemane, God made it plain that the only victorious way lies through the cross. "Not My will, but Thine, be done." Palm Sunday once more brings us that awesome invitation—will we go up and be crucified with Him? Will we release ourselves into God's direction, and let Him work His wonders through our humble lives?

Dear Dr. Price:—I am truly grateful and thankful. God has helped me through the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship. My doctor was amazed to see the growth on my nose getting better and the inflammation arrested. However, he still insisted on surgery. All the laboratory tests came back indicating no malignancy. He said the tumor had started to grow, then stopped and then dried up. My illness proved a creative experience, as I found the true meaning of faith. I shall always feel a part of St. Stephen's because so much was done for me there.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest even while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace of which Jesus said, "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this Thy gift. Amen.

In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. Without Him was not anything made that was made. In Him was life; and the life was the light of men. Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will refresh you. I am the Living Bread which came down from heaven. The Bread that I will give is My flesh, which I will give for the life of the world. Disclose Thy sunbeams; close Thy wings and stay; See, how I am blind, and dead, and stray, O Thou that art my Light, my Life, My way!

WIDENESS OF LOVE

One of my favorite hymns begins, "There's a wideness in God's mercy, like the wideness of the sea." How easy it is to be thankful for that broad love of God! It is not nearly so easy to appreciate the wideness of love that He expects of us, His children.

From the beginning of His ministry, Jesus brought constant pressure to broaden the narrow spirits of His comrades. They had been brought up to believe that salvation was to be found in the Jewish faith, and nowhere else. But He kept telling them otherwise. He told that wonderful tale of the foreign Samaritan hero; He went to the house of the hated Roman army officer, to heal his small daughter; He quietly taught them, "And other sheep have I, which are not of this fold; them also must I bring, and they shall hear My voice; and there shall be one fold and one shepherd."

We need to apply this wideness of love to our Church loyalties. Too many of us have believed that the whole truth dwells in our special Church—as if any group of tiny human beings could capture the whole truth about God! So the Church became weak in division, for the world is too strong for a divided Church. But, of late, there has come a new growth of unity, a new willingness for the branches of Christ's Church to work together under one shepherd. Church World Service, for instance, is banding together of twenty-one great Churches on a mighty mission of compassion, to feed and clothe and relieve the suffering millions of the earth. Because they plan and work together, their compassion is far wiser and more effective. Because they buy the life-giving supplies as one Christian group, in vast quantities, they save money, and can send more. We slow-witted disciples are beginning to "learn of Him."

Sir Wilfred Grenville once had to amputate the leg of an old Labrador lady, a Roman Catholic neighbor of his, because of tuberculosis of the ankle. Artificial legs do not grow on bushes along that barren northern shore. The next time he was on a lecture tour in the United States, he was speaking in a Congregational Church, and told the story, adding with a smile, "If anyone in the congregation has a wooden leg he is not using, I would be glad to have it." After the lecture a woman came up, saying that she, a Methodist, had lost her husband, who had been a Presbyterian, and that he had left behind a perfectly good wooden leg she had no use for. Sir Wilfred used to chuckle as he said, "I, an Episcopalian, took that Presbyterian leg, given me by a Methodist, in a Congregational Church, back to Labrador, where I had it fitted to my old Roman Catholic friend, who then was able to walk." Out of a united Church came a good, strong leg. The One Shepherd seeks churches like that, churches that are living centers of the love of God.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—Many times I have thought of you and the healing work of St. Stephen's and I have wanted to write to you. You may remember, about four years ago, coming to the Jefferson Hospital and meeting my sister, S. M., my infant son and me. You prayed for that little boy, and all these four years it has been answered. He is a happy, healthy, loving boy, full of promise, and my heart is full of gratitude to his Maker. Before this I asked you to pray for another boy, my godson, who had had some difficulty with stuttering. Johnny has not gotten completely over his stuttering, but he has learned to cope with it. He is doing extremely well at school and in all his undertakings. All blessings to you and St. Stephen's.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Many of our parishioners are using the plan suggested by the Rector to read the entire Bible through in two and a half years. Those who have started the plan in December, 1955 have now read 41 books. Those who attend the services on May 5th will receive a booklet containing four of the Epistles of St. Paul—1st and 2nd Timothy, Titus and Philemon.

The Annual Parish Meeting will be held in the Community House at 12:30 P.M. on May 12th, 1957.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D. C., Sunday evening.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship fo the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the Service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers and the world.

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

The Prelude: Sheep May Safely Graze ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: So much of religion is a mild assumption or a pious wish, and for that reason it never becomes a transforming power in our lives. When we know for a certainty that Jesus lives, and that He will make us live, then things begin to happen, and our lives begin to mount upward. Father, cleanse us of fear, timidity, and uncertainty and give us the great conviction that "the best is yet to be, the last for which the first was made." Make us to know that a glorious life is within reach of us all through Thy Son Jesus. Amen.

Processional Hymn 346 ..... St. Elizabeth

The Venite, Hymnal 609 ..... Chant

Psalm 62, Page 413

Benedictus Es Domine..... O Quanta Qualia

Jubilate Deo, Hymnal 646 ..... Chant

The Anthem: God is Love ..... Matthews
God is love, and everyone that loveth is begotten of God and knoweth God. Love never faileth. There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear.

The Sermon: "THE LAW OF KINDNESS" ..... THE RECTOR

Offertory Hymn 276 ..... Nun Danket

Recessional Hymn 92 ..... Lux Eoi

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. James Armstrong in memory of her husband and by Mr. Clarence T. Garrett, Jr. in memory of his family. Also by Mrs. Martin in memory of her mother, Mrs. Hartman; and by Mrs. Augustine Mazzio in memory of her parents, Mary and Stephen Urasuk.

THE WORLD BEYOND

Suppose a man with a hidden microphone mingled with an American crowd one day (in the bleachers at a ball game, for instance), asking this question, "How would you act if you thought you were going to live forever?" There is one answer I am sure he would get, many times, "Brother, if I thought I was going to live forever, I would sure live differently." But that is exactly what Jesus Christ brought to men—"And this is the promise He hath promised us even eternal life."

Scads of people do not even live with a thought for the rest of their life on earth. Tomorrow morning's bargain sale, Saturday afternoon's horse races, tonight's pleasures—these small, present concerns take up all their thoughts. Some of them play fast and loose with the health and strength God gave them. "Confound these legs of mine," Lord Northampton said, as he came tottering out of Court, having spent his youth in fast living. "If I had thought that they were one day to carry a Lord Chancellor, I would have taken better care of them." Short-sighted living bears a painful harvest.

However, what is done, is done. As Rufus Jones points out, "Our task now is to make sure of the Henceforth." In a marvelous scene in his Roman prison, St. Paul said, "Forgetting the things that are behind, I press henceforth toward the goal of life for the prize of my high calling in Christ Jesus." After all, it is never too late to remember that God offers us an endless life. As Studdert-Kennedy once said, "I am not the least bit afraid of hell; but I am terribly afraid that someday someone will look me in the eye and say, "What did you make of your life?"

Remember that you will take into the world beyond, that self which you became on this earth. Apparently that self is all that you will take with you—that character, that person you grew into. Therefore it is well that we live as day by day pupils of the Master, letting Him fashion us into something strong, and richly loving. If we let Him do that, we shall want to live forever. It was Rendel Harris who once said, characteristically, "When I pass over, I do not want anyone to sing, 'Now his labor is ended.' I shall at first want to rest a little, and then I shall be ready to go on with God's work in new ways." He was ready for an endless life!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—A month ago I brought my eight month old baby to your healing service and spoke with you before the service. I want to thank you, for with your help I found my faith again which had been slowly hidden with bitterness and despair. I know he will be healed and I am thankful for the prayers of his behalf. Everything has new meaning now and our home is a much happier one. My baby was very ill at birth and the doctors are inclined to believe he may be slightly retarded, but he is eating well for the first time. He smiles and is such a happy baby and everyone agrees there is such a wonderful improvement since he received the laying-on-of-hands. Thanks for your kindness and understanding when I needed help so desperately.

B. A. S. (Ossining, N. Y.)

The Rector participated in a panel discussion with Dr. William Erdman, Chairman of the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at the Hospital of the U. of P., who was the Moderator of the Panel, and Dr. Robert Donovan, Psychiatrist of the Pennsylvania Hospital at a meeting held by the Penna. Physical Therapy Association in the Auditorium of Temple University Hospital on Thursday evening, May 2nd, 1957.

The Rector will give the final of three lectures on Sacramental Healing at the Interdenominational Prayer Group in Washington on May 17th.

Mary Light of the Canada Guild of Health will speak in St. Stephen's on Thursday, May 16th, at 8 P.M.

CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting for the election of the Vestrymen will be held in the Community House at 12:30 P. M. on Sunday, May 12th. Refreshments will be served and a very interesting Missionary film will be shown. Every member and friend of St. Stephen's is urged to be present.

TITHING

"No man is whole-heartedly interested in some passing need to which he tosses his loose change; but he feels differently toward that good work to which he gives systematically. All Christians give naturally to some passing need, it is true. But for their own integrity and spiritual responsibility it is necessary for them to plan to put a certain amount in God's work and to give careful thought to placing it wisely. This is not so much because God needs their help, as it is that they need to realize their own part in His great plan."—M. M. S.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation pledges toward the Diocesan Capital Funds Campaign from: Mr. and Mrs. August Albers.

Also the Bulletin subscription of Miss Mary E. Gilbert.

The Diocesan United Thank Offering Service will be held in St. Peter's Church, Glenside, on May 20th, at 10:30 A.M. Any woman of the parish who would like to make an offering to be included in the Diocesan Presentation may do so by sending it to Mrs. Wilson Leithead, our Parish Custodian, at the Church Office, before May 20th.

THE SILENT MEDITATION: In a specific sense sonship with God depends upon accepting Christ. The indwelling Spirit enables us to come into the possession of a power that brings triumphs over the temptations of life. With God we are always able. We can do all things through Him. Forgive us, O Master, whenever we have resisted Thy gracious invitations to us. When Thou dost approach us in the moments of this day, grant us receptive hearts. Thou art anxious to come into our hearts to become a living reality, a vital power. Amen.

BELONGING

Sooner or later each of us must face the great question of "belonging." Do I own myself? Do I have a quit claim deed to use my life as if it were my sole possession? Every maturing character soon begins to find the answer, and a great deal of their time and strength belongs to other people: to their own family, their friends, their Church, their Lodge, their community, their nation, their world. One sure sign of growing up is this dawning sense of responsibility. And St. Paul said, "Ye are not your own."

Then, one day, we face that deeper "belonging." Like Moses in his dream about the burning bush, we hear God bidding us to do some hard job. God told Moses to go back to his enslaved countrymen and "bring them forth out of Egypt." And Moses argues, "Oh, My Lord, I am not eloquent, but am slow of speech and of a slow tongue." But the firm, sure voice of God returns, "Who hath made man's mouth? Now, therefore, go, and I will be with your month. . . . Go!" Moses wiggles and squirms, and tries to escape God's loving reach. (You may remember the Negro preacher who said, "Young man, young man, your arm's too short to box with God!") But at last he sees the truth. He sees that he belongs to the God who made him, and knows how to use him, just as the violin belongs in the swift fingers of a Fritz Kreisler, as the scalpel belongs in the sensitive hand of a great surgeon. So our lives belong in the wise hand of God; for only thus can we fulfill our destiny on earth.

Once a man says "Yes" to God's bidding, he begins to find the fullness of joy. To know that God is using you for His ends is that deep peace of heart that passeth all understanding. Young Dr. Wilfred Grenfeld, as a result of hearing Dwight L. Moody speak, put his medical into the hands of God. Fourteen years after his conversion, Dr. Grenfeld for the first time met Mr. Moody face to face. He told the great evangelist about that night so long ago, and Mr. Moody quietly replied, "Good. What have you been doing since?" "Doing," replied Dr. Grenfeld. "Well, I've been living and working among fishermen from the Bay of Biscay to the coast of Labrador, instead of staying in London." "Regret it?" "No, sir, I should say not!" And then Mr. Moody invited the young doctor to come that evening to speak for a few minutes to a great crowd, to tell them what had happened when he put his life into the hands of God, to whom he belonged. Life's true joys begin when we turn ourselves over to God—for He knows how to use us!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Since last September when I first wrote asking help through prayer, I have found an entirely meaning to prayer. Mostly brought about, I feel, because I was so tremendously impressed by the fact that a group of people, busy, like the rest of us, cared enough about the problems of others to establish a real program of dedicated intercession. There has hardly been a day since, that I haven't remembered St. Stephen's in my prayers and I sincerely hope that every effort you make in behalf of His Kingdom will be richly blessed. Actually we have so much to be grateful for. Mother continues to be well, and for every day that she is well and free of pain we are most thankful. But above all we seem to be free from the dreadful fear that haunted us at first. Spiritually I feel we have gained a lot of ground through prayer, and the initial boost of courage I received from St. Stephen's through your prayer group. Thank you.—B. N. (Oakland, California.)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in the Presbyterian Church of Mount Holly, N. J., on the evenings of May 19th-22nd, inclusive.

On Sunday, May 26th, at 11 A. M. we shall have our Annual Patriotic Service when our guests will be the Gold Star Mothers of America, The Military Order of the Purple Heart, The American Legion and other Veterans Organizations. The Massing of the Colors will be a feature of this inspiring Service.

The Choir of St. Stephen's Church will participate in a Special Musical Service tonight, May 19th, at 7:30 in All Saints Church, Norristown. Mr. Henzel will conduct the musical portions of the Service. Six Norristown Churches hold United Services every Sunday evening. This Musical Service brings to a close the sixth Season of the United Evening Services.

PRAYER IS POWER

If you are put to a severe spiritual test and feel the need to pray it through, perhaps these suggestions will help you:

(1) Praise God for giving you a test of your spiritual strength and thank Him for being the answer to all your needs.

(2) Ask God to take away every bit of resentment out of you for anything anyone may have done to you. Ask for His grace to forgive what you need to forgive.

(3) Ask God to help you see all the good there is in any difficult situation.

(4) Ask God for His eyes to help you see the matter as He sees it.

(5) Ask God to make all the pain in the situation bearable.

(6) Ask God to give you the strength to accept and use it.

(7) Ask God to show you every way you must change in order to solve this problem and give you gifts from His nature to solve the problem—wisdom, understanding, insight, meekness, humility, and poverty of spirit.

(8) Ask God to guide each step, moment by moment, in His way, not yours.

(9) Ask Him for enough grace in His love to melt all the bitterness and resentments in the situation and in any other person toward you so that together you may be united with Him in Christian fellowship and bring your problem before God for His solution.

(10) Ask God to give you His ears with which to hear your answer.

After each prayer, wait in silence and meditation, contemplating the meaning of Jesus Christ in your life. Do nothing, no matter how long it takes of your time, until you do get your answer. Simply reflect more and more upon His wisdom and glory and the beauty of His life lived within you, believing that He can do all things, even the impossible in you.

The Prelude: Choral Prelude on "O Quanta Qualia" ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Lord is the Almighty Victor because He conquered sin and death by His death and resurrection. Because of His victories, He promised us victory over sin and death. As He overcame, we also can overcome and enjoy His fellowship eternally. Dear Lord, so often we grovel in the dust defeated by our doubts, fears, anxieties, and cares. Raise us up to a life of victorious faith in Thee by Thy great power. Amen.

PROFILES IN COURAGE

As Memorial Day comes again, most of us will be thinking long thoughts of the bitter Civil War struggle over slavery; and even longer thoughts over the present day struggle over integration. There is no doubt as to the ultimate outcome of today's struggle, any more than there was over the outcome of the slavery conflict. But there is a big question whether this will be a very harsh and bitter struggle, or not. The amount of suffering and night mare will depend on whether people will listen to Jesus, or to pride and harsh judgement in the settlement of the conflict. Jesus said, "Judge not!"

For instance, I caught myself lifting an eyebrow and indignantly protesting, "Why, that southern State is actually defying the law of the land!" I found friends as shocked and outraged as I was. Then one evening I read, in Senator Kennedy's fascinating "Profiles in Courage" about the Fugitive Slave Law passed by Congress in Washington before the Civil War. That law required that any citizen who discovered a fugitive slave must turn him over to the authorities. And I read further how Massachusetts passed a law saying that it was illegal in Massachusetts to obey that law of the land. My first instinct was to defend that defiant old Law of Massachusetts—until I suddenly realized that this is exactly what some southern States are doing today. They may not be any more right than Massachusetts was—but I begin to understand how they can do it. And I hear an inner voice of authority saying to me and all southerners, "Judge not, that ye be not judged!"

And another lesson "Profiles in Courage" taught me—of the heroic men in the south who sacrificed their careers in order to reconcile the North and the South to restore understanding and good will. I'd thought that only Abraham Lincoln stood nobly for reconciliation, for "charity towards all." But Senator Kennedy turns the light on other heroes who, in the Spirit of Jesus, chose to stand for the unpopular and eternal truth, rather than the popularity of pleasing their constituents. It was the rough but courageous Sam Houston who came to a political death as black as Calvary because he declared, "I know neither North nor South. I know only The Union!" It was a fearless Southern Senator, Henderson, who introduced the 13th Amendment, abolishing slavery, because he believed that it would pass only if sponsored by a slave-state Senator. Some Northern people have been heard to say hard things about the State of Mississippi lately, but it may well be that they never heard of Senator Lamar of that State. When the Northern abolishionist Sumner died in 1874, it was the great-hearted Lamar who rose in the Senate and delivered a magnificent tribute to Sumner, the courageous yet harsh, unrelenting foe of slavery. Sumner's name was still like a red rag to a bull, in the South, in those days; but Lamar recognized his greatness, and to his hushed audience he revealed that Charles Sumner before he died "believed that all occasion for strife and distrust between the North and South had passed away." And the Senator from Mississippi closed with something that sounds like Jesus' teaching, "My countrymen, know each other, and you will love each other." Houston and Lamar and Henderson sacrificed their political careers for the reconciliation of North and South. So I say, to Northern friends especially, "Thank God for those men, and when we are tempted to hasty and shallow condemnation today, "Judge not, that ye be not judged!"

Actually, the Christian solution of this present struggle will be hastened only by deep-down disciplined Spirit of Christ. Where men depend on love which rises above color, on non-violence which patiently stands for the right, on humility which refuses to pass judgement on others—there you will find those who stand at the side of Jesus Christ. God help each one of us to stand where He most needs us.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It is with deep gratitude that I write to you. My name has been on your Prayer List since January — Rheumatoid arthritis. I am happy to report my steady improvement. The sedimentation rate which was in the 40's is now 12; the blood count which was less than 80 is now 94. The cords, tendons, muscles, joints, are much more free and I do not have the hurt and tenderness, or stiffness I once experienced. I'm in my office five days a week and find I do my work much more easily. I know these are all outer expressions of an inner working and I am happy in the sustained consciousness of one-ness with God. A deepening spiritual understanding and awareness. I give grateful thanks for the perfection now in process of coming forth into expression. With deep appreciation for you and your Prayer Group, I thank you. Mrs. C.M.B. (Washington, D.C.)

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, Parish Custodian of the United Thank Offering, reports that 135 women of the parish contributed $323.53 towards the Spring In-Gathering of the Blue Boxes. This is the largest number ever to participate in this project, viz., some 53 over the previous high number.

ST. STEPHEN'S In The News

The June issue of the Readers' Digest carries an article about St. Stephen's written by the Senior Editor, Stanley High. Some 79 Newspapers throughout the country carried the Rector's article on "God's Healing" in the daily popular Lenten Guidpost Series. Dr. Norman V. Peale, in his new book "Stay Alive All Your Life" refers to our Healing Ministry here in St. Stephen's.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation pledge towards the Diocesan Capital Funds Campaign from Miss Theresa E. King.

The Prelude: Prayer Of Christ ..... Messiaen

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Have I been so long time with you and yet hast thou not known Me?" It is not always easy to see God in Christ. Even long acquaintanceship and familiarity with the Gospel may blur our vision. We need a new revelation, a fresh approach every day, to behold the brightness of His Glory. Lord, give us the grace of recognition. May we see Thee in every experience of our lives, no matter if the sun shines brightly on our path or if the clouds of sorrow hang over it. May we never doubt Thy Presence as a living Saviour. Amen.

LET CHRIST INTO YOUR PRAYING

If you are in the Grand Central Station in New York City on any Monday, Wednesday or Friday, a little before Noon, go to the gate of Track 13. At the stroke of Noon, Red Cap porter No. 42 will appear, and several others along with him. He will unlock the gate—follow them into a vacant coach, and you'll find yourself in a most interesting Prayer Meeting. Ralston Crosby Young (Red Cap No. 42) has been holding this Meeting since 1944, and countless people have, in that dingy day coach, learned how to pray. In "Guideposts" Len Lesurd tells a story of how Mr. Johnson learned his lesson. He had not discovered that real praying must have Christ's Spirit in it—we are getting ahead of our story. Let Red Cap No. 42 tell it:

"Take Mr. Johnson who was here today. He had a brother who was very sick. Hearing of our Track 13 Prayer Fellowship, he came one day simply to pray for his brother. When he told us about his brother, we all prayed for him too. Then he returned a second time, and a third. Finally, he told us that he believed that our prayers were doing more good than anything else to help pull his brother through. We felt wonderful about it. Mr. Johnson's faith in his brother's eventual recovery grew with each visit. For a time it did seem that his brother would recover. Then suddenly he died. As far as Mr. Johnson was concerned, that did it. He was through with us—and worse—with God. He figured that God had let him down. I felt very bad. It was just one of those things very hard to understand and explain. Mr. Johnson was a fine man, but his hurt was more than he could take at that time.

"This all happened over a year ago. We didn't see Mr. Johnson again as the months went by, but we never forgot him in our prayers. Several weeks ago I was in a particularly low mood. Troubles seemed to be ganging up on me from all sides. I guess the Lord decided one Friday that I needed a special lift. That noon when I came to track 13, there was Mr. Johnson. He didn't have to tell me why he had finally come back. I knew he would some day. He had found out that living without God is living without hope or happiness. 'Ralston,' Mr. Johnson said to me, 'I suddenly realized that all along I had been asking God to give me something. I had never once tried to give something to Him in return. You just can't deal with God that way.'"

We must let Christ into our praying, that He may cleanse it of selfishness, and make it an offering of ourselves to Him in answering love. Study the New Testament and see that the Master taught us to pray, "Thy will be done . . . give us . . . forgive us . . . deliver us . . ." but never a word about "me." Learn to pray in that spirit, the Christ-way, and learn the joy and peace which comes from prayer that God can answer!

TO A CHRISTIAN GENTLEMAN

There are those who grow old gracefully and we love to have them with us, and there are those who become crotchety and critical in their advancing years and try our patience. Dr. Herbert Old was one of those who grew old gracefully and we remember him for his kindly ways, his sincerity, his fairness, honesty and ever-present thoughtfulness towards others. His sudden promotion to the high life on Friday, May 24th, when he was sitting at the speaker's table at his college reunion could not have been more fitting. He was devoted to the University of Virginia and everything connected with it, and he was among kindred souls.

During these fifteen years I have been Rector of St. Stephen's, I have come to know and love Herbert Old, not only for his many virtues for which other friends knew him, but for his devotion and loyalty to his Lord, his Church and to his Rector. He was a true friend, a Christian and a gentleman in every sense of the word. Dr. Old stood out as the "Elder Statesman" of the Church. He has served as Vestryman of St. Stephen's and member of the Board of Burd School for thirty-seven years. He has served under three Rectors in the capacity of Rector's Warden for some twenty-two years. He was gracious in spirit, friendly in conversation, and sincere in endeavor. The entire Church mourns the passing of Herbert Old.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry.

Dear Dr. Price:—I attended your healing service recently. I have had a most aggravated case of sinus—the specialist I attended aided me. However, this past week and for many weeks my nose has been a constant source of irritation to me. I had absolute faith my trouble would clear up with your healing service. It did. It has not bothered me since. To me the healing service is the most thrilling Church Service I have ever attended. With faith, so many ill around me, and knowing many will be blessed. K. B. (Sands Point, N. Y.)

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, tonight, and on Monday he will speak at an all day's Conference of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, in Norfolk, Virginia. On Tuesday, June 4th, he will conduct healing services in the Church of The Advent, Norfolk, at 10 A. M. and 7:30 P. M., and speak to the Prayer Group in the Church of the Epiphany at 3 P. M.

We appreciate these Bulletin subscriptions, recently received: Theresa King, Nan E. Pincin, and Rev. Joseph L. Slagg.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

Many of our parishioners are using the plan suggested by the Rector to read the entire Bible through in two and a half years. Those who have started the plan in December, 1955, have now read 42 Books. Those who attend the services on June 2nd will receive a booklet containing the Book of Exodus.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Upon being asked to perform some service our first question often is, "What shall it profit me?" The Apostle Paul reminds us that godliness inevitably brings profit. In this world it assures peace, happiness, and contentment; in the world to come the greatest of all profits, life eternal. Dear Lord, make us conscious that to fashion our lives after the Lord is our most glorious task. Help us to overcome the temptations of this day and to walk in the Master's footsteps, ever keeping in mind our ultimate goal, eternity. Amen.

SONGS AT MIDNIGHT

Harold W. Ruopp in his life-giving little book, "Songs At Midnight," recalls how Paul and Silas were put into prison — not for some crime, but because they had healed a slave-girl of her queer psychic powers. The two must have been discouraged and unhappy at first; but what did they do? — "At midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God . . ." Ruopp's little book is filled with shining moments from the lives of hard-pressed Christians who, at their midnight, sang!

He tells of a singer, whom he calls Lotta, though that was not her real name. For more than thirty years she has been sitting in a wheel-chair, the victim of a disorder that has rendered her legs almost useless. Her whole world consists of four downstairs rooms, and, on rare occasions, the front porch of her home. She has endured much physical pain, but what hurt her most, was the frustration of her high-hearted plans for a singing career, and the crumbling of her cherished dreams. Her midnights have been without number, and very dark; but they have been matched by the persistence of her songs. She says, "Though there have been long periods of darkness, and many of them, I shall not give up. I know there is One who has been watching over me all these years, and He has given me the courage to hold on. Life has meaning; and life has purpose — even for me." The Light of the World walked with her through her midnight, so she sang.

Throughout the pages of this little book walks a living procession of famous people and unknown saints — John Huss, David Livingstone, Father Damien, Robert Louis Stevenson, Helen Keller, Kagawa, E. Stanley Jones, Catherine Mansfield, Edith Cavell, Sir Robert Scott, a passenger on a West-bound express train, a technician, an elderly Brookline woman. Every one of them was well acquainted with the midnight of the soul; and when they faced that dark hour, like Paul and Silas, they lifted up their hearts and sang with child-like confidence, praising the God who stands by His children in dark places.

Ruopp calls your attention to the victorious words at the end of Acts 16:25 — "And the other prisoners heard them!" The other people locked into that dungeon heard the praise-filled voices of Paul and Silas, and waked up to the fact that it is possible to sing at midnight. They learned that there is a God who illuminates our midnight so that we know that they are nearer to the dawn and the full light of the morning. So the song you sing out of your midnight will be heard by other victims who may be imprisoned by sickness, fear, some handicap of body or spirit, or by the hardness of others. They will find — as you have found — that no misfortune can keep your spirit in prison. Circumstances can hold your body in a narrow place; but, if you know God is in your heart, your spirit will be free, and it will sing to all imprisoned souls in their midnight, just as the voice of Jesus Christ sings to all of us out of the midnight of His Cross.

Right now, is there darkness in your heart? Then listen to Paul and Silas — singing at midnight!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Such wonderful news about the Bruton baby! Your Fellowship of Prayer have been praying for the child's healing and the mother's decision to put the child in an institution. After a week's watching the baby, the doctors say he is now perfectly normal. The baby had a cyst on the brain and it was thought the brain was destroyed. However, they drained the cyst and found that the cavity had sealed itself off and the brain was uninjured. So, if no further liquid seeps through this child is healed. It is a miracle; we are all so grateful to God and to you and your Prayer Group. The young mother just missed having a breakdown. May God bless you all. L. H. (Louisville, Kentucky.)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, June 9th (8 P.M.), June 12th, inclusive.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship fo the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

The Prelude: God Be Merciful Unto Me..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: God speaks to us not only in Holy Writ but also through the wonderful book of nature. In this He reveals His power and His beauty. It is true that changes and decay at times seem to mar this beauty. But even out of change and decay there comes new beauty to glorify the Creator. The beauty of God expresses itself in the beauty of His handiwork. O Lord, our God, Who hast made Thy name excellent in all the earth and Who hast set Thy glory above the heavens, open our eyes to behold the expression of Thy glory in the beauty of nature. Amen.

Jubilate Deo, Hymnal 646 ..... Chant

Anthem—"Immortal, Invisible" ..... Thiman

Immortal, invisible, God only wise, in light inaccessible hid from our eyes; Most blessed, most glorious, the Ancient of Days; Almighty, Victorious, Thy great name we praise. Unresting, unhasting, and silent as light, not wanting, not wasting, Thou rulest in might; Thy justice like mountains high soaring above, Thy clouds which are fountains of goodness and love. To all, life Thou givest, to both great and small; in all life Thou livest, the true Life of all. We blossom and flourish as leaves on the tree, and wither and perish; but nought changeth Thee. Great Father of glory, pure Father of Light, Thine angels adore Thee, all veiling their sight; all laud we would render, O help us to see 'Tis only the splendor of Light hideth Thee. Amen.

GOD'S LOVE

Jim Bickford was a master of the ax and a deeply religious man. He lived in Birch Intervale in New Hampshire, in the last decades of the 19th Century, and was widely respected, both for his fabulous skill with his ax, and for his deep down, everyday Christian faith. He practiced his faith, and thought about it, between Sundays and Prayer Meetings.

One day Jim's pigs broke out, and they gave him a peck of trouble. He knew where they belonged, where they were safest—and they seemed bound to go always in the opposite direction. All the time he was struggling with them, Jim was thinking of Jesus' teaching, especially about the Gadarene Swine. Finally he herded them back, only to have them break out again. He thought a lot of those pigs, so once more he painstakingly, patiently herded them back; still thinking, and saying his prayers. That night he stood up in Prayer Meeting, and testified. I do not know his exact words, but I believe that at last he knew how God feels about His people—"How oft would I have gathered them . . . " He thought of those pigs, Jim did, and he declared, "The devil was in those swine!" At last he truly understood God's feeling about His children's stubborn resistance against his loving will for them. I'm sure that those who listened to Jim's testimony in the Wonalancet Chapel that night never forgot it; and opened their hearts to let God draw them home.

Jesus met the same evil spirit of stubbornness in Peter. He even said to Peter that Satan (the king of willfulness) wanted to claim him; rule Peter with his determined resistance to God. And then, I think, Jesus smiled lovingly at Peter and continued, "But I have prayed for you, that your faith may not fail." In other words, Jesus set Himself, with all His victorious power, on the side of sincere, wavering Peter, to help settle him on God's side. He prayed for Peter—He opened the channels to God's mighty power to overcome the self-devil in him. In the same way Jesus prays for you, and sets Himself lovingly, powerfully, on your side in the battle; that God's might may enable you to overcome the self-devil in you, and free you to carry out God's purposes. Peter still let Jesus down. He still failed in the crisis. But, each time, he must have remembered that Jesus was on his side, ready to lead the way to victorious peace of heart. And the day came when he got tired of his pig-like stubbornness which caused so much trouble to himself and others. Jesus had prayed, "When you have turned again, strengthen your brethren"; and Peter did, and, forever after, they called him the Rock, firm with a steadfastness of God.

God loves you; and always will. Perhaps you have treated God as Jim Bickford's pigs treated him; or as Peter treated Jesus. God still loves you, and would draw you home into His purposes, into His plan for your life. If you will take time now for silent prayer and listening, you will feel the drawing power of that love; and believe that you will no longer want to resist it.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I first wrote you on March 14th, and was greatly encouraged about my "Bronchial asthma" condition when you answered on March 18th, stating your Prayer Fellowship of 97 persons would remember me in the daily chain of prayers. From that time on I steadily improved, until today, May 30th, I am greatly renewed in strength and my old-time enthusiasm and interest in life. The attacks now are mild and, with the aid of prayer, affirmations and less medicine, they pass quickly. I have been to two noon Healing Services and am planning to attend next Thursday.

THE GIDEONS

We are privileged to have Mr. Charles Lewis, President of the Philadelphia Chapter of the Gideons, International Bible Society, speak to us, Sunday morning from the chancel steps on the work of this non-sectarian arm of the Church. This Society of businessmen are carrying out a broad ministry which no single denomination could undertake. This is the Society that places Bibles in hotel guest rooms, schools, penal institutions, hospitals, planes, ocean liners, etc.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation pledges towards the Diocesan Campaign for Capital Funds from the Rev. & Mrs. George Bishop.

The Annual Conference of the Province of Washington will be held at Hood College, Frederick, Maryland, from June 16th to 22nd. The Theme of this year's Conference is "God's Revelation in History." The leader will be the Rev. Dr. James Muilenburg, Professor of Old Testament at Union Theological Seminary, New York, and the Rev. Theodore P. Ferris, Rector of Trinity Church Boston, will serve as Chaplain. These men will be assisted by a distinguished faculty of leaders of the Church in the program which includes discussion groups, interest groups, music-evening programs, recreation, and worship. The Rector is privileged to conduct a course in Spiritual Healing during the Conference.

The Annual Burd School Day and Commencement will be held at 4226 Baltimore Ave., on Saturday, June 22nd at 2:30 P. M. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Prelude: Andante ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Read these words slowly and think what they mean: "Forgiving, Gracious, Merciful, Patient and Kind." They describe God's attitude toward us. He expects us who know that we will not be forsaken by Him; to temper our attitudes toward others with the same words. O God, we thank Thee for Thy great mercy toward us. Help us, when things are not quite right in our lives and we are tempted to hurt our loved ones and neighbors. Teach us to forgive those who have wronged us. Let us be gracious and patient and kind. MY NAME IS LEGION

Our world's sickness is an old one—too many voices in every man's heart. We allow them to fight within us—fear against courage, greed against love, satan against God. That was the trouble with a mad man whom Jesus met—"My name is legion—for we are many." That is a condition of hosts of us, until one day when we see the Christ and the Cross, crucified by us. And that is too much for us. We have to let Him take command, and He casts out the unholy voices, and makes us free at last—free to hear and obey all that is high and holy.

Hans Habe, a Hungarian, had such an experience. Hating all that the Nazi's stood for, he escaped from Hungary, and enlisted in the French Army. But, even there, he found discord and confusion, "many voices." They were raked daily by enemy bombers; and for days they received no provisions. One day, determined to get away from this scene of horror, he slipped into the ruined village of Norrval where the little Church stood practically untouched by war. He went in, and knelt before a figure of Christ clothed in blue.

"A great silence lay over the Chapel. The war seemed far away. I looked up at the Altar. Behind a figure of Christ stood a simple Crucifix. And, as I looked up to the Crucified Christ, I felt for the first the profound symbol of the Cross—the Lord's arms nailed to the Cross, arms outstretched in compassion. In his deepest suffering He was ready to receive the sorrows of mankind. In no other posture could they have killed Him—only with open arms, clasping the world in His bleeding, tortured hands. Even in death He kept the power to choose, so He died upright, His arms outspread. "Suffer the little children to come unto Me!" Above the Altar the Lord's face seemed to smile. It was as though He descended from His pedestal and stretched forth His arms to help me. I stepped closer to the Altar. I was like the man possessed of an unclean spirit who dwelt in the tombs. And when the Lord asked me, "What is thy name?" I replied, "My name is legion—for we are many."

Since that first man who confessed that his name was Legion, the Lord has saved hosts with that name—by winning them to listen to but one voice in their hearts—His own!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Last year I wrote to you for prayers for my mother who has multiple sclerosis. She was in the hospital at that time and from there went to a Nursing Home for two months. She is now in her own home and pretty much taking care of herself. She is not completely recovered as yet but is so much improved. It is so good to know that more and more people are getting help through prayer and that there is definite help for so-called incurable cases. Our great thanks to you and your Prayer Fellowship. E. B. deL. (North Marshfield, Mass.)

The Rector has been receiving an average of two thousand letters a week since the middle of May from readers of the Reader's Digest, requesting prayer-help from our Prayer Fellowship.

SUMMER SERVICES

During August, while the Rector is vacationing in Kennebunkport, Maine, the Sunday Services will be under the direction of the Rev. George E. Boswell, Rector of St. James' Church in Bristol, Pa. The Weekday services in August will be conducted by the Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

During July and August the weekday services will be held on Wednesdays at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., and on Fridays at 12:30 P. M. The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission at the eleven O'Clock Service on the four Sundays in July.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

St. Stephen's will be host to the International Conference of the Order of St. Luke, September 15th to 18th. The Rector is the Warden of the Order of St. Luke, which is a non-monastic Order for those within the Church who feel impelled to make the ministry of healing a part of their vocation. The Order embraces two classes of members: (1) Clergy members, including Bishops and Clergy who desire to promote the healing ministry as a regular part of the pastoral office; in the field of evangelism through parochial missions with an emphasis on healing; and by Clergy functioning as hospital Chaplains. (2) Lay Members, including those conscious of a special vocation or aptitude in this ministry and desirous of developing their talent, such as physicians, surgeons, psychiatrists, nurses, others who minister to the sick, and those able to make special contribution to the healing ministry.

The Rev. Edward Winckley of South Africa, and an associate Warden of the Order of St. Luke will be our headliner. Mrs. Agnes Sanford, author of "The Healing Light" and other books on spiritual healing, will speak. Mrs. Ethel Banks of San Diego, California, Editor of "Sharing" Magazine, and Secretary of the St. Luke Press, will be a speaker. Other distinguished leaders in the field of Spiritual Therapy will speak; such as The Rev. Dr. Crawford Brown, San Gabriel, California, the Rev. Delmar Markle of Bridgeport, Connecticut, the Rev. Laurence Blackburn of Cleveland, the Rev. Charles Sumners of Austin, Texas, Dorcas and Gail Kurtz, Missioners, Mary Welsh of Texas, Mary Light of Vancouver, Helen Shoemaker of Pittsburgh, Dr. Albert Reissner, Psychiatrist, of Brooklyn.

Anyone interested in the Ministry of Spiritual Healing is welcome to attend the three sessions each day of the Conference.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship fo the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

10:45 A. M.—You are invited to share with us these 15 minutes of quiet personal prayer and meditation. You will help us prepare for the Service which follows if you use these moments of silence in adoration of the Blessed Trinity, meditation upon some hymn or Scripture, intercessions for the Ministers, your fellow worshipers and the world.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

The Prelude:

THE SILENT MEDITATION: The stream of life flows swiftly on. Our days are quickly spent. Happy childhood days and the carefree days of youth speedily fade into life's noon. Then comes the mellow afternoon, when the golden sun melts into lovely eventide. Should God's mercy spare us for the eventide of life, there will be light for the trusting child of God. Loving Father, who carest for Thy children throughout their entire journey of life, grant that light may be ours at eventide. We can peacefully depart from these scenes if our eyes behold Thy salvation. Amen.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Pilate was puzzled. Here, before him, was a young man who appeared to be a good citizen, and no criminal at all. Nevertheless, the Jews accused Him of being a dangerous character, aspiring to be a king. So Pilate, his mind torn and divided, tried to find out from Jesus what His purpose was, and kept asking questions until Jesus looked him straight in the eye, answering, "For this I was born, and for this I am come into the world, to bear witness to the truth."

Jesus knew the purpose for which His Father sent Him in the world. He was to witness to men the truth about God, the truth about mankind. And He died to make clear the greatest truth—that God is Love.

Have you stopped lately to consider why God put you into the world? A great many people just drudge along, with no thought of a meaningful purpose for their lives. Perhaps you feel heavy-hearted, sluggish—because your days are aimless. Then remember that God has a purpose for every life He sets on earth. And, each morning, ask in your prayers what His purpose is for you this day. If you are an invalid, a shut-in, He counts on your prayers, desiring to use you as a channel for His Love and peace. If you are a lonely individual, it may be that He means you to minister to other lonely people, out of your spare time and energy. If you are a mother, He has entrusted to you young lives to mold into His ways, to be His messengers. If you are hard-pressed by life, by temptation, by self-pity, He may be needing you as a witness to His power to overcome the toughest obstacles. Just keep praying, and listening, until you begin to see His purpose for today, His purpose for your whole life. And then, if you will work for that purpose every day, seeking to serve God's ends, you will find the deep happiness that nothing can take from you.

There is a story of the building of St. Paul's Cathedral in London—that wonderful Temple designed by Sir Christopher Wren. A visitor, wandering about, found one workman glumly pounding away with mattel and chisel, with a dreary unlightened face. So the visitor asked, "What are you doing?" And the workman grunted in reply, "Chipping stone." All his prison, narrow mind could see was the one stone to be shaped—a very tiny purpose. The visitor walked on and found another man doing the same thing, but this man worked with feverish haste, as his mallet drove the chisel. ''What are you doing?" asked the visitor. "Earning 4 shillings a day," snapped the anxious workman. And that was the limit of his vision—his own small home. But the visitor kept on until he found another workman doing the same task; but this man worked with serenity, quiet contentment on his face, and a song on his lips as he hammered. "What are you doing?" The workman paused, and his eyes shone as he replied, "I'm helping Sir Christopher Wren to build a glorious Cathedral to the Glory of God." He had the same job as the two unhappy workmen, but he was working for God, so his heart sang, and his days were filled with joy!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price: I have been trying to find words to express my gratitude. Your letter, the healing literature, and the prayers of your devoted Fellowship have all given me a grasp on life which I needed so much. "The Healing of nervous disorders" made clear what many college courses in psychology did not do. I follow the "Spiritual Daily Dozen" faithfully. I am now a new person, for which I thank God, and the Prayer Fellowship. M. H. M. (Palo Alto, California)

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, on July 7th at 7:30 P. M. He will conduct a two-day Retreat at Kirkridge Retreat Center in the Poconos, July 9th and 10th. He will preach in the Strand Theatre, Ocean City, on July 21st at 7:30 P. M.

LAST ISSUE

This is the last issue of St. Stephen's Bulletin until September. It is not published in July and August.

The regular Sunday Services, 9 A. M., 11 A. M., and 7:30 P. M., will continue throughout the summer.

The Wednesday Noon-day Preaching Service and the 5:30 P. M. Communion Services will continue, as well as the Communion Services on Fridays at 12:30 P. M.

HEALING MISSION

On the four Sunday mornings in July, the Rector will conduct a Mission of Spiritual Healing. The Mission, of course, is for all—not just for the sick. Here is a special opportunity for realizing the power of God in your life. Begin now to make your prayers in preparation for this Mission, and come to the services and join with many others who will kneel at the Altar Rail to talk with God about their problems. The Mission is a demonstration of the Gospel in action. The Public is cordially invited.

This summer . . . the Church will be here, will you? If not, your filling your envelopes in advance . . . will be greatly appreciated.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

The Book of Leviticus and the Book of Numbers will be the July and August assignments in our endeavor to read together the various books of the Bible. This will then count up to 48 books we have read together as a Parish.

Memorial flowers to beautify our Altar and glorify God's praises during July and August will be presented on the various Sundays as follows:

July 7th—Mrs. Harry J. Hauger, in memory of her parents
King's Daughters, in memory of Mrs. Vanderslice
July 14th—Mr. David Magee, in memory of his wife
July 17th—The Katharine Kennedy Fund, in memory of Margaret Quigley Fleischer
July 21st—The Mary McEwen Fund, in memory of son, Walter McEwen
July 28th—Mr. James K. Lewis, in memory of his family
August 4th—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lyster, in memory of Mrs. George W. Lyster
August 11th—Mrs. George Sinnamon, in memory of her mother
August 18th—Rev. Alfred W. Price, in memory of his father
Mr. Samuel Ellinger, in memory of Katherine H. Lewis
August 25th—Mrs. Fannie Sackett, in memory of Miss Matilda Maulsby

The Prelude: Invocation ..... Dallier

THE SILENT MEDITATION: We, too, would now make this same declaration of an unbroken succession of Diving deliverance and with Samuel give our testimony to the enduring faithfulness and mercy of our Lord. "He who hath helped thee hitherto will help thee all thy journey through." Dear Lord, whatever hath befallen us by the way of trial and sorrow, we have never lost confidence in Thee, even though in our weakness we would have had it some other way. Give us ever the assurance that all things work together for good unto those who love Thee. Amen.

THE BEST CHANCE FOR PEACE

One of the mightiest problems of our day is to discover which weapons are the strongest and the most effective, which give us the best chance for peace. Conscientious governments work frantically to invent yet more powerful atomic weapons. At the same time, knowing that there can be no true peace in the world without great good will, they are working with might and main for world friendship. As Christians, we turn to the teachings of Jesus.

He speaks of the old teaching that we should love our neighbors and hate our enemies; and adds, "But I say unto you, 'Love your enemies and pray for them that persecute you!'" As His followers, we cannot very well say, "Master, you are not very practical!" Can we? We must pay heed to Him; and to His teaching that the only way to get rid of an enemy is to make a friend of him; that the only effective weapon against hate is love; that true peace can be won only through invincible loving kindness.

The strongest evidence for the weapon of love is the witness of those who have tried it, especially under tough circumstances. In the first Russian revolution, in 1905, the revolutionists swept through the country, burning and killing. The man who tells this experience was a small boy then, living with his family in a little colony of Mennonite Christians in Southern Russia. One day, he relates, a neighbor came running to his father, shouting, "My sons and I have guns, so we will be able to defend ourselves. What will you do?" "We have no arms in the house," replied the boy's father calmly. "I do not believe in that kind of defence. There is no certainty in it." The next day the sad news came that his neighbor and his family had been killed by the rebels. The story goes on:

"It seemed that our home would come next. We were all terribly afraid, except my father. At noon he bade my mother prepare a good rich supper, as he was expecting company—a dozen guests. And then, he said, 'Prepare couches for them.' Then he disappeared. We could not find him anywhere until, at last, I discovered him when I looked through the key hole of a door—he was kneeling and praying. Evening came, and we gathered about mother, in the one room, fearful. Then we heard it—the heavy steps. And then we saw them coming around the corner, awful looking, twelve men with black, mean faces, with torn clothes and the blood-stained sticks in their hands. 'Hands up and surrender!' shouted a man who seemed to be the leader, in a gross voice. We saw our father going out, fearlessly approaching the wild-looking leader, inviting them, 'Come in. Everything that is ours is yours. But first come in and refresh yourselves. Supper is ready.' One sullen rebel grumbled, 'Let's not be cheated by this chap—we came to kill him—let's not eat with him.' We began to despair. 'I know,' said my father. 'Just come in and eat first. Then do whatever you think is right to do.' Hesitatingly they followed my father. They sat down and ate with growing enthusiasm. We wondered what they would do next. When they had finished, my father encouraged them kindly—'Your beds are prepared in the next room—you must need a good rest.' They really did go to sleep after supper. Then father came to us; and we all managed some sleep in the one room together. Early in the morning we heard them stirring, and fear overwhelmed us again. The door opened and the wild hairy head of the leader appeared to us smiling, and saying, 'We have to go. We came to kill you; but we can't!' And so they went away, in peace."

Did anyone say that Jesus is not practical?

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price: My heart's love and gratitude go out to you and the members of the Prayer Fellowship for the prayers for my sister, Florence, of Bakersfield, California. I asked you for your prayers a month ago when she seemed to be passing on at any moment. She had a stroke, heart trouble, diabetes, and other complications. Quite suddenly, about two weeks ago, she rallied and has been improving daily. She is now sitting up. Thank you, and God bless you. N. P. (Fresno, Calif.)

Pre-Marital Promises

The following item appeared recently in Dr. Kevin's column in the Philadelphia "Inquirer." "Superior Court Judge Charles H. House, of Bridgeport, Conn., last week ruled that pre-marital agreements by which non-Catholics promise to raise children as Catholics cannot be legally enforced in Connecticut."

This same matter was adjudicated in a Canadian Court some few weeks ago. That court, arriving at the same conclusion, stated that it is the privilege of parents to determine the religious training of their children after the birth of the children. We consider the arbitrary and intolerant spirit of the Roman Church in this business of demanding complete acquiescence on the part of the non-Roman Catholic party in a marriage to be a tyrannous abomination.

St. Stephen's now has two telephone lines. If you cannot reach us by WA 2-3807, call WA 2-0611.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening, September 1st, at 7:30 P. M.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

We are looking forward to the International Conference of the Order of St. Luke The Physician to be held in St. Stephen's Church on September 15th to 18th, inclusive. Everyone is invited and we expect a deep religious experience on the part of everyone who attends.

A Los Angeles Radio Program has informed us that 500 reprints of the Stanley High article in Reader's Digest about our work have been given out to their listeners.

Prelude: Lied ..... Vierne

THE SILENT MEDITATION: There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune, and sorrow unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Saviour help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence wherever we may be and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

Jubilate, Hymnal 645 ..... Chant

Anthem: God's Peace Is Peace Eternal ..... Grieg
God's peace is peace eternal, here discords all our joys displace; we wage a war infernal, and gentle mercy finds no place. Life is our time of trial now, before the Judge we all must bow. God, merciful and kind, will shield us, and from the evil set us free; He knoweth when to sin we yield us, the path we follow recklessly. He will the vilest soul release, who turns from sin to heaven's peace.

ESCAPE FROM TROUBLE

As a child I remember hearing of the "Will-O-the-wisp"—that light you could glimpse on the darkest night, and follow, through swamp and low land—and never grasp it! Jesus revealed to men the great secret that happiness is like that. Seek happiness for yourself, run after it—and it is always just out of your reach. Seek your own pleasure—and you will wallow in bogs of disappointment and frustration. Seek the happiness of others—and you will be joyful yourself!

Jesus taught this truth in words—and then He lived it in deeds so that people might see and believe. "Whosoever seeks to gain his life shall lose it; but whosoever loses his life shall save it." Jesus showed men how to "lose" their lives, in the needs of others, to pour out their love and strength into empty hearts. Week after week He lived thus, and the more He gave away of Himself, the richer He was in joy and peace, deep within Him. Finally, He gave His human life on the Cross, going through the bitter darkness of Calvary; and found resurrection to eternal life. It sounds fantastic—"Throw yourself away, and thus find yourself"; "Give all of yourself away, and be enriched!" But the fact is that it works out; and it always has.

In fact, Jesus' way is the only escape from trouble. Many people in sorrow or difficulty seek frantically for comfort from themselves; and only sink deeper into the bond of misery. But Hazel Dannecker tells of a girl who was wiser than that, who realized how practical Jesus' teaching is—"During a long wait in Cincinnati's Union Station, I saw an attractive girl barely in her teens approach a tired young mother with two fretful babies and ask with a friendly smile, 'May I look after your children while you rest for a while?'" For nearly an hour the girl entertained the children, then helped the mother to the train. I watched her assist three other harrassed mothers, efficiently and tenderly. Finally, during an idle interval, I inquired if she were waiting for a train. "No," she said. "I live nearby with my aunt and haven't anything to do after school. You see"—and her voice broke—"There were five of us, and when we traveled, mother got so tired. Daddy was in the war. Mother died a few weeks ago. She always said I had a way with children. So I come over here and help tired mothers." She had made the life-changing discovery that losing yourself in the pains of weariness of others is the only royal road to joy!

Some people's faces are radiant—so much so that you rejoice to see them. These are the people who have learned Jesus' art of "Losing" themselves, forgetting themselves in their love and concern for the next person. I like to think that you are one of those rare people, and are passing on the secret to others.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I am so happy to tell you that the literature you sent me saved me from an operation which had been scheduled for July 2nd. I was under the care of a doctor who could see that I was suffering from an internal hernia. I read your beautiful prayers, committing some to memory and using them many times during the night. A miracle took place within my body. On my next visit to the clinic the doctors were surprised to find everything in proper place and no bulge anywhere. It took four more visits to the clinic before they decided there was no need for surgery. I shall always be grateful to my Heavenly Father in whom I have always trusted and shall always be thankful to you for your help. We are all Episcopalians.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

We are looking forward to the International Conference of the Order of St. Luke The Physician to be held in St. Stephen's Church on September 15th to 18th, inclusive. Everyone is invited and we expect a deep religious experience on the part of everyone who attends.

WELCOME

To young people coming to Philadelphia for school or college, to families moving into the city from other places, to residents of hotels who expect to be here only a brief time, the Parish, its Vestry and ministers extend a cordial welcome. The services on Sundays at convenient hours and of varied character, the open pews in a church which is always open, are all at your service.

On week-days, there are not only noon-day services with helpful messages, but there are many groups with many purposes meeting in our modern Community House. There is a place for YOU in one or more of them, whether you are young or old, man or woman, boy or girl, professional person or home-maker.

In the pews you will find a card which, signed and sent or left in the pew, will bring to you some one with full information.

The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship fo the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—Morning Prayer and Sermon. Rev. Edward Winckley

Prelude: Air ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Each day we experience moments when we would cry for help. Let us learn to direct our calls to God, being assured that He can help. But let us not only call upon Him in times of distress, but let us seek to have His constant benediction upon all our words and actions. Increase our faith, O God, so that we will always have the inward assurance that Thou wilt help us. Teach us to come to Thee in daily prayer. May we be assured of the guidance that will enable us to meet and overcome all things which distress our lives. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I shall not try to thank you and the 97 unselfish people who offer up their chain of prayers for the sick and afflicted, because mere thanks would be empty words. I waited more than a month to reply because I couldn't really believe the change that has taken place within me. Since you have started to pray for me, my anxiety has not overwhelmed me one time; I have a new peace in my heart that I can't quite explain; little irritations no longer compel me to be hurt or try to retaliate, and my home life has taken on new depths and meaning. My attitudes are becoming more rational and I am finding a new strength to remain quiet where I used to blurt out my feelings and often hurt others. I have a new understanding of God. Before, God meant only something or someone who would punish me if I didn't do this or that. Now I realize that God is Love, Strength, and my only Hope. It all seems so simple and beautiful that I am amazed that it never worked before. Your Booklets are of infinite help to me in meeting each day. I read them over and over and am practicing the procedures outlined in them. God bless you and your friends for your unselfish efforts on the behalf of others. Mrs. J. R. (Honolulu).

The Christian Century Magazine of August 28th has a four-page featured article about St. Stephen's Church, being the seventh in a series on "Creative Churches of America."

BLUC CASSOCK AND MOZETTA

The Rector is the happy recipient of a beautiful Blue Cassock and Mozetta presented to him by the members of the St. Stephen's Chapter of The Order of St. Luke The Physician. Dr. John Gayner Banks, the Founder of the O.S.L., wore a blue colored vestment, as this is the color symbolic of healing and the official color of our Order. The Rector is privileged to wear this vestment as the Warden of the O.S.L. and appreciates this most generous gift from beloved friends.

HEALING CONFERENCE

We extend a hearty welcome to the members of the Order of St. Luke The Physician and to the many interested people who are attending our four-day Conference on Spiritual Healing. We hope everyone will enter into the joy and inspiration of these days ahead. We are extremely indebted to the Leaders of this Conference. The Rev. Edward Winckley has come to us from Natal, South Africa. He is an Associate Warden of the O.S.L. We do appreciate the leadership of Mrs. Agnes Sanford who is so well known for her unique contribution to the Healing Ministry. To Mrs. Ethel T. Banks, whose most able editorship of "Sharing" Magazine over the years has made it the unquestioned leader in the whole field, we give a hearty welcome. To those who will lead in the Panel on Prayer, unquestioned leaders in the field of Spiritual Therapy: Mary Welsh, Dorcas Kurtz, Helen Shoemaker, Mary Light, Kay Hibbard, and to our other lecturers: Dr. Albert Reissner, Psychiatrist of Brooklyn; the Rev. Delmar Markle, of Bridgeport, Conn.; the Rev. Charles A. Sumners, of Texas; the Rev. Laurence Blackburn, of Cleveland; Canon Courteau, of Christ Church Cathedral, Louisville, Kentucky. We are indeed grateful for their presence and for their contributions they are prepared to make. To Mrs. Nelle Cook, who will be in charge of the "Books," and the many others whose contributions to this Conference are so important, we want to say, "Thank you."

TO OUR VISITORS

Members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the O.S.L., wearing their distinctive badge, will serve as ushers and they are prepared to be of help to our visitors in every way possible. They will have the registration cards, and name badges, the Supper Tickets, the information for those who wish to be inducted into the O.S.L. on Tuesday at 5 P. M., etc.

Most of the restaurants and eating places around the Church are closed on Sundays; for our out-of-town friends we would suggest Horn & Hardart's Cafeteria on Market Street, between 11th and 12th Streets, or H. & H. at 8th and Market, this one with waitress service; or the dining room at the Ben Franklin Hotel, 9th and Chestnut Streets.

THE REVERIE OF A DOWNTOWN CHURCH

I am a downtown Church. Some people rather pity me, for they think I am destined to grow weak and die. But they do not know me, or they would know better.

I have an honorable history. I was here more than a Century ago, and I will be here a Century hence. Long after neighborhoods have changed and good neighborhoods have deteriorated, and strong neighborhood Churches have become weak neighborhood Churches, I will continue to be strong.

For I am in the heart of the city, and my history is not to a section of the town, but to the entire city, for I reach out in every direction. My ministry touches every neighborhood, and it extends to all classes.

I am not provincial in my outlook. In me, the rich and the poor mingle in the fellowship of worship. Through me the poor are ennobled and enriched, and the rich are made generous and gentle.

I live to serve. I exist for others. This may be the reason why I continue to keep my strength through the years.

It is sometimes said that I am not so convenient to attend. But, who ever said that religion is to be a thing of convenience? If Pilgrims of Israel could travel the length of Palestine afoot to attend the special Temple Services at Jerusalem, surely the twenty minutes it requires to come to the heart of the city is not too much.

You come downtown to shop. You come downtown for your entertainment. Many of you come downtown to work. Is it more of a hardship to come downtown to worship?

You would not want me to die through your indifference, anymore than you would want your downtown Post Office, Courthouse and department stores to die.

I leave my future to you, for my place in the city depends upon your loyalty. I believe that I can count on you.

The Prelude: Prayer

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amid constant change and shifting standards, we we have one abiding hope, that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind thus far in its march upwards and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to realize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

MORE THAN CONQUERERS

St. Paul, as he writes to his friends in Rome, touches on a few of the unwelcome hardships of life which upset people—heart-break and physical suffering and peril. Like a trumpet he cries, "What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us? Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerers through Him that loved us." Or, in another passage, "None of these perils unsettles me." Seventeen centuries later on, George Washington demonstrated the same inner strength to meet the worst that life can throw at men, without being upset; and emerged from Valley Forge to an increasing victory.

But how is this victory gained? Rufus Jones declares that such steadiness is achieved through a genuinely religious life, for real faith sets men firmly on their feet, turns sun-sets into sun-rises, makes the impossible become possible. "The master secret of life is the attainment of the power of serenity in the midst of stress and adventure and action." And he shows how the Friends have worked out this way of victory: 1st, silent communion with God "to find the springs and sources of power, and then to go forth to the tasks of the world in the Armor of Light." Open-hearted praying thus opens the human soul to receive that strength which can stand against the worst tempests of life.

We Americans are a bustling people—men and women of action, determined to be forever up and doing. Often we run away from our real problems as we rush off into feverish activity; like the worried housewife who, instead of praying her way through worry to victory, turns her house upside down and does a strenuous day of house cleaning. By so running away, she leaves the problem unsolved, to plague her later on.

Those who want to be "More than conquerers" learn the habit of quiet communing with God each day, as regularly as they have their meals. They stop their busy-ness, their fretting and their striving, to open the gates of their souls for the tides of the Almighty love and power; and to remember that, if God is with them, there is nothing that need be feared. They rise from their time of quietness renewed, refreshed, and able to meet whatever awaits them, lifted up by the Eternal. As Rufus Jones puts it, in that now familiar passage, "It is like a ship in a lock. Here the ship is, shut in by great gates before and behind. Its driving engines have been slowed down. Its speed has been diminished to nought. It is no longer going anywhere. Yet all the time the water is rising beneath the ship, and when the gate in front swings open, and the ship emerges from its period of full stop, it will go out for its journey on a higher level and carry its burden of freight henceforth on a new plane."

Here, then(is an opportunity for growth—each day to stop, and go into the quietness of a spiritual lock—and emerge from that quiet space refreshed, and on a new plane of living!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It is with a grateful heart that I report to you the recovery of my son from his affliction. A month ago your Prayer Group entered his name on your list. Nat is 8 years old and the dermatologist had just diagnosed his case as "Karatosis Follicularis," a skin condition of dry, pealing and scaly leathery skin for which there is no known cure and also which would continue to worsen with age. Nat is so much improved that we have to search for any dry spot at all, and not only has his skin cleared, but he is glowing with strength and energy. We are so grateful for your letter and literature, and thank God daily for your prayers. Please report to your Prayer Fellowship his complete freedom from his affliction. Mrs. N. E. F. (Moultrie, Georgia).

The Rector had the privilege of presenting for Confirmation on Sept. 9th, in the Bishop's Chapel in the Church House the following: Miss Lilian Jeffries Hay, Mrs. Patricia Staffer Madara, Mrs. Julia Moore Loux and Mr. Robert W. Fay.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude:—Cantabile ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—To pray for the coming of God's Kingdom is to dedicate yourself to the task of bringing it about. The first duty is to bring your own personal Life into conformity with the principles of the Kingdom, then to use your God-given talents in His service. Lord, help us make our prayers genuine and not a mere repetition of words. Amen.

Jubilate Deo, Hymnal 644 ..... Chant

Anthem—O Lord Most Holy ..... Franck
O Lord, most holy, O Lord most mighty; O loving Father, Thee would we be praising alway. Help us to know Thee, know Thee and love Thee; Father grant us Thy truth and grace; Father guide and defend us. Rule Thou our wilful hearts, keep Thine our wandering thoughts; in all our sorrows, let us find our rest in Thee. And, in temptation's hour, save thru' Thy mighty power; Thine aid O send us; hear us in mercy. Show us Thy favor, so shall we live and sing praise to Thee.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—When I wrote you about a month ago, I had three impossible problems—loss of home, the almost certainty of the loss of my job, and diabetes. Today my home is secured, my position is secure, and my diabetes has been adjusted. There is only one possible explanation. He who answers prayers did the "impossible." He was the One who brought it to pass. I am truly thankful to your Prayer Fellowship. T.C.E. (Irvington, N.J.)

Sunday School will re-open after the summer vacation, on Sept. 29th. Christian young people rightly trained and inspired, are our hope for the future.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing in St. Stephen's Church, Wilkes-Barre, from Sunday evening, Sept. 29th to October 2nd, under the co-operative auspices of eleven Episcopal Churches of the Wyoming Valley.

Two of our young men have matriculated in College. John Smyth, our Crucifer, has matriculated in Pennsylvania State University, and Robert Keller, our Flag Bearer, has matriculated in the University of Pennsylvania.

WITH OUR GRATITUDE

Words are inadequate vehicles to express to all the women of St. Stephen's Church our appreciation for the wonderful help and service rendered to our guests at the recent International Conference on Spiritual Healing. To Mrs. Madeline Keller and her fine group of workers who were responsible for the Tea and Reception in the Community House on the three afternoons of the Conference and for the expert handling of over 170 people who attended the supper on Tuesday night, and for the most important help given by the members of the O.S.L. in the work of registration, ushering and information, we are deeply indebted. We express again to one and all our thanks with the prayer for God's blessings upon us all as we work together.

Everyone was pleased with the fine supper cooked by Horn & Hardart and served by the women of St. Stephen's on Sept. 17th.

WHAT IS YOUR SCHEDULE?

Now that the vacation period is over, let us get back on the regular schedule which includes Worship every Sunday. We are so made that even one week without worship isn't good for us. So we suggest that you make Church an Every Sunday Affair. Here are some suggestions as to how you can get more from the Service:

1. Remember that Sunday Worship really begins on Saturday night—a strenuous Saturday concluding with a past-midnight bedtime does not fit us for Worship.
2. Plan to arrive at Church with time to spare. This does take planning, but it pays off.
3. Let us be silent as we enter God's House. It is a Holy Place and is not a setting for idle conversation. If you MUST whisper, whisper a Prayer.
4. Let us pray and meditate before the Service. The Silent Meditation printed in the form of Service on Page 2 is to guide you.
5. Come to Church anticipating that God will be there and that we shall experience His Presence. Worship is the great experience of the Christian. We can make it more meaningful by preparing our bodies, minds and souls to worship God in that hour.

Your Rector pledges to do everything he can with much prayer and studying and planning, to make the Services meaningful and helpful. Will YOU do YOUR part? God bless you as you do.

HEALING CONFERENCE

Over six thousand people attended the various sessions of the four-day International Conference on Spiritual Healing held in St. Stephen's Church Sept. 15th-18th. Over seven hundred delegates of the International Order of St. Luke the Physician, under whose auspices the Conference was held, came from 27 States, and eight foreign areas. Twenty-two denominations were represented by 68 clergy and hundreds of lay persons.

The leaders of the Conference were: the Rev. Edward Winckley of South Africa, Mrs. Agnes Sanford, Mrs. Ethel Banks, Dr. Albert Reissner, Charles A. Sumners, Laurence Blackburn, Arthur Courteau, Will Oursler, Katherine Hibbard, Dorcas Kurtz, Mary Light, Helen Shoemaker, Mervyn Hope and Alfred W. Price, Warden of the Order of St. Luke.

Panel discussions were held on Prayer Groups and Sacramental Healing and the Relation between Medical Science and Spiritual Healing. Over one hundred candidates, clergy and lay, were inducted into the Order by the Warden, the Rev. Alfred W. Price and the Associate Warden, the Rev. Edward Winckley.

Some of the Conference findings are as follows:

Jesus Christ is the Healer of man's whole being—his body, mind and soul. Believing that the Healing Ministry is an integral part of the work of the Church today, our aim is to restore this Ministry to its rightful place.

The spearhead of this Ministry is Prayer, and Prayer finds its most powerful expression in the Prayer Group.

The Prelude: Communion ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"I believe in God and the life everlasting" is a most marvelous statement of faith. The two parts of it are inseparable; one is meaningless without the other. To doubt God's willingness or power to give us eternal life is to limit Him so that He is no longer God. We cannot fight the good fight of faith except we first "lay hold on eternal life." Eternal Father, we are Thine now, and in eternity. And those whom we have "loved and lost a while" are both Thine and ours if we are Thine. Strengthen us in a healthy hope of everlasting life through our confidence in Thee. Amen.

THE CONTAGION OF GOODNESS

When St. Paul wrote a letter to his friends in the newly founded Christian Churches they listened, because St. Paul knew what he was talking about. This time he was writing to the Galatians who had started out enthusiastically ("ran bravely"), taken on the ways of Christ, and now showed a tendency to slip back into the old ways. He protests, "I marvel that ye are so quickly removing"; but then, instead of scolding them, he quietly points to one of the unshakable laws of God—"Remember, whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Paste that in your hat, says St. Paul. Think it over!

Usually this law of God is shaken at men like a fist—to convince them that if they do evil, they will reap trouble and distress. That is, of course, true. We all saw it, in a memorable incident, part-way through world war II. The Germans had overcome France, and French leaders must now come to surrender to the Nazi chiefs. The meeting-place was an old railway carriage in which the victorious allies of world war I had forced humiliating terms on the beaten Germans; a railway carriage which the French had made into a shrine of vengeance, placing on it a tablet which read, "Here, on Nov. 11th, 1918, was frustrated the criminal arrogance of the German Imperial Reich, defeated by the free people which it sought to enslave." So, now, in 1940, Hitler sat in the same chair from which Foch had humiliated the Germans, and proudly demanded unconditional surrender. Unfortunate France was sowing the harvest of its own hatefulness.

But this mighty law of reaping-the-harvest-of-one's-own-deeds is equally true of goodness and love. So St. Paul pleaded, "As we therefore have opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith." And the Christians all along the Mediteranean shores responded to his bidding; and went at their task of sowing shining faith and loving deeds. Only 70 years later a pagan athenian orator (Aristides) wrote, "The Christians know and trust God. They placate those who oppress them, and make them their friends; they do good to their enemies. Their wives are pure, and their daughters modest. Their men abstain from unlawful marriage. They love one another. He who has, gives ungrudgingly to him who has not. If anyone among them is poor and needy, they fast for two or three days, that they may supply him with the necessary food. But the good deeds that they do they do not perceive them. Truly this is a new people and there is something divine in them." This was the harvest of shining faith and loving deeds. It always is!

BOOK OF THE MONTH

The Book of Deuteronomy will be the October assignment in our endeavor to read together the various Books of the Bible. This will be 49 Books we have read together as a parish.

Will Oursler in his book "The Healing Power of Faith" refers to our work here in St. Stephen's Church on pages 31-32, 114, 120-125. 187, 193, 201, 208, 211, 224, 254, 278, 296-97, and 330.

The Girls' Friendly Society will open the Fall Season with a supper at 6 P.M. on the first floor of the Community House, Monday, October 7th.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Service in St. John's Church, Washington, D.C., on Sunday, October 6th, at 7:30 P. M.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW*:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Since writing you and the Prayer Fellowship for help in my problems, I have many reasons to give thanks to God for health and peace of mind. The ruptured disc condition is no longer painful. God has blessed your effort in showing me that He really will meet us where we are. It is so wonderful to commit my way wholly to Him. I feel like Bunyan's Christian after the burden fell from his back. Pray with me that this committment may be for life. This change of attitude on my part has removed the cause for my worries. M.J. (Paradise, California)

The Rector presented Mr. James H. Watters for confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on September 23rd.

WORKERS' COMMUNION

Sunday, October 6th is World-Wide Communion Sunday. We combine our Annual "Workers' Communion" with this of our parish Organizations. We ask them to begin the Fall Season at the Altar, to present their activities, and to ask God's blessing on all we do.

IN REMEMBRANCE

A great soul has finished her work here and gone on to greater service in God's Kingdom. Florence Pancoast Reath, a devoted, life-long member and worker at St. Stephen's, slipped quietly off on September 26 into a new life of service in God's Kingdom. We all shall miss Mrs. Reath, one of the older and beloved communicants of our parish. She was an energetic worker in the Benevolent Society and the Woman's Auxiliary. She entered wholeheartedly into the Sunday Service, singing all the canticles and responses in a clear, sweet voice. A devout worshipper, an intelligent believer, a loyal and self-sacrificing giver, and an example as a Christian gentlewoman, her loving spirit has joined the Heavenly Hosts and we know there is great rejoicing there.

We appreciate these Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. R. N. Fishburn, Harry E. Thompson, and Nicholas L. Todd.

The Prelude—"O God Be Merciful To Me." ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION—Friendship is one of the most satisfying experiences of life. That is what our relationship to God should be. He would not have us approach Him as cringing slaves who fear an over-lord, but joyously, confidently as a man speaks to a friend. He wishes to share with us His purposes for men. As we look forward to meeting a friend, tried and true, so may our approach and friendship be with Thee, Thou Friend and Saviour of our race. May our friendship ripen through the days and years, to come into a love that will do whatsoever Thou dost command us. Amen.

SERVANTS OF GOD

Last Summer a good friend of mine was putting a roof on a new addition to his cottage. As he fitted the graveled-surface shingles into place and nailed them down, occasionally he would find that he needed some tool that had been left on the ground. My friend would call down to his eight year old son, "Davie, would you like to get daddy's square? It's hanging by the bench in the shop." And Davie would shout up, "O.K., daddy!" And, moments later, would be up the ladder with the square. Sometimes my friend would notice that his five year old son was looking sad because he had not been asked to help; so he would call out, "Tommy, daddy dropped the blue chalk we mark the roof with—it's down by the bottom of the ladder—will you bring it up to me?" And the solemn, clouded face would break out into a beaming smile, and, in no time at all, Tommy was putting the chalk into his father's hand. So (in spite of nailing one shingle on upside down!) the roofing job went forward swiftly, because two small boys enjoy—more than anything else—doing something to please their father, especially when he is building something.

Jesus repeatedly pictured Himself as God's eager Son whose keenest wish was to please His Father. "My meat is to the will of Him who sent Me." The Master's life shines above all others because He was most sensitive in responding to God's will. St. Paul picks up that theme in his letter to the Ephesians when he assures even the shackled, suffering Roman slaves that they can find life as servants of Christ, "doing the will of God from the heart."

Every human being wants to be a success. And what is success, from the eternal view point, except fitting into God's plan? Will your today be a successful one—then seek in your praying and thinking what God wants done by you today, and do it. Phillips Brooks has put it gloriously:

"Slowly, through all the universe, the Temple of God is being built. Wherever, in any world, a soul, by free willed obedience, catches the fire of God's likeness, it is set into the growing walls, a living stone. When, in your hard fight, in your tiresome drudgery, or in your terrible temptation, you catch the purpose of your being, and give yourself to God, and so give Him the chance to give Himself to you, your life—a living stone—is taken up, and set into that growing wall. Wherever souls are being tried and ripened, in whatever common-place and homely ways;—there God is hewing out the pillars for His Temple. O, if the stone can only have some vision of the Temple of which it is to be a part forever, what patience must fill it as it feels the blows of the hammer, and knows that success for it is simply to let itself be wrought into what shape the Master wills."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price—You will recall me as the woman who had heart surgery last year, and who spoke of it at the Kirkridge Retreat in the Poconos which you attended. A nerve specialist in Cincinnati had scheduled surgery for me for July 17th in the hope that resecting a nerve might bring relief. While at the Retreat I began to pray for help in this problem, encouraged by your lectures. The night of the Healing Service I prayed expectantly, and then went on to pray for others. When you laid your hand on my head I was instantly aware of that same thrilling sense of healing coursing through my body that I had felt as I came out of surgery last year. I thought I would choke with the outpouring of it, and then as it ebbed, I knew a holy calm and inner peace. Now it has been 17 days since the healing service and I am greatly relieved. The healing has been progressive, and I would say I am already 60 to 70 percent better. I want to thank you for being God's instrument in this, and for conducting the Healing Service.

Gertrude Huheey (Oxford, Ohio)

The Rector will speak to the Theological Students at Mt. Airy Lutheran Seminary on Monday evening. He will speak at the noon-day service at St. Paul's Church, Richmond, Virginia, on Wednesday and conduct a Healing Service in the evening at the Church of the Epiphany in that city.

BISHOP HART'S ANNIVERSARY

All members and friends are invited to share in the 15th Anniversary of Bishop Hart's Episcopate.

Thursday, October 17th in the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, at 11 A.M., the Bishop will be the celebrant at the Service of the Holy Communion.

Sunday, October 20th at 4 P.M., a tea, under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary, will be given to Bishop and Mrs. Hart at the Diocesan Conference Center, Radnor, County Line and Gulph Creek Roads.

Mr. Albert J. Sheehan, Jr., our Crucifer, received a statue Award from Boy Scout Troop 51 for twenty years of active service in Scouting. Albert is the Scout Master of Troop 57.

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the Annual Appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year the Benevolent Society sent 4,760 pieces of sewing to the Hospitals as follows: Episcopal, 619; Jefferson, 3,742; Presbyterian, 156; Visiting Nurse Society, 243. The articles were cut, generally, for sewing, by the Hospitals. In some cases the cutting was done by the Benevolent Aides: Mrs. Raspin, Mrs. Leithead, Mrs. Schrott, and Miss Daley.

Six hundred dollars will just about cover the cost, estimated expenses for the Season 1957-58. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing, and also the Hospitals which desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship fo the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—A condition for Kingdom entrance requirements is the sharing of religious experience with others. Let this be today's resolve: "I shall speak with someone today concerning the value I have received from being a child of God. I will tell what the Lord has done for me." Our Father in heaven, we praise Thee for the holy voices through which Thou hast spoken to us. We, too, would place ourselves at Thy disposal, that others, hearing us, may receive our witness concerning Thy Son, Jesus Christ, and through it experience a new fellowship with Thee. Amen.

THE AUTUMNS IN LIFE

Look out your window this afternoon, and you may see a crimson leaf drift down against the blue sky, down and down until it rests on the earth. Old people may see it and shudder just a little—Summer is gone, with its warmth and pleasant days; and winter lies ahead with its bitter cold, and its ice and snow under foot. But a child sees that same falling leaf, and laughs with joy—for ahead is skating and snow-ball fights and many a new adventure.

As usual, the child is right. Jesus said, "Of such is the Kingdom of God." The child somehow senses that winter is part of God's plan. What does Autumn mean to a trustful child of God—like you, for instance?

Autumn is the time of letting go. All through the Summer days the leaves have done their work as channels of life for the tree; and now they are worn out. If the tree is to continue its growth, it must let go the old leaves, and make room for the new ones. This is God's law—let go the old, and make room for the new!

Put your child to bed at evening time—and watch it let go of the day, and drop off to sleep. Slip into bed later yourself, when you are at your best, and find yourself thanking God for the joys and victories, asking His forgiveness for the sins and blunders, and then leaving that day in His hands, while you relax in peace. It is on your scratchy days, when you have battled unsuccessfully to have your way, that you find yourself hanging on to that day fretfully, as a puppy hangs onto an old shoe, worrying and chewing it! If you are to rest that night, you must relax your grip on the day.

Turn your mind to Jesus' disciples. They had lived their drudging, small-town lives, with their noses to the grindstone, planning each day according to their accustomed little patterns. Then a young Man came and opened up new horizons, new adventures in loving kindness, fresh glimpses of the mighty love of God for His family on earth. And the story ends, "They left all, and followed Him." They let go of their old, cramped ways as the tree lets go of its old leaves, and then they were ready to grow new graces, new love, according to His pattern.

There are many Autumns in every life. This is God's plan. It is not easy to let go an old dwelling, an old habit, an old way of earning your living, an old sin. But it is necessary, and eternally worth the cost. For, be you sixteen or sixty, you can shed your leaves, rest a brief while as a tree does in Winter, and then find the full surge of God's abundant life flowing into you, and bursting out into new friendships, new strength, new delights, new peace. "Let go—and let God!" "They left all, and followed Him." As the poet Goethe has put it:

"Die and become. 'till thou hast learned this,
Thou art but a dull guest on this dark planet."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Just a month ago I wrote you a letter telling of my ailments. I had no desire to live, no interest in anything, very depressed, discouraged with my job, headaches and weakness in my legs. You sent me some booklets and put me on your prayer chain. I am most happy to report that I am greatly improved. It is truly one of God's miracles. D. E. M. (Minneapolis).

The Rector will be the speaker at a Conference of Canadian Clergymen held in Owens Sound, Ontario, October 21st-23rd.

The Rector published a series of "All Saints' Day" Sermons some years ago, which has been out of print for a long time. Many requests come from persons who want to give this booklet to someone in need of solace for sorrow. The cost of printing 2,500 of these books is $370.00. If someone would like to donate this sum, we will be glad to dedicate it to the memory of some loved one, with a suitable inscription imprinted on the cover.

Mrs. Anna Hauger, the leader of the Benevolent Society, reports over $100 given in memory of Florence Pancoast Reath: by Margaret C. Bohlen, Joseph G. Rosengarten, Jr., Harry R. Neilson, Jr., Susanna S. M. Neilson, Rev. Henry Mitchell, Mrs. Wistar H. MacLaren, and Mrs. Albert P. Francine. Mrs. Hauger wishes to acknowledge, too, these contributions toward the work of the Benevolent Society: Mrs. James F. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur, Hazel L. Our sincere "Thank you" to these contributors to the Bulletin: Mr. and Mrs. E. Nelson, Mrs. Charlotte Paist, Marie Reed, Robert C. Thackara, Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. Robert G. Wilson.

WELCOME TO DOCTORS AND NURSES

Realizing the close connection between medicine and faith and need of fuller co-operation between doctors and clergy in the study and performance of their respective functions in the work of healing, we have invited the doctors and nurses in our mid-city hospitals to join with us in celebrating St. Luke's Day. St. Luke was both Apostle and Physician.

"This is the great error of our day in the treatment of the human body that physicians separate the soul from the body."—Plato

"Sometimes it is more important to know what kind of fellow has a germ than what kind of germ has a fellah."—Shattuck

TURN BACKWARD, O TIME:—Midnight, October 26th, marks the end of Daylight Saving Time for the year 1957. Remember to set your clock back one hour!

THE SURF OF LIFE

Today we come to the heart of the theme of Autumn in the lives of God's children. Last week we thought of the need of letting go of old, faded habits, like the sorry business of judging others. But there is a step beyond that. Jesus put it clearly —"He who loses his life for My sake will find it." In other words, the man who surrenders himself to God's leading, or "dies" to himself (as St. Paul put it) finds real life, abundant and exhilerating.

Sometimes you see that truth—that you have to die in order to live—in startling vividness. A friend, Chuck, a 15-year-old high school boy, was taught that lesson one day last Summer. A hundred and fifty people were on Star Island, one of the Isles of Shoals, 9 miles off Portsmouth, New Hampshire, with the surf crashing white against the granite rocks. These people were spending nine days there, seeking a deeper and warmer closeness to God and His love. Chuck had already been at another such gathering, in the West, earlier in the Summer. There he had come to the conclusion that he was doing a very poor job of running his own life, so, one day in prayer, he gave his life to God to direct; with complete confidence that he could find strength and peace in God's keeping. He did this with the whole-heartedness of a sincere youngster; and his commitment went deep down within him.

So, one day early in his stay at Star Island, he went down on the rocks to watch the surf. He had never swum a stroke—in fact, he had never tried to. He was afraid of this beautiful surf. But, somehow, he strayed down too close to the surf, and suddenly was swept out into the deep water. He was asked just what happened; and he said that at first he prayed very hard, but without any panic—and then he "blacked out." He knew nothing until he came to, twenty minutes later, on the rocks. He did not know, until he was told, that for twenty long minutes he was "churning water"; quietly and strongly doing something he had never learned to do, until a courageous, powerful swimmer plunged in and rescued him. It was a breath-taking truth of the miraculous love of God which can work wonders in those who have surrendered their lives to His keeping. Those who spent those days at Star Island will always remember that miracle which they saw with their own eyes; and deepened their trust in God.

Of course it does not mean that God always rescues us from the surf of life—sometimes He has other plans. But it does show that once God gets deep into a man's heart, He can work freely and mightily there. Samuel Shoemaker once said that a true conversion must include the conversion of the subconscious. Chuck agrees with Dr. Shoemaker; and so will you, if you let Him clear down into your innermost being, down where you live!

"Mission at Mid-Century," a new filmed religious series documenting some of the far-flung Christian Missions of the Episcopal Church, is being televised in color Sunday Morning, 8:30 to 9:00, over WRCV-TV, channel 3.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It is with a deep sense of gratitude and thankfulness I am writing this letter today. About two months ago I asked for prayers for my husband who was seriously ill with marked anemia which the doctors had diagnosed "leukemia." I reported last month that his condition was showing improvement; in this last month his progress has been wonderful. He is now able to be at work part time. I feel the prayers of your Fellowship and the encouragement we have experienced from reading your literature and learning for the first time how to pray has, without doubt, helped to bring forth what seems to be a miracle. With your continued prayers I cannot help but feel his ultimate and complete recovery will be forthcoming. Bless you!

A. B. (Cassopolis, Michigan)

1517 — REFORMATION DAY — 1957

On October 31, 1517, a young Augustinian Monk named Martin Luther, posted on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgences by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as the Reformation. The anniversary of this event is observed among Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon the fundamental Christian conviction. October 27th will be observed throughout the world as "Reformation Sunday." The Rector's Sermon title is "Brother Martin's Insight."

We wish to express our thanks for these contributors to the work of the Benevolent Society: Mrs. Craig Atmore, Mary T. Barker, Mrs. James Brady, Mrs. John C. Funck, Mrs. M. E. Gilbert, Mrs. Grant S. INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship fo the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the service begins."—Emerson
If you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O What Their Joy" ..... Matthews
THE SILENT MEDITATION: "I believe in God and the life everlasting" is a most marvelous statement of faith. The two parts of it are inseparable; one is meaningless without the other. To doubt God's willingness or power to give us eternal life is to limit Him so that He is no longer God. We cannot fight the good fight of faith except we first "lay hold on eternal life." Eternal Father, we are Thine now and in eternity; and those whom we have "loved and lost awhile" are both Thine and ours if we are Thine. Strengthen us in a healthy hope of everlasting life through our confidence in Thee. Amen.
Processional Hymn 126 ..... Sarum
Kyrie, Hymnal 714 ..... Oldroyd
The Anthem: "There Shall Be No Night There" ..... Wood

And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. In the midst of the street thereof and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. There shall be no more curse, nor pain, nor death. But the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein, and His servants shall serve Him, and they shall see His face. There shall be no night there; and they need no lamp, nor light of the sun; for the Lord God shall give them light; and they shall reign for ever and ever.

The Sermon: "THROUGH DEATH AND BEYOND" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 124 ..... St. George
Sanctus, Hymnal 716 ..... Oldroyd

Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal 739 ..... Old Scotch Chant
Recessional Hymn 599 ..... Vigiles et Sancti

LET GO — AND LET GOD

This morning we return to discovering the meaning of Autumn. Two Sundays ago we saw that Autumn is a time, in nature and in human beings, of letting go the old leaves and thus making room for the new.

Certainly all of us have some badly faded habits that need to be shed before we can start growing again. For instance, there is the habit of judging others, so common and hurtful a view point in hosts of people. An anonymous writer in "Three Minutes A Day" has put it vividly:

When the other fellow acts that way, he's ugly;
When you do it, it's the "nerves."
When he's set in his ways, he's obstinate;
When you are, it's just firmness.
When he does not like your friends, he's prejudiced;
When you don't like his, you are simply showing good judgement of human nature.
When he tries to be accomodating, he's "polishing the apple";
When you do it, you're showing tact.
When he takes time to do things, he is dead slow;
When you take ages, you're deliberate.
When he picks flaws, he's cranky;
When you do, you're discriminating.

As the writer of those searching lines points out, it's all in the point of view. It all depends whether you are looking at the facts from your point of view or the other man's; or, better still, whether you are trying to look at the facts from God's point of view. Looking at the facts from your narrow, pride-full point of view is called "judging" others. Jesus commanded us not to do it because God can only deal with us as generously as we deal with others. Judging others not only hurts them grievously—it also makes us look ridiculously petty and blind-hearted.

You may agree, and then add, "But how on earth can I let go that old, persistent habit?" It would be a terrific, exhausting struggle—just as the scrub-oak tree seems to struggle all winter, and not get rid of its leaves until almost Spring. But learn from nature—no tree really struggles at all to get rid of its leaves. It just lets the sun shine on it; and the powerful rays of the sun do the job.

And so it can be with you. Just let God into your judging mind—sit quietly, and invite Him to shine on this old habit of mine. Call on that bit of Him and His love which is alive within you, and say to Him, "I'm willing to let go my grip on the cheap pleasure of judging my neighbor. I'm willing to part with it—I give it to You—will you take care of it with Your mighty, warm loving kindness?" And what happens when you, "let go—and let God?" Suddenly you find that you no longer find pleasure in judging. Instead, you delight in appreciating the God-given beauty in the other person: and you are free at last! Try it this week—it works out most wonderfully.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, tonight at 7:30 P.M. He will speak to the students at the Philadelphia Divinity School on Tuesday morning. He will speak to the Visiting Nurse Society on Wednesday at 3 P.M. and give an Invocation at the Germantown Friends' Meeting House on Wednesday evening.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

The Fall Presentation Service will be held on November 21st at Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, at 8 P.M. The Women of St. Stephen's are asked to put the contents of your U.T.O. box in the Blue Envelope that has been mailed to every family, and place it on the Alms basin on Sunday, Nov. 3rd or 10th, or, if most convenient, send it to the Church office, in care of the U. T. O. Custodian, Mrs. Wilson Leithead. The United Thank Offering supports women missionaries both at home and abroad.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Since a month is up since last writing to you, I wish to make a report on Donna P., who is 17 years old and was operated on twice within a month for cancer of the throat. I know our prayers were answered, as when Donna went to the doctor last week for a check up she was informed that at this time the tests showed that there was no more cancer in her system. Thank you and all the people who did so very much for Donna. Mrs. L.M.B. (Tahoe City, Calif.)

ALL SAINTS' DAY, 1957

We are placing the names of those having special claim upon us in St. Stephen's Church, who have passed into eternal life since last All Saints' Day. These are they whom we have in loving remembrance on Friday, November 1st and Sunday, November 3rd:

Elizabeth J. Davis, Elizabeth M. Saylor, James E. Talbot, Dr. Alexander Cornish, William H. Pearsall, John Pratt, Emma Daley, Eugene A. Kelly, Effie G. Smith, Dr. Herbert Old, Arnot G. Lewis, Roy P. Lear, James P. Sullivan, Jane R. Bullock, Benjamin Snyder, Joseph L. Frascone, Margaret L. Craig, Henry M. Parker, Helen F. Mockett, Hattie C. Sachsenmaier, Edith J. Dunn, Henry W. Dotzenroth, William G. Porter, Mary L. Nickel, Florence P. Reath, Jean J. Earl, Marguerite Caldwell.

The Sunday School meets in the Community House on Sundays at 11 A.M. under the leadership of Mrs. Alfred W. Price, Miss Anna Marion Smyth and Mrs. Frank Young. Kindergarten and Juniors will find a most interesting and stimulating program. The Adult Bible Class for men and women meets in the Community House at 4 P.M. each Sunday. Miss Hannah E. Yeakle is the most capable leader of the Bible Class.

The Prelude: "O God, Our Help" ..... Matthews
THE SILENT MEDITATION: The Christian religion is one of joyful hope, not of helpless resignation; of ardent expectation, not of gloomy despair. This assurance comes from having "reverence for Christ in our hearts as Lord," as the modern translations put it. All questions and doubts are answered in Him. Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, we pray for that living hope which comes to us through the resurrection of the Saviour. Grant that through faith He may dwell in our hearts and so enlighten our minds that we may help others to overcome doubts and fears. Amen.

MIRACLE OF RENOVATION

On this Armistice Day we are painfully aware of man's foolish drifting along the ways of strife. I know a government arsenal where in one department men toil with might and main to produce shells that will penetrate the strongest armor-plate; while, in the next department, their fellow workers strive to turn out armor-plate which will stop the most powerful shells. How stupid can we be! Our only salvation lies in turning to the wisdom of the Son of God.

Chaplain Harris, of the United States Senate, has written: "How significant is that comment in the New Testament regarding certain privileged ones on the Mount of Transfiguration: 'When they were awake, they saw His glory!' And how eternally true is the statement of the Old Testament, 'And in the morning, then shall ye see the glory of the Lord.'

"Out of the wonderful drama of Job there comes this question: 'Hast thou commanded the morning?' There can be no more important query than that. If one is not captain of his soul and body, then we are literally doomed to disappointment, failure, and loss. Dost thou command the morning, or does it command you? The answer to that vital question can be largely determined by this simple test: Are you alert or asleep at the day's beginning?"

Chaplain Harris continues, quoting Dr. James Harris of Scotland, "The miracle of renovation can happen every morning. And all that you require in order to know the joy and thrill of yourself is to resolve to begin each day by surrendering your life to God as definitely as if you had never done it before. I'm growing more and more convinced that a great part of the secret of achieving steadfastness and serenity in the face of the battle of life is this—not only to commit your way to God in some high, decisive moments of conversation, but to do that very thing every morning—go down on your knees and pray, 'Dear God, I do not expect to see the distant scene, but here for the next 24 hours of my life I give it back to Thee, to guard and bless and control.' Then the creed I believe—that at sunrise every soul can be born again,—will become a personal experience. Thus the morning becomes heaven's signal, not with weary sighs to tie on old weights, but with jubilant heart to find, ready to unfold, new truths."

The Senate Chaplain concludes, "It matters not how menial the drudgery you face. It matters not what foul forms have tortured your night 'black as the pit from pole to pole' . . . Even such a night is not without ending—God's morning is on the way and the glory of the blessed day-break, as for you the Son of Righteousness arises with healing in His wings. Is there anything more thrilling in the New Testament than the entry that when, for the disciples, there had been a toiling night of failure and frustration, the glory of the morning came, 'Jesus stood on the shore.' If He is the first form your eyes behold in the dawning light of a new day, His bequest is always the wings of a new strength and of a new star in the glory of the morning."

When, in every nation, there are enough men and women who are awake to see the glory of the Lord, then—and then only—shall we have, in this world, His peace that passes understanding.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—It must be about 8 weeks ago since I sent in a request for prayers for my impaired hearing. Along with this request I sent a report from an ear specialist in New York. Shortly after I sent in this request I came to Phila. to attend the International Conference on Spiritual Healing. I went to the Altar on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, and from that time on my hearing has improved. After leaving the Conference in Phila. I visited with some old friends in New Jersey and they noticed that my hearing had improved. Others have noticed the improvement, also. I am overjoyed about it, as life has taken on a new lease for me. My faith in God, the prayers of your Fellowship and the laying-on-of-hands all working together have altered the degenerated hearing nerve cells, and my impression is that my hearing is gradually improving, and is being done in His time and in His way. This privilege you gave me to attend the Conference has opened my mind to many things. I hope that I can be of some service to others in bringing this message: That faith in God heals. Dr. S. B. N. (Winforme, Pa.)

The Rector will address the Young Adults at Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, on Sunday evening, November 10th, at 6 P.M. He will address the Clerical Brotherhood at the Church House on Monday, November 11th, at 11 A.M.

PLEDGE DAY

Advanced notice is given of our Annual Service on Sunday, November 17th, at 11 A.M. called "Loyalty Sunday," or "Pledge Sunday," when we drop our pledge cards into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated to the work of the Episcopal Church at home and abroad. We desire every individual in our Parish to participate in this meaningful service. Let nothing hinder your family from being represented at this service!

BOOK OF THE MONTH for November is the First and Second Book of the Kings. This will be the 51st Book.

The Church and Freedom Celebration, which opens with a Festival Service at 3:00 P.M., Sunday, November 10th, 1957, at Christ Church, 2nd St. above Market, Philadelphia, and continues with 5 panel discussions, ending on November 13th, is Part One of the year's program of the Diocesan Department of Christian Social Relations. The speaker at the Festival Service will be Oliver Gasch, Esq., District Attorney for Washington, D.C. You are cordially invited.

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET CHURCH before the Service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Two Antiphons ..... Dupre
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—God both creates a pure heart in man and rewards it. How blessed is this contemplation: He is the Author and Finisher of our faith. When grace has done its work in man's heart, then it behooves man to heed the admonition: "Hold what thou hast." The reward of a pure heart is the seeing of God. Dear Heavenly Father, with the Psalmist we cry: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." Let our hearts be Thy dwelling place, that in Communion and obedience to Thee, we may not only see Thee but become increasingly like Thee. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.
Processional Hymn 388 ..... St. Thomas

Psalm 86, Page 447
Benedictus Es Domini, Hymnal 626 ..... Chant
Jubilate Deo, Hymnal 645 ..... Chant
The Anthem—Sing Praise To God ..... Whitlock

Sing praise to God who reigns above, the God of all creation, the God of power, the God of love, the God of our Salvation; with healing balm my soul He fills, and every faithless murmur He stills: To God all praise and glory! What God's almighty power hath made His gracious mercy keepeth; by morning glow or evening shade His watchful eye ne'er sleepeth: within the Kingdom of His might all is just and all is right: To God all power and glory! Then all my joyful way along I sing aloud Thy praises, that men may hear the grateful song my voice unwearied raises: Be joyful in the Lord, my heart! Both soul and body bear your part! To God all praise and glory!

The Sermon: "WHAT IS YOUR PLEDGE FOR?" ..... The Rector
Offertory Hymn 569 ..... St. Flavian
Recessional Hymn 396 ..... Aurelia

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. George Kappel in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Shields.

SURRENDER TO GOD'S WILL

We all want strength, the power to conquer the tests that may visit us. Jesus, coming to His friends one day, assured them, "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you." In other words, the only sure inner strength comes from surrendering to His will, and allowing ourselves to be used by Him to meet the needs of others. He conquered despair and discouragement Himself that way, again and again. And His friends in our own day have learned this way of conquest. One of the most vivid current examples comes with the life of a "funny man" whom you may often have seen on the screen.

It is fourteen years since Joe E. Brown lost his son, Captain Don Brown. For his father the sun rose and set on that lad. Quick and able and lovable, already a proven leader, he was a competent and careful pilot in the Air Force; but his plane was cunningly sabotaged by enemy agents; so it crashed, and Don was killed. Could the professional "funny man" ever laugh again, and make others feel carefree and gay? In past days he had trusted God, but now he cried out to himself, "There is no God! If there were one, He couldn't let this happen. He couldn't!" Then a strange thing happened. He wandered out to the Airport, and he saw some boys wearing the shoulder-patch of Don's outfit. He began to talk with them. Something stirred within him (the Spirit of God, he would call it now), and he suddenly felt that they were his sons. "When you have lost your own son, all other lads become your sons," he says now. That Spirit within him was working!

So Joe E. Brown hit the road, barnstorming across the world to the camps where Don's comrades needed all the laughs they could get. His pace was so terrific that he developed a severe case of sciatica from the exposure and lack of sleep. It got so bad that he was transported from place to place in an ambulance. So that the boys would not know about it, he would leave the ambulance 2 miles out of town, limber up by painful walking, until he could come clowning his way into camp. One day he walked into a hospital ward, and was asked to speak to a boy who was dying; and that Spirit within Joe spoke so powerfully that the boy looked up and said, "You came to see me. That shows that Somebody is looking after me. I'm going to get well." And he did. Joe E. Brown began to be a different man. The Spirit within him was operating with power. One night on Christmas Island, he was "just busting to give those boys more fun than one man could possibly give them." He had not danced for months, his sciatica had been so painful. But suddenly he remembered a crazy old dance; and he plunged into it, heart and soul, until the boys howled with glee. When it was over, Joe stood, mopping his brow, and woke up to the fact that his sciatica and its pain were gone. In fact, they were gone for good! Humbly he said to a friend, "I don't know what faith is, or how to get it, but one thing I'm sure of. I trust God with my whole life." So, by surrendering his grief-torn life to God's Loving Spirit, Joe E. Brown found power. And so can you!

A parishioner who wishes to remain anonymous has been repairing the broken backs of a goodly number of our Church Hymnals and Prayer Books during the past year. Mr. William Smith, our sexton, is now making the book racks somewhat wider to prevent further destruction to these valuable books. Worshippers are asked to co-operate by handling as carefully as possible these books.

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 17th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by pledges, the members of St. Stephen's parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1958. All the members of the parish are requested to make their pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the parish have been invited and urged to attend the annual re-dedication and pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's parish and every member of it.

YOUR PLEDGE IS A RELIGIOUS ACT.

Our Lord talked about money because it is important. Nothing reveals the state of your soul more clearly and more accurately than your attitude toward your possessions.

Your money is, in a very real way, yourself. Let me put it this way—If you earn $10.00 a day—a $10 bill is a day of your life, much more than just symbolically. It represents a day of your skill, intelligence, energy, a day of YOU . . . Put it in a slot machine—the day is wasted. Lay it on the Altar—it is your offer of a day of yourself to God.

The Rector will conduct the Morning Devotions at the Lankenau School, Germantown on November 18th.

We wish to thank these contributors to the work of the Benevolent Society: Miss Gertrude Bergen, Miss Eunice D. Burke, Howard M. Fermen, Betsy Geiger, George T. Gibb, Mrs. E. Hollowell, Fred C. TRAVEL WITH GOD

Many a person has been saying "What strange Christmases we have these days!" Surely they are very different from those gay Christmases of my childhood, when we shouted "Merry Christmas" with such light hearts, believing that the world was headed safely for nothing but peace and progress. But I suspect that we may come far closer to the spirit of the First Christmas than we could in those earlier years.

You see, our picture of Christmas was getting too prettyfied—so many of us were thinking of Bethlehem with nothing but happiness in it; and the First Christmas was not like that at all! It came to a very weary young man and woman who had been compelled to travel far to pay their taxes, at just the time when no young couple wants to travel. For Mary it was a time of discomfort, and of anxiety for her unborn Babe. For both of them it was a lonely and friendless time, for no home had a room for them in the hour of their need. And, too, soon afterwards, there was the urgent necessity for flight in the night from the swords of Herod's men.

No, the First Christmas was no scene of gayety and comfort. Rather, it was the place where humanity discovered how God leads His children through pain into the deepest joys; through the travail of childbirth into the glory of having a Son; through the night-mares of war into the shining light of a deeper peace. Christmas becomes to us the token that God leads our distant ones through their loneliness homeward to a place where love is strong; that He leads the persecuted and beaten-down people into a peace that nothing can shatter. And so one catches the true wonder of Christmas!—the wonder of a God who can take the darkness of Christmas Eve and make it the open way into the glorious light of Christmas Day; through the black tragedy of the Cross into the shining victory of Easter Day. "If God be for us, who can be against us?" is the triumphant experience of all who follow Christ. If we go with God, He can lead us through pain into joy.

Mary and Joseph were a long way from home on Christmas Eve, like some of our loved ones in the service, in Europe, in the Near East, in the Pacific. But they travel with God, and God's way is to guide His children through the night into the dawn! So our Christmas prayer is that every one of you will travel with Him, and, if your Christmas be shadowed by a world in travail, beyond the darkness stands the pledge of His shining joys, His peace that passes all mis-understanding!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—It has been over a year ago that I first wrote to you asking for prayer for my mother, who at that time found she had cancer. Despair filled our lives. While she is old, no one wants to go in that manner, and the thought of my Christian mother suffering left me completely desolate. Through channels that I know to have been God-led, I wrote to you asking for prayer. Since that time God has been so near, and these last 15 months or so have not been filled with dread and fear. My mother has not had a sick day and she continues to lead a normal life for her years. God has given her peace. Through the encouragement I received from your Prayer Fellowship, prayer has become a real part of my life and I'm the richer for it. God love you and all in your Church and Prayer Fellowship.—B.N.
(Oakland, California).

PRAYER

O Lord Jesus Christ, ever deepen the spiritual life and widen the influence of St. Stephen's Church through the example and leadership of its members, beginning with me. Amen.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We are "Sons of God," for God in Christ has redeemed us. As we enlist in and for Christ's cause, we are His and therefore must live up to this profession. This sonship, in which we claim God as our Father, is a free gift of grace. As children of God we have confidence in, and dependence on Him. We thank Thee, Father in heaven, that we can, as Thy children, call Thee Father. Because we are sons, we have in us all kinds of possibilities. Christ, our Brother, stands beside us as our Ideal. We need power to become "more like the Master." Grant us this strength; in Jesus' Name. Amen.

HE GAVE HIMSELF

A few years ago, an advertisement appeared, about the meaning of Christmas: "Christmas is made of many things. It's an expectancy in the air, and the knowledge that something nice is about to happen. . . . It is the smell of cookies baking. The rustle of tissue paper, the sheen of bright ribbons. It is a letter to Santa Claus, and the faith of a child's eyes that you can make his dream come true. It is Christmas Carols, and stockings hung up with hope the night before Christmas. It is a sleepy excitement of Christmas morning. It is being together. It is thoughtfulness; it is kindness; it is extravagance that comes from an open heart. It is the warm glow of giving."

That writer managed to say quite a lot about Christmas. He caught much of its surface beauty and enjoyment in his words. But he left out the point, the reason, the well-springs of Christmas. It's like trying to explain a rose bush by describing its roses, and never saying anything about the roots. For expectancy and thoughtfulness and merriment never just "happen" in this world. They overflow people's hearts because there is good news, because something wonderful is happening. And the good news of Christmas is simply the ancient song of the glory of God's stooping down to earth, to come and dwell with us. "For unto us a Child is born; unto us a Son is given; and the government will be on His shoulders, and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Mighty God, everlasting Father, Prince of Peace!"

The incredible good tidings of Christmas are that, down the years, the Christ Child of God has come down into the earthy hearts of men and women like ourselves; and been content to live there, loving and blessing other people through people just like us. Sometimes we have stupidly let Him get crowded out of our days, out of our hearts. Then the good news rings out again across the night, "Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Child is given. . . . ." and He promises to come again, and dwell within our earthy lives, and light them with His Love. No wonder we can rejoice, and be thoughtful, kind, extravagant!

Sigrid Undset really said it: "When we give to each other our Christmas presents, let us give them in His name. Let us remember that He has given us the sun and the stars, the earth with its forests and mountains and oceans and all that lives and moves upon them. He has given us all green things and everything that blossoms and bears fruit—and all that we quarrel about, and all that we have misused. And to save us from our foolishness and from all our sins, He came down to earth and gave Himself."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—How can I ever thank you and your Prayer Fellowship for the miracle wrought in healing my friend, Mr. C. H., of a nervous disorder? The very fact that your unselfish praying for him around the clock, even though you did not know him, caused him to relax in his faith with the Lord so that God's healing power could get through to him. Your work is truly Christ-like—a living example of His teaching and healing. Faithfully yours, F. N. H. (Collingswood, N. J.)

BOOK OF THE MONTH

We have read together as a parish 53 Books of the Bible. Ruth, the next Book on our list, is a delightful, easy-to-read story. The chief point of interest is that Ruth becomes the great grandmother of David. Verse 16 of chapter 1 is a well-known gem: "Entreat me not to leave thee or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest I will go; and where thou lodgest I will lodge; thy people shall be my people and thy God my God." The Book of Ruth is one of the poetic Books of the Bible.

The 1958 Duplex envelopes are now available. Your box with your name and address on it will be found on a table in the vestibule of the Parish House.

Our "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Charles Hutt and Elizabeth K. Collins.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report which each Parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This report is made for the Calendar Year. We would appreciate it if all our Organizations would plan now to have such a financial report ready for the Rector not later than January 10th.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

The Prelude: "A Rose Breaks Into Bloom" ..... Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Sanctify them through Thy truth: Thy Word is truth." (John 17:17). We should rejoice in knowing that Christ prays for His people. These words are His prayer, uttered on our behalf. In this prayer He seeks God's favor for us that we may be endowed with divine Light and wisdom to do God's will. Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the intercessory prayer of Thy Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Help us to pray with Him this prayer which gave Him strength and power to do Thy will. Teach us to say with Him: "God, I sanctify myself." Amen.

Anthem: Come, All Ye Who Weary ..... Elmore
Come, all ye who weary, life's pilgrimmage dreary, now hasten, your fears cast aside. In manger so lowly, by Mary so holy, the Christ Child, your Saviour did bide. The Magi who sought Him (their rich gifts they brought Him) did follow His star, ever bright; with cattle attending (His love never ending) He lay there that hallowed night. But hasten, nor tarry; the gift that you carry, be sure that He'll cherish alway. The Babe in the manger, no longer a stranger, will bless you and guide you each day.

BE YE TRANSFORMED

As the end of each old year approaches, someone asks you, "Are you making any New Year's resolutions this year?" And you remember, with a pang of shame, those former bright resolutions which faded so quickly. Why did they drop and die, like morning-glories in the sun? Because most resolutions are on the surface, superficial. A person thinks, "O, I must keep my temper this year"; or "I'm going to curb my tongue at last"; or "I've just got to learn to be more generous and loving." Most resolutions fail because they come quickly and lightly from our minds. They do not come from deep-down within us, where we really live. Therefore, they are quickly overcome by our deeply intrenched habits of anger, gossip, selfishness.

But St. Paul had found the secret of inner victory. He had discovered that you can be transformed into a new, free person; free from the dictatorship of old and hurtful habits of mind and body; free to be at one's best, a witnessing Christian. But he had also found out that likeness to Christ is not a human achievement. Overcoming "the old man" within us, and becoming a new person, is not something I can achieve by the most earnest resolution. As Alcoholics Anonymous point out to every wreck of an alcoholic, he can only find freedom and victory through a power greater than himself, a power most men call "God." This is practical. It works—with alcoholics, with gossipy murderers of reputations, with parents who have been more interested in themselves than in their children. It has always worked—since St. Paul learned it from the Risen Christ.

As 1958 draws near, dare to believe that it can be exciting and wonderful. St. Paul's world was restless, overshadowed with mighty Rome; but St. Paul was full of hope. He cries out, "When a man turns to the Lord, the veil is removed," and he sees clearly, confidently. He sees that "where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom." Not freedom to do as I please, of course. I know, by experience, that "doing what I please" is really living in slavery to my whims and appetites. No, where God's Spirit is, there is freedom to slay those old dragons of sin within, and live under the promptings of God. This, of course, means real prayer and thoughtfulness. It means sitting quietly—perhaps early in the morning, when the house is still—reading God's Word, and meditating about it; until you see the Cross lifted up before your eyes, and Jesus showing you the Love of God, which alone can transform you. It means quieting your feverish thoughts, until Jesus can speak to you in thoughts which come from God, and open a new way out of bondage into freedom. You will need to take time to let the Spirit of Christ settle down in you and take up His dwelling there. This will take time; but it will be eternally worthwhile. For in 1958 you will actually find yourself "being changed into His likeness." People will begin to see something of Jesus in you, and take heart.

When Robert Fulton was working on his first model of the steamboat, his friends declared that his theory was impractical; and suggested that he would be wiser to concentrate his energy on some device to increase the power and speed of a sailing vessel. "No," Fulton is said to have replied, "I will not bother with anything that must depend for its progress or power from outside sources . . . The power must come from within."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Thanks for what the members of your Prayer Fellowship have done for our family. When I wrote to you about two months ago, I really did not think anything could help my husband and me—to prevent a divorce. Today we have a relationship far superior to any we had ever hoped for. For me, for us, it has been a miracle. Please give my thanks and love to all those who have given me a life again. N. K. (Chicago, Ill.)

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—A thankful heart not only looks backward, but also forward with confidence. The metal mirror may dimly reflect the image or even distort it, but the perfect knowledge shall come when we see face to face. Our past and present experiences shall then appear in a new light. Heavenly Father, from Whom, for Whom, and for Whom, and to Whom are all things, help us to realize anew that without Thee we can do nothing. Cleanse our hearts from all sin and impurity. Let us look forward hopefully to the fulfillment of Thy promises concerning those things that are to be. Amen.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Just wanted to write you and tell you what a marvelous work of Grace God has performed in my behalf. After a very serious heart operation (which was the result of early rheumatic fever) and untold suffering for a year, I came to your Healing Service. I knew full well God's arm was not shortened; but I needed badly to have my faith increased, and I came away a new creature in Christ Jesus. His wonderful healing ministry has really begun in my body that has been pain-racked and weary for more than twenty-five years. May God bless and continue to use you for His Honor and Glory is my grateful prayer. J. A. B. (Shamokin, Pa.)

PRAYER FELLOWSHIP REPORT

We have finished another year in our Ministry of Healing in St. Stephen's Church. Devoting at least a half-hour each day to pray for a long list of people may not seem a great thing for an intercessor to do, but it is quite often just the link needed for God's power to reach the one in need. We remember, with deep gratitude, that it is just the daily acts of prayer of each of our 97 intercessors, which has made the work of the Prayer Healing Fellowship as a whole possible. They have shared with us at St. Stephen's the great burden of the need of those who write to us for prayer.

The number of our regular Prayer Fellowship intercessors has reached 97, and we now have a daily chain of prayers around the clock. We have each of the 24 hours taken three times over by our 97 members. Each intercessor is disciplined to give a fixed hour each day for his prayer activity. Each needy individual is lifted up in prayer to God 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. The patient is requested to keep us informed of progress. Chronic cases may be renewed for longer periods of prayer.

During the past year 19,506 persons requested our prayers. This means that 19,506 people were remembered 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks by our 97 prayer helpers.

We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing cooperation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Has all the prayer, faith and devotion of intercessors and friends been worth while? No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector, an average of 80 per week, are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported at the monthly meeting of the Prayer Fellowship, and in the weekly report to the members, all progress and cures are recorded. There is no limit to what God can do through prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidence of His love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . For, where two or three are gathered, in My Name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of Prayer can never be over-estimated.

MILK CAN

In 1957, eight hundred dollars was contributed in the Milk Can on the steps of the Church for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. It is used to share our surplus food with people in foreign countries who are hungry. $1.00 will give cheese to more than 400 protein-deficient persons daily for a week. $5.00 will give bowls of cereal daily to 500 hungry and destitute persons for more than three weeks. $10.00 will provide bread to each of 400 needy children every day for a period of more than two months. $100.00 will send enough milk overseas to give a cupful to nearly a half million persons.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

We have read together as a parish 54 Books of the Bible, on a month by month basis. The Book for January is the Book of Ecclesiastes.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, January 5th, at 7:30 P.M., and will conduct a Healing Mission in Hopkinsville, Kentucky, January 6th to 8th, inclusive.

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 740 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-eight States, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It costs $39.80 a week to print and mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year at a total cost of $1,763.80. Last year we received 608.71 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family would give $2.25 per year the cost would be met. Of course a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: Invocation ..... Dallier

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Bible, as the Word of God, is man's best guide for life. It shows us the pitfalls of life, it unmasks temptation and evil, and it points out the things that are pure and of good report. This Guide shows the way home to the Father's House. O God, we thank Thee for Thy Word. Without the guidance of Thy Word the way to Thee would remain unknown, and the solution to our problems of life would be left to a blind fate. Teach us more diligently to follow the leadership of Thy Word in all things. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

ACTS OF FAITH

Troubles pile up. There is sickness. Adversity strikes the pocket-book. The horizon looks like more bad weather. Impulsively the person says: "I haven't any faith anymore." But is that an honest statement, or just an excuse to take it easy?.

Hannah Whittall Smith deals swiftly and surgically with this "I have no faith." She writes, "Suppose you should begin tomorrow with the notion in your head that you could not trust anybody, because you had no faith. When you sat down to breakfast, you would say, 'I cannot eat anything on this table, for I have no faith, and I cannot believe the cook has not put poison in the coffee, or that the butcher has not sent home diseased or unhealthy meat'; so you would go starving away. When you went out to your daily avocations, you would say, 'I cannot ride in a railway train, for I have no faith, and therefore I cannot trust the engineer, nor the conductor, nor the builders of the carriages, nor the managers of the road.' And you would be compelled to walk every where, and would grow unutterably weary in the effort, besides being unable to reach the places you could have reached in the train."

Each day is a procession of acts of faith: the invalid opens her eyes with confidence in those who care for her; the store keeper has faith in you when he lets you charge your purchases instead of paying cash; the household trusts the mother to keep on cooking and sweeping, even though she may be weary and half sick; the parents trust the school teacher with the care of their children. We cannot make a move without exercising faith in human beings. It would be dreadful and silly to attempt a day without faith in them.

Hannah Smith continues, " . . . if this lack of faith in your fellow men would be so dreadful, and such utter folly, what must it be when you tell God that you have no power to trust Him, nor believe His Word; that it is a great trial, but you cannot help it, 'for you have no faith' . . . I for my part have such absolute confidence in the Holy Spirit . . . that I dare to say to everyone of you that you can believe now, at this very moment; and that if you do not, it is not the Spirit's fault, but your own. Put your world, then, on the believing side. Say, 'Lord, I believe, I do believe.' " There it is—put your world on the believing side—certainly if you can so trust other people who are as imperfect as yourself, you can have faith in God!

Our "Thank You" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Beulah McNeill Nurse, Mr. & Mrs. James Ashbrook, Beatrice I. Cassady, Fred C. Holmes, Jay Knox.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I attended one of your Healing Services last October. It was a real thrill to be actually present when this work that Christ instituted is being resurrected. We have been interested in this Ministry of Christian Healing for some time. I received a tremendous blessing from that service, both physically and spiritually. Some minor physical ailments have practically disappeared. I have been afflicted with emotional problems much of my life, and that is much improved. I expected both. The most impressive thing has been the apparent increase in the health of friends whose names we submitted to your Prayer Fellowship. One old lady with a bitter spirit is getting along fine now. A friend who was then incapacitated with a heart ailment is back at work. A. E. H. (Saline, Michigan).

The Rector will speak to the Lutheran Student Association of the University of Pennsylvania at 6 P.M., Sunday evening.

A HOUSE BLESSING

Bless, O Lord, Almighty God, this house, that there be found good health, the power of spiritual victory, humility, goodness, and meekness, the plentitude of Thy Law, and Thanksgiving to God, the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit; and may this blessing remain on this house and on its inhabitants. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.
19 G M B 58

—The above is a very ancient prayer for the Blessing of Homes at Epiphany. The strange markings at the bottom call for explanation. The numbers at the beginning and end stand for the year, the letters are the initials of the three legendary Wise Men: Gaspar, Melchior, and Baltasar. These symbols were written in white chalk on the inside of the front door of the house after the Blessing had been asked.

Mrs. Clara Schmid, President of The King's Daughters, reports a membership during the year 1957 of thirteen members. Some ninety dollars was disbursed during the year for various charities, including some ninety sewing articles sent to the Episcopal Hospital and St. Christopher's Children's Hospital.

1957 REPORT OF THE BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

During the calendar year 1957, we completed and returned 5,029 pieces of sewing to the hospitals, as follows:

Episcopal	367
Jefferson	4,323
Presbyterian	79
Visiting Nurse Society	260	5,029

For the sewing of these pieces we disbursed $514.80, which included carfare for the workers.

At the close of the Spring session we had our usual Annual Closing Party, financed by the Aides, and attended by the workers, Aides and a few guests.

At Christmas each worker received a box of candy and a gift from St. Stephen's Church.

The Prelude: "Prelude on Duke Street" ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope, that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind thus far in its march upward and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to realize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

The Anthem: "Eternal Ruler of the Ceaseless Round"..... Gibbons-Malin

Eternal Ruler of the ceaseless round of circling planets singing on their way; Guide of the nations from the night profound into the glory of the perfect day. Rule in our hearts that we may ever be guided and strengthened and upheld by Thee. We are of Thee, the children of Thy Love, the brothers of Thy well-beloved Son; Descend, O Holy Spirit, like a dove into our hearts, that we may be as one; As one with Thee to Whom we ever tend; as one with Him, our Brother and our Friend. We would be one in hatred of all wrong, one in our love of all things sweet and fair, one with the joy that breaketh into song, one with the grief that trembleth into Prayer, one in the power that makes the children free to follow truth, and thus to follow Thee.

TWO KINDS OF PEOPLE

Often in nature one can see God's hand at work, dealing with things in the same way that He does with people. And often, after studying His handiwork in nature, we understand ourselves better. We see how we must live if we want to be truly and fully alive. Once a year I like to share the following familiar parable with you. It reminds me of one of Jesus' parables, putting a mighty truth into simple words and a simple picture, just as Jesus did.

"There are two seas in Palestine.

"One is fresh and fish are in it. Slashes of green adorn its banks. Trees bow their branches over it, and stretch out their thirsty roots to sip of its healing water.

"Along its shores the children play as children played when He was there. He loved it. He could look across its silver surface when He spoke His parables. And on a rolling plain not far away He fed five thousand people.

"The River Jordan makes this sea with sparkling water from the hills. So it laughs in the sunshine. And the men build their houses near to it, and birds their nests: and every kind of life is happier because it is there.

"The River Jordan flows on South into another sea.

"Here no splash of fish, no fluttering leaf, no song of birds, no children's laughter. Travelers choose another route, unless on urgent business. The air hangs heavy above its waters, and neither man, nor beast, nor fowl will drink.

"What makes this mighty difference in these neighbor seas?

"Not the River Jordan. It empties the same good water into both. Not the soil in which they lie; not the country 'round about.

"This is the difference. The sea of Galilee receives but does not keep the Jordan. For every drop that flows into it another drop flows out. The giving and receiving go on in equal measure. The other sea is shrewder, hoarding its income jealously. It will not be tempted into any generous impulse. Every drop it gets it keeps.

"The Sea of Galilee gives and lives. This other sea gives nothing. It It is named the Dead Sea.

"There are two kinds of people in the world. There are two Seas in Palestine."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit. May we be able to worship Thee as we ought, with the right and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. FOLLOW HIM

Nearly 75 years ago a young man went out of this country to be a Christian Missionary to the Orient. Up to that time our Anglo-Saxon Missionaries had mostly gone out with the idea that we had all the answers about God, and that we went simply to teach the "heathen!" But this young man, Howard S. Bliss, had a more Christian idea than that. Someone asked him for a definition of being a Missionary, and he replied, "The exchange of the best that we have for the best that they have." This shocked a lot of old-fashioned people, who thought that we had nothing to learn from the "heathen."

But, some 50 years later, another young man went out to be a Christian Missionary . . . he went to the savage Moro tribes of the Philippine Islands. And he found that, as long as he thought himself superior to these black savages, as long as he fancied that their Mohammedan religion gave no insights into God, they were not interested in him and his Gospel. But when he came down from his fancied pinacle of superiority, and asked them to share their faith with him, then they asked him to share his faith with them. Then he began to win men for Christ; and that beginning grew into the most tremendous adventure of teaching the world has ever seen. For now, after 45 years, Dr. Frank Laubach has taught more than 50 Million people to read and write; and he has taught them about Jesus Christ! The open channel through which God can come to men is through genuine, deep-down love. The simple way in which a human being becomes a kindled deacon of that Love is through the experience of knowing Jesus Christ in his heart. The first young Missionary, Howard Bliss, summed it up:

"Does Jesus save you from your sins? Call Him Saviour!
"Does He free you from the slavery of your passions? Call Him Redeemer!
"Does He teach you as no one else has taught you? Call Him Teacher!
"Does He mold and master your life? Call Him Master!
"Does He shine upon the pathway that is dark to you? Call Him Guide!
"Does He reveal God to you? Call Him the Son of God!
"Does He reveal man? Call Him the Son of Man!
"Or, in following Him, are your lips silent in your incapacity to define Him, and His influence upon you? Call Him by no name, but follow Him!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I should have written you sooner to tell you of my wonderful progress. My problem was a fear and anxiety neurosis. Since I wrote you two months ago, I have improved so very much. I have become more active in Church School and in Church, and I'm enjoying my house work and caring for my family. I no longer need to have someone with me when I shop or go to some strange place. Thank you for channeling God's love to me. E. R. (Lima, Ohio)

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in Holy Trinity Church, West Palm Beach, Florida, on January 26th to 29th, inclusive, and at St. John's Cathedral, Jacksonville, Florida, January 30th and 31st. During his absence the Services of the Church will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Stanley R. West—(Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday). The Thursday Healing Services will be conducted by the Rev. Harold O. Boon.

SCOUTMASTER'S REPORT

Mr. James O. Lyman, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 2, reports that our Troop started its 31st Charter Year on February 28th, 1957 with an enrollment of 19. During the year the Troop participated in the Philadelphia Council's Camperall, where it won a Gold Certificate; the District Comporee where, in spite of ice in all pails and coffee pots, it won first place; spent a week at Treasure Island summer camp; went on other overnight camping trips, and won the National Camping Award for 14 of its members. The Troop received a special placque for outstanding work during the four year program. "Onward For God and Country." The total disbursements for the year 1957 was $189.53.

The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude:—Adagio ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our never-ending task of being Christian is to fill ourselves in unending measure of such qualities of the Spirit as strength in the inner man, faith in His dear Son, knowledge that comprehends the dimensions of Love, and Love itself that passeth all understanding. Dear Lord, we are overwhelmed when, as we behold the smallness of ourselves, we realize that we were meant to contain Thy fullness. Unto that end may we strive to be immersed in Thy truth and goodness, but not until we have emptied ourselves, so that Thou canst replenish our hearts with every grace of Thyself completely. Amen.

Special speaker will be the Rev. Wm. C. McArthur, missionary from Brazil, S. A.
7:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer and Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.

ONE SOLITARY LIFE

What is it that stirs you to a deeper and deeper desire to be a real Christian? Is it not Jesus Christ Himself? One day, when the warmth of your inner life was cooling a bit, you met Jesus— in a friend. A flash of understanding sympathy, an act of self-forgetful love, a choice book given you, or a quietly friendly note—and you suddenly realize that it was Jesus who is lifting you into Life once more! Again and again, we so meet Jesus—in our work place, on a street corner, right at home, and, thank God, in Church!

So long as the Love of God was invisible, men wondered and argued about His character—whether He is kind or cruel, small-hearted or the Father of all created men. But when God revealed His nature in Jesus, then, at last, there is a bridge between man and God. Jesus has bridged the gap which sinning men had opened between themselves and God. Now God became a Face, the Face of Jesus—wonderful in His patience and compassion for us. Now men discovered God's powerful support of every sincere attempt to behave like His children.

An unknown writer has pictured the brief, breath-taking Life of Jesus which draws us to God so strongly. Once you "see" Jesus, you do not want to resist God's Love anymore!

Here is a Man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was 30, and then for three years He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book, He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never went to college. He never put His foot inside a big city. He never traveled 200 miles from the place where He was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but Himself. He had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His Divine Manhood.

"While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. His executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying—and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

"Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the Center Piece of the human race and the Leader of the column of progress.

"I am within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as has that One solitary Life."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:—
Dear Dr. Price:—About two years ago my husband was quite ill. I was told he had cancer of the prostate gland and it had spread to his bones, his brain and lungs. The doctors gave me no hope. My sister sent his name to your Prayer Fellowship. Today he is working steadily, has gained weight and is holding his own at least against the disease. I think it is due entirely to you. I am not thanking you; I don't feel you want that. Of course, it is God working through you. Most gratefully, J. P. W.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee; In Jesus' Name, Amen.

TAKING YOUR CAPTOR CAPTIVE

E. Stanley Jones, in his wonderfully helpful "Day By Day" book, "Mastery," vividly pictures a Christian's ability to turn calamity into victory, as he writes about "take your captor captive":

We have been looking at the mastery of pain and unjust suffering. The Christians mastered them by harnessing them and making them serve them. When they were kicked, they saw to it that they were kicked forward. Paul could say: "I take every project prisoner to make it obey Christ." (II Corinthians 10:5; Moffat's translation.) Everything served.

I saw a vivid and almost ridiculous possibility of making calamity into opportunity. We landed at an airport in a southern city a little late. Two pastors drove us back to the city; and because we were late, they drove too fast. A police car drove alongside and motioned us to the curb. The pastor who was driving said, "Oh, officer, you are just the man I want. I've got to get this man into the city for a 6 o'clock meeting. We've got five minutes. Can you give us a police escort?" "Escort?" snapped the policeman. "I'm giving you a ticket." "All right," said the quick-thinking pastor. "Give me a ticket, but also give me an escort, please." The officer looked at him for a moment, incredulous, but said, 'All right; fall in behind, and follow me." We went through the traffic of the city with sirens going. Everything stood still for us. We ran all the red lights, and came through in glorious triumph, exactly on time. The officer looked at the pastor's license, smiled, and waved him on. We had taken our captor captive, and made him lead us in triumph.

These early Christians knew that secret. They turned troubles into triumphs, sorrows into song. They made everything contribute.

This power of come-back and recovery is seen in the sign which a real estate agent put up on a shack after the great Chicago fire had wiped out everything he had: "All gone except wife, children, and energy." The spirit of come-back could not be wiped out. It built a new Chicago out of the ashes of the old—and a better Chicago. When disease ruined all the coffee trees of Ceylon, the planters made opportunity out of it by turning their plantations into tea—and did better.

Everything serves those who serve God.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—I am answernig the wonderful letter I received from you. In it you asked me to report on my husband's health after four weeks and if I wished prayers continued. I am filled with wonder at the kindness to a complete stranger. An amazing thing happened. In less than a week after your prayers began, the ulcer in his stomach improved immensely. He had been in very bad shape and the doctor couldn't seem to help him. Now, a month later, he is healed. He can eat almost anything and looks fine. Truly, the power of God wrought by prayer. We desperately needed the literature sent us. M. L. M. (Reistertown, Maryland).

Mrs. Alfred Price will continue her annual Lenten Mission talks by speaking, this year, about Christian Missions in Japan, to the Woman's Auxiliary on Thursday, February 20th, at 11 A.M. All St. Stephen's Women are automatically members of this group and are invited to come.

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Saviour, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy Presence wherever we may be and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision to receice strength and peace. Amen.

THE PURPOSE OF LENT

In three days Lent will be here! In that wonderful Season Christians have formed a habit of giving their main attention to living under God's direction. One feels the quickening of spiritual life all around, like the coming of Spring in the whole of nature.

To observe Lent fruitfully, we must get back to its original purpose, as it was in the early Church. To those pioneer Christians Lent was a commemoration of Jesus' 40 days in the wilderness. They were grateful that He "went apart" to meet the toughest temptations in life: the temptation to "use" God for our own purposes (The turning of stones into bread for Himself); the temptation to a showy, sensational way of religion to attract attention (casting Himself down from a pinnacle of the Temple); the temptation to bow our wills to the worldly powers instead of to God (yielding to the worldly Satan). They were so deeply grateful to Him for showing them how to conquer these deadly temptations that they appointed this special Season as a "training period"; in it Christians are to learn penitence for our spiritual laziness and self-dependence, to "go apart" in spirit and let God have His way with us.

The Church, however, grew steadily more complicated and fussy in its worship, more dictatorial in its rule over men, and changed the point of Lent by imposing fasting as the main purpose. Instead of following the spiritual example of Jesus, they followed His literal example—and lost the whole purpose of His fasting, which was to overcome the evil which was trying to capture His will and heart. We need to remember that "fasting" is good only if it has a Christ-like purpose. Going without candy or cigarettes in Lent is very beneficial if we keep very quiet about it (thus avoiding Pharisaical pride); then discipline our bodies to obey God's will, and discipline our pocket-books to feed the poor.

Lent will thus become the time when we give our full thought and action and prayer to meeting our spiritual enemies face to face in God's strength, and putting them to flight as Jesus did with Satan. It can be a thrilling Season as one learns to abandon the exhausting struggle to overcome sin in our own strength; and one learns to take on that victorious willingness to live in God's way, in His power. When we really do that, sin always yields the battle, for no opponent can match God's power!

The truly Christian way, therefore, boils down to willingness to solve every problem on God's terms. It is not easy to establish this willingness as our pattern of life. But, once you get a taste of the clean-cut victories that are woven out of this pattern, then the devil wavers and takes to his heels. Our first purpose in Lent, therefore, is, through the pattern of Jesus, to climb to that shining face where "the devil leaveth Him; and behold, angels came and ministered to Him." They may be waiting to come and minister to you!

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

It affords us great satisfaction to announce to the Episcopalians of this City and to the public in general that the preparations for the erection of St. Stephen's Church were commenced this morning, and, under the superintendence of our valuable and ingenious architect, Mr. Strickland, it is contemplated to complete it by the month of December next. It is intended to make 130 pews on the ground floor and about 80 in the gallery, which will afford abundant accommodation to the Episcopalians in the western part of the city, and to those who may not have had an opportunity of procuring pews in the other churches. An Episcopalian Church in the western part of Philadelphia has long been a great desideratum, and it is with peculiar gratification that we announce the commencement of a plan that is so perfectly feasible.

The front elevation of this Church may be seen at the Academy of the Fine Arts. About one-third of the pews are already subscribed for, and those who may be desirous to procure seats will make application to either of the committee, or at Mr. Potter's book store in Chestnut Street near Third Street.

This Church is most conveniently situated, and being a beautiful specimen of Gothic architecture, will, with its lofty spires, conduce to the embellishment of our populous city.—From the National Gazette, May 20, 1822.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:—

Dear Dr. Price:—Two months ago when I wrote to you for prayers I was unable to do without thorazine, a tranquilizer, without feeling terrible. Now, I no longer take it and feel wonderful. I appreciate more than I can say the kindness and generosity of you and your Prayer Fellowship in praying for me. I give thanks to God for His great love and healing power. B. B. (Winnebozo, Wisconsin)

The Annual Corporate Communion for men and boys of our Diocese will again be celebrated as an observance of Washington's Birthday, Saturday, February 22nd. This year there will be ten Host Churches distributed throughout the Philadelphia area to make it convenient for all possible men and boys to attend.

Bishop Roberts will be the celebrant at St. Stephen's at 8 A. M., February 22nd. Mrs. Bechtel and her ladies will prepare the usually fine breakfast in the Community House. Following the breakfast, the Honorable A. S. Mike Monroney, U. S. Senator from Oklahoma, and an active Episcopalian, will address the group assembled at each Church via FM. Station WFLN.

Genevieve Parkhurst, the author of "Healing and Wholeness Are Yours," will deliver a lecture in St. Stephen's Church on Monday, February 17th, at 8 P. M. Everyone is welcome.

THE DISTINCTION OF SERVICE

When you go the way God wants you to go, wonderful things happen! St. Paul had his heart set on taking the Gospel to Bithynia, but in a dream God steered him off to Macedonia. Read the whole of Chapter 16 in Acts, and see that God knew what He was doing. He always does!

Dan Pohling relates a modern illustration of this ever-practical, never-failing truth:

Some years ago, a preacher stepped from his pulpit in New York City to receive a telegram announcing the serious illness of his son. Hastily packing a bag, he caught the midnight train, which early on Monday morning brought him to White River Junction, Vermont.

It was late January and bitter cold. Through heavy drifts of snow he was driven across the river to an old New England Academy. There he found his boy battling for life with pneumonia.

The struggle grew complicated and desperate, but the patient recovered. In the course of the day-and-night vigils, that father became acquainted with the doctor, a unique character, who was in charge of the case. The father had been told that this physician was unusual, that he was a genius, that with his training and equipment, and that subtle quality of personality to which the exceptional ones, the truly great, are born, he could have risen to the heights of his profession in any city of the continent. More and more the father marveled, marveled at this doctor's presence in the hills of New Hampshire.

One night the physician came from a cruel ride that had taken him to a remote community where he had brought a new life into the world. It was three o'Clock in the morning when he arrived at the infirmary. Several times blocked by drifts, he had dug out his sleigh, and now in utter weariness he shook off the clinging icicles and warmed himself. He would not take his own rest until he had looked in on his patient.

In deep emotion the father watched the physician. Finally he said: "Doctor, why are you here? I don't understand it. You could be anywhere, anywhere in the world. I've known only one other man like you in a sick room and his name is written among the names of the great. If my boy lives, you are responsible. Why are you here?"

And then the doctor, strangely eager, told his story: "I had a brother," he said, "who possessed everything you think I have. An older brother he was, whom I fairly worshipped. He took the academic route that I later followed and then, instead of going to Boston or New York, he went out to the West Indies as a medical missionary.

"Disappointment is a weak word to express what I felt. Why, sir, he had let me down! My hero was dead. Then and there I resolved to make up what I regarded as a family deficit. As you know, I went to Dartmouth and Harvard, looking forward to a career in medicine. I had every ambition intimated in what you have just said.

"Then in my senior year in college word came that my brother had cholera. The word of his illness had scarcely reached us when we received a flash announcing his death. I went down to settle his affairs and bring back his ashes.

"Well, sir, that visit gave me a new perspective and revolutionized my life. I saw hundreds of native people to whom my brother had come as healer and friend. A teacher and guide. Until he came they had been desolate and in despair. Their child-like love and faith were the most beautiful things I had ever known. To them my brother had stood in the place of Christ. He had been to them a veritable redeemer.

"Well, I returned, completed my college course, finished medicine, and came here —one of the neediest spots in New England, and I knew that if I did not come, there would be no one. And I have learned that the supreme distinction is the distinction of service, and that a man, to make his life count for the most, must put it where it is most needed. That, sir, is my reason for being here." Then as he turned to go in to the preacher's son, he smiled whimsically and added, "Aren't you glad?"

Whenever a man or a woman goes where God wants them to be, miracles happen. What matters is—make sure you are where He wants you!

THE ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

In celebrating our 135th Anniversary we are endeavoring to raise the sum of $40,000.00 to help in defraying the cost of extensive renovations in the Church. We need to repaint the interior of the Church as well as the Parish House stairways. We need to improve the lighting in the Church, and because of the great activity in the Church during the hot months we need to air-condition the Church.

We are asking the members and friends of St. Stephen's to aid us in this endeavor by subscribing to a share in the cost over a period of three years.

The work needs to go forward immediately and we are going on in faith that the necessary money will be forth-coming.

We would like everyone to fill out the pledge card and give us an indication how much to expect in the next three years. No one will call upon you. We are depending on your interest in the program of St. Stephen's and the need to take care of the needs of the many who are availing themselves of our ministrations.

Three hundred persons giving one dollar a week for a period of three years will more than meet the expense of this needed project.

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D.D., Bishop of Erie, who will be our Lenten preacher Feb. 24th—28th; and the Rev. Ernest A. Harding, Rector of Christ Church, Philadelphia, on Saturday, March 1st.

PATTERN FOR LIFE

We discovered, last Sunday, that in Lent we can find a new pattern of life, and begin to live victoriously by that pattern.

Have you ever watched a person hooking rugs? Such a person can take a pile of all sorts of rags, wash them and cut them carefully into strips; and then start to hook them through the burlap base of the rug. Little by little these strips of rags from old overcoats and dresses begin to form a picture. This person is working from a pattern, the pattern of the picture she intends to make.

Life is like that. All human beings have down deep in their lives, a pattern of living. And their daily needs, the achievements of their years, depend entirely on the pattern they follow. Adolph Hitler's life brought suffering and slavery and humiliation to his people, the pains of war to the world, and final defeat and disgrace to himself—all because he followed the pagan pattern of self-glorification. Abraham Lincoln also came into a scene of strife and anger, but he made out of those same materials a picture of compassion and freedom and deepening peace—because he followed the pattern of the patient love of Jesus, that love for all men, black or white, rich or poor.

Lent can be such a thrilling adventure! You have only to look at it as a rich opportunity to discover the pattern of Jesus. You can make it your daily habit to hook every opportunity, every temptation, into His pattern, as He did in the wilderness and throughout His matchless life.

Take hardship and calamity, for instance—such as a fire in the night, endangering your life and wiping out your possessions. Some persons stand shocked and limp, overflowing with self-pity, waiting for everybody to jump to their aid. This is their pattern—to get happiness for themselves at the expense of others. Another stands in the self-same circumstances, and out of them makes a totally different picture. A real estate agent, after the great Chicago fire, put up a sign on his temporary shack, "All gone except wife, children, and energy." He had lost every material possession he had, but he was rejoicing in the keeping of his most precious treasures. For his pattern was to serve his family and his community courageously—and, fire or no fire, he could still do that!

Jesus had very simple, limited materials given Him. He was granted small-town life, a religion reduced to rules and customs, the deathly hate of His enemies, the persistent dumbness of His disciples. But out of these simple and difficult materials He fashioned the amazing picture of the love-of-God-on-earth. He could do this because His pattern was to be the willing servant of God; to love God by caring for people as God did. This is the pattern we are setting up in our frame, to follow in Lent. May God bless you as you weave your moments and days into that redeeming picture!

Mrs. Jeannie MacDougal and Mr. J. Stokes Leeds have presented the Rector with a Purple Stole, given in memory of Mrs. Harriet Smyth.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening, March 2nd. He will preach at the Arch Street Methodist Church on Monday and Tuesday at noontime, and in St. Mary's Church, Haddon Heights, N. J., on Thursday evening, March 6th.

We extend a hearty welcome to Dean John J. Weaver of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, who will be our Lenten preacher March 3rd-March 7th, inclusive; and to the Rev. Harold O. Boon, Rector of St. David's Church, Manayunk, our preacher for the Saturday, March 8th, noonday service.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—About three weeks ago my husband's mother wrote to you and requested prayer for my husband who is an alcoholic. When she received your booklets dealing with healing, she passed them on to me, and they have truly been a blessing to me. I have had these books for only seven days and I feel that vast new resources are available to me. Now my prayers for my husband are charged with new faith and new hope, for I am giving to God the burden which has proved too difficult for me to bear. I haven't been able to relinquish all my fears, anxieties, and worries regarding my husband's condition, but I am so grateful for the improvement in my attitude because it helps me live with this shadow of panic until the day I truly put everything upon Him. I know that day is coming. Mrs. R. R. (Baltimore, Md.)

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor and security and pleasure, and even life itself, for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost as we gain in our likeness to Thee. HIS FAVORITE PUPIL

Someone may say, "Do you seriously mean to say that, if a person adopts the pattern of Jesus for their living, even heart-breaks and catastrophes can be woven into something glorious?"

After all, Jesus revealed this to us Himself. He was handicapped by being a "small-town" man, and the son of a carpenter—but He let God use that "handicap" to bring Him closer to common people. When He tried to make clear His Father's secrets to His disciples, they were so mulish that they missed the point entirely. When He began to reveal the hard road of self-giving, of going to Jerusalem, the crowd began dwindling, and forgot about Him. One of His closest friends sold His life to His enemies for cash. But, in every difficulty, every heart-break, Jesus let the love of God through Him so clearly that people can still see the compassion and the long-suffering patience in that Love. Jesus' pattern worked!

One of the most painful of life's heart-breaks is undeserved suffering—why does so-and-so have cancer; why, that little girl, polio? We cannot always find clear answers of course, because we are human; but we can usually get a clue showing how this "misfortune" can be woven into the pattern of God's great love.

In one of our weekly news magazines there is a story of Clint Peurifoy. Admiral Charles Brown, in command of the 6th U. S. Fleet tells the story, for Clint's father, Jack, was an old friend. Clint is a spastic, which was a bitter mystery to his father, who became U. S. Ambassador to Greece. Clint was a brilliant boy, and an attractive personality. Queen Frederica loved him so much that she used to ask him for long visits to the royal palace in Athens. During these visits young Clinton played freely with Queen Frederica's two children. One day Prince Constantine said to his little American friend, "My sister and I have been talking about you, and we have decided that you must be the favorite pupil of Jesus." "What do you mean?" asked Clint. "Well," replied the prince, "You know how it is. In school the best pupil is always given the hardest problems to solve. God gave you the hardest problem of all, so you must be His favorite pupil." . . . "I don't believe it," said Clint. "I won't believe it unless my daddy says that he believes it." When Queen Frederica spoke to Clint's father, he shook his head—he didn't believe it; So he did not think he could say to Clint that he did. Finally he decided that, for Clint's sake, he must say it anyway; so he did. Then he began to notice Clint's deepening courage and love of other people—his victory over the handicap of being a spastic—and at last he believed. Then a strange thing happened. His two sons went out in his automobile one day, and there was an accident. Jack and the younger son were killed; and only Clint, the spastic, survived, to be the man of the house for his mother. But Clint made a great discovery—God was training him to show to all people that a spastic, beset with tragedy and heart-break, can have the courage and the love to live usefully and triumphantly. All handicapped can—if their hearts' pattern is that of Jesus.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to thank you for the prayers offered in my behalf. A few days before I received your letter I began to improve. I had a nervous breakdown and I was very desperate when I wrote you. The literature you sent me has been most helpful. I cannot understand why more Churches do not follow your lead—the need is so great. Mrs. H. C. McG. (Dallas, Texas).

MAGEE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

The Rector will give the Invocation at the Dedicatory Service of the Anna J. Magee Memorial Hospital, 1523 Race Street on Sunday, March 9th, at 2 P.M.

The Rector will lead a Seminar Class of seniors on the subject of the Urban Church at the Philadelphia Divinity School on Monday at 7 P.M. He will speak at a meeting of "Spiritual Frontiers" in Trenton, N. J. on Tuesday evening and at St. Mary's Church, Haddon Heights, on Thursday evening.

Each year on Ash Wednesday we receive a number of inquiries about the imposition of ashes. This custom is not observed in St. Stephen's in view of the very considerable body of opinion to the effect that it is to be identified with a Jewish religious practice which Our Lord forbade His disciples to imitate. (Matthew 6:16-18).

One hundred and eight men and boys sat down in the Community House for the Annual Breakfast of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew on Washington's Birthday. We are grateful to Mrs. Theodore Bechtel and her corps of workers who served such a fine meal. Of the ten Churches throughout the Diocese, St. Stephen's was second in attendance.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest even while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy peace is the peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace of which Jesus said, "Peace I leave with you, My peace I give unto you: Not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this Thy gift. Amen.

ANNIVERSARY REMINISCENSES

Dear Dr. Price:

We thoroughly appreciated your very interesting sermon that you preached on the 135th Anniversary of our Church; this I know represented a lot of work on your part. There are probably very few persons who remember the Church as we do. My mother went to St. Stephen's in 1888 or 1889. The parish house was new, there was blue carpet on the floor. We all attended Sunday School. Mother attended the mothers' meetings on Wednesday afternoons, she would take one or two of the children with her. Miss Stoddard would read to them as they made gingham aprons, which were sold. Mother also belonged to a King's Daughters group, that met on Sunday afternoons. My sisters all belonged to the G.F.S., also to another King's Daughters group in charge of Mrs. Vanderslice; she was the person who asked us to go to St. Stephen's, her husband was Dr. Edward Vanderslice, he had charge of the Phila. dispensary at 127 S. 5th St. I was baptised at St. Stephen's, also some of my sisters; we were all confirmed there. My three older sisters were married there, also Louise Braun. Mr. Wood played the organ in Sunday School and Church; he would come down on the trolley cars. Dr. S. D. McConnell was in charge and the Rev. Mr. Joseph Miller was his assistant and also superintendent of the Sunday School. On the Sunday after Easter we had our Festival, and a cross of flowers was placed near the chancel rail. The crowds were so great policemen were on duty at the side doors and front doors. The Sunday School pupils marched in singing, and the Burd School followed, and the Home of the Merciful Savior were seated in the gallery dressed in white. After the service was over the flowers were given to the Sunday School pupils. Before we joined St. Stephen's we attended St. Georges Church at 4th and Race streets. We attended Sunday School there at 2 P.M. on Sundays. For a while we attended St. Stephen's in the morning at 9:45 and St. Georges at 2 P.M. Dr. S. Weir Mitchell sat in his front pew; his daughter Maria was Louise Braun's Sunday School teacher. Mr. Roland Morris would be present, also the Clemans and Van Dusens. My sister Bessie had a Sunday School Class and Bessie Grammer was one of her pupils. We have fond recollections of St. Stephen's. It was nice greeting you on Christmas Day after the service.

Sincerely,
SELINA WILDER
Toms River, N. J.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I must tell you the wonderful news! Little Geraldine Sieley, who had gone blind in one eye, and after the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship for her, started regaining her sight. Doctors had held consultations previously and decided it was best to operate and remove that eye, since it had not responded to treatment or medication. Geraldine's eyesight continues to improve. She is so happy, and she says, "Momie, I know what has done it—praying did it." She is so young, but she seems to have an understanding with God. We are grateful to you, and all the members of the Prayer Chain. H. C. (Phila., Pa.)

The Prelude: "O Man, Bewail Thy Grievous Sin" .....Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—So much of religion is a mild assumption or a pious wish, and for that reason it never becomes a transforming power in our lives. When we know for a certainty that Jesus lives, and that He will make us live, then things begin to happen, and our lives begin to mount upward. Father, cleanse us of fear, timidity, and uncertainty, and give us the great conviction that "the best is yet to be, the last for which the first was made." Make us to know that a glorious life is within reach of us all through Thy Son Jesus. Amen.

Benedictus Es Domini .....Thiman

Benedictus, Hymnal 640 .....Chant

The Anthem: "Greater Love Hath No Man" .....Ireland
Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it. Love is strong as death. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Who His own Self bear our sins in His own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness. Ye are washed; ye are sanctified; ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus. Ye are a chosen generation, a Royal Priesthood, a Holy Nation, that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light. I beseech you, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable, unto God: which is your reasonable service.

VITAL RELIGION

Is the pattern of Jesus effective in home life—does it really mold boys and girls into Christ-like men and women? We hear so much, in these troubled days, about the "youth problem"—about the nine thousand youngsters in our state, for instance, between the ages of seven and seventeen, who came to the attention of the courts in 1957. It may be held that it is encouraging that only one out of every hundred youngsters come before a judge; and it is! But the painful facts about the tiny minorities still trouble us. Could the pattern of Jesus prevent the development of these violent and itchy-fingered youngsters?

Jesus' way not only could grow Christ-like men and women, instead of the juvenile delinquents—it actually does. As a matter of sober fact, there is no youth problem, only a parent-problem. Where a baby comes into the world with an empty mind eager to be filled—and he fills that mind entirely from the examples of the older generation, especially his father and mother.

Look back into God's Word. What lay back of the prophet Samuel, that fearless and flaming prophet of Israel—Elkanah and Hannah, two deeply religious parents, who thought of their home and their children as entrusted to them by God, and entitled to know God throughout their tender years. What lay back of Jesus? Was it not, again, two parents who believed that all life and love and joy and opportunity came from the hand of God, so that Mary's response to the news of her pregnancy was a deeply joyous song in praise of God. Jesus grew up in the climate of God's love—no wonder He was the sensitive and heroic instrument of that love throughout His brief days.

Henry Sloane Coffin once wrote, "Any normal child accepts eagerly the God whom the family and the community sincerely believe in. His vivid imagination to which the unseen is as actual and often more actual than the seen, his trustfulness, his desire for companionship, and his dislike of being left alone—all equip him for believing firmly. Many children think a great deal about God, take Him into their practical considerations, and treat Him as a very present member of the household and member of it. Those who deny their susceptible minds this religious satisfaction do them a cruel wrong and vastly impoverish their early years. Older people whose own faith is not frankly expressed, who cannot bring them to speak naturally of God and do not lead Children to talk wtih Him in family prayer and in public worship, fail to provide boys and girls with that vital religion in which they can gladly and outspokenly live as children of God."

Wherever the pattern of Jesus is followed in the family, children grow in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and men.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I am writing with a heartful of thanksgiving to express my joy over my niece's progress and return home from the hospital this week. I deeply appreciate every prayer for her, and wish to thank your Payer Fellowship for their faithfulness and great effort on her behalf for the past six months, during her mental breakdown. May God bless and further your great work. M. Z. H. (New York, N. Y.)

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Dr. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, who will be our guest preacher at the Lenten Noonday services Monday through Saturday this week.

TITHING

"No man is whole-heartedly interested in some passing need to which he tosses his loose change; but he feels differently toward that good work to which he gives systematically. All Christians give naturally to some passing need, it is true. But for their own integrity and spiritual responsibility it is necessary for them to plan to put a certan amount in God's work and to give careful thought to placing it wisely. This is not so much because God needs their help, as it is that they need to realize their own part in His great plan." M. M. S.

IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years, to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve its lighting in the Church, and to air-condition the Church. Some thirty persons have already given or pledged over four thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges toward our anniversary Improvement Fund from the following:

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Glory of the Cross lies in its expression of the great love of God and Christ for men. The shame and disgrace of the Cross were transformed into honor, because sacrifice was raised to the highest level. Its Glory is evident in transformed lives and in the blessedness and peace brought into hearts that have experienced its saving power. We thank Thee, Jesus Christ, for Thy supreme sacrifice upon the Cross. Thou hast given us a better insight into the loving heart of our heavenly Father because of it. Grant unto us the power of the Cross as an experience in our lives, so that we may glorify Thy Holy Name. Amen.

THE VITAL DECISION

Edgar Goodspeak in his, "Life of Jesus" gives a thrilling and informing picture of Jesus' entry into Jerusalem on the First Palm Sunday. The prophet Zechariah had long ago predicted that the Messiah would enter the city "humble, and riding upon an ass, even upon a colt, the foal of an ass." It was with this prophecy in mind that Jesus had carefully prepared to enter the city just as Zechariah promised the Messiah would. This means, without any doubt, that Jesus meant His entry into Jerusalem to be "the announcement, unmistakable and unforgettable, that He is indeed God's Messiah, the Commissioner of the Kingdom of heaven."

The people caught on at once and greeted Him with wild enthusiasm. As they neared the city, they followed the ancient custom of singing their favorite psalms—122, 100, 48, and others. The Messiah had come! Perhaps they had forgotten that the coming of the Messiah meant that they must choose—choose whether they were for Him, or against Him. When, the next day, He strode into the temple, overturned the tables of the money changers and condemned the corrupt church leaders for making of His Father's House a den of money-hungry thieves. "Jesus was making a frontal attack on the established order in Jerusalem, and making a bold bid for a public hearing for His message . . . He is seeking a decision, at Jerusalem."

He was seeking that decision reluctantly. He knew only too well what was—and is!—in the hearts of men. He knew the stubborn desire of men to be their own rulers, to do as they please, to welcome only a Messiah who would seek to make their dreams come true. And so He knew what a shock it would be to them to find that the true Messiah came to invite them to make God's dream come true, and to be the servants (not the masters) of God's Messenger. But still He sought to win them. Having thrown down the gauntlet to the enemies of God, in cleansing the temple, He patiently and lovingly taught them what God wanted. When they asked Him whether it was right to pay tribute to Caesar, He answered them boldly, leaving each man to decide for himself what he owed to the emperor and what he owed to God. When they asked Him whose wife would be the widow of seven husbands, He lifted the trick question to high spiritual levels, as only a Messiah could have done. And when a sincere Pharisee asked Jesus which were the great commandments of the law, Jesus gave him that ageless answer which made this honest Pharisee grateful, and Jesus commended him for his understanding. For a moment it seemed as if the Messiah was winning His way into the hearts of men who would receive and accept Him. But from then on the tide turned. The men who wanted to make a fortune for themselves out of the Church, who wanted to be little tin gods who rule the hearts and minds of men, took the center of the stage, and by craft and propaganda turned the people against their own Redeemer. Finally, by illegal and shrewd plotting, they had Him condemned and crucified, with the crowd backing them up. They had made their decision—and Jesus prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Jesus rides up to the hearts of men always with reluctance, always with love. Knowing our weaknesses, He hates to put us on the spot. But this is necessary. This is the final test of each of our lives—are we with Jesus, surrendered to Him and His way of love, or are we against Him? He rides again today, up to your heart. I can only say this, after learning it the hard way—that the only path of peace and joy lies with Him!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Your literature on Spiritual Healing came Saturday and I want to thank you very much. The one entitled, "Healing—The Gift Of God" was just what I needed. It brought me much comfort and understanding. Formerly I had been taught that my son's deformity was probably "my cross to bear" and that I should pray for strength to bear it. But it was hard to believe in God's love and mercy as I watched my son suffer year after year. The turmoil has been relieved and I feel that is a big step forward toward my boy's ultimate, complete healing. May God bless you. . . . Mrs. K. R. (Tuckahoe, N. Y.)

The Prelude: The Blessed Christ Is Risen Today ..... Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our Lord is the Almighty Victor because He conquered sin and death by His death and Resurrection. Because of His victories He promises us victory over sin and death. As He overcame, we can also overcome, and enjoy His fellowship eternally. Dear Lord, so often we grovel in the dust defeated by our doubts, fears, anxieties, and cares. Raise us up to a life of victorious faith in Thee by Thy great power. May we also overcome and be with Thee forever in glory. Amen.

Christ Our Passover, Hymnal 683 ..... Tone 1, 4

Kyrie, Hymnal 708 ..... Willan

The Anthem: "Hearts And Voices Heav'nward Raise" ..... Matthews

Hearts and voices heav'nward raise, Alleluia! Sing to God a hymn of gladness, a hymn of praise. He who on the Cross a Victim, for the world's salvation bled, Jesus Christ, the King of Glory, now is risen from the dead. Now the iron bars are broken, Christ from death to life is born, Glorious life, and life immortal on this Holy Easter morn. Christ has triumphed, and we conquer by His mighty enterprise, we with Him to life eternal, by His Resurrection rise. Alleluia! Glory be to God on High. Alleluia to the Savior who has won the victory; Alleluia! Fount of love and sanctity; Alleluia to the triune majesty; Alleluia!

THE RECTOR'S EASTER GREETING

My Beloved People of St. Stephen's:

To you who have looked forward expectantly to the glory of Eastertide: may this Day be more than filled with old and new radiance.

To you who would make of life a sacrament: may you partake of the Sacrament He gave us, and lift up your hearts in the triumph that He made.

To you who can say easily, "I believe in the fact of the Resurrection," and yet remain unchanged: may you join in seeking to know the power of this fact, and be changed.

To you who come with wistful longing to pierce through the inscrutable mysteries of faith: may you join with us who admit the inscrutable, but believe through Christ.

To you who are young and sometimes bewildered: may you be guided in your wonder By Him who taught us the gallantry of God.

To you who have suffered bereavement and its weight of sorrow and loneliness: may you be up-borne by the empty Cross, the Easter symbol of Him who can change all tragedy to triumph: may you hear daily echoing in your hearts, as in the hearts of those who now live in the many mansions of the Father's House, His words: "I am the Resurrection and the Life."

To you who find no peace in the turmoil of this discouraged world, where selfishness, sin, suffering and death seem overwhelming: may you walk again in the calm of that first Easter morning, along the lily-bordered pathways that bring you to that triumphant scene: an empty tomb, a redeemed woman, the Risen Christ!

To all: the richest blessings of Eastertide.

Affectionately and faithfully, your Rector,
Alfred W. Price

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

The Instruction Class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10:00 A.M. The Rector would appreciate hearing from adults who would like, or think they would like, to be confirmed. Attendance at the classes does not obligate one to be confirmed. The decision may be made later.

BOOK OF THE MONTH

We have now read together as a parish 57 Books of the Bible. Ezra and Nehemiah are the next on our list.

The Rector presented Miss Sarah S. Winn for Confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on March 24th, 1958.

We have been asked to call attention to the fact that the Department of Streets wants to cut away over 100 feet of the imposing entrance to the unique gorge of the Wissahickon and destroy the colonial Mansion, Shoomac Park, at the head of Wissahickon Valley, to provide an unnecessary ramp to Ridge Avenue. Write to your Councilman NOW, and protest!

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, Easter Day, 7:30 P.M. He will participate on "Bless This House," WCAU-TV, 7:55 A.M. on Tuesday, April 8th.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Some time ago I asked you to pray for my friend, M. R. She had a bad skin disease and it was scaling and would break open all the time, bleeding and itching. She had exhausted medical help. I am so glad to tell you that since your Prayer Fellowship prayed for M. R. the itching has left her. It does not break open and bleed any more, and the skin has gone from a bright red to normal color. No words can express my thoughts for you and the good work of your Church. You have helped so many that I have requested prayers for. E. W. (Phila., Pa.)

IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years, to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve its lighting in the Church, and to air-condition the Church. Some forty persons have already given or pledged $5,500.00, to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges toward our anniversary Improvement Fund from the following:

Mrs. Edna L. Wenrich
Mrs. Nelle R. Cook

EASTER OFFERING

If we are truly grateful for the Blessed Resurrection, we will want to present an offering of Thanksgiving and Gratitude to God and His Church on Easter Day, even as we are able and the Spirit directs us. For this purpose use the enclosed envelope.

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude:

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Upon being asked to perform some service, our first question often is, "What shall it profit me?" The Apostle Paul reminds us that Godliness inevitably brings profit. In this world it assures peace, happiness, and contentment; in the world to come, the greatest of all profits, life eternal. Dear Lord, make us conscious that to fashion our lives after the Lord is our most glorious task. Help us to overcome the temptations of this day and to walk in the Master's footsteps, ever keeping in mind our ultimate goal, eternity. Amen.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME ADVANCES YOUR CLOCK ONE HOUR! It's this week—So, don't forget to make the change; don't be late to Church this Sunday!

LOOKING AT CHRIST

Spring comes on, bringing the resurrection of all nature from the death of winter into the full life of summer, we find ourselves holding onto the victory-spirit of Easter! God does it in nature—and He can do it in us, if we will let Him.

Our first necessity is to know that we are as dependent on Him as the earth is upon the returning sun. Without warm, steady sunlight, there would be no Spring. Without the life-giving warmth of God in our hearts, there is no resurrected you! But when God finds a man or woman open to Him, ready to be resurrected, He can do wonders. It is not our own inner resources that accomplish this rising into life—it is God within us, and we humbly depending on Him, that brings Easter to our spirits.

Stanley Jones, in "Master," makes this so wonderfully clear. Pointing out that the early Christians did not pretend to be "self-made men," sufficient unto themselves, he says:

"They were not looking at their own inner resources—they were looking at Him. They were not introspective—they were receptive. Suppose the electric bulb should say: "look how I shine—the resources are within me. I'll stand in my own right—I'll be independent. I'll unscrew myself from the bondage of this socket." It would die. It remains a light as long as it is attached and receptive. Suppose a faucet should say: "Look what comes out of me. I'm self-sufficient. I have resources within me. I'll stand in my own right. I don't need to be attached to this pipe." It would be as dry as dry! If the rose should say: "Look at my beauty. I have drawn this beauty from myself. I don't need to be attached to this ugly earth, for I'm heavenly in myself." And suppose it should pull itself loose to be free to be lovelier! The result is certain—it would be withered by its self-sufficient pride!"

"Everything and everybody are dependent except God. And the more we acknowledge that dependence and become receptive, the more we live; and when we become receptive all-out, then we live abundantly."

You had a taste of resurrection on Easter Day—a sense of the freedom of One who, through surrender to God, is stronger than all evil, all misfortune. You can press forward into a deeper and growing victory by remembering through every hour of every day, that you are dependent on God. "Thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory!"

The Women's Aid of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing is giving a Spaghetti Dinner Tuesday, April 29th, from 5:30 to 6:30 P.M. Cost is $1.00, and the proceeds is for the Welfare Fund. Everyone is welcome

---

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: — Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Mr. A. and I express again our sincere appreciation for the truly helpful and challenging visit we had with you last June. Bridging the experiences of the intervening months I am deeply humble and grateful to be able to report to you that Mr. A. underwent successful surgery for his eye at Johns Hopkins Hospital. His restored vision tests "even better than normal." Previously another renowned surgeon had been very emphatic in saying there was absolutely no help because of a condition within the eye. Dr. M., however, had what I will always feel was a God-given urge to proceed. It was very simple—no complications, a quick recovery. I will always feel that God took over in correcting the condition and through His healing prepared the way for the operation, using this wonderful surgeon for His channel. Thank you again for your blessed part in it all.—Mrs. J. L. A. (Dallas, Texas).

We extend a hearty welcome to the Rev. Stanley R. West, D.D., who will conduct the Sunday and week-day services during the absence of the Rector.

The Rector will be at All Saints' Church, Beverly Hills, California, April 27th-29th, inclusive, and at St. Michael's Cathedral, Boise, Idaho, May 1st and 2nd.

IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years, to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve its lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Some fifty persons have already given or pledged over seven thousand dollars, to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges toward our Anniversary Improvement Fund from the following:

Mr. Francis R. Strawbridge
Miss Anna Boudira
Mr. & Mrs. Charles Stein
Miss Katharine A. Dutcher

CONFIRMATION

There are two ways to become a member of this parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church, you become a member of the parish by asking the Rector of the parish where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church. The second way is by confirmation. The Rite of Confirmation will be held on Sunday, May 11th at 11 A.M.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

When we stop daily to thank God for our many blessings, we strengthen and develop our spiritual lives. When we drop a coin in our "blue box" while saying our prayer of thanks, we help our Church to grow and develop the spiritual lives of our brethren in other parts of this world. Ingathering Sunday will be on May 4th.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—God speaks to us not only in Holy Writ but also through the wonderful book of nature. In this He reveals His power and His beauty. It is true that change and decay at times seem to mar this beauty. But even out of change and decay there comes new beauty to glorify the Creator. The beauty of God expresses itself in the beauty of His handiwork. O Lord, our God, who hast made Thy name excellent in all the earth and who hast set Thy glory above the heavens, open our eyes to behold the expression of Thy glory in the beauty of nature. Amen.

JUDGE NOT

In recent months I have been re-discovering the thought of Leslie Weatherhead, the wise and beloved Minister of the City Temple, in London, England. I want to pass on to you his clear and deeply convincing explanation of Jesus' teaching about judging others.

He begins by showing that we give ourselves away by our hot judgements of others. It makes us feel good to think about the sins of others. Or, sometimes we condemn others for the very sin we would most like to enjoy commiting, so we are really saying, "we can't see you relishing that sin, either!"

But, beyond this, the trouble with our very human judgements of others is that they are so likely to be unfair. John Wesley tells a story of a man whom in his heart he condemned for many years. Wesley labeled the man contemptuously as miserly, ungenerous. One day the man contributed to one of Wesley's favorite causes a gift that seemed very small indeed, and Wesley lost his temper and hotly criticized the poverty of the gift. But the man looked Wesley right in the eye and said, "I know a man who, at the week's beginning, goes to market and buys a few cents-worth of parsnips and takes them home to boil in water, and all that week he has parsnips for his meat and water for his drink, and meat and drink alike cost him a few cents a week." "Who is the man?" asked Wesley. "I am," was the reply, and Wesley wonderfully comments in his diary as follows: "This he constantly did, although he then had an adequate income, in order that he might pay the debts he had contracted before he knew God. This was the man that I had thought to be covetous." Judge not — that ye be not judged by your cruelly unfair judging!

Weatherhead tells a kindred story of a luxury cruise, and a young spoiled girl who delighted in the wonderful variety of the shapes the chef gave to the ice-cream pudding each night. One night it seemed very ordinary, and this spoiled girl complained to the captain that the chef was getting slack. She did not know that a radio message had reached the chef that his wife was very ill, and that, on the night that the pudding was so ordinary he had received word that she had died. Judge not, lest by the dreadful injustice of your judging you be judged yourself.

The late Dr. Alexander Whyte used to say that before you utter a judgement on another, you should first ask, "Is it true?"; second, "Is it necessary?"; third, "Is it kind?" That sounds like the voice of Jesus, speaking to each one of us!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW: — Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Praise God from whom all blessings flow! The epilepsy which my Billy has had for 21 years has left him. He has had no attacks since the early morning hours of Palm Sunday; whereas he was having three or four every hour, day and night. They just stopped. In 1944 I took Bill to the New York Neurological Institute. There I was told, in addition to the fact that nothing could be done for him, that the development in the base of the brain had been arrested. Now, I am praying that his mental powers may be restored. I don't know how to thank God enough. And I am so grateful to you and your Prayer Fellowship.—Mrs. W. P. W. (Geneva, N. Y.)

BOOK OF THE MONTH

We have now read together as a parish 59 Books of the Bible. I Chronicles and II Chronicles are next on our list.

Our Annual Parish Meeting for the election of the twelve Vestrymen will take place immediately following the Confirmation Service on Sunday, May 11th. Refreshments will be served, and a Missionary Film will be shown. Every member and friend of St. Stephen's is urged to be present.

THE UNITED THANK OFFERING

The Spring In-Gathering of the Women's United Thank Offering will be received Sunday, May 4th. The U.T.O. blue envelopes have been mailed to the women of the parish, and for others interested they may be found in the vestibules of the Church. This offering supports vast Missionary Projects around the world and is an expression of thankfulness from all Church women. Checks may be mailed or left at the Church Office. Mrs. Wilson Leithead is our parish Custodian.

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, Sunday evening at 7:30 P.M.

CONFIRMATION

Bishop Armstrong will visit our parish on Sunday, May 11th at 11 A.M. to administer the Apostolic Rite of Confirmation. At the eleventh hour it is not too late to make your decision to be confirmed. Speak to the Rector!

We are grateful for these recent Bulletin Subscriptions: Mrs. Anna Allen, Mrs. Philip A. Arnold, Alice B. Ewing, Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, N. E. Pincin, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith, Mrs. M. Thomas.

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

Prelude: O God, Thou Faithful God .....Brahms

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Read these words slowly and think what they mean: "Forgiving, Gracious, Merciful, Patient and Kind." They dscribe God's attitude toward us. He expects us who know that we will not be forsaken by Him; to temper our attitudes towards others with the same words. O God, we thank Thee for Thy great mercy toward us. Help us, when things are not quite right in our lives and we are tempted to hurt our loved ones and neighbors. Teach us to forgive those who have wronged us. Let us be gracious and patient and kind. Amen.

Hymn after Confirmation 375, Verses 3-4 .....Nova Vita

Anthem: O Lord Most Holy .....Franck
O Lord most holy, O Lord most mighty; O loving Father, Thee would we be praising alway. Help us to know Thee, know Thee and love Thee; Father, grant us Thy truth and grace; Father, guide and defend us. Rule Thou our wilful hearts, keep Thine our wandering thoughts; in all our sorrows, let us find our rest in Thee. And, in temptation's hour, save through Thy mighty power; Thine aid O send us; hear us in Thy mercy. Show us Thy favor; So shall we live and sing praise to Thee.

HOW TO BEGIN YOUR DAY

It makes all the difference in the world how you begin your day. For this reason I want to share with you a page from John Baillie's wonderful "Diary of Private Prayer." My hope is that a taste of its warm, understanding companionship with God will tempt you to get the book for yourself. Here is a meditation to prepare your spirit for a day's living—to be read, to be prayed, thoughtfully and slowly, until God is close to you, and you are ready to start your day with Him:

"O God, my Creator and Redeemer, I may not go forth today except Thou dost accompany me with Thy blessing. Let not the vigor and freshness of the morning, or the glow of good health, or the present prosperity of my undertakings, deceive me into false reliance upon my own strength. All these good gifts have come to me from Thee. They were Thine to give and they are Thine also to curtail. They are not mine to keep; I do but hold them in trust; and only in continued dependence upon Thee, the Giver, can they be worthily enjoyed.

"Let me then put back into Thine hand all that Thou hast given me; rededicating to Thy service all the powers of my mind and body, all my worldly goods, all my influence with other men. All these, O Father, are Thine to use as Thou wilt. All these are Thine, O Christ. All these are Thine, O Holy Spirit. Speak Thou in my words today, think in my thoughts, and work in all my deeds. And seeing that it is Thy gracious will to make use even of such weak instruments in the fulfillment of Thy mighty purpose for the world, let my life today be the channel through which some little portion of Thy Divine Love and Pity may reach the lives that are nearest to my own.

"In Thy solemn presence, O God, I remember all my friends and neighbors, my fellow-townsfolk, and especially the poor within our gates, beseeching Thee that Thou wouldst give me grace, as far as in me lies, to serve them in Thy name.

"O Blessed Jesus, who didst use Thine own most precious life for the redemption of Thy human brethren, giving no thought to ease or pleasure or worldly enrichment, but filling up Thine hours and days with deeds of self denying Love, give me grace today to follow the road that Thou didst first tread; and to Thy name be all the glory and the praise, even unto the end. Amen."

RECTOR'S HEALING MISSION

The Rector preached to over 10,000 people on his recent twelve day Healing Mission tour of the West. Starting in the Marble Collegiate Church in New York City, where he conducted a Healing Service at Noon in the Chapel and preached in the Church in the evening and met with the psychiatrists of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry for several hours during the day. He conducted a three day Healing Mission in St. Paul's Cathedral, Oklahoma City, and had additional services in Wesley Methodist Church, and in the Medical Foundation Chapel for Doctors, Nurses and patients, and luncheon meetings with the local clergy, personal consultations and the induction of twenty-five members of the Order of St. Luke.

From Oklahoma City he went to Denver where he spoke to representatives of the local prayer groups and conducted a healing service in the Episcopal Cathedral and the Warren Methodist Church. He spoke to a group of working men at a 6 A.M. breakfast meeting, and to a fine group of clergy at 8:30 A.M., and to a luncheon meeting of 38 clergy, including the Episcopal and Methodist Bishops of Denver.

In All Saints' Church, Beverly Hills, the attendance for the three days was 3,825, and two hundred and twenty-five attended the Order of St. Luke's Supper. Some 25 were inducted into the Order and some two thousand came to the Altar Rail for the laying-on-of-hands.

In St. Michael's Cathedral in Boise, Idaho, four capacity services were held and twenty inducted into the O.S.L. Two TV interviews were given and Supper and Breakfast Meetings were held for the Bishop and Clergy. Some of the Clergy coming from distances of several hundred miles. A fine meeting with 25 doctors was held in St. Luke's Hospital.

The responsiveness of the people everywhere along the route was overwhelming. People are coming to the Church today for the vital answers to their problems.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PARISH will be held on Sunday at 12:15 P.M. in the Community House. At this meeting twelve men will be elected to the Vestry. An interesting Mission Work film will be shown, and refreshments will be served.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The stream of life flows softly on. Our days are quickly spent. Happy childhood days and the carefree days of youth speedily fade into life's noon. Then comes the mellow afternoon, when the golden sun melts into lovely eventide. Should God's mercy spare us for the eventide of life, there will be light for the trusting child of God. Loving Father, who carest for Thy children throughout their entire journey of life, grant that light may be ours at eventide. We can peacefully depart from these scenes if our eyes behold Thy salvation. Amen.

Sing praise to God who reigns above, the God of all creation, the God of power, the God of love, the God of our salvation; with healing balm my soul he fills, and every faithless murmur stills: To God all praise and glory! What God's almighty power hath made His gracious mercy keepeth; by morning glow or evening shade His watchful eye ne'er sleepeth; within the Kingdom of His might all is just, and all is right: To God all power and glory! Then all my joyful way along I sing aloud Thy praises, that men may hear the grateful song my voice unwearied raises: Be joyful in the Lord, my heart! Both soul and body bear your part! To God all praise and glory!

CONVERSION

Today we continue with "It's knowing what to do with things that counts." Last week we saw what God intended us to do with our Christian faith. It is intended to change us into better neighbors, more understanding parents, more refreshing friends, more radiant disciples. We live among the people for whom life has grown dull and flat. The Spirit of God, working within us, can restore their zest and relish.

Of course most people know (in their heads) what to do with familiar things. Every sane workman knows that the God given use of his money is to care for his wife and his children. But, deep down, his difficulty is that he has never decided what to do with his life, himself! He has not even stopped to think what his life is for; for what purpose God created it; what it was designed to do. So he slips into the easy rut of acting as if his life belongs to himself; and does what he wants to. Because he has not decided what his life was created for, he spends his check at the race track window, and his family goes short on food.

Shortly before he died, Jesus told the story which leaves no doubt what your life was designed for. A nobleman, looking ahead to a trip abroad, entrusted sums of money to three servants he relied on; and bade them to invest it in his interest. On his return, he called them in to give him an accounting, for it was his money that had been entrusted to them. Jesus makes it clear that our first task in life is to be a servant of God, and that life has been entrusted to each of us to be used in God's interests.

The big problem for every man and woman is to face that challenge, and to come to terms with God. When one stops running feverishly away from the problem, quiets down in His presence, it is not too difficult to see that each one of us, and all our possessions, belong to God. It does not take a mighty brain to understand that the only worthwhile career is to become a good and faithful servant of God. It does take praying, and wrestling of soul, to become willing to accept the job! It takes Bible reading. It takes humble study and adoration of Jesus Christ. As you open your eyes, you begin to see that the loveliest and most useful people you have ever known were the good and faithful servants of God; that the greatest Statesmen and leaders have been (like our Abraham Lincoln, and that earlier Abraham of 30 centuries before) servants of God.

When the light suddenly breaks into your heart, and you decide to go to work as God's servant, that is called "Conversion." In everyday language "Conversion" simply means that you turned away from the stupid, unhappy serving of yourself to the glorious and radiant serving of God. That is what He gave His life for. "It's knowing what to do with things that counts."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Thank you for writing to me so promptly and assuring me that prayers were being said for Debbie Forrester, at the time six months old. Her case was one where her pancreas wasn't functioning properly, and after bronchial pneumonia one lung had collapsed. The doctors had said, when I wrote to you, that Debbie had only a few days to live. After I wrote to you the doctor said, "A miracle has happened to this baby, for I didn't think she would leave the hospital alive." Since that time Debbie has had some very good days. However, she still needs your prayers.

The Prelude: O What Their Joy ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We, too, would now make this same declaration of an unbroken succession of Divine deliverance and with Samuel give our testimony to the enduring faithfulness and mercy of our Lord. "He who hath helped thee hitherto will help thee all thy journey through." Dear Lord, whatever hath befallen us by the way of trial and sorrow, we have never lost confidence in Thee, even though in our weakness we would have had it some other way. Give us ever the assurance that all things work together for good unto those who love Thee. Amen.

After 1st Lesson: Benedictus Es Domini ..... Thiman

After 2nd Lesson: Jubilate Deo, Hymnal 645 ..... Chant

Anthem: "Ye Who Now Sorrow" ..... Brahms
Ye now are sorrowful; howbeit, ye shall again behold Me, and your heart shall be joyful; and your joy no man taketh from you. Yea, I will comfort you, as one whom his own mother comforteth. Look upon Me; ye know that for a little time labor and sorrow were Mine, but at the last I have found comfort. Yea, I will comfort you.

WALKING WITH GOD

Stephen Bayne, Jr., in his rich and helpful "Christian Living," points out how hard it is for us to accept the responsibility for our own wrong doing. We much prefer to lay it on someone else's shoulders! "From Adam on down, we have been tempted to lay the blame on another; "woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me the fruit of the tree . . ." And Eve blamed it on the serpent. Lincoln Steffens once suggested that if the serpent could have spoken, he would have blamed it on the fruit of the tree!"

The fact remains that we are free to choose good or evil. We know the difference between the two. One difficulty is that, often, our choice is not between black and white, but between the better and the best, between the respectable good and God's glorious high road. And we so quickly take the easier, lower way, while God beckons us along the climbing path. It is still sin when we choose the second best, for following one's own preference is plainly sin. Further, we know that God has put into us the power to choose the best; and when we are trustfully dependent on Him, we always find the courage and willingness to take the road to Jerusalem. From the story of Jesus we have learned that beyond every Calvary lies Easter, and beyond that, the Day of Pentecost.

In the life of every sincere seeker, there comes a point where we face up to our sin "in thought, and word, and deed." We ask the Merciful Father to forgive and cleanse us, and set us on our feet. We acknowledge now, beyond all doubt, that it was our choice to go our own way. We have found that our wilful way leads to destruction and death. So we begin to crave the higher way, the steep, tough path. For we find that, with God as our Guide, we keep coming to the top of some stiff climb, and suddenly look out over God's world with all its breath-taking beauty. Walking with God is the richest and most rewarding way a man can take.

A MISSION OF CHRISTIAN HEALING AT ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH

Sunday Mornings in July at 11 O'Clock

July 6th—How To Help Someone In A Nervous Breakdown
July 13th—Functions of the Sub-Conscious
July 20th—Ways To Speed Your Recovery
July 27th—Turning To God For Health And Healing
THE MISSIONER—The Rev. Alfred W. Price, D.D.

The Public is invited. Bring your friends of any faith, or no faith. Personal conferences by appointment.

The Mission is a challenge and an inspiration to people in normal health quite as much as to those who are sick.

The Thursday Healing Services are omitted during July and August.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—This is to report that I really feel like a new person, calm and relaxed. I want to thank you for giving me so generously of your time and I thank God for giving me the courage and strength to come and talk with you and attend the Healing Service afterwards. I am grateful to the Prayer Fellowship for their faithful prayers. I shall come in again. I'll never forget this experience.

—E. S. (Haddonfield, N. J.)

The Rector will participate in a Panel Discussion at The Hahnemann Medical College on May 29th, with a radiologist, psychiatrist and an internist, to discuss the terminal or hopeless cancer patient; with especial reference to the relation of the minister to the professional team.

The Rector will speak at the Faith At Work Conference at Pocono Crest on Saturday, May 31st.

Some 50 Lutheran Clergymen will visit St. Stephen's Church on May 27th, on a field trip to discuss the opportunities of an inter-city Church.

NOTE: The proper music for the Venite, Benedictus Es Domini and Jubilate Deo are found in the back of each hymnal. The congregation is urged to turn to the proper place, and join in the full singing of each Chant. Helpful suggestions as to proper singing of "Anglican Chant" are found at the beginning of this section of the Hymnal. The key to good singing is natural speech rhythm . . . don't hurry over little words, but stress the important ones to bring out the meaning. The "tune" changes at the upright line . . . everything up to this line is sung on one note. Breathe only at the end of a line.

The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

The Prelude: Cantabile ..... Franck

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Saviour, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence wherever we may be and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

POWER TO TRANSFORM

Once we have faced up to our sin, accepted the blame for it, asked God's pardon and received it—we experience the "Calm of Sin Forgiven." We find that quiet, amazing peace, like the peace of a summer evening, when all the day's twitter and busi-ness and darting to and fro are over, and stillness settles over the earth.

In that peace we can find compassion for all the stumbling men and women who are still learning the hard way. We watch them taking the unrewarding road of their own desires, and we yearn for them to want God's way. We are humble enough now not to rush to try to show them the answers, for we remember that we had to want God's way first before anyone could help us to find it. So we keep these stumbling people in our prayers, lifting them up again and again into His presence, trusting Him to find for them what we cannot. Little by little we begin to know that God can give them the same abundant life He has given us, and that they will respond. We meet them now with a new feeling, of both compassion and confidence, being confident that they will let God transform their stubborn selfishness into determined good will, their hurtful condemnation of others into an eager search for the way to draw them into fellowship with the Risen Christ.

Stanley Jones, in "Mastery," vividly portrays the power of God to transform the most unlikely people. He shows how the infinite Love, working through a plain man, can miraculously change another, as illustrated in the story of Ananias and Saul:

Note this: "But Ananias answered, 'Lord, I have heard from many about this man, how much evil he has done . . .' But the Lord said to him, 'Go, for he is a chosen instrument of Mine.' Note "how much evil he has done . . . he is a chosen instrument . . ." One saw an iniquity; but the Other saw an instrument. And the Positive prevailed—and how! It prevailed over the doubts and fears of Ananias, and he turned to the powerfully Positive, "brother Saul." His would-be murderer was his brother, for his positive love turned the enemy into a friend—and more, into a brother. The stricken Saul must have shaken with sobs as he cried, "My God, they're calling me 'brother'—I who have come down to murder them—they've made me 'brother'." Then and there Saul was converted, I believe. He was stunned and blinded on the Damascus Road, but not converted. Here he saw, through human forgiveness, the Divine Forgiveness, and entered into the gates of eternal Life.

God has given a few souls into your power. He has set them so intimately close to you that you can hurt or help them more than anyone else in the world. Walk so closely in the direction of God's purposes that His power can work through you, a twentieth Century Ananias, to lift them to become the Pauls God intended them to be!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—One month ago I wrote you to pray for me in relation to my work. I am thankful to God and your Prayer Fellowship. I have felt the effect of your help. I am happier and more relaxed on my job than I have been in fifteen years. I am studying the literature you sent me.—Mrs. E. T. L. (Jacksonville, Florida)

BOOK OF THE MONTH

The Book of Judges will be the Book of the Month for June. This will then count up to 62 Books we have read together as a Parish.

The Rector presented Mrs. Sally E. Gehring for confirmation in the Bishop's Chapel on May 26th.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Some sixty persons have already given or pledged over eight thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges toward this Fund from the following:

Mrs. B. M. Tinsley
Miss Alice B. Ewing
Mr. J. Stokes Leeds

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington on Sunday evening.

"These Times" Magazine has published an article "Christ Can Heal Today" by the Rector, in the June Issue.

We acknowledge with thanks these recent Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Martha Coleman, Mrs. Annie Foster, Eva Hansen, Mrs. B. M. Tinsley, Adele M. Watts, Mrs. Diane Buckalew.

Mrs. Ruth Leithead, United Thank Offering Custodian for St. Stephen's, reports that at the U. T. O. presentation Service at Valley Forge Military Academy Chapel, on May 19th, St. Stephen's gave $247.79, representing 85 contributors from our Church.

THE SILENT MEDITATION: Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope, that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind thus far in its march upwards and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to recognize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. AMBASSADORS OF GOD'S LOVE

In a small village, in New England, the people of the Church got to battling like pagans, with the minister as the storm center. What was the God-Given part for him?

His opportunity was to witness to the power of Christ to overcome all small-hearted raging. Jesus demonstrated this, when His disciples wrangled as to who were going to be the Kingdom "big shots." But, all too often, we ministers allow ourselves to be distracted or humanly angry, instead of acting as Ambassadors of God's mighty Love. Before we know it, we have taken sides in a war that leaves out God entirely. We are pledged to be the channels of His compassion, reconciling lonely rebels to their Father, comforting pain-torn lives, and strengthening the weakening ones by God's power working through us. Yet sometimes we get so absorbed in fashioning a "clever" sermon that we neglect a desperately needed pastoral call. These are some of our sins, and they are grievous. We can blame them on no one else but ourselves.

But you lay people can be honest enough to face your part in the "making" of a minister. Some of you, in your eager loyalty to the Master, build up your minister, and pour God's strength into him. So many others, without realizing it, weaken your minister, and trip him up. In professional baseball, twenty years ago, a brilliant youngster named Ted Williams flashed onto the scene like a meteor. He was a clean living, rather friendly youngster, loaded with fabulous talent, determined to become a great player, but not yet sure of himself. So he spluttered and flamed up and sulked a few times, and what did the sport writers do? They colorfully pictured him as a child with tantrums, and, by so doing, they helped him to become exactly that. So they did their part in fashioning a temperamental actor who would spit at crowds, instead of a hero like Lew Gehrig, who showed millions of boys how to be a gentleman on the diamond. You lay men and women have a similar part in the shaping of a minister. Granted that he should stand strong and courageous and go God's way, no matter what you say or do—he is human, and he does respond to you. Sometimes you miss God's way and it is your minister's difficult duty to "administer the Godly discipline" of God's firm, strong Love; and you do not like it at all, and flame back resentfully. Believe me, he has to pray extra, to let God's patience displace his own resentment!

Many of you demand that your minister organize a "successful" Church, a bee hive of busy-ness instead of a family-household of God. Some of you, as you leave Church, gush, "You preached a wonderful sermon today!" As if it came merely from his human mind. You put him up on a pedestal as if he were the Deity to be worshipped! But some of you, thank God, as you shake hands with him after service, quietly and gratefully say, "I could hear God in your sermon this morning;" and you are molding him into a man of God! More power to you, for you are building the Church through which God could save His world from destruction.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—About ten months ago my wife received from you copies of your healing booklets which were sent to her as part of your healing ministry. Gradually as she read them three times a day, she began to recover. Last December we wrote to you for an appointment at one of your healing services. In the meantime my wife has so fully recovered that a visit to your Church does not seem necessary. She is continuing to read and study your booklets, and they are in shreds. But they have been the means of her recovery, and both of us are indeed grateful, as three long periods of hospitalization and hundreds of dollars of medical expenditures failed to restore her to health. Our heart-felt thanks to you.—W. G. O. (Crystal Falls, Michigan)

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. "The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—MORNING PRAYER AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins."—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer

The Prelude: Devotion ..... Bossi

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—To pray for the coming of God's Kingdom is to dedicate yourself to the task of bringing it about. The first duty is to bring your own personal life into conformity with the principles of the Kingdom, then to use your God-given talents in His service. Lord, help us to make our prayers genuine and not a mere repetition of words. Amen.

Benedictus Es Domini ..... Thiman

Jubilate Deo, Hymnal 645 ..... Chant

Anthem: Blessed Are All They That Fear The Lord ..... Sowerby

Blessed are all they that fear the Lord, and walk in His ways. For thou shall eat the labors of thine hands: O well is thee and happy shalt thou be. Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine upon the walls of thine house; thy children like the olive branches round about thy table. Lo, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord. The Lord from out of Sion shall so bless thee, that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperity all thy life long; yea, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

The Sermon: "THE HAPPY HYPOCRITE" ..... The Rector

Offertory Hymn 556 ..... St. Andrew of Crete

Recessional Hymn 385 ..... Austria

Flowers on our Altar today are provided by the Katherine Kennedy Fund in memory of Margaret Quigley Fleischer, Walter James Coulter and Charles E. Beck.

POWER TO TRANSFORM

The story is told of a young missionary who went out to Africa, and failed. He was sincere, but he lacked something vital, and the natives were not drawn to him. So, at the end of a year, the Committee in charge of the work met, and voted to send him home as a failure. But, before they gave him the dreadful news, they met again, and really opened their hearts and minds to God's leading. And it came to them that God's desire was to give the young man another chance. So they went to him and said that he could stay, provided he would read the 13th Chapter of 1st Corinthians every day for a year. He did. He was transformed, and the same people who were going to send him home elected him to be their Bishop! He became a greatly loved and devoted builder of God's Household in that dark continent.

You have read many times the Chapter which transformed the missionary from a failure into a fruitful worker in God's far-flung vineyard. You have read it in the old and familiar translation we all have known since we were children. Actually, it is so familiar that we miss some of its power and "bite." Recently I came across Goodspeed's translation of this glorious Chapter, and I invite you to read it every day through the next week.

"I will show you a far better way. If I speak the languages of men and even of angels, but have no love, I am only a noisy gong or a clashing cymbal. If I am inspired to preach, and know all the secret truths, and possess all knowledge, and if I have such perfect faith that I can move mountains, but have no love, I am nothing. Even if I give away everything I own, and give myself up, but do it in pride, not love, it does me no good.

"Love is patient and kind. Love is not envious or boastful. It does not put on airs. It is not rude. It does not insist on its own rights. It does not become angry. It is not resentful. It is not happy over injustice, it is only happy with truth. It will bear anything, believe anything, hope for anything, endure anything.

"Love will never die out. If there is inspired preaching, it will pass away. If there is ecstatic speaking, it will cease. If there is knowledge, it will pass away. For our knowledge is imperfect and our preaching is imperfect. But when perfection comes, what is imperfect will pass away.

"When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I put aside my childish ways. For now we are looking at a dim reflection in a mirror, but then we shall see face to face. Now my knowledge is imperfect, but then I shall know as fully as God knows me. So faith, hope, and love endure. These are the great three, but the greatest of them is Love."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I want to tell you this and I think you will be glad to hear it. One of the problems I was facing when I came to your healing services in Denver was a possible thyroid cancer operation. The swelling has decreased perceptibly. The doctor in the Santa Fe Hospital has since told me it is not cancerous. I know the prayers of St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship and your healing services helped not only in the physical improvement but in keeping me from fear and anxiety. Your services, the group prayers and your prayers in the little books all helped me to feel "fenced about by loving omnipotence."—M. D. K. (Taos, N.M.)

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Some 75 persons have already given or pledged over eight thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges toward this Fund from the following:

Mrs. Anthony Rinkers
Mrs. Maude Hinds
Mrs. Edith R. Stout

The Prelude: O God, Be Merciful To Me ..... J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"I believe in God and the life everlasting" is a most marvelous statement of faith. The two parts of it are inseparable; one is meaningless without the other. To doubt God's willingness or power to give us eternal life is to limit Him so that He is no longer God. We cannot fight the good fight of faith except we first "lay hold on eternal life." Eternal Father, we are Thine now, and in eternity. And those whom we have "loved and lost awhile" are both Thine and ours if we are Thine. Strengthen us in a healthy hope of everlasting life through our confidence in Thee. Amen.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

All men wake up in the morning expecting something. Some expect only the old, tiresome grind; some, a day boiling with worry; some expect a mixture of drudgery and joy; while still others look for a difficult but glorious march toward golden hopes. These last can look into the blackest storms with hope, because they look to the Father. As the old Psalmist put it, "My soul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from Him. He only is my rock and my salvation. He is my defence. I shall not be moved."

As we grow older, there are days when we do face black clouds, and the storm pounds against our souls. Yet, even there, our expectation can be from God. In 1892 Young Robert Byers lay helpless in a tiny room in Adelaide, Australia. A college student of great promise as a musician, he had suddenly been stricken with paralysis. Worse than that, little by little his sight and hearing became affected, and in 14 years he was totally blind and almost deaf. All he could do was lie motionless on his bed, and think; and talk in slow sentences with his friends who came to see him. One might think that he might stop expecting anything from life except despair. But as he faced the black night of his storm, he believed that God still had opportunities for him. One day he confided in a visitor, "I've got lots of friends, but there are other blind people (particularly children) who haven't. I'm going to see if I can't interest my friends in helping them." So he wrote to his friends, asking each to give some annual birthday gift for a needy blind child. In five years, Robert Byers, still lying motionless, blind and almost deaf, was receiving annual birthday gifts from 1500 friends and friends of friends; and was helping no less than 80 blind boys and girls in twenty-one different lands. And, when he died in 1926, his friends carried on that work. His expectation was from God—see what wonderful good came out of it.

We remember how Jesus Christ came as the Light of the world, to shine in our dark skies with His infinite Love. Dare to claim your right as a Christian—the right of expecting something glorious from God, no matter how dark and threatening your skies may be. "My soul, wait thou upon God, for my expectation is from Him."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—It has been quite a long time since I wrote asking for prayers. I wish to tell you that I have been greatly benefitted. My eyes are much stronger and the sight better. It is really quite wonderful how much better I can see. I wish to thank you and all who have offered up prayers for me. I also thank God for giving you the power to help me.—R. L. (Van Nuys, Calif.)

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY

St. John Baptist Day, June 24th, marks the thirtieth Anniversary of the Rector's Ordination to the Ministry of the Church. Sixteen of those years have been spent as Rector of this Parish. He was ordained in his second year in Theological School. In 1929-30 he was assistant at Christ Church, East Orange, N.J. From 1930 to 1942 he was Rector of St. Philip's Church, Brooklyn, and in March, 1942, he became the eighth Rector of St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia.

David Smith has received his Master's Degree in Engineering at Yale University and will continue there for his Doctor's Degree. Hearty congratulations!

The air-conditioning of our Church is progressing very satisfactorily and should be finished by July 1st.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Some 80 persons have already given or pledged over eight thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mrs. Alice Driscoll, Mrs. A. Thomas Nelson. In memory of Eunice D. Burke.

— A NOTE TO THE CHURCH —

Yes, I want to pledge a special contribution towards the 135th Anniversary Fund to help defray the cost of air-conditioning the Church, improving the lighting and cleaning the marble memorials and repainting the interior of the Church.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—What will the day bring forth? Thus we may well ask in the face of the uncertainties of life. But life has its certainties also: God, for one thing, and His care for His people. He "restores" and He "leads." A path is sunny when these Divine Certainties accompany us on our way. THE GREAT DIVIDE

We are thinking today of the time of the deeping of Jesus' agony of spirit, as He approached the Cross. His grief of spirit was not because of His own approaching pain of body or of Spirit. Rather, it was because of men's incredible sloth of spirit, their blindness to the glory of Love's way. Even those He had drawn close to Him, sleeping and eating and talking with them, patiently teaching them by stories that children could grasp—these men, His men, still plodded on, determined to have their own way. Right after He had told them, for the third time, that He had come among them to teach them Love, and that His way would lead to a lonely Cross in Jerusalem, two of them slipped away from the others, and earnestly besought a favor of Him—that they might occupy the places of honor in His Kingdom, on His right and on His left. That certainly was the Passion experience—for these intimate friends were still trying to fit Jesus into their plans, instead of fitting themselves into His plans—even as you and I have done so many times.

So, once more, He opens the whole of His great Mind and Heart to them as their patient Teacher and Saviour. He pointed to the governments of their day, in Rome and through the Orient, and said, "You know that those who are supposed to rule over the gentiles lord it over them, and their great men exercise authority over them. But it shall not be so among you; for whoever would be great among you must be your servant." As a scholar makes clear, "His words reject not only Rome with its exploitation, and all imperialism, all colonialism, which seeks advantage, rather than service . . . Jesus finds that there is nothing in the business of lording it over peoples which deserves the name of leadership . . . at all . . . Again, He asserts that the only greatness lies in service." Yet, in our Churches we have so often accepted the world's standards in raising up powerful heads of Churches, the pomp and show of expensive and extravagant dramatics, the "success" of raising large sums of money and erecting costly buildings—all this for the Church of the Christ who came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister. Jesus rejects the whole scheme of pomp and power, of position and iron rule over others—greatness lies, not in ruling, and in having one's needs taken care of by servants; but in gladly and lovingly looking to the needs of others, and taking care of them.

To put it simply, learning the life of service is "growing up," maturing into the likeness of Jesus Christ. As babies and little children, we start life being ministered to, being cared for by those who love us. As one writer has put it, "We all begin in the passive voice. We are acted upon before we act. We are loved before we love. We are served, in ways almost beyond count, before we serve. By how many we are ministered to—all the way from astronomers to poets to bus operators and garbage collectors! Yet a life's most significant graduation day comes when we graduate into the active voice. And so few ever do; ever really come to moral maturity. The aim of the "great ones" whom Jesus repudiated was to keep themselves in the passive voice, to be waited upon, ministered to, forever on the receiving end, never on the giving. That is the surest way to miss life in its largest possibilities. Only when we get life across this "great divide" do we touch its highest glory or its deepest joy." This is the message of Christianity, to cross the "great divide" from being ministered to, to ministering!

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

We are looking forward to the International Conference of the Order of St. Luke The Physician to be held in St. Stephen's Church September 14th-17th, inclusive. Everyone is invited and we expect a deep religious experience on the part of everyone who attends.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I feel that the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship have reached the skies and that God has smiled upon me. I must say, with a happy heart, that my nerves have been better for the past few weeks than they have been in 12 years. My blood pressure has gone down to normal. For nearly 5 years it has been about 230; now, for 4 weeks it has been running 140. I cannot thank God enough for His great blessing.—Mrs. G. F. A. (Jacksonville, S. C.)

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Over 100 persons have already given or pledged ten thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from:

Miss May M. Hoffner
Miss Radia Rosendale
Countess de Bauruot
Eva Hansen
Mrs. Arthur Kennedy
Miss Anne Snow
In memory of Anna Daley

NEW COMMUNICANTS

"No longer strangers, but members of the household."

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 90 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We live in the present. The past is gone and cannot be changed. If we are anxious for the morrow, we attempt to live the future today. Why add the burden of the morrow to that of the day? "Cast all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you." We confess, heavenly Father, that we often commit the folly of being anxious and worried. Renew a right spirit within us and endow us with perfect trust. Give us assurance of Thy Wisdom and Goodness. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

PRAYING FOR YOU

In the 17th Chapter of St. John's Gospel you will read that glorious prayer of Jesus, at the end of His ministry on earth. In it He prays for all those, in all Centuries, who would try to follow lovingly in His footsteps. Actually, He was praying for you. At the end of each day, we look back to see how we have followed Him, or failed to do so. And it is vital, before our eyes close, that we settle up that day with the Master, that we may sleep in the peace of being forgiven for our sins, encouraged in our faithfulness, and humbly eager and confident for tomorrow's dawning. To help you in closing your days, I share with you an Evening Meditation of John Bailey:

"O Thou before Whose eyes all human hearts lie bare and open, forbid that I should seek to hide from Thee anything that I have this day done or thought or imagined. What must be forever hidden from the knowledge of others, that let me openly acknowledge in Thy Presence. What no proper shame kept me from committing, that let no false shame keep me now from confessing.

"O Thou, whose tender mercies are over all Thy works, humbly and sorrowfully I crave Thy forgiveness for the sins of this day:

For every weakening and defiling thought to which my mind has given harbor;
For every word spoken in hastiness or passion;
For every failure of self-control;
For every stumbling block which by deed or example I have set in another's way;
For every opportunity lost;
For every blessing thanklessly received;
For loitering feet and a procrastinating will;
For this . . .
And this . . .
And this . . .

And grant that, as the days go by, Thy Spirit may more and more rule in my heart, giving me victory over these and other sinful ways.

"To Thy loving guardianship, A Holy Father, I commend all those who are dear to me, especially . . . and . . . Bless all amongst whom my lot is cast, grant them the satisfying sense of Thy reality and power. Be with all those who tonight are in any peril or distress. Be in every sore heart, in every stricken home, beside every bed of pain, giving to all the blessing of Thy Peace. Amen!"

HEALING CONFERENCE

We extend a hearty welcome to the members of the Order of St. Luke The Physician and to the many interested people who are attending our four day Conference on Spiritual Healing. We hope everyone will enter into the joy and inspiration of these days ahead. We are extremely indebted to the Leaders of this Conference. The Rev. William Wood has come to us from London, England. He is an Associate Warden of the O.S.L. The Rev. Klaus Thomas, M.D., Ph.D., a Pastor Psychiatrist, is our Chaplain in Berlin, Germany. Dr. George Ritchie is a practicing physician and surgeon of Richmond, Virginia. He heads a free counselling service and is the founder of the Christian Youth Corps. Mrs. Agnes Sanford, so well known for her unique contribution to the Healing Ministry, is giving a series of important lectures. To Mrs. Ethel T. Banks, whose most able editorship of "Sharing" Magazine over the years has made it the unquestioned leader in the whole field, we give a hearty welcome. The Rev. John E. Large, Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, and National Chairman of the Spiritual Healing Commission of the National Council of Churches, will give an important lecture. The Rev. Don Gross of Pittsburgh, Author of "The Case For Spiritual Healing," will be a Noon-day preacher, as will also the Rev. Earl S. Walker, Lutheran Pastor of Pittsburgh, and the Rev. Charles A. Sumners of Austin, Texas. Mrs. Emily Neal, whose second book on healing, "You Can Be Healed Now" is just off the press, will be with us. We are indeed grateful for their presence and for their contributions they are prepared to make. To Mrs. Nelle Cook, who will be in charge of the "Books," and the many others whose contributions to this Conference are so important, we want to say, "Thank you."

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—The Prayer Fellowship, which has been praying for the past three months for Mr. E. B. for his stomach cancer condition, may be discontinued. He is so much improved—takes no medicine, can eat anything, and is now able to lead a normal life. The blessing of God's healing has been proven again.

—J. H. F. (San Leandro, Calif.)

TO OUR VISITORS

Members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the O.S.L., wearing their distinctive badge, will serve as ushers, and they are prepared to be of help to our visitors in every way possible. They will have the Registration Cards, and name badges, the Supper Tickets, the information for those who wish to be inducted into the O.S.L. on Tuesday at 5 P.M., etc.

Most of the restaurants and eating places around the Church are closed on Sundays; for our out-of-town friends we would suggest Horn & Hardart's Cafeteria on Market Street between 11th & 12th Streets; or H. & H. at 8th & Market Streets, this one has waitress service. The Dining Room at the Ben Franklin Hotel, Chestnut St. at 9th is very fine.

EARLY HEALINGS: PRESENT FAILURE

For over SEVEN HUNDRED YEARS, written evidence shows us that the healing of the sick occurred frequently. It is evident that through all those centuries the Church possessed the power to heal.

A.D. 150. Justin Martyr in his "Apology" appeals to the miracles as evidence of the power of Christ, not to the miracles of the Apostles or Christ but to those continually being wrought in his own time, as he says "by many of our Christian men."

A.D. 195. Irnaeus, Bishop of Lyons, toward the end of the 2nd century, claims as a matter of common knowledge the power of the Church to heal.

A.D. 220. Tertullian of Carthage gives similar evidence.

A.D. 254. Origin speaks of the many healings which he had witnessed.

A.D. 397. Ambrose, Bishop of Milan, in the 4th century, gives like testimony.

A.D. 430. Saint Augustine describes many healings and the different ways in which the people were healed. He remarks that these are not so well known as the Bible miracles and generally only in the city in which they take place, and if it be a big city, then only in parts of it.

A.D. 735. The "Venerable Bede," an Englishman, in his "Life of St. Cuthbert," described many of the miraculous cures of the sick.

For SEVEN HUNDRED YEARS Christian healing was well understood in the life of the Church. We have not merely the testimony of the men just mentioned, but through all these centuries the underlying faith of the Church is revealed to us in countless prayers.

For instance, take the following from "The Liturgy of St. Mark," about 150 A.D. "Them who are sick, O Lord of Thy people, visit in Thy pity and mercies, and heal." Or, read the prayer of Bishop Serapeon about 350 A.D., "O Lord of compassion, stretch out Thine hand and grant that all the sick may be healed." Or, again, read the "Leonine Sacramentary," about 460 A.D., "O God, the Protector of them that hope in Thee, bestow upon us healing of body and mind."

These early prayers are offered in the confident expectation that physical healing will follow. That is what is asked for in the prayer; no reference is made to spiritual blessings; nor do they include any such ideas as "if it be Thy will." The early Church believed that the will of God was for the health of His children.

(This will be concluded in next week's issue)

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I should ilke to express my humble gratitude for prayers held for me while undergoing heart surgery. I cannot deny the fact that the success of my recovery which was a joy to surgeons and doctors, was attributed to prayer healing. This I sincerely believe and wanted you to know that your work is not in vain and to please continue—for so many are in need of men like you to bring us closer to God.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Over 100 persons have already given or pledged ten thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: King's Daughters, Mrs. Lillie Slemmons, Mrs. Ethel Dellanda.

Forward-day-by-day for Late Trinity 1958 is now on sale on the Church porch and in the Church office. Rising costs of paper and printing to the Forward Movement Publication has resulted in an increase of price from 10¢ to 15¢ per copy to us. The value of this little publication lies in the strength and consolation derived each day by reading one of its pages.

BOY SCOUT TROOP NO. 2

Our Boy Scout Troop continues to hold its high standing in our city as evidenced by the fact that it has received the National Plaque for 1958 for the outstanding service of the Unit, its Leader, and Boys in the Onward For God and Country Program, and signed by the Chief Scout Executives and the Honorary President, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Mr. James O. Lyman, Vestryman and Scout Master, has received the highest honor of the Scout Order of the Arrow—The Vigil Honor.

Winner of the National Camping Award again, our Troop No. 2 is reflecting the consecrated leadership of our Scout Master and his excellent committeemen.

The Rector will preach in St. Andrew's Church, Wilmington, on Sunday, Sept. 21st at 4:30 P.M., and a discussion period will follow, along with supper.

Mr. Robert Keller, our Flag Bearer, has matriculated in the University of Pennsylvania.

The Prelude: Communion ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right Spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit. May we be able to worship Thee as we ought, with the right spirit and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. Make us faithful to all that is fine and noble. Amen.

EARLY HEALINGS: PRESENT FAILURE

In the Church Bulletin of September 21st we wrote of all the important evidence in the first seven hundred years of Christian history showing that the Church possessed the power to heal.

After a while—that is, after these SEVEN HUNDRED YEARS, signs of weakening of faith appear. The prayers of the sick often ask for both the healing of the body and the healing of the soul, which makes plain that the healing of the body was not merely of secondary importance but also lacked the old certainty of faith. We can see the decline as we read the history of those times.

It was all increased, of course, by the spiritual darkness of the dark ages, so that by the time modern history began to take place, such faith had passed out of the general beliefs of the Church. Nevertheless, they have never been entirely unknown. There is a continuous record of healing by men who were living very near to God and this record comes right down to the present day. Still, these are practically solitary instances. The fact is that the conscious possession of the power to heal is hardly to be found in our day. But, when we look around we note that there are so many more of these isolated instances that we may not be aware of at first glance.

One has to be somewhat in touch with what is going on to realize the widespread extent of this reviving attention to the healing of disease. It looks as though the Church had pretty well passed thru several centuries of unbelief but now was slowly but carefully and earnestly scanning the horizon for signs of "God's way with man."

There is a growing comprehension of the matter: more study: more learnings by trial and error: more presentation of the evidence from individuals: more, decidedly more insight into this spiritual relationship of God with the material bodies of men. As we look ahead down the long, long vista of the years, we feel sure that the many bright spots of understanding are growing in extent and number, and that spiritual healing will become a commonplace in the life of the Church.

Many men of good will, and of understanding, in many places under the sun, make known the meaning of God's healing, and so bring health to longing sufferers!

HEAVEN GAINS TWO GOOD WORKERS:

Mrs. Margaret Riehm, president of our Woman's Auxiliary, and Mrs. Lida Trautner, president of our Mothers' Club, both of whom have made such an enviable record for leadership and achievement as heads of our Women's groups, have "stepped over into heaven." Our loss is heaven's gain, and we feel that from the vantage point of their new life, they will still be interested in the progress of our women's groups as they "go from strength in their new life of perfect service in God's heavenly Kingdom."

Mrs. Trautner passed on Monday, Sept. 22nd, and Mrs. Riehm on Thursday, Sept. 25th.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—About a year ago I asked you and your Prayer Group to pray for our 16 year old son, Edward. The miracle of healing has happened. Your first letter supported me in courage and faith, and then almost immediately X-rays of the boney tumor on my son's leg showed that its growth had been arrested. Monthly X-rays attest to his healing. God heard our prayers and it was with your help that we were swiftly and silently benefited. With deep gratitude; V. M. (San Francisco, Calif.)

PRAYER WORKSHOP

Dorcas and Gail Kurtz will conduct a lecture and workshop series on The Quest for Health and Wholeness in the Community House at 2:00 to 3:30 P.M. on October 7th, 14th, 21st, 28th, and Noveber 4th—and to be repeated on the same dates at 7:30 to 9:00 P.M. The Fee for the course, $8.00. The subjects are as follows: 1. Finding God's Will for Our Lives; 2. Hidden Factors in Health and Healing; 3. Preparing the Way to Receive; 4. How to Let God Work Through Us; 5. Living in a New Dimension of Health and Abundance.

Reservations should be made in advance, stating preference for afternoon or evening sessions.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Over 100 persons have already given or pledged ten thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from:
Miss Elizabeth Corrigan Miss Minnie Corrigan, in Memoriam
Mrs. Ida M. Sullivan, in memory of her husband, James

We have received over the past several weeks Bulletin subscriptions from the following people, and wish to express our thanks: Mildred B. Fishburn, Mrs. Anna M. Reed, Mrs. Margaret G. Trim.

The Prelude: Invocation ..... Timmings

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life as well as in its joys. Our Savior, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence whenever in need and wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief or defeat help us to see Thee clearly and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

TO CARE

"What shall we do?" they asked Peter; and he replied, "Repent, and be baptised." Now repentence means a change of mind, a new attitude, a humble spirit that has found God's forgiveness and walks under God's direction.

"But," someone asks, "How do I get that way? Sure, I know (in my mind) that I've been wrong, and, in a way, I feel uncomfortable and guilty. But, to be honest, I'd rather go on looking out for myself first, and making my own choice at each fork in the road. Down deep I have a hunch that I might be happier if I could 'repent,' but how do I get to want that way?"

A seasoned Christian points out that this unrepentent man has been looking in the wrong direction—at his own success and satisfaction and comfort. The solution is to turn and look the other way—"look at God, the kind of God revealed in Jesus; see that you have not only broken His law, but wounded His love. Look at yourself in your sins in the light of that Love. Does it make you change your mind about them?"

As soon as a human being catches sight of the Love of God as embodied in Jesus, he is very apt to start feeling humble, penitent, and truly grateful. Jesus pictured Himself, at Judgement Day, saying, "I was hungry and you gave Me food . . . A stranger and you welcomed Me . . . In prison and you came to Me . . ." Stanley Jones, comments:

He was hungry in their hunger, bound in their imprisonment, and lonely in their being a stranger. In other words, when we care for them, we care for Him. No deeper motive for caring could be conceived—to care for the least is to care for the Lord. And to hurt the least is to hurt the Lord. When St. Paul was arrested by the risen Jesus, he heard a Voice saying: "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute Me?" And when St. Paul asked, "Who are you, Lord?" He received the reply, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting." To hurt them was to hurt Him . . . An awakened Christian said, "I have stopped slamming doors to show my resentment against people, for I find that I'm slamming the door on Jesus." To be at enmity with any man is to be at enmity with Him. To love anyone is to love Him. To care for anyone is to care for Him. No wonder the Christians cared!"

Have you ever hurt or disappointed a child, and seen the pain on his mother's face? Have you ever given happiness to a child, and caught the joy shining out from her eyes? Jesus is like that, for every human being—bound up with them in joy or sorrow. Since life is like that, you find that you have to change. You find that you must give joy to One who died for you that you might find real life.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and your fellow workers for the most inspiring educational times I enjoyed while attending the Conference on Spiritual Healing. God wonderfully blessed me with three healings while at the Conference. It was at the Altar while receiving the Holy Communion that God gave me a healing of my right hip, and a spiritual healing, both at once. It was Sunday morning, in the back pew. I felt a sensation on my right hip like bubbles coming up to the surface of a pool of water. Then when I partook of the Holy Communion at the Altar Rail the same thing happened, with more force. I had only one knee down, then my other knee came down and I knelt with both knees down with my body perfectly at peace for the first time that I can remember in 28 years.

While sitting in the pew Monday hearing was restored fully to my left ear which had been impaired since, when, as a boy I was working in a steel mill and had to listen to the cold mill cut 4 inch steel while cold. The constant noise caused me to lose partial hearing.

So I feel that God surely has blessed me with a deeper understanding of the Christian life. I never knew what real reverence was until the Conference. One congregation, one thought, one God. Oneness really hit me full force for the first time, and it is so marvelous I cannot explain the heights of joy brought to my soul.

In faith I quiet wait, and love Thee, O my God. Tho' oftentimes oppressed, by trouble, pain and want. In God I have enough, and patiently endure; God is my Guard and Shield, for me and for my house.
Therefore I thank my God, and joy to do His will; I know whate'er befall, His love doth lead me still. So, like a little child, who clasps his father's hand, serene I take my way; in faith untroubled stand.

SCARECROWS IN THE GARDENS

God our Father does let painful experiences happen to us. He allows heavy and frightening handicaps to make our lives difficult. There is no doubt about this. The strange truth is that we protest and complain about these trials never suspecting that He has hidden treasure in them for us to find.

Hannah Hurnard spent the first 20 years of her life in misery. "I was a miserable, morbid, self-centered person who never felt any love for anyone, shut up in my own torment. Until I was 19 I never remember feeling happy . . . I had two hateful and tormenting handicaps. One, a horrible stammer . . . until I was 19, I never went into a shop alone, nor onto a bus or train . . . at school I suffered torments . . . the other handicap was, in some ways, worse than the stammer. I was obsessed by tormenting fears . . . terror of the dark, terror of heights, terror of crowds . . . and daily and nightly horror of death." Then, one glorious day, her prayers were answered, God became real, and she gave herself to Him; and her transformation began. One day she came across Frank Boreham's Sermon on "Scarecrows":

"As with the Virgins in the parable, so with the birds of the field. There are two kinds, the wise and the foolish. . . . A wise bird knows that a scarecrow is simply an advertisement. It announces in the most forceful and picturesque way that in the garden, which it does its best to adorn, some very juicy and delicious food is to be had for picking. There are scarecrows in all the best gardens. Every thoughtful bird learns in time to regard a scarecrow as an invitation to a banquet. He feels as a hungry man feels when he hears the dinner bell ring, and swoops down upon the delicacies to which the scarecrow calls him. If I am wise, I too shall treat the scarecrow as though it were a dinner bell. . . . Every giant in the way which makes me feel like a grasshopper is only a scarecrow beckoning me to God's richest blessings. Faith is a bird that loves to perch on scarecrows. She knows that there are scarecrows wherever there are strawberries. All our fears are groundless."

It is a new thought, for many of us, to think of our nightmare terrors as signs welcoming us to a banquet. But Hannah Hurnard found that this is true in actual, day to day living. She found, right by each of her most dreadful-looking scarecrows, the richest treasures. She found, at last, how wonderful He is in His abounding Providence.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—This is to report that Donald T., for whom I asked your Group prayers is practically well. He was so ill that he had to leave college and go home, supposedly to die. On Sept. 27th he returned home to marry his college sweetheart, and they are now living in New York, where Donald has a fine job. For this young couple, I wish to return thanks for God's great goodness and healing.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air-condition the Church. Over 100 persons have already given or pledged ten thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from:
Miss Nadia Watson, in memory of Barbara Gemmell; Mrs. J. Ludlow.

A PRAYER FOR ALL STRANGERS WHO DROP INTO ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH ON WEEK-DAYS:

Dear Heavenly Father, we place into Thy compassionate hands these persons who pause in this lovely place and ask our prayers. Though strangers to us, they are Thy children, even as we; and though we will not know what befalls them, do Thou keep them in Thy care wherever they may be, and bring them closer to Thee, duly thankful for Thy mercies. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

With this issue of the Bulletin comes the Annual Appeal for funds for the work of the Benevolent Society of St. Stephen's Church. Last year, under the leadership of Mrs. Harry J. Hauger, the Benevolent Society sent 5,029 pieces of sewing to the hospitals as follows: Episcopal, 367; Jefferson, 4,323; Presbyterian, 79; Visiting Nurse Society, 260.

Six hundred dollars will just about cover the estimated cost for the season 1958-59. Your contribution will help the needy women who do the sewing and also the hospitals which desperately need the articles. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Spiritual Healing at Trinity Cathedral, Newark, N. J., Sunday evening, Oct. 19th to Wednesday, 22nd, inclusive.

The Rector will preach in Calvary Church, Conshohocken, on Friday evening, Oct. 24th, in connection with the Centennial Celebration of that Parish.

Our sincere "Thank You" to these Bulletin subscribers: Anna M. Reed, Mr. J. Frank Turley, Mrs. Emily Ramhorst, Mrs. Beatrice I. Cassady.

The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

The Prelude: A Mighty Fortress .....Buxtehude
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor and security and pleasure, and even life itself for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost as we gain in our likeness to Thee. Amen.

The Anthem: Psalm 148 .....Holst
Lord, who hast made us for Thine own, hear as we sing before Thy throne. Alleluia! Accept Thy children's reverent praise for all Thy wondrous works and ways. Alleluia! Waves rolling in on every shore, pause at His footfall and adore. Alleluia! Ye torrents rushing from the hills bless Him whose hand your fountains fills. Alleluia! Earth ever through the power divine, seedtime and harvest shall be thine. Sweet flowers that perfume all the air, thank Him that He has made you fair. Burn, lamps of night, with constant flame, shine to the honor of His name. Thou sun, whom all the lands obey, renew His praise from day to day. Alleluia! Alleluia!

TURN BACKWARD, O TIME:—Midnight, October 25th, marks the end of Daylight Saving Time for the year 1958. REMEMBER—Set your clock BACK 1 HOUR!

INTERRUPTIONS

Are you sometimes sorely tried by interruptions? There are just so many hours, and you have certain work to do—and, just as you get energetically under way, the telephone rings, or someone knocks at your door. We have to find some way to deal with our interruptions, for no day is complete without them!

Jesus was forever being interrupted. Just read through one of the Gospels, and count the number of times that some urgent person broke into His working. On one occasion He had been using the mountain side for His pulpit, and now He was making His way down the path, to His next task, when the leper blocked the way, and pleaded for healing. Right in the pathway the leper knelt, blocking the way completely, bringing Jesus' swift steps to a sudden stop. What did Jesus do—fume and fret; or rush by the leper, explaining that He was in a hurry? No, "Jesus held out His hand, and touched him." Jesus treated man's interruptions as God's opportunities. He did not think of this sudden encounter as breaking into His day—but, rather, as God presenting an opportunity so special that other plans could wait, and be taken care of in God's good time.

Some time ago my friend Ruth Robison shared with me her discovery of the richness of so-called "interruptions." Her husband is a minister, and they were young, with a growing family of small children. On this particular day there was company coming for lunch—special company, for whom you want your children bright and shining, at their best in every way. Now it so happened that in that Parish there was a maiden lady who found great pleasure in dropping in at the parsonage rather frequently, and with apparent genius for picking the most inconvenient possible moments. The morning was going fast—she had Jimmy in the tub, and the meat loaf in the oven—when she heard the front door open and close, and a very familiar voice call, "Mrs. Robison!" "Yes, Miss King, what is it?" She replied in a voice that was tense and grim. "Mrs. Robison, I just called to ask if you have reached the state of Christian grace when you can thank God for interruptions?" Ruth Robison, boiling within, said a swift and pleading prayer, and called back, "No, Miss King, I have not—But, with God's grace, I will!" And, with God's grace, she has. You can interrupt Ruth Robison now, and find her serenely and quietly listening to you—probably with a sparkle of amusement in her eye to put you at your ease. Because she has found that any human need that "breaks into" her routine is simply God breaking through to give her a very special chance to serve Him with Love!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price: Thank you so much for your kind letter. I cannot tell you how much your letter and literature have helped me. I am amazed at the wonderful ministry you and your Church are giving to those in trouble. Especially to help us who are so far away, and of another denomination. Your Church must be strong in spiritual matters.

Our ———— Church here is the largest in numbers and has the largest building—but, we have nowhere in our large program a plan for helping people who have emotional, physical, or mental problems. No one has time for them. We have the best-equipped office so far as secretaries and machinery go, and a very highly organized program.

How humble I feel when I know that your wonderful Prayer Fellowship are praying for me. I have in the past few days been able to conquer to a degree the old fears, and surely it is your prayers united with mine and my husband's that have enabled me to "be still and know God."—A. E. (Vancouver, Washington)

1517 — REFORMATION DAY — 1958

On October 31st, 1517, a young Augustinian Monk named Martin Luther, posted on the doors of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany, ninety-five theses or arguments against the sale of indulgences by the Church of his day. This incident touched off a long train of events which produced the historic movement known as The Reformation. The anniversary of this event is observed among Protestant Churches as a time of emphasis upon the fundamental Christian conviction. October 26th will be observed throughout the world as "Reformation Sunday."

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in All Saints' Church, Worcester, Massachusetts, Sunday evening, October 26th through Tuesday, October 28th.

We wish to express our grateful appreciation to these "early birds" on the helpful contributions for work of the Benevolent Society: Mrs. James F. Armstrong, James Ashbrook, Mrs. William Arthur, Miss Hazel L. Bainbridge, Lillian Barlow, Mrs. George R. Bishop, Ethel H. Bollinger, M. I. Daley, Mr. & Mrs. Charles Drain, Mrs. R. N. "I like the QUIET Church before service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a prayer.

The Prelude: "O What Their Joy" ..... Matthews

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"I believe in God and the life everlasting" is a most marvelous statement of faith. The two parts of it are inseparable; one is meaningless without the other. To doubt God's willingness or power to give us eternal life is to limit Him so that He is no longer God. We cannot fight the good fight of faith except we first "lay hold on eternal life." Eternal Father, we are Thine now and in eternity; and those whom we have "loved and lost awhile" are both Thine and ours, if we are Thine. Strengthen us in a healthy hope of everlasting life through our confidence in Thee. Amen.

Processional Hymn 126 ..... Sine Nomine

Kyrie, Hymnal 708

The Anthem: "There Shall Be No Night There" ..... David D. Wood
And he showed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. In the midst of the street thereof and on either side of the river was there the tree of life, and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. There shall be no more curse, nor pain, nor death. But the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein; and His servants shall serve Him, and they shall see His face. There shall be no night there, and they need no lamp nor light of the sun, for the Lord God shall give them light; and they shall reign forever and ever. There shall be no night there.

HOW SHALL I MAKE MY PLEDGE?

In the privacy of your Church pew, on Loyalty Sunday, November 16th—You will be given an opportunity to sign a Pledge Card for 1959.

No matter how hard you try, you cannot get ahead of God in giving. The more you give the more you receive in return (either spiritual or temporal)! God's arithmetic is this: $10.00 minus $1 equals $10 plus. In other words, nine-tenths with God goes much further than ten-tenths without God!

The Rector will speak to the women of St. Mark's Church, Frankford, on Monday, November 3rd, at 8 P.M.

UNITED THANK OFFERING

The U. T. O. will be presented in Holy Trinity Church, Rittenhouse Square, on Wednesday, November 19th, at 8 P.M.; so it is time for our women to prepare their individual offerings. You are asked to put the contents of your Blue Box in the Special Envelope, and bring it to Church on November 2nd. All women of the parish are asked to participate in the offering. Mrs. Wilson Leithead is Parish Custodian of the U. T. O.

The United Thank Offering presented at General Convention in Miami Beach on October 10th exceeded by $660,000 the Offering which was presented for the previous triennium at Honolulu, in 1955! The total of $3,869,985.38 represents a new high in the giving of the women of the Episcopal Church. Eight thousand people attended the Presentation Service.

The Diocese of Pennsylvania gave $184,000. In 1955 our Diocese gave about $130,000; an increase of about $50,000!

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air condition the Church. Over 100 persons have already given or pledged ten thousand dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mrs. Anna Allen, Mrs. M. Imogene Freeman, Mrs. F. Helen Street.

We appreciate these persons' contributions toward the work of the Benevolent Society: Julia Assenberner, Beatrice Bernzinger, Mildred H. Campbell, Mrs. Fred Everett, Ross J. NEW COMMUNICANTS

"No longer strangers, but members of the household."
Mr. & Mrs. Hugo Hansen Mrs. Scott P. Shaw

We are most grateful to Mr. James Ashbrook for two very inspiring Prayers, beautifully illuminated by him and now framed and hanging in the Rector's Office. One Prayer is that of the Bishop's at the time of the imposition of his hands on the candidates head at Confirmation. The other is the Bishop's Prayer for the strengthening of the Confirmation candidates with the Holy Ghost, the Comforter, and the daily increase in them of God's manifold gifts of grace: The Spirit of Wisdom and understanding, the Spirit of counsel and ghostly strength, the Spirit of knowledge and true godliness.

11:00 A. M.—PATRIOTIC SERVICE AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

The Prelude: A Solemn Melody ..... Davies

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Christian religion is one of joyful hope, not of helpless resignation; of ardent expectation, not of gloomy despair. This assurance comes from having "reverence for Christ in our hearts as Lord," as the modern translations put it. All questions and doubts are answered in Him. Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, we pray for that living hope which comes to us through the resurrection of the Saviour. Grant that through faith He may dwell in our hearts; and so enlighten our minds that we may help others to overcome doubts and fears. Amen.

WATCHING

One lovely day last Summer two little girls were at a camp that looks out over the woods to one of the main lakes. Joan had, that day, first experienced the thrill of swimming, all by herself; and her heart was glad. Joan is one of those rare individuals whose heart is constantly overflowing with warm affection, and crystal clear wisdom. She looked at her father, and, referring to her older sister, observed, "I learned to swim faster than Mary did. You see, I had Mary to watch."

We learn by watching others. Children pick up their manners — for better or worse — from watching their parents. Boys learn baseball by going to see some hero play the game. Girls pick up baby-care by watching their mother, attending to a small baby brother. And you and I learn the Christian life, primarily, by watching true Christians.

Close your eyes and let God bring back vividly to you some of your remembrances of childhood scenes—those shining times when you saw the love of God take visible form in some deed of kindness or courage, — a deed of selfless generosity by your father, a word of sensitive understanding your mother spoke to you at exactly the right moment. God's love was alive to you, through your earthly parents. Or close your eyes once more, and remember more recent scenes, when God touched your mature life through one of His Christ-like servants.

What it comes down to, actually, is that we are taught by action more than by words. The greatest and most life-giving teacher was Jesus Christ. All through the dawn of life on this planet, and even down through the Old Testament days, men wondered and guessed what God is like; and no one really knew until Jesus came and lived God for them before their eyes. When we read our New Testaments, we must use our imaginations—see Jesus doing His mighty acts of tender and saving love. We must be alert through each day, to catch the glimpses of God in people in whom He dwells and works. We need to seek out the friendship of those in whom He is alive. For, like Joan, we learn faster when we have someone to watch!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I want to thank you and St. Stephen's Prayer Fellowship for your prayers for my recovery from a nervous collapse. I am now able to work, and thank God most sincerely for this and all His blessings. You also prayed for the healing of my brother's badly injured eye. It was healed so well the doctors called it a miracle.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from all conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest even while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy Peace is the Peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of peace of which Jesus said: "Peace I leave with you, My Peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this Peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this gift. Amen.

IMPRESSED FORCES

Henry Drummond, in his thrillingly practical little book, "The Changed Life," writes about "sanctification," the changing of a person from a struggling, stumbling failure into a Christ-like child of God He says,

"The finest expression of this rule in Scripture, or indeed in any literature, is probably one drawn up and condensed into a single verse by St. Paul. You will find it in a letter—the 2nd to the Corinthians—written by him to some Christian people who, in the city which was a by-word for depravity and licentiousness, were seeking the higher life. To see the point of his words we must take them from the immensely improved rendering of the Revised translation for the older version in this case greatly obscures the sense. They are these: 'We all, with unveiled face reflecting as a mirror the glory of the Lord, are transformed into the same image from glory to glory, even as from the Lord the Spirit.'

"Now observe at the outset the entire contradiction of all our previous efforts, in the simple passive, 'we are transformed.' We are changed, as the old version has it—we do not change ourselves. No can can change himself. Throughout the New Testament you will find that wherever these moral and spiritual transformations are described, the verb is passive. . . . Growth is not voluntary; it takes place; it happens; it is wrought upon matter. So here. 'Ye must be born again'—we cannot born ourselves. 'Be not conformed to this world but be ye transformed'; we are subject to a transforming influence, we do not transform ourselves. Not more certain is it that it is something outside the thermometer that produces the change in the thermometer, then it is something outside the soul of man that produces a moral change upon him. That he must be susceptible to the change, that he must be a party to it, goes without saying; but that neither his aptitude nor his will can produce it, is equally certain.

"Obvious as it ought to seem, this may be to some an almost startling revelation. The change we have been striving after is not to be produced by any more striving after. It is wrought upon us by the molding of hands beyond our own. As the branch ascends, and the bud bursts, and the fruit reddens under the co-operation of forces from the outside air, so man rises to higher stature under invisible pressures from without. . . . According to the first law of motion: every body continues in its state of rest, or of uniform motion in a straight line, except in so far as it may be compelled by impressed forces to change that state. This is also the first law of Christianity. Every man's character remains as it is, or continues in the direction in which it is going, unless it is compelled by impressed forces to change that state. Our failure has been the failure to put ourselves in the way of the impressed forces. There is a clay, and there is a Potter; and we have tried to get the clay to mold the clay."

And then Drummond comes to the solution, to live as if each of us were a mirror in the presence of Jesus Christ: "reflect the character of Christ, and you will become like Christ."

FULL TURNOUT SOUGHT SUNDAY

November 16th, Loyalty Sunday, is the day to come to St. Stephen's Church, if you ever come. It's the day when, by attendance and by pledges, the members of St. Stephen's Parish will set the pace for the work of the Church in 1959. All the members of the Parish are requested to make their pledges themselves in Church on Loyalty Sunday.

Following the Rector's Sermon each person will sign the Pledge Card and drop this card into the Chest of Joash to be dedicated at the Altar for the work of the Church.

All members of the Parish have been invited and urged to attend the annual rededication and pledging which strengthens St. Stephen's Parish and every member of it.

YOUR PLEDGE IS A RELIGIOUS ACT

Our Lord talked about money because it is important. Nothing reveals the state of your mind more clearly and more accurately than your attitude toward your possessions.

Your money is, in a very real way, yourself. Let me put it this way—If you earn $10.00 a day—a $10 bill is a day of your life, much more than just symbolically. It represents a day of your skill, intelligence, energy, a day of YOU . . . Put it in a slot machine—the day is wasted. Lay it on the Altar—it is your offer of a day of yourself to God.

The leaders of our Church at the recent General Convention held in Florida have urged every Episcopalian to consider the Biblical practice of tithing. You may ask "What is Tithing?"

Tithing is an open-hearted act of living gratitude. It is the result of a Christian decision to say: "Thank You, Lord" each day in a faithful way for the countless blessings which come from Him—including the precious gift of life itself.

The ancient Biblical Tithe was a straight ten percent of all that a person received.

The modern Tithe asks each Christian person or family to give: five percent for the Lord through the Church, as an act of self-giving in obedience to the first and great Commandment. And, five percent to charity for the needs of others—in Christian obedience to the second and great Commandment.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air condition the Church. Over 100 persons have already given or pledged ten thousand five hundred dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mrs. Edith P. McDougald in memory of her parents; Mrs. Cora M. Cooke.

The Rector will conduct a Mission of Christian Healing under the auspices of the Council of Churches in St. Peter's Church, Perth Amboy, N. J., Sunday night, November 16th through Wednesday the 19th.

The Prelude: To Thee, Lord Jesus, Thanks We Give .....J. S. Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We live in the present. The past is gone and cannot be changed. If we are anxious for the morrow, we attempt to live the future today. Why add the burden of the morrow to that of the day? "Cast all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you." We confess, Heavenly Father, that we often commit the folly of being anxious and worried. Renew a right spirit within us and endow us with perfect trust. Give us assurance of Thy wisdom and goodness. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

HONEST REMEMBERING

As St. Paul wrote to his friends in the young Church at Ephesus, he charged them to keep clear of the filthy immorality of that pagan city. Then he closed by directing them, "always and for everything giving thanks . . . to God the Father." In other words, "Thanks for everything!" It may seem strange to urge people to be thankful as they lived in the unfragrant atmosphere of a human pig pen. In The Acts of the Apostles he tells vividly of the wild riot stirred up against the Christians by the greedy silversmith's union. How can people be thankful in such a world of filth and peril?

St. Paul could urge them to thankfulness, because he was thankful himself. He had found, from tough experience, that God guided him through riot and turmoil and ship-wreck so wonderfully that people began asking how he did it. St. Paul would answer, "I don't do it. Christ does it in me. You can find the same victory by letting Christ take over the directing of your life." No wonder he lighted the lamps of faith along those Mediterranean shores. For he could, at any time, say to his Father, "Thanks for everything!"

But, someone anticipates, "Are you going to urge us to face our world of integration riots and corrupt unions and filthy magazines, saying to God, 'Thanks for everything!'?" Why not? Our world is very much like St. Paul's; only ours travels more swiftly. Why not be thankful? We do not like all the ugliness and evil, but we have found that, with Christ dwelling within us, He is stronger than every enemy.

No American, no Christian, is happy over the troubled city of Little Rock. But God is stronger than anger and fear; and, already, out of these turmoils, the glory of God is beginning to shine. In the North there are leaders who counsel their people to be less eager to solve the problems of their brothers in the South, and more deeply concerned over getting our own noses clean. A little honest remembering reminds us that we have not yet solved all our problems in a way that pleases God! Down in Florida a man of God stands in the pulpit and says, "The minister has a special role—a splendid opportunity . . . to build a bridge of understanding between bitter people. Or, deep in Alabama, another minister calmly speaks for Christ, "We must attempt to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ and to bear witness to the integrity of the Christian Church in which only faith and love matter. When a man joins the Church, he is asked about his faith and love; he is not asked about his race." That can be said only by a Southerner ot Southerners; but all of us can thank God for the saying of it. Thanks for everything!

As we gather joyfully around our Thanksgiving tables this year, let us lift our hearts to Him in deep joy, grateful for His sufficient love and power; and say to Him, from the bottom of our hearts, "Thanks—for everything!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Since I wrote to you asking for prayer help, the first time, over a year ago, our son, Jimmy (aged 10) has had no sign of illness whatever. Jimmy was released from the hospital March, 1957, after an operation for cancer of the brain. We were told that he had less than six months to live. We can never, never begin to express our thanks to God and to all the wonderful Prayer Fellowship people for the well being of our son.—Mrs. V. E. (Livonia, Michigan).

THANKSGIVING DAY

The Harvest Festival Service will be held on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 27th, at 11 A.M., when our offering will be given, as for many years past, to the Episcopal Hospital.

St. Stephen's Church is the beneficiary of 62 shares of Provident Tradesmens Bank and Trust Co. from the estate of the late Dr. Herbert Old, Rector's Warden and Vestryman; the income of which is to be used for the Missionary obligations of St. Stephen's Church.

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air condition the Church. Over 100 persons have already given or pledged 14 thousand five hundred dollars to date. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mrs. William B. Campbell, Mrs. Ellen A. Vail, Miss Orva Brown.

The Rev. Mr. Meckling and the Ladies Aid of the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing wish to thank all who helped in making their Autumn Bazaar of October 2nd a success. The profit from the Bazaar, and contributions is $1,989.70.

We gratefully express our thanks to these contributors to the work of the Benevolent Society: Beatrice Bernzinger, Mrs. S. H. Burke, Mr. Willard J. Ferris, Jr., O. W. Garrison, Geo. T. Gibb, John Price, Anna M. Reed, Mrs. Ella Rice, Mrs. Mildred Shinn, M. E. Varallo, Mrs. H. W. Weigelt, Mrs. Helen F. Brendlinger, Mrs. Nellie H. Brill, Eva Hansen, H. F. M.

Also our "Thank you" to these Bulletin subscribers: Mrs. Evelyn Burkley, Cora M. Cooke, Ida M. Landenberger, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith.

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 105 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Believers are living stones in God's Spiritual House. As the Priests of old brought their material sacrifices, we are to bring our spiritual offerings. Offering one's self, living a consecrated life, and doing good, are sacrifices acceptable to God. Dear Father, we thank Thee for the great Mediator who has made the believer His own priest. Grant that we may be living stones in the Temple of the Spirit, ever offering up spiritual sacrifices acceptable in Thy sight. We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

O Thou the central orb of righteous love, pure beam of the most High, eternal Light of this our wintry world, Thy radiance bright awakes new joy in faith, hope soars above. Come, quickly come, and let Thy glory shine, gilding our darksome heaven with rays divine. Thy saints with holy lustre round Thee move, as stars about Thy throne, set in the height of God's ordaining counsel, as Thy sight gives measured grace to each, Thy power to prove. Let Thy bright beams disperse the gloom of sin, Our nature all shall feel eternal day, in fellowship with Thee, transforming day to souls ere-while unclean, now pure within. Amen.

NEVER TOO LATE

"You know how Orion always comes up sideways,
Throwing a leg up over our fence of mountains,
And, rising on his hands, he looks in on me
Busy outdoors by lantern-light with something
I should have done by daylight, and indeed,
After the ground is frozen, something I should have done
Before it froze."

So Robert Frost writes—we get so far behind in our chores, so grievously delayed. Like the Inn-keeper at the first Christmas, we seem to wake up to our shining opportunities when it is too late:

"I am the keeper of the inn, what man will pity me?
I heard one knocking at my gate, and rose not up to see;
I heard one crying in the dark in need and travailed sore:
I made no room to house God's Son, but turned Him from the door."

Again and again we have busied ourselves feverishly with little things and have no thought for the great things until it was too late.

Humanly speaking, there could be dismay in our hearts on this first Sunday in Advent. Humanly speaking, we have long made it a December habit to be so absorbed in the outward preparations for Christmas that we gave little heed to preparing for His coming in our hearts. We shudder as we wonder if the same tragedy will happen to us this year—Christmas Day dawning, and no inward joy and peace; every preparation made for Christmas except for welcoming the Chief Guest.

But the hand of God brushes over our human calendars, and wipes out the words "too late." The Penitent Thief on his cross hears the Son of God promise, "This day shalt thou be with Me in Paradise." With God there is no "too late." He only waits for us to welcome Him as the Chief Guest, to be willing to enthrone Him as the Master of Love in our hearts. As the Lord said to Abraham, "Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art." Let the past go—if you want the Shining Christ in your heart on His Birthday, start where you are, prepare for Him now, along with preparing the victuals and the presents. Stop and sit quietly ten minutes each day, giving thought to the grudges and fears that are to be cleansed out before He comes; praying that God will strengthen you to turn from cold selfishness to warm good will and love. If you will do that, faithfully, day after day, you will hear the last glorious words of the inn-keeper's poem—

"Good man, rejoice, nor grieve in vain,
Tonight He seeks that door again!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—My mother, who is 83 years old, had a large sore on her nose which the skin specialist diagnosed as cancer. He wanted to operate, but she was so frightened that her blood pressure went up to 220. My daughter and I placed her name in for prayers and brought her to the healing services. We prayed for God's guidance to show the doctor some other way to treat it. The doctor called and suggested X-ray treatment, although he thought it was too far gone. After only 5 X-ray treatments, my mother's nose was healed. The doctor was surprised, as he didn't expect it to help. We know that it was God's healing power. We appreciate the opportunity afforded by St. Stephen's Healing Services and the work of the Prayer Fellowship.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There is peculiar satisfaction in being equal to one's task. As Christians, however, we need to remember that our highest duties are found in the fellowship of service for the Master. The experiences of this fellowship teach us to say, "I can do all things thru' Christ which strengtheneth me." Lord Jesus, we are weak and sinful, and cannot do what we ought, except Thou give us strength. Thy gracious promises encourage us to expect great things from Thee. Therefore we pray that Thou wouldst give us a full measure of Thy enabling power. With humble, yet confident hearts, we ask it, Lord. Amen.

KNOCKING AT THE DOOR

Early this Autumn two good friends of mine asked me to bless their lovely new house. Their contractor-friend had carefully worked out a plan so that they were able to do a great deal of the work themselves, and thus could afford to build a beautiful house they had dreamed of—a sturdy, handsome house, with clean lines and strong foundations, looking out past tall trees to a green meadow. These two had a gift of rich and warm friendship, and this home was built so they might gather treasured friends there.

Who was the first one they invited to be their guest? It was the only unfailing Friend of men; the only Guest who already stood on the front steps, yearning to be admitted. It was the only Guest who desired to take up His permanent abode with them. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if anyone hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and him with Me." In that simple blessing-service, they opened the front door to God, and asked Him in.

God stands outside the threshold of each day and knocks. What did you do about His knocking this morning? What will you do about it tomorrow? He will not push the door open. He will stay outside, and your day will lack His warmth and glory and lift. Tomorrow, when you first open your eyes, what will your thoughts be? George Stewart suggests:

"Begin the day by offering it and yourself to God. Look at the day as an individual thing, this day, and offer it to God for His use."

After all, if we trust Jesus, we know that God is our Father, and that He cares for us, just as we are. Why leave Him outside, knocking in vain, as if He were some traveling salesman? He is the first to be invited in, the most Honored Guest!

Look ahead just 18 swift days—there shines the Great Day when, everywhere in the world, men remember that God stands at the door, as He did long ago, outside the Bethlehem Inn. A God so mighty that He could create the spacious universe, and yet so tender that He will not push His way into your day—what an incredible, wonderful God! Think of it—He knows your sorriest sins as well as your loveliest graces; and He loves you, as you are. Think what Christmas could be for you (and through you), if you will invite Him into your preparing. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock!"

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—Thursday, September 12th, my husband and I knelt at the Altar of St. Stephen's for healing. I have had a bladder condition for 12 years. I thank God that He healed me in your Church. My husband has since had surgery—another very large split skin graft on his left leg. It is healing in a miraculous way. We are deeply grateful.—Mrs. R. S. (Bridgeport, W. Va.)

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years to repaint the interior of the Church, to improve the lighting, and to air condition the Church. To date $15,000.00 has been pledged by 126 persons. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mr. Ross E. Stevenson; Mrs. Nancy Troth Abernethy.

The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 105 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "O Thou of God the Father" ..... Bach
THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Various tests are applied as to who is a true Christian. Some insist upon pure doctrine, some upon worship, some upon simple honesty. St. Paul goes further; the Spirit of Christ must dwell in the true Christian. Christ is the Master. The disciple must seek to be like Him. We thank Thee, O God, for Thy Son Jesus who came in the flesh as a servant. Teach us to humble ourselves. Make us ready to love and sacrifice in His name. May we walk humbly with Him, led by His Spirit. Amen.

ONLY ONE THING TO DO

"Eleven days to Christmas!"—How hectic we feel! There are so many things to be done before we will be ready. Life is complicated! We sink wearily into a chair, at our wits' end.

Why not stay in that chair a while, and let God into our unnecessary turmoil. We spoke last week of God standing at the door and knocking, of our beginning each day by asking Him in. If you have been doing just that, already you feel differently about being ready for Christmas. As George Stewart further suggests,

"The day at once becomes a unity and life becomes unified. However many distracting details come into the day, both mind and emotions are dominated, not by them, but by the sense of, you have only one thing to do—namely, to act in obedience to God in regard to them."

Just think of it—what a load of anxieties you can dump! You have "only one thing to do"—make your Christmas pleasing to the Master Whose Birthday it is. Perhaps you cherish that minor sin of being a perfect housekeeper—well, that does not please God, because it makes everyone else uncomfortable. What a joy to God if your over-scrupulous house-keeping would relax, so that people could feel easy about coming and going. Perhaps you are a man burdened by past mistakes and possible future ones—St. Paul said, "But one thing I do, forgetting what lies behind me, and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on to the goal." And what was that goal? It was eternal companionship with Jesus, beginning now.

How amazing, and refreshing, to walk through each day with Him, forever. That glorious Christian, Studdert Kennedy, once spoke of that weak soul who—

"Wants to keep Christ forever standing amid the lilies of the Altar, with a sweet incense of worship rising about Him, a weekly refuge from the distraught and vulgar world. He wants to lock up Christ in the Tabernacle, to keep in silence in the secret place, where men must go down on their knees before they touch Him. But Christ wants to come out into the market place, and down to the streets; He wants to eat and drink with prostitutes, to be mocked and spit upon by soldiers. He wants to call the dishonest trader from his office desk; to stand at his lathe beside the workman; and to be with the mother over the washtub in the city of mean streets. He wants to go into the world, that beauty and goodness and truth . . . may grow up around Him wherever He goes."

So your preparation for Christmas can become a sheer delight. Just do for your family and friends, for the stranger, what Jesus wants to do, and can only do, through you.

We want to say "Thank you" to these supporters of the work of the Benevolent Society: Helen G. Downes, Sidney R. Hicks, Madeline Keller, Alvania Robertson.

And to these Bulletin subscribers: Miss Eva Hansen, Adele M. Lewis, Mrs. Frank Lulias.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Sometime ago I developed lumps under my arms, breast and neck. I asked the prayers of your Prayer Fellowship and attended the Thursday Healing Service. When the time limit came, I went back to the doctor and everything was normal—no breast growth and no swollen glands anywhere. God has been very good to me and I praise Him. Your Church is really a Sanctuary of Healing. One feels the Presence of God there.—E. M. S. (Phila., Pa.)

OFFERING ENVELOPES

A few people have asked about envelopes for 1959. They are on hand and will be sent out in time for the first Sunday of the New Year. Anyone who wishes may pick up his box in the vestibule of the Church during the next few weeks.

Those who have delayed making a pledge will help us by signing the box at the bottom of this page and sending it to the Office.

If you happen to be behind in this year's pledge, it would be of great help to the treasurer if you could bring it up to date. Mr. Harry Hauger would be glad to tell you where you stand.

In his sermon on "How To Read The Bible" the Rector referred to the following books as important guides: "THE STORY OF THE BIBLE" by Walter Russell Bowie. "INTRODUCTION TO THE NEW TESTAMENT" by Edgar J. Goodspeed. "THE LITERATURE OF THE NEW TESTAMENT" by E. F. Scott. "THE LITERATURE OF THE OLD TESTAMENT" by Julius Bewer. "A GUIDE TO UNDERSTANDING THE BIBLE" by Harry Emerson Fosdick.

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: "Greensleeves" ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—We are "Sons of God," for God in Christ has redeemed us. As we enlist in and for Christ's cause, we are His and therefore must live up to this profession. This sonship, in which we claim God as our Father, is a free gift of grace. As children of God, we have confidence in, and dependence on Him. We thank Thee, Father in heaven, that we can, as Thy children, call Thee Father. Because we are sons, we have in us all kinds of possibilities. Christ, our Brother, stands beside us as our Ideal. We need power to become "more like the Master." Grant us this strength; in Jesus' Name. Amen.

The Anthem: "The Three Kings" ..... Willan

Who knocks tonight so late? The weary porter said. Three Kings stood at the gate, each with a crown on head. The serving man bowed down; the inn was full, he knew. Said he, "In all this town is no fit place for you." A light the manger lit: there lay the Mother meek. Said they, "This place is fit: here is the rest we seek!" Come; they loosed their latchet strings; so stood they all unshod. Come in, come in, ye kings. And kiss the feet of God.

SPRING CLOUDS

Jesus was born in the Spring time, the wise scholars tell us. For shepherds did not keep their flocks out under the cold, wintry skies; but gathered them into warm and sheltered places where the chill winds of Winter swept across the land. How December 25th came to be chosen is another story, and a long one. But the simple and wonderful fact seems to be that Jesus was born in that miraculous season when life triumphs over death, when the cold gray clouds are melted away by the warmth of the sun! How appropriate that He should come just when the world was shaking off the icy imprisonment of winter days, and bursting out into the freedom of joyful life!

It may be that, for some of you, there are clouds over your Christmas sky right now. Some disappointment, some dread, some old emptiness, seems to shut off the joy you crave in your heart. I do not deny that those clouds are real—but I do tell you, with glad certainty, that those are Spring clouds, and that the love of God can and—if you let Him—will melt them away until your heart is filled with the warmth of His caring for you, and it sings like the angels.

How "let" Him melt those clouds away? By quietly and firmly following His loving way through the next few days. Pray until you think of some loving deed that you can do, some loving letter or telephone call. That is what the Littlest angel did, when his Christmas sky was clouded.

There is a lovely legend which begins with the Littlest angel not being allowed to join the angel choir that heralded the birth of Christ. But the Littlest angel decided that he would get to Bethlehem, even if he had to go alone. He decided that he was going to take a birthday-present to the Christ-Child. So he gathered an armful of the prettiest star-flowers he could find, and set out on his journey. On his way he found so much sorrow and suffering that he gave away every one of his beautiful star-flowers before he ever reached Bethlehem. He was miserable and shy when he saw the rich gifts the Wise Men from the East had brought. But Mary understood. She thanked the Littlest angel, and told him that he had done just what Jesus would have done, and she drew him into the little group that was gathered close around the manger where Jesus lay. There were no clouds in his Christmas sky now—for by following the Bethlehem road of love, the Littlest angel had come right to Jesus Himself!

This you can do—in this Spring time of His new coming to save us from our sins. If your skies are clouded, just pick up that Bethlehem road of Love for all men; and your clouds will clear as you near His Presence.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—About six weeks ago at a routine physical check up, I was found to have a polyps which would have to be removed by surgery. Ten years ago I was told I had gall stones. Six weeks ago I sent for your healing literature and asked for your prayers for these two conditions. Two weeks ago another examination showed the polyps almost gone, and an X-ray showed the gall bladder normal. I am so very happy and thankful. I wish to express my gratitude to you.

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephens' opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 105 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Adoration ..... Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—"Sanctify them through Thy Truth: Thy Word is Truth." (John 17:17). We should rejoice in knowing that Christ prays for His people. These words are His prayer, uttered on our behalf. In this prayer He seeks God's favor for us that we may be endowed with divine Light and Wisdom to do God's will. Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the intercessory prayer of Thy Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Help us to pray with Him this prayer which gave Him strength and power to do Thy will. Teach us to say with Him: "God, I sanctify myself." Amen.

Anthem: "Darest Thou Now, O Soul?" ..... Williams

Darest thou now, O soul, walk out with me toward the unknown region where neither ground is for the feet nor any path to follow? No map there, nor touch of human hand, nor face with blooming flesh, nor lips, nor eyes are in that land. I know it not, O my soul, nor dost thou, all is blank before us, all waits undreamed of in that region, in that inaccessible land. Till when the ties loosen, all but the ties eternal, Time and space, nor darkness nor gravitation, nor any bounds bounding us. Then, then we burst forth, we float in time and space O soul, prepared for them. Equal, equipped at last. O joy, O fruit of all! Them to fulfill, O soul.

NEW YEAR'S DETERMINATION

1959 lies before us like the clean pages of an unwritten book—ready for us to write into it the deeds of our days. Let's resist the temptation to make New Year's resolutions which are forgotten by January the 2nd! Instead, we can substitute New Year's determination to turn our lives toward God.

Studdert Kennedy has pointed out how dangerous it is to make half-hearted resolutions to follow Jesus. For Jesus stirs within us the mighty hopes of following His daring way of love, trusting Him to make us able. Then we try to do it ourselves, and find that we cannot! Rather than making this pitiful, half-hearted attempt, He urges us to "remain among the cattle of the field."

So many, many people stumble along guiltily because they have promised so much to God, and done so little about it. Why not face the down-to-earth truth—it is impossible for us, by our own resolution and strength, to live up to Jesus' way of life. God never made us able to achieve it.

Shall we then give up the Christian standard of life because it is beyond us? No, we can do just what Jesus did—ask God to live in our hearts, and transform us to be like Jesus. We can constantly invite Him into our thoughts, so that He can do in us what we cannot do without Him. We can let His Love work in us, and through us, to bring heaven-on-earth where there is hell now.

Once you have been caught by the beauty of Jesus Christ, you can never find rich joy again until you make Him the Master of your heart. Dare to do that, and 1959 will be a year of miracles!

We want to express our appreciation to these contributors to Christmas Dinners: Miss Mary E. Holder, Stephanie Mitchell, Helen G. Downes, William Wilkie, Mrs. G. B. Street, Sidney Weeks, Mrs. Kellman, Mrs. Joseph J. Hardiman, Mrs. S. H. Burke, Edith J. Craig, Martha Guillermet, Miss Elsie Dahl, Mrs. Anthony Rinkers, Mrs. Rex Herder, Miss Mary C. Kutzer, H. H. Hanson, Mrs. Catherine Miller, Helen LeDent, Mae Snedden, Edith R. Stout, Susie LeMar Morris, Mr. Sidney Hicks, Isabella Ponten, Edwin Schun, Marion Slatcher, Mr. & Mrs. L. E. Martin, Mr. & Mrs. J. Eicklin, Mr. J. R. Wilson.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in Christ Church, Lima, Ohio, Sunday night through Tuesday, December 28th-30th.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I had written to you over a year ago about needing lung surgery—and my fear of it. Your reply and the literature and the intercessory prayers helped me to go through the surgery confidently last June. In September I resumed teaching, which is a remarkable recovery. If you include surgery in your definition of healing—I am healed! The fear was the most difficult part to overcome. May I express my appreciation to you, to your Prayer Group, and to God—He knows I am grateful.

—F. O. (University of California)

PHILADELPHIA LARYNGECTS

Some three years ago Mr. Edward J. Maxwell began his Friday night classes for Laryngects in our Community House. These are the people who have lost their voices through the surgical removal of their voice boxes. The following is the annual report of Mr. Maxwell:

Since coming to St. Stephen's over 3 years ago, 162 people have come and gone through our school. 91 in the past year. And more are coming right along. Since we started we have received $617.00 in cash donations. We have spent $1,290.00 in total expenses: for ginger ale, which is used to help people to talk; also for medical and surgical tubes that our pupils needed. We have paid transportation to and from school; board and room for those who needed it. We have also paid rent and supplied food for two families. If we had a little help from some source to get some equipment we could do a better job.

My regular job is with the Reading R.R., and on Saturdays I do house wiring, to pay the expenses at the school.

I do sincerely thank Dr. Price and all who are associated with him for making the facilities of St. Stephen's available to us. Best wishes to all of you for a real happy Christmas, and God be with you through the coming year.

—Edward J. Maxwell

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report which each Parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This Report is made for the Calendar year. We would appreciate it if all our Organizations would plan now to have such a financial report ready for the Rector not later than January 10th.

THE 1959 DUPLEX ENVELOPES are now available. Your box with your name and address on it will be found in the vestibule of the Church.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—A thankful heart not only looks backward, but also forward with confidence. The metal mirror may dimly reflect the image or even distort it, but the perfect knowledge shall come when we see face to face. Our past and present experiences shall then appear in a new light. Heavenly Father, from Whom, for Whom and to Whom are all things, help us to realize anew that without Thee we can do nothing. Cleanse our hearts from all sin and impurity. Let us look forward hopefully to the fulfillment of Thy promises concerning those things that are to be. Amen.

Anthem: Through The Dark The Dreamers Came .....Daniels

Through the darkness the dreamers came, Melchior, Balthasar, Caspar, following the flame of a star, Via, Via, de profundis via.

But the way did not seem shadowy or long; it was brightened by a dream and a song: "Gloria, in excelsis, Gloria!"

It was worth the journeying to the weary end; for they found their dream; A King and a Friend; Maxima, Gloria Die Maxima!

GROW UP

In that wonderful parable of the vine and branches, Jesus teaches us that God planned for us to grow because we are joined to Him as a branch to the main stock of the vine. Hermann Hagerdorn, in "The Bomb That Fell On America," speaks the same truth. The Lord looks at the atomic age, and is now telling man that he'd better grow up, and fast:

The Lord looked at me, and His eyes pierced like hot wires.
"Perhaps," He said, "there is something in you and numerous others that will have to be cracked open, if 150 million people are going to grow up over night.
"Something in you," said the Lord, "something, perhaps, in you."
That was a joke, and I laughed. But the Lord wasn't laughing. I hastened to reassure Him. "There's nothing the matter with me. It's the other fellow, that's the trouble, 150 million of him."
"I know all about the 150 million," said the Lord, and I thought He seemed a little tired as He said it, "but I don't at the moment seem to be able to see anyone but you."
"Me, Lord?" I said. "How odd, I'm sure You must be mistaken. There's nothing about me that need give You even a moment's uneasiness."
Then there was a silence, a terrific silence like a wall that rose up between him and the Lord. The man protested that he had always fought on the Lord's side. But the Lord's silence just grew more silent, and the wall of separation grew higher. "I'm a good man," he argued, and felt a Hand on his collar which made him remember the wood-shed and the shingle; and he heard God wondering why He had remained a God of mercy. The man still argues that he has fought hard for God. And God says:
"I'm not interested," said the Lord, "in what you think you have done for Me . . .
To Me you are a life, a life with a soul at the center, . . ."
The Lord bent over me as a mother bends over her baby.
"You are a child," said the Lord, "and my heart is sick with your childishness.
But you have a soul . . .
If I could get at your ego and somehow crack open your nucleus — something might happen. And there is a world at stake.
You are nobody, and then again you are America.
You are nobody, and you are 150 million people who have to grow up over night."

It's urgent. There is a world at stake! Let God get by your ego, and let loose the power of His love to help save the world for God's plan!

We wish to thank these contributors to "Christmas Dinners": Margaret R. Fleming, Mr. & Mrs. George T. Gibb, Mildred Maxham, Ross J. Griffith, Eva Hansen, Mrs. Mildred C. Faris, Miss W. P. Sachs, Kate Wurstee, R. Winter, Mary Hamilton, Mrs. Laura Fuir, E. M. Macphie, William L. Scherzer, Mrs. Jean Dixon, Mrs. Leon Merrow, A Friend, David Magee, Florence Appel, Mrs. R. E. Ormsby, Mr. & Mrs. Will Coffee, Mrs. J. E. Semon.

And, our thanks for these Bulletin subscriptions: Mrs. Joseph Allen, Mrs. Louise W. Braun, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Collins, Mr. & Mrs. Charles Hutt, Beulah McNeill, Ellen A. Vail, Mrs. Wm. F. Wahl.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—The contact I made with you on Nov. 6th, has been to me a great blessing. My recovery has been complete, after a previous diagnosis by the surgeon of the presence of a throat tumor. May I contribute in a small way to the furtherance of a work that is so God-inspired and far-reaching? May the Lord bless you and those associated with you in the great ministry of healing.—F. C. C. (Margate City, N. J.)

The Prelude: Jesus, Priceless Treasure .....J. S. Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Bible, as the Word of God, is man's best guide for life. It shows us the pitfalls of life, it unmasks temptations and evil, and it points out the things that are pure and of good report. This Guide shows the way home to the Father's House. O God, we thank Thee for Thy Word. Without the guidance of Thy Word the way to Thee would remain unknown, and the solution to our problems of life would be left to a blind fate. Teach more diligently to follow the leadership of Thy Word in all things. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

TREASURE IN HEAVEN

O. H. Austin tells the following story about riches:

Old Granny Smith (we'll call her) faced the tax assessor. He looked around her plain little living-room as if he were looking for something he couldn't find.

Granny tried to be helpful. She said, "Oh, yes, that new rocking-chair—my boys got together and gave me that for Christmas. They could not rightly afford it, and I can't rightly enjoy it, it being so fancy . . . but you will want to count that. I don't have any idea what it's worth."

The assessor still looked unsatisfied. "You sure you ain't got some hidden assets somewhere?"

"Well," she answered, "I guess I have $32 in the bank."

And then his reason for being unsatisfied came out: "But I've been hearing that you was a rich woman."

"Oh, that," she said. "I've heard that too. And I do have riches. But not the kind that you can write up in tax books . . . I wouldn't be any good without my riches, but they wouldn't be much good to you for raisin' money on."

He didn't quite know what she meant. He said so.

"Well, I have friends, I guess those are about the greatest riches a body can have. I have a fine family, and they love me. I have faith, which sees me through hard times and which gives me a reason to be thankful, and to share my joys. They are my riches. I guess they are what you would call 'riches in heaven'."

Jesus was preparing people for that day when they would leave their worn-out bodies behind, and their spirits would go on to be with God. That will be like examination-day—how much do we have in our minds; how much do we have of faith, of courage, of understanding, of love. The material wealth we have to leave behind—for we cannot take it with us. But people like Granny Smith are rich that day, for their riches they can take with them, the everlasting kind of wealth that no wind or weather can spoil.

If you walk with Jesus through each day, then each night you will be finding yourself richer. It's glorious, and exciting—"Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven"!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Several months ago I wrote you for prayer in regard to my husband's health, which is diabetes and alcoholism. I am very happy to report that my husband has been completely delivered from all desire for alcohol and has accepted Jesus Christ as his Saviour, and is now earnestly trying to lead an entirely new life. He is feeling better physically also.—S. G. (Douglasville, Georgia)

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years: to repaint the interior of the Church, to air condition the Church, and to improve the lighting. To date over $15,000.00 has been pledged by 135 persons. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mrs. Helen LeDent, Mrs. Evelyn R. Work, Miss Gertrude Bergen, Miss Jane R. Harper.

We wish to thank these Bulletin subscribers: Helen G. Downes, Jay Knox.

The Rector will speak at the Princeton Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, January 14th.

We want to express our grateful appreciation to these contributors to our "Christmas Dinners" Project; whereby we help make Christmas more real to those who are unable to do this for themselves.

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa,

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 135 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

The Prelude: Fantasia ..... Pachelbel

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Amid constant change and shifting standards, we have one abiding hope; that we shall eventually become sons and daughters of God. It is this invincible hope which has brought mankind this far in its march upward and onward; it will eventually lead us to God. Hope drives us on when reason bids us stop. Dear God and Father of us all, make us to know that when we stop hoping we stop living. Teach us to realize that despair and doubt are suicidal. Give us a sense of expectancy that brooks no defeat. Amen.

The Anthem: "Blessed Are All They That Fear The Lord" ..... Sowerby

Blessed are all they that fear the Lord, and walk in His ways. For thou shall eat the labor of thine hands: O well is thee, and happy shalt thou be. Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine upon the walls of thine house; thy children like the olive branches round about thy table. Lo, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord. The Lord from out of Sion shall so bless thee, that thou shalt see Jerusalem in prosperity all thy life long. Yea, that thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

IT IS THE LORD

Sometimes we feel that life is being pretty rough on us. One blow after another seems to fall on us, while our neighbor seems to have an easy time. It almost appears as if God may not be quite fair.

But how do we know what is best for us? Once, when you were a child, you had a lot of colds and sore throats, and your parents had the family doctor in—and he said, "We'll take his tonsils out." And you went to a hospital, and waked up with a throat that hurt, and you wondered why your father and mother let that hurtful thing happen to you.

We so-called "adults" are like small children with a very great Father. And Jesus taught us that, in every event,—a simple meal on the road to Emmaus, or a crippling disease, or even a crucifixion—we could find God's opportunities, God ready to enrich us. The Saude has put it:

There is no moment in which God does not present Himself under the guise of some suffering, some consolation, or some duty. All that occurs within us, around us, and by our means covers and hides His divine action. His action is there, most really and certainly present, but in an invisible manner, the result of which is that we are always being taken by surprise and that we only recognize His action after it has passed away. Could we pierce the veil, and were we vigilant and attentive, God would reveal Himself continuously to us, and we should rejoice in His action in everything that happens to us. At every occurrence we would say: "Dominus est" (It is the Lord.); and in all circumstances we would find a gift from God. We should consider creatures as very feeble instruments in the hands of an Almighty Worker, and we would recognize without difficulty that nothing is lacking to us and that God's constant care leads Him to give us each instant what is suited to us. If we had faith, we should welcome all creatures; we should, as it were, caress them interiorly for contributing so favorably to our protection when applied by the hand of God.

Try, this week, whenever anything happens, saying to yourself, "It is the Lord." It will make you more grateful for plain blessings, and more trustful and courageous when difficulty and pain lie across your road!

The Rector will preach at the Noonday Service at St. Paul's Church, Richmond, Virginia, on Wednesday, January 21st.

Genevieve Parkhurst, author of "Healing And Wholeness Are Yours," will speak in St. Stephen's Church on Tuesday, January 20th, at 7:45 P.M. Everyone is welcome to attend.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—For many years I have not been able to sleep without the aid of sedatives. After reading your booklet: "A Meditation On Health," and memorizing a portion of it, I retired without taking the usual capsule, praying as I had many times before, that sleep would come naturally. The healing came that very night, and I have not taken a single sleeping tablet since then, and I am sleeping restfully and soundly. I thank God for this healing, and thank you for showing me the way.

The children of St. Stephen's Sunday School, under the leadership of Mrs. Alfred Price and Mrs. Clara Robinson, were surprised with Christmas Stockings filled with cookies and tangerines, prepared by members of the Woman's Auxiliary, on the Sunday before Christmas.

KING'S DAUGHTERS

After seventy years of active service the King's Daughters of St. Stephen's Church has been disbanded. This fine sewing society under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Schmid has found it increasingly difficult to find sufficient workers, who are able to attend the evening meetings, to carry on this program. Our deep regret over the loss of this fine group is mitigated somewhat by the realization that in our Benevolent Society this type of work is being carried on. To Mrs. Schmid and her workers we express our gratitude for a job well done.

In the past year the King's Daughters has disbursed one hundred dollars with contributions to the Nazareth Home, Episcopal Hospital, Phila. General Hospital, Church Improvement Fund, Christmas Baskets, Altar Flowers, and thirty-eight articles for St. Christopher's Hospital.

BULLETIN SUBSCRIPTIONS

It is time again for the annual subscription to the Parish Bulletin. One thousand copies are printed each week. Some 716 are mailed to individuals and families of people who live in eighteen of the forty-nine states, and in addition, to people in Canada. It goes not only to members but to shut-ins and people who value the weekly messages. It cost, this past year, $38.16 a week to print and to mail this publication. There are some 44 issues a year, at a total cost, in 1958, of $1,679.25. Last year we received $759.31 from individuals in response to our annual appeal. If every family would give $2.00 per year the cost would be met. Of course a great many people on our list cannot afford to pay anything, so that a generous check or two from those who can afford it will go a long way to pay for those who are financially unable to subscribe. The Rector would appreciate a greater response on the part of those who can afford it. The rising costs of printing make this appeal necessary. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

The Prelude: Prayer, and Preambule ..... Vierne

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Only those who approach God in the right spirit can truly worship Him. If we seek to live as in the sight of the Eternal, we experience a great joy and find it easy to serve Him on the pathway of life. Temptations will be overcome and our constant communion with God will be a blessing unto us. O God, grant us a double portion of Thy Spirit. May we be able to worship Thee as we ought, with the right and the true motive. Use us as instruments in Thy hand to spiritualize life in our own circle of friends. Make us faithful to all that is fine and noble. Amen.

*Eternal ruler of the ceaseless round of circling planets singing on their way; Guide of the nations from the night profound into the glory of the perfect day. Rule in our hearts that we may ever be guided and strengthened and upheld by Thee. We are of Thee, the children of Thy love, the brothers of Thy well-beloved Son; Descend, O Holy Spirit, like a dove into our hearts, that we may be as one; As one with Thee to whom we ever tend; as one with Him, our Brother and our friend. We would be one in hatred of all wrong, one in our love of all things sweet and fair, one with the joy that breatheth into song, One with the grief that trembleth into prayer, one in the power that makes the children free to follow truth, and thus to follow Thee.

PRAYER FELLOWSHIP REPORT

We have finished another year in our Ministry of Healing in St. Stephen's Church. Devoting at least a half hour each day to pray for a long list of people may not seem a great thing for an intercessor to do, but it is quite often just the link needed for God's power to reach the one in need. We remember, with deep gratitude, that it is just the daily acts of prayer of each of our 105 intercessors, which has made the work of the Prayer Healing Fellowship as a whole possible. They have shared with us at St. Stephen's the great burden of the need of those who write to us for prayer.

The number of our regular Prayer Fellowship intercessors has reached 105, and we now have a daily chain of prayers around the clock. We have each of the 24 hours taken three times over by our 105 members. Each intercessor is disciplined to give a fixed hour each day for his prayer activity. Each needy individual is lifted up in prayer to God 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks. The patient is requested to keep us informed of progress. Chronic cases may be renewed for longer periods of prayer.

During the past year 21,331 persons requested our prayers. This means that 21,331 people were remembered 24 hours a day for a period of four weeks by our prayer helpers.

We are grateful to these intercessors for their ready and willing cooperation, and know that our Lord, too, is grateful to them for being "workers together" with Him in His great plan of redemption and healing.

Has all the prayer, faith and devotion of intercessors and friends been worth while? No one can fully assess the results of prayer, but the letters of gratitude continually coming to the Rector, an average of 80 per week, are an evidence that the need in the lives of many people is being met. Many of the testimonies received are reported at the monthly meeting of the Prayer Fellowship, and in the weekly report to the members, all progress and cures are recorded. There is no limit to what God can do through prayer, and while thanking Him for the evidence of His love and mercy in the past, we would look to Him with faith and expectation for greater things to be done in His name in the future. The need, therefore, for more intercessors, those who in humble dependence on the Spirit of God will seek to have power in prayer, is apparent.

It is good to remind ourselves that God has a special promise for those who meet in this way: "If two of you agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of My Father which is in heaven . . . for, where two or three are gathered, in My name, there am I in the midst of them." The value of St. Stephen's Fellowship of Prayer can never be over-estimated.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—On behalf of my mother and myself, I wish to thank you and praise God for the wonderful healing wrought by your Prayer Fellowship. My mother has been seriously ill and her condition has improved greatly in a remarkably short time, and it is undoubtedly attributable to God's mercy.

—J. H. N. (Western Springs, Illinois)

The Rev. George R. Bishop, who made St. Stephen's Church his spiritual home during his retirement from the active ministry and in recent years while living in Princeton, was a valued member of our Prayer Fellowship, was promoted to the Higher Life on Tuesday, January 6th. The burial service was held in Trinity Church, Princeton, on January 8th. To Mrs. Bishop and her son, Reginald, we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

MILK CAN

In 1958 eight hundred and seventy-seven dollars was contributed in the Milk Can on the steps of the Church for the Presiding Bishop's Fund for World Relief. It is used to share our surplus food with people in foreign countries who are hungry.

T E S O

In modern alphabeitcal terms T E S O means: Theological Education Sunday Offering, now a major source of income for the support of the eleven Theological Schools in the United States. By proclamation of the Presiding Bishop, in 1959, this falls on January 25th. The leaflet enclosed in this Bulletin tells of the program of theological education of the Rector's School in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The offering from St. Stephen's Church will be divided between the Cambridge School and the Philadelphia Divinity School. The enclosed envelope is for your convenience.

The Rector will conduct a Healing Mission in St. Anna's Church, New Orleans, on January 25th to 27th, inclusive, and at Holy Trinity Church, Greensboro, North Carolina, on January 29th and 30th. During his absence the services of the Church will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Stanley R. West (Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday). The Thursday Healing Services will be conducted by the Rev. Harold O. Boon.

St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa,

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 136 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 105 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

11:00 A. M.—CHURCH SCHOOL

11:00 A. M.—HOLY COMMUNION AND SERMON BY THE RECTOR

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

Prelude: I Come, O Savior, To Thy Table ..... Kretzschmar

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Our never-ending task of being Christian is to fill ourselves in unending measure of such qualities of the spirit as strength in the inner man, faith in His dear Son, knowledge that comprehends the dimensions of Love; and Love itself that passeth all understanding. Dear Lord, we are overwhelmed when, as we behold the smallness of ourselves, we realize that we were meant to contain Thy fullness. Unto that end may we strive to be immersed in Thy Truth and Goodness, but not until we have emptied ourselves, so that Thou canst replenish our hearts with every grace of Thyself completely. Amen.

Processional Hymn 304 ..... Beecher
Kyrie, Hymnal No. 708 ..... Willan
The Anthem: Grieve Not The Holy Spirit of God ..... Noble

Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption. Let all bitterness and wrath, and anger, and clamor and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice. And be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you. Amen.

The Sermon: "FORGIVENESS" ..... THE RECTOR
Offertory Hymn 448 ..... Trust
Sursum Corda (Lift Up Your Hearts), Hymnal 734
Sanctus, Hymnal 711 ..... Willan
Communion Hymn 196 ..... Eucharistic Hymn
Gloria in Excelsis, Hymnal 739 ..... Old Scottish Chant
Recessional Hymn 567 ..... Dulce Carmen

Flowers on our Altar today are presented by Mrs. Charles E. Campbell in memory of her family, and by Mrs. George Bridgeman in memory of her husband.

4:00 P. M.—Bible Class in the Community House.
5:30 P. M.—Evening Prayer & Sermon, Rev. Gustav C. Meckling.
6:30 P. M.—Social, Coffee Hour in the parish house.

HANDICAPS

You might call it "The Case of The Near-Sighted Musician." There was once a violinist who played his instrument with skill, but he had one serious handicap. He was so near-sighted that he could not read the score on his music stand with confidence, so he simply memorized his part. To make himself doubly sure, he memorized all the other parts in the orchestra. Then one day, shortly before a concert, the conductor was taken seriously ill. There was a hectic last-minute search for a pinch-hitter. Someone suggested the near-sighted musician, for, after all, he did know all the parts by heart. He led the orchestra so well that he was made permanent conductor. That is how the great Arturo Toscanini got his start.

Handicaps can be the spring-board to incredible achievement. For a handicap makes a man humble. As with St. Paul's "thorn in the flesh," he knows his weakness, which must be overcome. Two different men betrayed Jesus. Judas, the treasurer, sold his Master's life for thirty dirty pieces of silver—then ran away in despair to hang himself. Peter, warming himself by the fire, denied that he had ever seen Jesus before. But, instead of taking to his heels, he stood there a moment, looking toward Jesus. He met that unforgettable look of patient love that trusted him still—and then Peter let God into his fearful heart. Just because he had a handicap of fearfulness, he knew he must have God's Spirit within him. He let God supply the courage which then dared to stand before kings and governors.

God gave all human beings one great "handicap" in common—without Him we are nothing. We cannot meet life victoriously without Him in our hearts. We cannot overcome our temptations without His strength within. We cannot take our richest opportunities without Him in our thoughts. As St. Paul put it, "For when I am weak, then I find I am strong." You are like the paint-brush which lies useless until it lets the artist take hold of it, to paint a beautiful picture!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—I wish to thank you and the Prayer Fellowship for remembering my husband and myself in your prayers and for the spiritual guidance I received through your correspondence and healing literature. I have been brought nearer to God and know better how to pray and hope to be growing in faith and understanding. My husband's business problem is now less disturbing and no longer causes him to worry. My health problem (a self-poisoning process) has lessened. We are forever grateful for all the benefits in body and spirit that have come to us through your healing ministry.—H. C. (Wawwatosa, Wisconsin).

THE CONFIRMATION CLASS

The Rector's Confirmation Class will begin February 8th, at 10:00 A.M. in his study. If you want to be a communicant member of this Parish, you should attend the Confirmation Class and be presented by the Rector to the Bishop when he comes to administer the Rite of Confirmation on Sunday, April 12th. Confirmation is an opportunity for instruction in Christian belief and practice, as well as a public affirmation of Christian loyalty. The Class will meet for six weeks.

The Rector will preach in St. John's Church, Washington, D.C. tonight.

We want to express our grateful appreciation for these Bulletin subscriptions: Florence Appel, Mr. & Mrs. James Ashbrook, Mrs. G. Baddeley, Miss Hazel L. Bainbridge, Mrs. Geo. R. Bishop, Mr. & Mrs. John Brinsko, Mrs. Charles E. Campbell, Miss Miriam Daley, Peter V. Decker, Mae R. Dunn, Joseph R. Campbell, Elmer S. Carll, Edith M. INVESTMENT IN CHRISTIAN WORK:—We respectfully call attention of our members and friends to the opportunity of perpetuating their Christian devotion by remembering St. Stephen's Church in their last will and testament. Information concerning this sacred matter may be obtained from the Rector or Vestry of the Church.

1958 REPORT OF THE BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

During the calendar year 1958 we completed and returned 6446 pieces of sewing to the hospitals, as follows:

Episcopal	396
Jefferson	5924
Visiting Nurse Society	126
	6446

For the sewing of these pieces we disbursed $556.61, which included carfare for the workers.

As is our custom, we closed our Spring Session with our Annual Party, financed entirely by Mrs. I. Smith Raspin, one of our aides, which party was attended by the workers, aides and a few guests, among them was Miss Bayner of the Jefferson Staff, through whom we receive the sewing to be done.

At Christmas each worker received a box of candy and a gift from St. Stephen's Church.

The Prelude: Lied ..... Vierne

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Jesus made much of the motives of men. He held that the sins of a man's heart and mind, such as hate and greed, were as great as any other sins which a man could commit. He who was pure would have us watch our words and deeds so that we may be fitted to help build His Kingdom. Almighty God and Merciful Father, give us the grace to examine the innermost thoughts of our hearts and minds. May we purge them of all that would dishonor our lives and keep us from serving Thee; in Jesus' Name, Amen.

O God of Peace, who hast taught us that in returning and rest we shall be saved, in quietness and confidence shall be our strength; by the might of Thy Spirit lift us, we pray Thee, to Thy Presence, where we may be still and know that Thou art God.

THE BODY OF CHRIST

How close Lent is—Ash Wednesday comes on February the 11th! For all wide-awake Christian people this is the growing season, when we cultivate our spiritual lives so that they will be more fruitful for God. To make this Lent an adventure, I suggest that you get "The Inspired Letters," prepared by Frank C. Laubach (publisher—Thomas Nelson & Son). It is simply the New Testament Epistles, translated into the language we use today, so that we can grasp what these letters mean. Here is a passage I have found especially valuable:

The human body is one, but it has many members. Though they are so many members, they are only one body. It is so with us and Christ. For we are all baptised by One Spirit into His one Body. Jews and Greeks, slaves and free men, were all given to drink from the same cup and receive the same Spirit.

The body does not consist of one member only. It consists of many members. Even if the foot should say "I am not a hand, so I'm not part of the body," it would still belong to the body. If the ear should say: "I am not the eye, so I do not belong to the body," it would still be a part of the body. If the whole body were an eye, how would it hear? If the whole body were an ear, how would it smell? But as it is, God has arranged every organ of the body just where He wanted it. If there were but one single organ, there would be no body. There are many parts, but there is just one body.

The eye cannot say to the hand: "I do not need you." The head can not say to the feet: "I do not need you." No, the very opposite is true . . . The parts of the body do not fight against one another. Each member takes care of every other. If one part suffers, all the others suffer with it. If one part of the body is honored, the whole body is full of joy.

Now, all of you together are the Body of Christ. Each of you is a member in Christ's Body. God has given each man his place in the Church.

Use this wonderful translation daily, thoughtfully throughout Lent—and you will find God speaking to you more clearly than ever before, with His sufficient grace and mighty compassion.

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—Last May the doctors at the largest hospital in Detroit told us that my mother had lost her ability to swallow (caused by nerve damage due to thickening of bones in the skull and spine); they inserted a feeding tube into her nose, down her throat, into the stomach. They said she would have this the rest of her life. Later an eminent neuro-surgeon in the city confirmed their findings. Now, however, may I tell you, to the glory of God! My mother went to her doctor after two months of having that tube—had him remove it—and over his protests told him that so many people are praying for her, and she felt an inner compulsion to have faith in those prayers. She has been eating like a normal person for four weeks now!

ANNIVERSARY IMPROVEMENT FUND

We are endeavoring to raise some $40,000.00 by pledges and gifts during the next three years; to repaint the interior of the Church, to air condition the Church, and to improve the lighting. To date over $15,000 has been pledged by 135 persons. We do want everyone to have a share in this, our 135th Anniversary Project.

We acknowledge with grateful appreciation gifts and pledges from: Mrs. Mabel B. Moore.

The Rector will speak at the Anniversary Service of the Big Oak Moravian Church, Yardley, at 3:30 P.M., Sunday, February 8th.

Our Lenten Noonday speakers this week will be Bishop Hart, Bishop Roberts, and the Rev. Dr. John R. Hart.

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

The Prelude: Kyrie Eleison .....Karg-Elert

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—There are times when it is hard to understand the mystery of God's ways. We are indeed unfortunate in calamity, misfortune and sorrow, unless we can say with confident faith, that we know our God is directing our ways. If we discern clearly, we can experience the presence of the Lord in all the trials of life, as well as in its joys. Our Saviour, help us ever to feel Thy nearness and Thy presence wherever we may be, and when we are alone. In grief of defeat help us to see Thee clearly, and from the vision to receive strength and peace. Amen.

The Anthem: O Lord Most Holy .....Franck

O Lord most holy, O Lord most mighty, O loving Father, Thee would we be praising alway. Help us to know Thee and love Thee; Father, grant us Thy truth and grace; guide and defend us. Rule Thou our wilful hearts, keep Thine our wand'ring thoughts; in all our sorrows, let us find our rest in Thee; and in temptation's hour, save through Thy mighty power, Thine aid O send us; hear us in mercy. Show us Thy favor, so shall we live, and sing praise to Thee.

THE INNER WORLD

A saint is "One in whom Christ is felt to live again." That is simply an everyday person like you, in whom the Spirit of Jesus works and loves. Douglas Steere points out the first quality of a saint:

"A saint is one who begins with himself and with what he must do . . . he approves of the sentiments of the old Negro Spiritual that chants, ''Tain't the preacher nor the deacon, but it's me, O Lord, a standing in the need of prayer'."

Jesus was thinking of this when He said that "The Kingdom of God is within," for this is the inner world of our thoughts and feelings where we really love. The sincere follower of the Master—or saint—enthrones God as the Master of his inner world; and it then becomes full of power, of light, of love, of beauty. Such a person, like Jesus, speaks "with authority," with the weight of a Person greater than himself, because he lets God do the talking.

Actually, it may be you I'm talking about right now. It's quite possible. It may be that you decided, one day, that you no longer wanted civil war and turmoil within you, and you welcomed God as the Ruler of your inner life. On that day you entered the ranks of the humble, every-day saints. You knew yourself among those "called to be saints." Your life became more fruitful. E. Herman puts it:

"When we read the lives of the saints, we are struck by a certain large leisure which went hand in hand with remarkable effectiveness. They were never hurried. They did comparatively few things . . . yet, they always seemed to hit the mark; every bit of their life told. Their simplest actions had a distinction, and an exquisiteness, which suggested the artist. The reason is not far to see. Their sainthood lay in their habit of referring the smallest to God. They lived in God."

Yes, I could be talking about you; and I think I am. For God needs a plain saint right where you are—someone through whom He can talk wholly common sense and loving kindness. He needs one right where you are—one who he can use as the open channel of His loving concern. So, start with yourself—and be old-fashioned enough to invite the King to take permanent charge of your inner kingdom. For certainly He who rules the universe so wisely can direct your life into usefulness and peace!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:

Dear Dr. Price:—There is one happy family in Port Clinton, Ohio, at this moment! A week hence little Tracy Behrman, three, would be scheduled for an operation from the skill of Cleveland's foremost plastic surgeon. One of the best general surgeons in this area declined to touch the large, dried-fig sized cyst appearing during the past six weeks on the side of Tracy's face at the side of the facial nerve. Even the most skilled surgeon ran the risk of injuring the nerve, thus leaving the side of the face paralyzed for life. Tracy was taken to your healing service and received the laying-on-of-hands. A few days later the unbelievable happened. The cyst suddenly opened and emptied, leaving Tracy's lopsided face as beautiful as before. A band-aid covers a small spot where the grotesque intruder was. There is one happy family in Port Clinton at this moment, and henceforth!—Mrs. A. H. (Port Clinton, Ohio).

ANNUAL BROTHERHOOD EVENT

The Annual Corporate Communion and Breakfast of the Brotherhood in the Diocese of Pennsylvania will be held Saturday, February 21st. The Service of Holy Communion will be celebrated by Bishop Roberts at 8:00 A.M. and breakfast will be served in the Community House at 9:00 A.M. Vice Admiral James L. Kauffman, U.S.N. (Ret.) an active Episcopalian, will address us via FM Station, WFLN, from the Cathedral of Christ, Roxborough.

The Rector will speak to the Young People of the 1st Baptist Church, Sunday evening, February 15th.

The Lenten Noonday speaker Monday through Friday will be the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D.D., Bishop of Erie. The speaker on Saturday will be the Rev. J. H. Hauser, Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

THERE ARE TWO WAYS to become a member of this parish. If you are a confirmed member of the Episcopal Church you become a member of this parish by asking the Rector of the parish where you were confirmed to send your Letter of Transfer to St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia.

The second way is by Confirmation. Classes of instruction for adults are now being held in the Rector's study Sunday mornings at 10:00 A.M. Confirmation will be held on April 12th.

MRS. BECHTEL HONORED

At the 20th Anniversary Meeting of the Women's Aid to the Chapel for the Hard of Hearing, Mrs. Theodore Bechtel, who has been president for 20 years, was presented with a gold cross and chain and other gifts. Mesdames Merrow, Vice President; Weber, Treasurer; and Christy, Secretary; were presented with lovely pins for their long service in their respective offices. The meeting concluded with a gala party attended by the Rev. Dr. Price, who congratulated Mrs. Bechtel for her long service to the Women's Aid, and the Church.

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa,

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 136 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

The Prelude: Supplication .....Purvis

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Those who follow God's guidance get the most out of life. Obedience to God's will is the secret of true and lasting happiness. They who can truly say, when they pray, "Thy will be done" are invincible. They are living the victorious life, for they firmly believe that "all things work together for good to them that love God." Lord, help us to find and follow the true way to Thee. Open our minds and hearts that Thy will for our lives may be revealed to us in unmistakable terms. May we be assured of Thy companionship. WHEN THE NEED IS GREAT

One of the puzzles of life is what to say, when the right words make all the difference. The disciples, and the early Christians, were greatly troubled by this at first. Then Jesus told them, quietly, that they would be arrested and brought before governors and kings, but that they need have no anxiety, "For what you are to say will be given you in that hour." In the days that followed, they found that this promise came true, as His promises always do.

It is your privilege, as Jesus' disciple, to depend on His Holy Spirit for the right word in time of need. Some friend of yours has slipped into sin or paganism, and is unhappy in it—then asks you how you manage to trust God. You keep very quiet for a few seconds, and ask for the word that will reach that person's need; trust God for the outcome. Try it again and again. You will find miracles happening in your life, just as in the Early Church.

For instance, back in World War II, there was a Mrs. Pages who lived in the French Alps as head of a girls' Home. France was under the heel of Germany, and the gestapo were hunting Jews. Mrs. Pages was sheltering 25 of them, at the risk of her life. One day the dread gestapo man came—"You are hiding Jews," he charged her. "Yes," she answered. "We have the names," he continued, "And we are here to arrest them." Then Mrs. Pages was very quiet for a moment, and prayed, "God, create a miracle so I won't have to lie." And God went to work in her, stirring up her wrath. In an angry tone of voice, and with her eyes blazing, she faced that gestapo agent—"There are 25 Jews. Take them; but I warn you. Long ago you should have come here and done something. Why didn't you? If you do anything now, I'll go to your chief and tell him you have known long before and have done nothing." The gestapo man turned pale, "Yes, you are right," he said weakly. "But just don't say anything about this." And he left the Jews safe in her keeping.

It is a wonderful inner peace to be sure of Jesus' promise, that, if we let Him use our brains, the right word will ever come to our lips when the need is great!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our Healing Ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—It was about two years ago that I first wrote you for help through prayers. I shall always consider that as a Red Letter Day of my life. Since then I have had no positive recurrence of that terrible fear neurosis. I am so thankful for a better understanding of my problem as gained through your booklet on Nervous Disorders, and the other helpful literature you sent me. I am experiencing a greater peace of mind as I strive daily to walk hand in hand with Him. May your good work continue.—Mrs. G. O. S. (East Aurora, N. Y.).

CONFIRMATION INSTRUCTION

The Instruction Class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10:00 A.M. The Rector would appreciate hearing from adults who would like or think they would like to be confirmed. Attendance at the Classes does not obligate one to be confirmed. The decision may be made later.

The Lenten Noonday speaker Monday through Saturday will be the Rev. W. Hamilton Aulenbach, D.D., Rector of Christ Church and St. Michael's, Germantown.

FINANCIAL REPORTS

The Canons of the Church require that the financial reports of all Parish Organizations should be included in the Annual Report each Parish is requested to make to the Bishop. This report is made for the Calendar Year. We urge those responsible for these reports to see that they reach the Rector as soon as possible.

The Prelude: O God Be Merciful To Me .....Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—The Lenten Season is hallowed in the lives of Christians everywhere because in it we can see the completed work of Him of Whom John the Baptist spoke. Glorious Message: He takes away our sin! Heavenly Father, Thou hast sent Jesus into the world to grant us forgiveness for our sins, thus banishing our despair. Fill our hearts with trusting faith in Him, help us to forsake sin and live in obedience to Him Who gave Himself for us that we might live. Amen.

Kyrie, Hymnal No. 714 .....Oldroyd

The Anthem: Father, Once More .....Matthews
Father, once more within Thy Holy Place, we bring the sins which, kneeling, we confess, not worthy yet to look upon Thy face, yet loath to rise until Thy hand doth bless. Father, once more within Thy house of hope we turn to find a glad release; in Thy forgiveness there is strength to cope with all that robs the spirit of Thy peace. Within Thy house of prayer we kneel before Thee at the open way; and leaving both our hopes and burdens there, we wait till Thou shalt teach us how to pray. Father, once more within Thy house of praise, we bring our gifts to Thee, from whom they came; we lift our hearts, and our hosannas raise to welcome Him who cometh in Thy name.

LAW OF LOVE

Hannah Hurnard recalls a day in the Cheddar Gorge when she sat and looked out at the pinnacle cliffs above her. She noticed that they were riddled with holes, and that multitudes of birds were entering and leaving the holes, which they used as their nesting places. The birds, she writes, were

"swooping to their nests, then coming out again and launching themselves on the air and wheeling about in loveliest freedom. They seemed so tantalizingly un-earth bound as they soared jubilantly in the sky, exulting in their wings and filling the Gorge with their songs. As I watched them, it broke upon my mind with a shock of delight and illumination that birds are a most perfect picture of life in 'the heavenly places' to which our Lord and Savior calls all of His followers. We see in them a perfect illustration of the life which every Christian is entitled to live here and now, 'risen with Christ,' 'in the world, but not of it'."

She points out that surely Jesus came into the world to challenge men to allow Him to lift them up to a higher form of life altogether, "as different as is the bird's life from that of a mole burrowing in the ground. Then why do so many of us who really are His followers remain so drearily earth bound and so obviously unable to feel at home in the heavenly places?"

She has the answer: "Why is it that so few Christians know in actual experience what it is to enjoy the winged life of 'the heavenly places'? Is it not because we know so little about love? Love is the law of the winged life. Up there 'in the heavenly places' is to be experienced the perfect freedom and joy of those who have learned to love truly, and have received power to do so continually and under all circumstances. 'If the Son shall make you free,' said the Lord of the high places to all His earth bound and enslaved followers, 'ye shall be free indeed.' (John 8:36) 'Only love!' cried His servant, St. Augustine. 'Only obey the law of love and then do as you like'."

Let this be our Lent, then—to pray and think our way deep into the Law of Love, and be practicing it every day. It might even be that, when Easter dawns, we shall be "risen with Christ," living on wings!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I attended one of your recent healing services with a severe stomach ulcer. It is difficult to describe my experience at the Altar. I experienced a sort of "release"—as if something had broken loose inside me. I was certain God had healed me, and insisted that my doctor make further X-rays. Much to his surprise and astonishment he found that the ulcer had vanished completely, without even a trace of scar tissue.—P. D. (Lima, Ohio).

On Sunday last the Rector dedicated two Altar Veils, a Credence Cover, and thirteen Purificators embroidered by Miss Hazel Bainbridge, and presented in memory of those from this parish who gave their lives in the service of our country.

The Rector will preach at St. John's Church, Washington, tonight at 7:30 P.M. He will preach at the First Baptist Church, 17th & Sansom Streets at 12:25 P.M. Wednesday, March 4th, and at the First Presbyterian Church, Plainfield, N. J. at 7 P.M.

The Lenten Noonday preacher this week, Monday through Friday, will be the Very Rev. John J. Weaver, Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit, Michigan. The Saturday preacher will be the Rev. Joseph Koci, the new Rector of St. Peter's Church, Philadelphia.

ARE YOU A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH?

The Christian Church needs you and every other person in an active relationship today. She is being asked what she can contribute toward the creation of a better world. Obviously the strength of her answer depends in part upon the number of persons who belong to her fellowship. The Church needs you and you need the Church. Instruction Class meets in the Rector's study on Sundays at 10 A.M.

COUNCIL OF CHURCHES

We are enclosing some literature describing the high degree of cooperative services and programs now being carried on by the Philadelphia Council of Churches. Here at St. Stephen's we are seeking to enlist 10 percent of our membership as individual contributors to the Council of Churches. Your contribution in the special envelope will aid in this great Protestant Co-operative Program.

Tenth Street above Chestnut, Philadelphia 7, Pa,

Church open for prayer and meditation every week-day

FOUNDED 136 YEARS AGO

This Church is a member of:
The Protestant Episcopal Church in America;
The Philadelphia Council of Churches;
The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America;
The World Council of Churches.

"The Name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe." Prov. 18:10

INVITATION

To all who mourn and need comfort; To all who are weary and need rest; To all who are friendless and desire friendship; To all who believe in God and wish to worship; To all who hunger for prayer and wish to pray; To all who know sin and need a Saviour; To all who are convinced that they ought to put first things first—St. Stephen's opens its doors in the name of Jesus Christ—and in His name and for His sake bids you WELCOME.

Better Hearing for the Hard of Hearing; 200 Hearing Aids available. Precision made like a watch, hearing aids need careful handling. Always get your hearing aid from the usher at the door. At the close of the Service, return it to the usher. Do not force the volume control. If the hearing aid does not work, return it for another. Always keep the ear piece close over the ear, otherwise the sound escapes and may annoy others nearby. Always keep the aid turned off when the ear piece is not over the ear.

RELIGION AND HEALTH

Every Thursday at 12:30 P. M. and 5:30 P. M., the rector conducts a healing service endeavoring to bring the helpfulness of religion to bear on fear and anxiety, worry, frustration, guilt, sickness and disease. There is opportunity for private interview.

CHAIN OF PRAYER

Twenty-four hours every day intercessory prayer is offered by the 105 members of our Prayer Fellowship for the recovery of sick persons whose names have been sent to the Rector. The names of those for whom prayer is offered are kept on the altar. "More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of."

"I like the QUIET Church before the service begins"—Emerson
IF you must whisper, whisper a Prayer.

Prelude: "Out Of The Depths" .....Dupre
"I Call To Thee" .....Bach

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—No person becomes great until he has learned to deny himself. Selfishness is the mark of a petty soul; the way to greatness lies through sacrifice. When a person takes up his cross with a will, he learns how to walk in the Jesus Way of living fruitfully in this world. Bring to our minds, Lord, Thy willingness to forego honor and security and pleasure, and even life itself, for our sakes. Then help us to count the world well lost, as we gain in our likeness to Thee. Amen.

Processional Hymn 536 .....Old 124th

Psalm 40, Page 390

Benedictus Es Domine, Prayer Book, Page 11 .....Thiman

Benedictus, Prayer Book Page 14; Hymnal, Chant No. 640

The Anthem: "God's Peace is Peace Eternal" .....Grieg
God's peace is peace eternal, here discords all our joys displace, we wage a war infernal, and gentle mercy finds no place. Life is our time of trial now, before the Judge we all must bow. God, merciful and kind, will shield us; and from the evil set us free; He knoweth when to sin we yield us, the path we follow recklessly. He will the poorest soul release, who turns from sin to heavenly peace.

The Sermon: "LOVE HAS GOOD MANNERS" .....The Rector

Offertory Hymn 335 .....Caswall

Recessional Hymn 489 .....Sicilian Mariners

WINGED LIFE

Hannah Hurnard points out clearly the way that leads to "The heavenly places": "There is no escape from the truth (which at first dismays our hearts) that The Cross is the gateway to the heavenly places and that death is the way into true life. We must pass through death ourselves if we want to mount up into the realms of life and light and love.

"Jesus rejected all the daily temptations to break the Law of Love and to begin loving Himself more than others. He faced every temptation possible to human beings, and He showed that the only way to overcome these temptations was to allow the Holy Spirit of Love to control His thoughts and His feelings, and to show Him how to react with perfect Love under all circumstances. He denied Himself and took up His Cross daily." So we have to deny ourselves. We must let the Spirit of an infinitely kind and patient Father live in us instead. We must accept the circumstances of our lives as they are today, and, without wimpering or self-pity, start practicing the Law of Love right here.

Some people cry out that they have tried so hard, for so many years, and their stubborn old self just will not die. Hannah Hurnard explains:

"Until there is willing acceptance of the circumstances which we have tried so desperately to evade or to alter, there can be no 'winged life' because the 'dying' is not yet complete. For many and many a child of God the victory has come and the 'winged life' has begun when at last they have been able to say, 'I will accept so-and-so just as they are, and will stop trying to alter them and to escape from the demands which they make upon me. From now on I choose to bear and to love'."

Some of you will find that this is the key to your being chained to earth. You have been sympathizing with yourself that so-and-so is so difficult and trying a person. But, once you have honestly faced your own faults, with God's help, you will not find it nearly as hard to accept so-and-so. Once you push their annoying ways out of your mind, and honestly tackle your own, your old pride and smugness begin to die; you begin to feel tenderness and understanding toward so-and-so; and your life takes a leap off the ground and you begin to live on wings!

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
Dear Dr. Price:—I have been a diabetic for at least ten years and, although I have been under the doctor's care all this time, I have gone from bad to worse. Since your Prayer Fellowship has been praying for me this past month, and since reading your healing literature and meditating three times a day, I have been steadily getting better. In fact, my blood sugar has decreased from 300 down to 113 as of yesterday. You will never know just how grateful I am for your encouragement, your Prayer Fellowship, and all the rest.—A. M. The Rector will preach in St. James' Church, Columbus, Ohio, Sunday evening, March 8th. He will preach and conduct healing services every noonday at Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh, Monday through Friday, March 9th - 13th. He will preach in Ben Avon Methodist Church, Pittsburgh, on Monday night, St. Paul's Church, Mt. Lebanon on Tuesday night, Calvary Church, Pittsburgh on Wednesday night, and Hebron Lutheran Church, East Pittsburgh on Thursday night.

The Lenten Noonday preacher Monday through Friday will be the Very Rev. N. R. High Moor, D.D., Dean of Trinity Cathedral, Pittsburgh. The guest preacher on Saturday will be the Rev. Edward Price, Rector of Calvary Church, Conshohocken.

At 4 o'clock today, a Special Service commemorating the 175th Anniversary of the founding of the Diocese will be held at Christ Church, Second Street above Market. The Service will be conducted by the Clergy of the five original parishes of the Diocese, and the preacher will be Bishop Suffragan Armstrong. St. Peter's Choir will participate.

A Quiet Day for Ladies will be conducted by Her Royal Highness Ileana, Princess of Romania, at Christ Church on Friday, March 13th. It will begin at 11 A.M. and close at 3 P.M. Each one attending is expected to bring her own box lunch; coffee will be served in the Neighborhood House.

THE SILENT MEDITATION:—Perfect peace does not mean freedom from conflicts. Where there is life there is conflict. God's Word, however, envisages a condition where man's heart is at rest even while engaged in a conflict for the right. Peace within is found wherever the soul trusts God and does not stray from Him. O God, Thy Peace is the Peace that passeth understanding. We thank Thee for the gift of Peace, of which Jesus said, "Peace I leave with you, My Peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth give I unto you." Our heart desires this Peace. Help us, therefore, to trust Thee for this Thy gift. Amen.

Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it. Love is strong as death. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Who his own self bare our sins in his own Body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness. Ye are wash'd, ye are sanctified, ye are justified, in the name of the Lord Jesus; Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, that ye should show forth the praises of Him who hath called you out of darkness into His marvelous light. I beseech you, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies, a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

LIVE ON WINGS

How do we get started on this winged life? It is our leaden self-love that holds us to earth. How do we get off the ground? The simplest way is by giving ourselves away; by a deliberate act of putting our whole lives under a Higher Command. Jonathan Edwards writes on Saturday, January 12th, 1723, in the morning:

"I have this day solemnly renewed my baptismal covenant and self-dedication. . . I have been before God; and I have given myself, all that I am and have, to God; so that I am not in any respect my own. I can claim no right in myself, no right in this understanding, this will, these affections that are in me; neither have I any right to this body or any of its members; no right to this tongue, these hands or feet; no right to these senses, these ears, this smell or taste. I have given myself clear away."

So he began by putting himself wholly in God's hands to use. He goes on, "Now henceforth I am not to act in any respect as my own." But he knows how easy it is to fool one's self, so he continues, "I shall act as my own, if I ever make use of any of my powers to anything that is not to the glory of God; . . . if I murmur in the least at affliction; if I am angry because of injury; if I do anything purely to please myself, or avoid anything for the sake of my ease; if I trust to myself; if I take any of the praise of any of the good I do, or that God does by me; or if I am in any way proud."

This is the way Jesus lived—belonging to God and His Love. That is the way that He, the risen Christ, worked and loved in countless disciples down the centuries. That is how He can live and love in you, to-day! When you have given yourself clear away to Him, He can use you to bless the weary, heart-sore friend who drops into an easy chair in your home, needing His refreshing through you. He can pour His healing strength through you as you stand by the hospital bed of your sick neighbor. He can look through you into the eyes of a troubled child, and make them safe again, in the security of His Love.

Would you like to make this Lent an adventure of learning to live on wings? You may use Loyola's Prayer, below, following, for your act of self-giving which begins the adventure!

"Take, Lord, and receive my entire liberty, my memory and my understanding, my imagination and my whole will.

"All that I am and all that I have, Thou hast given me and I surrender it all to Thee now, that Thou mayest dispose of it according to Thy will.

"Give me but Thy Love and Thy Grace and I am rich enough and have nothing more to desire. Amen." (St. Ignatius Loyola, 16th Century.)

THESE SIGNS SHALL FOLLOW:—Each week we print accounts written by individuals who feel they have been helped through our healing ministry:
